No Charges Are Filed In Corby Fatality

According to a press release from the Garrett County Sheriff's Office, the investigation of the two-car accident last Wednesday night that claimed the life of Betty Lou Corby is complete, and no charges will be filed in the matter. Corby, aged 40, Oakland, was killed at approximately 10 p.m. on June 25 when the car she was driving collided head-on with a car driven by 17-year-old James Brown III.

According to the sheriff's office, Corby was travelling southbound on Gorman Road, south of Dr. Tolson Road, when she crossed a solid yellow line in an attempt to pass another southbound vehicle, putting her in the path of Brown's northbound vehicle. Although both Corby and Brown attempted to avoid hitting each other, they collided head-on. The press release goes on to state that Corby was traveling in HURRAY FOR SUMMER, HURRAY FOR LIBRARIES - What could be more fun than this? Several local children had a grand time yesterday at the Ruth Enlow Library in Oakland as they decorated the sidewalk with chalk and heard some great stories. The annual Summer Reading Program began this week, with interesting activities and reading entertainment being provided at all branches of the Ruth Enlow system. Each library has its own schedule of events, with music, puppets, storytelling, and other exciting things available free to all children (pre-kindergartners and older). For more information about the program, persons are invited to call any branch of the Ruth Enlow Library. And for a look at some great art, stop by the library in Oakland and check out the sidewalk.

Comm. Glotfelty Begins Battle Against Leukemia

The Board of Garrett County Commissioners announced Tuesday that Commissioner Roger Glotfelty, chairman, has been diagnosed with leukemia. He entered a Morgantown, W.Va., hospital yesterday to begin a concentrated chemotherapy treatment program. He may be away from the courthouse office for a month, more or less.

This morning County Adminstrative Officer Monty Pagenhardt reported that Glotfelty will be undergoing surgery today for the insertion of a portal for the chemotherapy treatment, which will begin tomorrow.

"If the treatment brings my immunities down, they'll want to keep me there for some weeks," the commissioner said Tuesday. Glotfelty reported that while his energy level is down for the time being, he feels confident he will recover from the illness.

"I always seem to have good recuperative powers," he said. "I had heart surgery in 1991 and was back out working in three months. I've been a scrapper all my life.

"This isn't something I can run from. I have to deal with it head-on. That's why I'm going for treatment right away. And I have a lot going for me -- a great family and lots of good friends. With the good Lord's help, I'll get through it," he said.

The announcement has been disheartening to the courthouse staff members who have worked with Glotfelty since his 1994 election.

"We're all very concerned about him," said Pagenhardt. "He's a good man."

The office plans to update the public as to the status of Glotfelty's hospitalization. Information at the hospital is being released only to family members and to the administrative officer. In consideration of the family, the public is strongly advised to address all questions solely to Pagenhardt.

Have a Happy and Safe July 4

The Republican office will be closed Friday, July 4 in observance of Independence Day.

Burglary In Deer Park Occurs In Broad Daylight

The Garrett County Sheriff's Office is investigating a burglary of a home in Deer Park that was reportedly carried out in broad daylight last week.

An area resident was out working in his yard when a white male in a red Chevy pickup truck pulled up and spoke to him, allegedly claiming that he had been called by his neighbor to come and do repair work on the house. The neighbor was away at the time, and the subject told the resident that he would go and take a look around the house and see what needed to be done; with that, he pulled his truck around to the other side of the neighbor's house, out of sight.

A short time later, the truck reportedly drove away from the home and down the street, and the driver waved at the resident who was still working in his garden. The resident observed a load of furniture in the back of the pickup truck that hadn't been there earlier. In checking the home where the subject had been supposedly tallying up repair work, he found the back door glass broken, and marks on the floor indicat-

Man Burned By Electrical Line; Condition Stable

Contact with an electrical line on Tuesday resulted in a man receiving second degree burns over 35% of his body.

Maryland State Police, Barrack W, McHenry, report that David Sullivan, 56, Swanton, was operating a crane around 5 p.m. on Sloan Tract Road off Lake Shore Drive, McHenry, when he accidently made contact with the line.

A ROCKIN' TIME FOR THE OAKLAND STATION - Over 200 people came out to help Oakland "save" the historic train station at a celebration held Saturday. "It was a great evening," said Oakland Mayor Asa McCain. "People relaxed, enjoyed the music, and talked to people they probably hadn't talked to in a long time." The mayor, who is working with several individuals in an effort to help the town buy the train station, said the organizers would have been satisfied if 100 people came to the event, but had hoped for 200. "So we met our goal," McCain said. Over $4,500 was raised during the evening, with a painting by local artist Jon Boone selling for $600 and over $300 combined earned for photographs by John McEwen, colored prints by Delores Andrews, and other items. The S.O.S. (Save Oakland Station) organizers are attempting to raise $50,000 locally, and McCain reported this morning that they have so far raised just over $10,000 -- a fifth of the goal. He said the event was a success through the kind efforts of 12 local restaurants, five local greenhouses, and the contributing artists. "Everyone is so cooperative and supportive. It's just wonderful," McCain said. The Jeff Gilbert Garage Band is pictured in foreground as the members entertain the gathered crowd.

OVER 10,000 ENJOYED THE FESTIVITIES of Grantsville Days, held last weekend in the fair city. This photo was taken by Craig Speicher from atop Grantsville fire engine #62, which was the third unit in the multi-unit event held Friday evening. This was the 20th annual Grantsville Days, initiated by the parade, which was apparently the largest yet. The weather was nearly perfect throughout the week-end of special music, contests, and many other activities. Friday and Saturday both ended with fireworks displays -- the largest and most impressive in Grantsville Days history. More photos of the celebration can be found in today's issue of The Republican.

Firecracker Toss Lands Man In Jail

An Oakland man was arrested last week after he reportedly threw a firecracker at a Garrett County Sheriff's Office vehicle driven by an on-duty detective.

Shawn Louis Smith, 19, was traveling on Hutton Road at noon on June 30, when he was observed throwing a firecracker out of his pickup truck at the detective's vehicle traveling in the opposite direction. The firecracker exploded beneath the detective's vehicle, and Smith was immediately stopped and questioned about his actions.

While Smith admitted that he had disposed of a lit firecraker out of his window, he claimed it was an accident. He told the detective that he had seen a firecracker lying on the floorboard of his truck as he was driving down Hutton road, and as he picked it up to dispose of it his lit cigarette accidently brushed the fuse, lighting the device. He reported that his reaction was to throw it out of the window to get rid of it before it exploded inside the truck cab.

Smith was then arrested and charged with one count of throwing an object at a moving vehicle, and one count of discharging fireworks. He was subsequently released on a $5,000 bond.

Play Reading Series Slated At "Our Town"

A weekly play reading series has been planned as one of the first activities of the Our Town Theatre, according to owner Jane Avery.

"Many people have asked when we will be presenting plays at the theatre, and I can only answer, 'Hopefully in October.' Before then, we need to get into a vigorous fund-raising campaign in order to implement basic renovations to turn the building into a performance space," Avery said. "However, we would like to involve the public in the choice of potential plays for the 1997-98 season, so we've decided to hold Sunday evening play readings."

The readings will begin at 7 p.m. each Sunday, beginning on July 6 with a reading of Angel Street (for persons ages 12 or older). Anyone who wishes to read will have the chance to do so, Avery said, or he or she can simply listen. A discussion will follow the reading.

"We're asking for a donation," she said. Avery advised that persons call ahead in case of schedule changes. Renovations to the building might cause such changes. The number at the theatre is 301-334-5640.

After the reading of Angel Street, the schedule is as follows (Avery advised that certain plays are not for children): You Can't Take It With You, July 13 (ages 12 and older); Smoke on the Mountain, July 20 (ages 12 and older); The Nerd, July 27 (ages 15 and older); Nice People Dancin' to Good Country Music, Aug. 3 (for mature audiences); The Jack Tales, Aug. 10 (for all ages); Unchanging Love, Aug. 17 (contains coarse language and adult situations); The Dining Room, Aug. 24 (ages 15 and older); and Our Town, Aug. 31 (ages 12 and older).

Questions may be directed to Avery, who can be reached at the theatre number.

THE HAZEL FRATZ WRIGHT SCHOLARSHIP was recently established through a $50,000 endowment by the late Hazel Fratz Wright to the Garrett Community College Foundation. This scholarship, the largest individual scholarship ever established at the college, was requested by Wright in her will, and the request was honored by her siblings. Shown from left to right in the front row are two of Wright's sisters, Wilma Edwards of McHenry and June Wilt of Cumberland, with GCC Foundation President Ann Smith. In the back row, left to right, are Allen Fratz of Accident, Martha Leese (another sister) of Frostburg, and Donald Fratz and Gary Fratz, both of Accident, with GCC President Dr. Stephen J. Herman. "The generosity of Hazel Fratz Wright was exceptional," said Herman. "The family should be recognized for their commitment to fulfill (her) request. This is truly a humanitarian act." The award will have a long-lasting impact on many young lives, as the GCC Foundation intends to award the scholarship every year in perpetuity.

the Potomac suffered environmentally from old abandoned coal mines, according to a spokesperson. By selectively releasing water from various levels in the lake, the Corps of Engineers improves the water quality of the river significantly, so much so that the first eight miles just downstream is now considered to be a world-class fishery, the spokesperson said. Along with improving water quality, the project supplies water for municipal and industrial use while at the same time preventing an annual 10 million dollars a year in downstream flood damages.

Visitors for the tower tours are asked to meet at the West Virginia Overlook, which is home of the "Waffle Rock," a unique geological feature with a geometric pattern resembling a giant waffle. It was created by erosion and weathering over a period of 300 million years. The tours will begin at 3 p.m. and run every half hour until 5 p.m. on Sunday.

In ongoing activities, Jennings Randolph Lake also sponsors a fishing contest open to the general public. Any legal size game fish caught in the lake is eligible for the contest. Persons should turn fishes in to any ranger, who will weigh and measure them. Winners are chosen each week and awarded a certificate. Each weekly winner then becomes eligible for the "Catch of the Month" contest, with that winner receiving a certificate and one free night of camping.

For further information concerning the lake or camping, persons may call 304-355-2346 or 301-359-3861 Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Man Charged In Deep Creek Boating Accident

A West Virginia man was charged with operating a boating vessel while intoxicated (OWI) and reckless operation of a boating vessel after being involved in a boating accident on Deep Creek Lake around 12:30 a.m. last Thursday.

Dennis Elbon, 52, Bridgeport, W.Va., was navigating a 1995 Donzi Blackhawk boat with a 400 horsepower motor on the main body of the lake near Cherry Creek Cove when his vessel went ashore and hit two trees and a dock on State Park Road. He was subsequently transported to Garrett County Memorial Hospital, where he was treated and released.

The charges against Elbon were filed by the Maryland Natural Resources Police as a result of their investigation of the accident.

Bond Set For Man In County Jail On Multiple Charges

A Friendsville man, charged by state police on multiple counts, is being held in the Garrett County Jail on $10,000 bond.

Robert A. Martin, 28, was stopped, according to the police report, when he failed to stop at a stop sign on Maple Street, Friendsville, on Monday at 12:30 p.m. Police stated that when the vehicle was approached a strong odor of alcohol was detected.

Martin reportedly failed field sobriety tests and gave police several different names. Fingerprints sent to the FBI identified him and a motor vehicle administration check revealed that he was driving on a revoked West Virginia license.

Charles Franklin Sisco, 32, and Thomas Sisco, 28, both of Bridgeton, N.J., were each arrested and charged with possession of marijuana and possession of drug paraphernalia. The arrests occurred at 1 a.m. when park rangers entered the campground to enforce the 11 p.m. quiet hour.

HAMMERS AND STRINGS JOIN FRONT PORCH PICKIN' - This popular local group will be among several other area residents on July 12 at GCC as they present "Front Porch Pickin'," a celebration of the diversity of locally rooted music, dance, and lore. Betty Mattingly, pictured above (the only woman in the photo), gathered together the ensemble with the purpose of providing guests with a sampling of traditional and sacred music, recitations, and dancing typical of a segment of Garrett County history which is being carried on today. The musicians of Hammers and Strings in addition to Mrs. Mattingly are Chet Roth, Joe Lewis, Scott Rush, Larry Rush, and Roy Peterman. This event is being presented by GLAF and sponsored by community civic and service organizations. Tickets are $8 for adults and $4 for youth aged 17 or younger. For more information, see separate stories or call the GLAF office at 387-3082. See story.

"THIS IS YOUR LAST OPPORTUNITY FOR WILBUR BUDS," said Dr. Jerome Ryscavage as he lifted a bowl of little round chocolates at a retirement gathering Monday. The chocolates are apparently a signature gift of the now-retired superintendent of Garrett County Schools, who would dole out the candy to staff members just before breaking not-so-great news. Staff members who spotted the "Wilbur Buds" on their desks always knew Dr. Ryscavage was up to something, such as putting them on an unpopular committee or assigning them a perhaps thankless task. Dr. Wendell Teets, the new superintendent, has promised to continue the tradition. He is pictured above at right as he is greeted by a staff member. Several individuals came to the outdoor get-together Monday to wish Dr. Ryscavage well and to also give regards to other retiring staff members. Dr. Teets formally assumed his role as the new chief of staff on July 1.

Stolen were several chairs and other assorted furniture.

The sheriff's office is looking for the subject, a white male, in his late 20s to early 30s, with bleached blonde hair pulled back into a four-inch ponytail, and light facial hair. He was wearing a white baseball cap that said "Deer Park Sportsman's Club" on it at the time. The vehicle description is a late-model red Chevrolet 4x4 pickup truck with a large white stripe on its side, and a bed liner.

If persons have any information on this incident or the subject, they are encouraged to call the Garrett County Sheriff's Office at 301-334-1911.

Correction Noted In Fire Story

Last week's issue of The Republican carried an article about the destruction of a Friendsville area house as a result of a fire, and in that story it stated that the owners of the house, David and Wanda Sisler, and their daughter were staying with relatives. It should have stated that the Sislers and their 7-year-old son, Vaughn, (not a daughter) were staying with relatives.

Persons wishing to donate items/money to the Sisler family are asked to contact their daughter, Debbie, at 301-746-4534.

Rally for Roger...

The world lost an incredible actor and an outstanding person yesterday with the death of Jimmy Stewart. He was known for his versatility and total believability as an actor, characteristics that everyone in that profession strives for, but almost never attains to the extent that Stewart did. In real life, he worked extremely hard at his craft, he was a World War II hero, and, unlike so many actors, he was a successful husband, father, and family man.

While Stewart played scores of roles throughout his long career, he is perhaps best known for his fantastic portrayal of George Bailey in the Christmas classic, "It's a Wonderful Life." In that story the lead character learns, with the help of a bumbling guardian angel, how significant the impact of just one life can be on one's community and the lives of others. He also learns the real value of being kind to others, and how relationships with people, as a result of that kindness, are the most precious, most important things in one's life. When life really gets you down, you can usually count on your friends to lift you up again.

With this in mind, our thoughts turn to the announcement this week that Garrett County Commissioner Roger Glotfelty has leukemia. Obviously such news is devastating to the person so affected and to those near and dear to him.

But like George Bailey, Commissioner Glotfelty is a fine person with integrity and solid values, who is a successful family man, who has given much to his community and has touched many lives throughout his life, and who, because of the way he treats people, has many, many good friends.

Now Roger needs help, and it's time for all of those friends to rally around him with their support, their encouragement, and most importantly, their prayers. In fact, during his relatively short tenure as a county commissioner, we believe he has had a positive effect on every resident of the county. So we hope every Garrett Countian, not only his close friends, will remember Roger during this time of crisis.

The power of prayer in relationship to human illness and injury has been proven scientifically. Let's prove it again for the sake of Roger Glotfelty.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

When people ask me where I am from, I often find myself in a bit of a quandary. Since this question is most frequently asked in some formal setting (a cocktail party, university function, etc.), where the person asking really doesn't care about the answer, I usually reply with some gloss, like "Maryland" or "Washington D.C." I don't want to go through the work of describing where Garrett County is for someone who doesn't really want to know. I find that a lot of relocated Garrett Countians use the same strategy.

The question is, however, no less troublesome when the person asking is someone you do like or Someone Who Actually Cares about the answer. The dialogue is something like this:

"So, Mark, where are you from?" "I'm from a small town in Western Maryland near a lake called Deep Creek." "Where is that exactly -- near Baltimore? the Eastern Shore?" "No, it's in the mountains." "Oh, near Hagerstown?" "Farther west," I say, dreading the next reply, which is inevitably "Frostburg?"

(A deep breath may be needed here to check the impulse to strike the questioner.) "No, it's higher up in the mountains." "Oh, in West Virginia?" "No, I'm from Garrett County. We're separated from the rest of the state by the mountains, we don't get their TV stations or root for their sports teams, and hardly anyone down there knows we exist. We're definitely not West Virginians or Pennsylvanians, although these places are very nice, too. We're from our own little enclave. Very nice place to live, unbelievably beautiful, especially the fall. Good people."

"Sounds nice. Why did you leave?" Sometimes I wonder . . . .

I recently began to ponder this question on my origins when my Mother -who-knows-me-better-than-myself, indeed, Who-Knows-All and who keeps me informed about it, sent me an article from The Republican about the opening of the new Our Town Theatre, and two letters about some tea-sipping fad gripping east Oakland. Though deeply intrigued about tea-sipping in Garrett County, I followed my mother's instructions like a good son and put the letters aside to read the main article first.

I was ecstatic for my friend, Jane Avery, to see that a long-awaited dream of hers had been realized in the purchase of her own theater. And God bless the anonymous donor, whoever he or she may be. Anyone who knows Jane knows that she is someone with a vision, someone who has the ability to construct a really meaningful institution for the community, someone who reaches people and sets them aright. The parents in the community ought to be especially pleased. Who knows how many kids she will help through this new theater to grab onto the higher rungs of life? She certainly helped one confused 18-year-old with stars in his eyes.

One thing that has helped me endure the fierce competition and intense pressure of graduate school at UC-Berkeley has been the sense of identity that was instilled in me through my formative years in Garrett County. As sad as I am to admit it, I definitely get the feeling that many of my colleagues and students, even my superiors, lack this vital sense of who they are and where they come from. What identity they do get is often only through rootless concepts such as brand-names, or TV. They could never identify a hickory tree (thank you, Mr. Strauss) to save their lives, could not imagine the beauty of Swallow Falls or the Savage River or Cranesville Swamp, couldn't conceive what it means to finally get the car up the driveway in a blizzard!

For someone in my position, looking back and from afar, the foundation of the new Our Town Theatre brings me a lot of happiness. Happiness for a dear friend that something she desperately dreamt for has been realized, and happiness in the thought that the theater will be one more building block in the foundation of a community whose sense of identity has powered so many lives. I'm positive that Thornton Wilder (who I'm sure slurped his tea in loud, manly gulps) would be just as happy about this newest addition to the county's cultural scene, and just as proud of Mr. Hill's stained shirts.

To the Editor:

I commend the Southern Baptists for their stand and wish that every church in America would take the same stand. It is about time that Christians start being "salt and light" in our country.

Mister Editor, did that church camp teach you that it was all right in a backhanded way to compare fellow Christians to the Ku Klux Klan and take up for those who promote a sinful lifestyle? My Bible tells me, "let us do good unto all men, especially unto them who are of the household of faith" (Galatians 6:10). Could it be that you have joined into the practices you say the Southern Baptists are doing: judging, intolerance, and prejudice? It seems to me you are being intolerant and prejudiced against the views of the Southern Baptists and what the word of God clearly does not condone (read Romans chapter one). Would you dare compare any minority, race, or any other group of people to the KKK? I dare say you would never do that!

It is my option that the editor does not have a fully developed concept of what the Bible teaches about love and judgment. Yes, Christ loves everyone but he hates the sins that we may commit. Isn't it ironic the loving Christ told us the that all who live a lifestyle of sin will be judged by him and have no part in him! Jesus loved the sinner but spoke very harshly against the sin. Isn't that what the Southern Baptists are doing?

To prove my point let me quote a few scriptures and notice the words - judge, righteous judgment, reprove, rebuke, partaker. "Judge not according to the appearance, but judge righteous judgment" (John 7:24). "And have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness, but rather reprove them. For it is a shame even to speak of those things which are done of them in secret" (Ephesians 5:11,12). "Them that sin rebuke before all, that others also may fear" (I Timothy 5:20). "These things speak, and exhort, and rebuke with all authority. Let no man despise thee" (Titus 2:15). "For he that biddeth him God speed is partaker of his evil deeds" (II John 1: 11).

Let me give you some practical examples of love and judging. Is it judging for society to say to a person it is wrong to steal and then put that person and anyone who helps him in jail? I think not! Are you judging or loving your children when you tell them not to touch a hot stove and try to keep them from it? Mr. Editor, I think that this is love. I believe it is mine and the church's business to try to keep my fellow humans from "touching the eternal hot stove." That's love.

They crucified Jesus not because he loved them but because his words got too close to their sin. I can just hear those that crucified him say, "Jesus, don't judge us, just love us and live and let live."

Pastor William C. Skipper
Oakland

To the Editor:

You should cast the mote out of your own eye before accusing the Southern Baptist boycott of the Disney homosexuals of an undeserved judgment. Isn't your saying that both the Baptists and the KKK are bigoted and discriminating also a judgment?

Matthew 7:1-3 does not say that man is not to judge, but to do so righteously lest they be judged the same way. God did not tell John the Baptist he was not to judge the Pharisees and Sadducees as vipers. In fact, he said there was none greater born of women than John. All great nations have judges that are ordained by God that mete out justice equitably according to his word. The judgments quoted by God are his alone even when quoted by his servants. They become men's judgment when they delete from or add to them. The "Judge not" verse of Matthew 7:1-3 is one of the unbelievers' favorites who seek an excuse to continue their sinful life.

You say "Christ taught us to love and accept each other regardless of our differences." Love the sinner, yes. Hate the sin, yes. Accept regardless, NO. Acceptance only comes after repentance of the sinner. Read 2 Corinthians 6:14-17 for verification.

JOHN AND ABIGAIL ADAMS: PATRIOTS TO REMEMBER

In the annual festivities celebrating Independence Day, the Declaration--which gave its name to the day--ought to be read. That rarely happens. I wonder how many of the millions who line parade routes and wait for the sky to be streaked with fireworks think of that monument in words which has cast a shadow now 221 years long.

"When in the course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another,...." These words open that Declaration which transformed a rebellion into a revolution.

Thomas Jefferson was the chief author of the Declaration, but there was more to getting the Declaration adopted than merely writing it. The floor leader for the cause of Independence in the Continental Congress was the Massachusetts Yankee, John Adams.

The old saying--now politically incorrect--"Behind every great man is a woman" was never truer of any man than of John Adams. His wife, Abigail, was every bit his equal in intelligence, vision, and commitment. Their correspondence, published as The Book of Abigail and John (edited by L. H. Butterfield and others), provides many insights into their intimacy even as it was strained over years of separation.

I sometimes wonder if the people involved in great events realize how momentous are their doings. In the case of John and Abigail Adams, the answer is clear: they did. John, in Philadelphia with the Continental Congress, wrote to his wife in October 1775, "Posterity must hear a Story that shall make their Ears Tingle."

Abigail, for her part--anticipating not only the forthcoming Declaration but also suffragettes and women's rights advocates in the centuries to follow--desired that her husband, "Remember the Ladies, and be more generous and favourable to them than your ancestors. Do not put such unlimited power into the hands of the Husbands." I wish I could report that John was sympathetic to his wife's petition, but he was not. Her request would not be acted upon for many generations.

One of the most interesting footnotes to the passage of the Declaration is that at the time it seemed the second and not the fourth of July would be the day celebrated throughout the new nation's history. On July 2 the Declaration was voted upon. On July 4 the actual document was signed. That the event, on whichever day, would become a national festival Adams saw as clearly as if the parades and fireworks flowed from his own imagination.

"The Second Day of July 1776," he wrote to Abigail, "will be the most memorable Epocha, in the History of America.--I am apt to believe that it will be celebrated by succeeding Generations, as the great anniversary Festival. It ought to be commemorated, as the Day of Deliverance by solemn Acts of Devotion to God Almighty. It ought to be solemnized with Pomp and Parade, with Shews, Games, Sports, Guns, Bells, Bonfires, and Illuminations from one End of this Continent to the other from this Time forward forever more."

By the time that the British defeat was near (in 1781) Adams' prophecy about the "Second Day of July" had become true for the Fourth. He wrote to his wife that he saw a friend had been "...well enough to celebrate independence on the fourth of July."

What would Adams think of how we have used that liberty for which he and so many others so vigorously struggled? Puritan that he was, he knew the frailty of mortals. He observed to Abigail, "Luxury has as many and as bewitching Charms... Luxury, wherever she goes, effaces from human Nature the Image of Divinity."

As we prepare for the "Pomp and Parade" of festivities in the next few days, we do well to recall the warning which Adams penned to his wife but addressed to us. "Posterity! You will never know, how much it cost the present Generation, to preserve your Freedom! I hope you will make a good Use of it. If you do not, I shall repent in Heaven, that I ever took half the Pains to preserve it."

Friends, Romans, Countrymen Lend me your ears

By Melodee Hill

Long before scientists announced that they had successfully cloned a sheep, thus probably opening the field of genetic mutation to some strange possibilities, I had been musing on my own versions for the transmogrification of the human body. Personally, I think human design is already pretty incredible, when you think about how tough and resilient our bodies are, while also being as fragile as a cheap pair of pantyhose. There could be some improvements made, though.

First of all, some body parts should be removable (the invention of Velcro will make this much easier), although our heads should probably not be included on this list. Even though we all have days when we feel as if we have left our head someplace else, we don't really want to end up as the main character in a Washington Irving short story or the first victim in a Wes Craven movie. It could be useful around Halloween to have a removable head (you'd be a hit at costume parties and haunted houses) or, if you feel a migraine coming on (or coming to visit, like the in-laws). Remember the infamous scene in "The Godfather"? Just slip that little surprise under the covers and I guarantee they won't be back for a while, if ever.

Anyway, getting back to the body parts that should be removable, no wait, I should mention another body part that should never be removed, but it is unmentionable, so you'll just have to discuss that with John Bobbitt. Toes. It would be very useful to be able to remove those toes that always bang into the furniture, you know, the piggy that went to market and the piggy that cried we, we, we (or was it wee, wee, wee or whee! whee! whee!? This could be of national importance.) all the way home.

Think of it! In the winter (August through May in Garrett county) when sensible people are curled up inside with a good book, but you are sitting on an unforgiving wooden bleacher waiting for the five minutes your offspring will play during this six-hour band competition, or two-hour football game and your fingers, ears, and toes have become flesh and blood popsicles, you could just pop them off and stick them in your pocket until they're warm. This could make laundry day a new experience. Imagine checking your kid's pocket for forgotten treasure, or debris, depending on your viewpoint: "Junior! How many times have I told you to wash your ears in the bathroom — not in the washing machine?!" Think how silly Mike Tyson would have looked with Holyfield's whole ear, complete with Velcro strips, hanging from his lips. A sheepish grin and an apology would have fixed it right up. Marc Antony knew what was what when he delivered Caesar's eulogy, "Friends, Romans, countrymen, lend me your ears...." He was really serious.

My other idea for genetic renovation is that people should have pockets. I have always been a little jealous of the fact that marsupials never have to carry a purse, and I've always wanted a pouch like a kangaroo. Nothing really big enough for babies to crawl around in; just a pocket big enough to carry a little cash, some Kleenex, and all the little notes I write to myself so I can remember who's doing what and when and where. Sometimes even the why needs a little sticky-note memory jogger. If I were a smoker, I'd probably want a little cigarette pouch on my upper arm like the ones that '50's hoodlums used to create by rolling up the sleeve of their T-shirts. Drinkers would never be far from their bottle. Kids could carry their favorite toy-of-the-minute wherever they went and their parents would never get caught "accidentally" playing with a beanie baby.

Other body parts that would be convenient to remove are arms. Many nights I've lain awake, on my side, trying to fit my arm under me or around me so it wouldn't fall asleep before I did. I would like to be able to just take it off and put it on my night table. If I turned over I would have to take off the other arm. How would I do this? What if I did get both my arms off, how would I put them back on? This is really what has been keeping me awake at night!

DNR To Manage Lake For Another Five Years

GPU Energy, owner of Deep Creek Lake, recently announced a five-year agreeement extension with the Maryland Department of Natural Resources (DNR) to manage the lake. Under the terms of the agreement, DNR will operate the lake for GPU Energy until December 31, 2003. DNR has been managing the lake for the past 17 years.

"The DNR staff at Deep Creek Lake have worked tirelessly to address the needs of the property owners and the nearly 500,000 people who visit the area each year," Carole B. Snyder, vice president of public affairs for GPU Energy, said. "We believe we have formed a solid partnership that is beneficial to all parties."

Snyder said GPU pledges to continue to work with DNR toward resolving several long-term issues, including the granting of the right of first refusal for the state of Maryland and/or Garrett County in the event GPU would someday sell its Maryland assets. Other issues include the length of future agreement extensions and dock fees. Paul Durham, manager of the Deep Creek Lake Recreation Area, said he expects dock fees to remain the same until at least December of 1998, when the current five-year agreement expires.

"Deep Creek Lake is a treasure that must be preserved and protected," John Griffin, DNR secretary, said. "GPU has partnered with us in numerous projects to update the environment of the lake and its sensitive and pristine ecosystem."

Maryland State Delegate George Edwards said that he, State Senator John Hafer and the Garrett County Commissioners have been involved with the process and are very pleased that GPU has extended DNR's contract at Deep Creek Lake.

"DNR has done a great job and we are all pleased it will continue to manage the lake," Edwards said. "We urge GPU and DNR to continue to work together to resolve any unfinished items. This agreement, which provides stable management of the lake, is very important.

"We also recognize that GPU has been an excellent corporate citizen. We appreciate GPU's support and participation in Garrett County and Western Maryland events."

YOUNG LOCAL MUSICIANS TEAM UP WITH ARMY BAND - A great opportunity was given to several local young musicians last week as they were invited to play along with the visiting United States Army Field Band in concert. The performance was a Garrett Lakes Arts Festival event, sponsored by Westvaco. Eleven of the county's best musicians were invited to join the group, and the young people are pictured above with Col. Jack Grogan, conductor and commander. The free concert was quite well-received by the audience, which was entertained with favorites including The Thunderer, From Sea to Shining Sea (featuring the Soldiers' Chorus), an armed forces salute, and, of course, The Stars and Stripes Forever. Students performing with the group were Northern High School's Jeremy Robinson, trumpet, and Pete Winter, tuba.; Southern High School's Jamie Durst, baritone; Cassie Kaufman, flute; Amanda Stewart, trombone; and Crystal Tasker, flute; Southern Middle School's Charlena Reeves, clarinet, and Audrey Sipe, bass clarinet; and Northern Middle School's Andy Fike, trombone; Todd Foley, alto saxophone; and Brandi Yommer, clarinet.

Crellin Assembly Of God Observing 75th Anniversary

CRELLIN ASSEMBLY OF GOD CELEBRATES 75TH - Pastor John Hammercheck will serve as speaker at the Sunday afternoon anniversary service at the Crellin Assembly of God Church on Friday, July 11. He is a well known speaker throughout the eastern United States. The service, which begins at 2 p.m., will also feature special music from the church choir. The public is invited to attend and help the church members celebrate the past 75 years. See story.

The Crellin Assembly of God Church, located on Hutton Road, four miles west of Oakland, will be celebrating its 75th anniversary the weekend of July 11-13. The church was established in 1922 when Rev. R.A. McCauley from Davis, W.Va., became its first pastor. The original small white frame church building, across the highway from the present church, was built in 1917 by another denomination. That denomination dissolved and the Assemblies of God started using the building. In 1940 the congregation purchased the building from the surviving trustees of the former denomination. Rev. John Caroll Skipper was then pastor and served the church for some 33 years.

The church outgrew the small building and in 1950 erected the present church across the highway. On dedication day that year, it seemed the entire area turned out to see the new edifice, said a church spokesperson. Pastor John Hammercheck from Brownsville, Pa., was called as the next pastor in 1958. During his pastorate a new brick parsonage was built next door to the church. Pastor Milton Wolfe from Prince Frederick, Md., was the next pastor, serving one year in 1963.

Pastor Joseph Smith from Winchester, Va., served from 1964 to 1965, and Rev. Hugh Porter, Culpeper, Va., served from 1966 to 1970.

Rev. Paul Poland was the next pastor, serving from 1970 to 1977. During his pastorate the church underwent a major building addition, doubling the size of the church.

Pastor Ray Beahm, who came from Senetere, Quebec, served from 1978 to 1994. Further renovations to the church took place during that time. The current Pastor David Snodgrass from Senetobia, Miss., assumed the pastorate in 1994 on Easter morning. The church is in the process of another major building program at the present time.

The weekend celebration will begin with a time of reminiscing about the past 75 years at 7 p.m. on Friday, July 11. Saturday evening, July 12, a reception will be held for former pastors at 6 p.m. Sunday will be a full day with Sunday School at 9:45 a.m. Former Pastor Paul Poland will teach the adult Sunday School class, and there will be a morning worship service with Potomac District Superintendent Dr. Robert Rhoden speaking. A covered dish picnic lunch will be served at 12:30 p.m. A ground breaking ceremony for the newly planned addition will be held immediately after lunch. Pastor Snodgrass, the church board, and Dr. Rhoden will be participants in this service.

The new addition will enlarge the church building by about one-third its size, resulting in the addition of another row of pews, enlarging the fellowship hall, upgrading all restrooms to handicapped capability, and adding some new Sunday school rooms.

Spruce Forest Artisan Village, Grantsville, Maryland

Spruce Forest Artisan Village of Grantsville, has scheduled its activities for the 20th Annual Summerfest and Quilt Show, which will be held Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, July 10-12. There will be a nominal admission charge per person and children ages 13 and tinder will be admitted free. All proceeds from the festival benefit the artisan village, which is a nonprofit organiza-tion celebrating its 30th anniversary this year. Once admitted to the festival participants are entitled to a casual stroll through the 75-year-old spruce forest, door prizes, self-guided tours through the log cabins of the village, continuous entertainment in the village church, strolling musicians, food concessions and nonalcoholic beverages, and shuttle bus transportation around Grantsville. The shuttle bus will make stops about every twenty minutes, with drop-off and pick-up spots at Spruce Forest Artisan Village, Penn Alps Restaurant and Crafts Shop, Four Seasons Stitchery, and Yoder Country Market, all of which are sponsors of the complimentary service. The event is sponsored in part by these businesses, as well as the Maryland State and Garrett County Arts Councils.

Friday evening will feature the silent auction from 4-7 p.m., coordinated by volunteer Corinn Jordan, who will display over 70 items in the Great Hall at Penn Alps for bidding. Most of the items are valued between $10 and $20 and all are donated by the artisans at the festival. The proceeds will go to the village for its educational and historical programs.

Another feature of the festival this year will be Children's Corner, organized Angie Barratty and her volunteers. Some of the activities for children will include face painting, spin art, Kool-Aid stand, art projects, stuffed animal check-ups, games, balloon· art, stotytelling and dress up, grab bags, sandbox mining, bubbles, contests, tattoos, and more. There is a minimal charge of $1 or less for some activities, but most are free for children under age 13. Activities will be from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Thursday and Saturday, and on Friday from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. and from 4 to 7 p.m.

Complimentary parking will be coordinated by the Grantsville Rotary Club. The village is handicapped accessible.

Those wishing more information on the festival may contact Trish Morgan at (301) 895-3332

Spruce Forest Artisan Village, a nonprofit organization maintaining a lovely historic campus in Grantsville, relies on fundraisers such as this festival, as well as donations from individuals and businesses, to continue its educational and historical outreaches in the community.

Pictured at right are some of the folks who will entertain Summerfest visitors at Spruce Forest this year at the 20' annual event. On harp: Lynne Barnes of Bel Air; on guitar: Kathleen Gotzmer; on hammered dulcimer: Carl Gotzmer; on flute (with back to camera): Larry Smith of Oakland. One of the highlights of this festival, according to many faithful attendees, is the fine acoustic music performed on campus, as well as in the 1903 Village Church — which is the former Pleasant Valley Methodist Church, formerly located in Pleasant Valley, south of Oakland. This church is presently undergoing restoration and visitors are welcome to come to the festival to mark its progress.

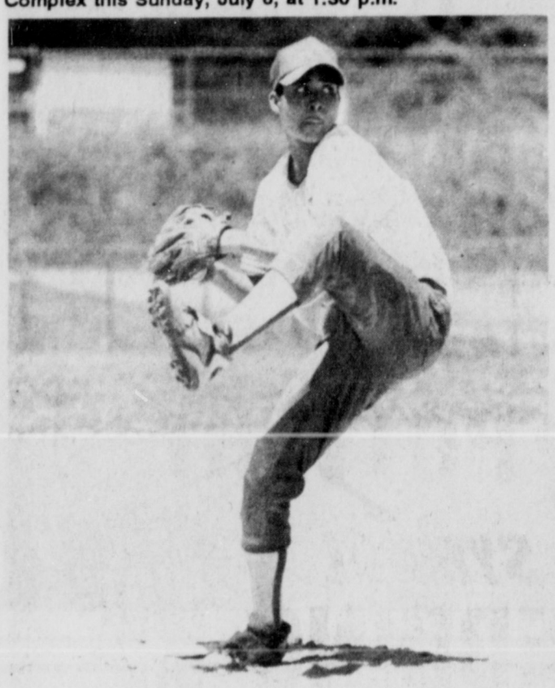
TWO STARS OF OAKLAND'S ALL-STARS are Nathaniel Panther, shown above cracking out a base hit, and ace pitcher Christian Warfield, below. Warfield's arm and bat have been instrumental in the team's hot play of late, as Oakland took the first three games of Senior League District Tournament competition by a combined margin of 43-5 over their first three opponents. Other pitchers who provide offensive firepower as well are Josh Bosley and Jordan Uphold. Panther is just one of the many weapons Oakland Manager Ken Tressler has to put into the batter's box, as Oakland's tournament play continues with a home game at the Broadford Park Little League Complex this Sunday, July 6, at 1:30 p.m.



Senior All-Stars Have Big Start In Tournament

The Oakland Senior League All-Stars are off to the races in 1997 district tournament play, winning the opening round in the double elimination tournament by a combined score of 43-5 over their three opponents. The victories earned the team of 14 and 15-year-olds continued home-field advantage in District 1 Championship play, as they are set to host another game at the Broadford Little League Complex this Sunday, July 6, at 1:30 p.m.

The Oakland All-Stars came out swinging in round one of tournament play last Saturday at home, racking up 24 runs to the Halfway All-Stars one. Christian Warfield pitched a one-hitter, going the distance in the five-inning contest which was shortened due to the ten-run rule. Warfield struck out seven of the Hagerstown area batters and did not let up a single walk, while yielding only a lead-off double by Les Martin.

Warfield also led the offensive charge by going four-for-four with two home runs, two singles and five runs scored. Other offensive leaders for the local team included Jared Fike with a grand slam, a double and a single, Josh Bosley with a grand slam and a single, Jason Finch with a double and a single, Jason Rohrbaugh with two singles, and Toby Upton with a two-run homer.

Round two was played the next day in Oakland as well, pitting Oakland against the South Mountain All-Stars from the Boonesboro/Sharpsburg area. Jordan Uphold allowed only two runs on three hits, striking out 13, as he went the distance in the 9-2 victory. Bosley again had a big day at the plate by going three-for-four with a pair of three-run homers, a single and three runs scored. The offense was also bolstered by Rohrbaugh with a double and a single, Warfield with two singles, and Uphold with two walks, a single and two runs scored.

Tuesday night's winners bracket championship matched Oakland and the Maugansville All-Stars in Oakland. Oakland brought out the long ball again as they won by a score of 10-2 behind Bosley's pitching. Bosley had eight strikeouts while allowing only three hits, while he added a home run and a single of his own to the offensive attack Uphold had a home run and a single, Fike hit a homer and a single, and Warfield had a double and a single as well.

As a result of going through the winner's bracket unbeaten, Oakland has to lose twice in order to be eliminated from further tournament play. They are managed by Ken Tressler, assistance from coaches Al Rohrbaugh and Rick Bittinger. Ed Panther filled in for Bittinger in the first two games last week.

All-Star Game Set At GCC

The Pen-Mar Men's Baseball League Interleague all-star game has been scheduled for Wednesday, July 9 at 7:30 p.m. at Garrett Community College.

The game will feature players from four Maryland teams going against players form three teams from Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

There is no admission charge.

Garrett Beats Frostburg In Legion Play

Visiting Garrett came away with a victory from Frostburg last Saturday behind the strong pitching arm and bat of Joel Uphold. Striking out 14 over nine innings, Uphold gave up seven hits in the victory, while hitting a home run and a single to aid his cause. Chad Warnick singled twice, while Aaron Blocher doubled.

Josh Broadwater took the loss for Frostburg, although he added a triple and a single of his own.

Garrett finished 2-5 in the first half of American Legion Mountain District play. They open the second half of the season at home against Cumberland tonight, Thursday, July 3.

Co. All-Stars Pledge To Be Tobacco Free

Little League All Stars will be asked to make a commitment this Independence Day weekend to stay free from tobacco for the rest of their lives.

During the Little League All Star Game at Broadford Park on Saturday, July 5, the Oakland Little League will team up with the Garrett County Health Department, the National Spit Tobacco Education Program (NSTEP), and the Smoke Free Maryland Coalition to bring the young ballplayers a message aimed at keeping them in good health. Ballplayers and their families and friends will be invited to visit an educational booth from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., where they can pledge to remain tobacco-free, receive educational materials on the dangers of using smokeless or spit tobacco and cigarettes, and win baseball memorabilia and free tickets to major and minor league ballgames.

The event is part of a nationwide effort to keep tobacco out of the game of baseball and to reach young people before they start using it, according to a health department spokesperson. Spit tobacco in particular has had a historic association with the game of baseball, but unfortunately has also been linked to oral cancer, a disease that kills half of its victims within five years of diagnosis. Spit tobacco can also cause serious dental problems.

"We have some outstanding young ballplayers in our league. We want them to stay healthy and that means staying away from tobacco," said Kurt Lear, Oakland Little League safety chairperson and player agent. Lear notes that tobacco use is strictly prohibited within the confines of the playing area by Little League, Incorporated.

Saturday's event coincides with Garrett County public health officials' growing concern over the rising use of spit tobacco by young people in the county. According to Dr. Rex Archer, Garrett County health officer, over 34% of 11th and 12th graders in Garrett County report using spit tobacco. And once they start, they seem to be continuing use into adulthood with 38% of males 18 and older reporting spit tobacco use, the spokesperson said.

"These statistics are alarming for Garrett County," said Archer. "If we continue along this path, we will not only be first in the state in spit tobacco use, but we may start to see an epidemic of oral cancers as well."

NSTEP is a nationwide education effort being conducted with the cooperation of major league baseball and its teams. Former major league player and legendary baseball announcer Joe Garagiola is the NSTEP national chairman.

As part of the national campaign, Maryland's NSTEP program sponsors educational activities across the state throughout the year. NSTEP is a program of Oral Health America, a Chicago-based, non-profit organization devoted to fund raising, education, and increased access to dental care for all Americans.

Smoke Free Maryland is a state-wide coalition of organizations and individuals working to prevent and reduce tobacco use in Maryland.

FITNESS, ARTS, AND MOVEMENT CAMP will be held this year at Garrett Community College from July 7 to 11. The theme of this year's camp will be "Under the Big Top," and it will run from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. each day. Sponsored by Brenda's Body Shop, Rudy's, and Bjorn to Screen, the camp is open to boys and girls ages 5 to 16. According to co-directors Ann Wellham and Brenda Brosnihan, activities will include swimming, mountain biking, putt-putt golf, climbing wall, arts and crafts, and a production class. The culminating activity will be a final production on Friday, July 11, 2 p.m. in the GCC auditorium. The camp is limited to the first 90 registrants. Preregistration is recommended. Persons wishing more information or applications may contact Ann Wellham at 301-387-3052.

GCC Basketball Camp Attended By 110 Youth

The annual Garrett Community College basketball camp, coordinated by GCC head coach Dennis Gibson, drew 110 campers from three states, who spent a week learning the fundamentals of the game and participating in friendly competition.

Youth representing Southern, Northern, Keyser, Preston, Union, Westmar, and Turkeyfoot high schools were present, as well as a number of elementary school youngsters.

Area coaches who served on the camp staff, besides Gibson, were Dave Bender, Bob Shaffer, and Jon Hegeman, while the following served as camp counselors: Dawna Friend, Lance Loya, Michael Fields, Vashawne Gross, Angie Friend, Brandon Mitchum, Tucker Fry, and Frank Winter.

"You know you have accomplished combining hard work with fun when campers tell our staff how tired they are and how much they are looking forward to next year," stated Coach Gibson. "Our staff was outstanding, as usual, and I can't say enough about them. It's hard to find coaches willing to give up a week in order to teach these kids about the game of basketball and team work. Our counselors, especially Lance Loya and Vashawne Gross, were tremendous with the kids. They were all great examples of leadership."

The many award winners and all-star selections were as follows:

NBA All-Stars - Chris Speicher, Aaron Rawe, Cory Bosley, Tyler Clark, Jared Forman, and Brad Reese.

NCAA All-Stars - Dustin Fowler, Daniel Cogley, Josh Boone, Justine Pagenhardt, Casey Taylor, and Jason Rice.

MVC All-Stars - Mike DeWitt, Shawn Shaffer, Jordan Buckman, D.R. Parsons, A.J. Bender, and Gina Reeves.

One-On-One Champions - Cory Bosley, Josh Boone, Richie Ringer, and Shawn Shaffer, boys; Heidi Frazee, Laurel Wolf, and Seegee Kisner, girls.

Three-On-Three Champions - Klayt Morfoot, D.R. Parsons, and Seegee Kisner, MVC Division; Dan Forman, Julie Green, and Chris Remley, JUCO Division; Brad Reese, Jordan Feather, and Seth Feather, NBA Division; and Robbin Gregg, Andrea Green, and Jason Rice, NCAA Division.

NCAA Champions - Robbie Glotfelty, Daniel Cogley, Jason Peddicord, Dustin Fowler, Heather Lander, and Robbin Gregg.

JUCO Champions - Kara Gardner, Brian Staggs, Jeremy Frazee, Ken McDowell Jr., and Richie Ringer.

NBA Champions - Brad Reese, Chris Forman, Brendan Stephens, Tyler Livengood, Zach Wotring, and Trent Cunningham.

MVC Champions - J.D. O'Neel, D.R. Parsons, Joseph Davis, Jordan Buckman, Molly Wolf, and Nathan Swartzentruber.

Foul Shooting Champions - Nicholas Gregg, Jared Forman, Dustin Fowler, Joseph Davis, Jordan Buckman, A.J. Thomas, Jeremy Rice, and Richie Ringer, boys; and Bailey Michael, Robbin Gregg, Kelly Stein, Bridget Frazee, Kara Gardner, and Heidi Frazee, girls.

Redskins To Return To FSU; To Host Scrimmage With Steelers

The Washington Redskins launch summer training camp at Frostburg State University two weeks from now, and will host the Pittsburgh Steelers in a controlled scrimmage at FSU's Bobcat Stadium on Saturday, July 19. The gates will open at 9 a.m., with team warm-ups beginning at 11 a.m. The televised scrimmage will begin at 1 p.m. Bleacher seating is limited, and fans are encouraged to bring lawn chairs.

Tickets will be one uniform price of $6.50 and are available at the Garrett County locations of Gregg's Pharmacy in Oakland and the Wisp Ski Resort in McHenry. Tickets may also be purchased at the FSU Bookstore in the Lane Center on the FSU campus, the Westernport One-Stop in Westernport, the National Video stores in Frostburg and Cumberland, the Book Center in downtown Cumberland, and at the Country Club Mall ticket outlet near K-Mart. Credit card purchases may be made over the phone by calling the FSU Bookstore at 301-687-4341. There will be no charge for parking on the day of the scrimmage.

Throughout the camp, open practices are scheduled for the morning and afternoon at FSU. 'Skins fans can come to campus and catch a glimpse of (and most likely get an autograph from) their favorite sport stars as the team makes its short journey back to the FSU locker rooms.

In addition to the open practices, the Redskins will be returning for the training camp's most popular open event: Fan Appreciation Day. This year's festivities will be on Tuesday, Aug. 5 (rain date: August 12), at 3 p.m. in Bobcat Stadium. Fans will have the opportunity to watch a practice up-close and perhaps win Redskins memorabilia. With training camp practices coming to a close (August 7 is the last day of open practice for the public), fans will find this a prime opportunity for obtaining autographs.

As before, there will be a nominal cost for parking on the campus (except on the Redskins/Steelers scrimmage and the Fan Appreciation Day), and housing will be available in nearby residence halls for visitors.

For housing information, persons may contact the FSU Office of Conferences at 301-687-4020. For information on campus tours, they may contact the FSU Office of Admissions, 301-687-4201.

In local Women's Golf Association news of the past week, "Ol' Yeller" was the play for the June 19 tournament. The team of June Bray, Celeste Lascaris, Vickie Regnier and Mary Spencer claimed first place in the "Yeller" category with 79. Winning best ball in the same event was the team of Marianna Naylor, Kim Shirer, Carolyn Sleightholm and Anne Jesnak, netting 63. Scoring 64 and tied for second place were the teams of Annis Colaw, Rita Humberson, Joyce Smith, and Loretta Pernell; and Bobbie Seward, Kazuko Hamill, Nellie Inskeep, and Lascaris.

A Memorial Tournament was held on June 26 to honor deceased members of the Oakland Women's Golf Association. Because of adverse weather conditions play was stopped after completion of nine holes. In the first flight Naylor and Janice Welch tied for first place honors with a score of 39, gross. In the same flight Bray won high honors with a low net of 31. Naylor claimed low putting prize for flight one with 14. Second flight winners were Fran Bell, low gross score of 48, and Cheryl Wotherspoon, low net score of 38. Margaret Moran and Wotherspoon shared low putting honors with 17. Third flight low gross winner was Shirer, scoring 48, while Marion Boehmer and Helen Nordeck shared low net honors, scoring 36. Ruth Ann Porter won low putts with 18. Smith took first place in the fourth flight with a low gross score of 67, and Ruth Kight was low net winner, carding 48. Kight was also the winner of low putts in that flight with 19.

Weather permitting, a mixed nine-hole scramble is played every Friday evening at the Oakland Country Club, with a tee-time of 5:30 p.m.

State Farm Captures Girls' Softball Title

The Oakland Girls' Softball League concluded its season last week as State Farm took the championship game by a 11-9 margin over Oakland New Car Dealers. State Farm had won 10 of 13 games to finish in second place in regular season play, under the guidance of coaches Mike and Larry Holler.

The championship matchup gave State Farm the opportunity to defeat the first-ranked New Car Dealers in the hard-fought contest. Coach Mike Holler commented that "these girls made us proud, not because they won, but because they demonstrated the true meaning of teamwork."

In other Oakland Girls' Softball league news, longtime softball league supporter Charlie Grubb is retiring from coaching. Grubb has been instrumental in securing facilities for the league, including his most recent project of developing permanent softball fields in Loch Lynn. He plans to continue being active in league events from the stands and behind the scenes.

Oakland Takes Two Of Three From Stangel's

In Pen-Mar Men's Baseball League action of the past week, Oakland took two out of three games from Stangel's to take their record to 11-2.

The three-game series opened on a sour note for Oakland, who were routed by a score of 20-10 at Allegany College. Stangel's scored five runs in the first inning, three in the second, and four in the third and fourth, before ending the game with two runs in the sixth and seventh innings.

Chad Roy had a double, two singles and four RBI for Stangel's, as Rick Swanger added a triple and a single, and Myrle Grose and Darren Price each had three singles apiece. Rich Gray pitched the first four innings to pick up the win. Stangel's totaled 16 hits for the day, stole seven bases and took advantage of six errors.

Oakland's offense was led by Aaron Taylor with a double and a single, while Bill Phillips added a double.

Western Garrett Hands Sisler's Year's First Loss

In Hot Stove Men's Baseball League action of the past week, Sisler's Lumber unbeaten streak came to an end at the hands of Western Garret by a score of 4-1.

Western Garrett's Brant Green held the powerful Sisler team to one hit in the victory, striking out eight as he picked up the win. Western Garrett's offense came out strong in the first inning of play on the Friendsville field, scoring three of its four runs as the game opened. Mark Wolfe led off with a walk, moving to third on a Matt Umbel single. After Umbel stole second, P.J. Workman cracked a two-run single, then Workman later scored himself on a fielder's choice.

After the shaky first inning start, Sisler pitcher Jeff Carr settled down to allow only one run in the remainder of the contest. He tallied six strikeouts and walked three batters in the complete game loss.

Sisler's came back strong after the loss by pounding Mount Savage in its next contest by a score of 13-3 at Northern High School. The lumbermen came out of the box swinging, scoring six runs in the first inning, one in the second, four in the fourth, and two in the fifth to turn out the lights early due to the ten-run rule. Jeff Carr and Adam Brenneman each had two singles and knocked in a run. Paul Beitzel singled twice and Ryan Brenneman doubled.

Sisler's, with a record of 11-1, is scheduled for Wednesday, July 9 at Allegany High School in Cumberland, where they will visit the Elks.

Western Garrett (9-2) was scheduled to play this past Tuesday against the Knights of Columbus at Nonennmann Field, but no results were made available.

State Publishes New Golf Guide

An all-new Maryland Golf Guide, which highlights more than 150 golf courses throughout the state, has been published by the Maryland Office of Tourism Development, a part of the state's Department of Business & Economic Development.

Profiling public, semi-private, and private courses, the guide details the number of holes, par, slope rating, course length, greens fees, and cart fees at each. It also indicates whether the courses offer pull carts, a pro shop, a driving range, a snack shop or lessons. The courses are divided into the state's five tourism regions, and a full map of Maryland highlights the location of each one.

The guide was published just in time for the Kemper Open, which is annually held at Avenel, TPC in Potomac, and the U.S. Open, which this year was hosted by Congressional Country Club in Bethesda. Because of these tournaments, Maryland's golf courses have been the focus of much national attention in recent weeks.

Persons may call 1-800-543-9308, for a free copy of the Maryland Golf Guide.

SAILBOAT RACES HAVE GOOD WEATHER, GOOD WIND AND LOTS OF ACTION
by Dan Muss

I guess things come out right in the end. We had a pretty miserable spring but the weather was beautiful this past first full weekend of summer.

On the final upwind beat of the first race on Saturday the MacMillans were out in front by about 10 boat lengths. In second place was Jack Carpenter with his daughter Rebecca crewing. In that situation it is almost hopeless for the second boat to catch the first because the two boats are experiencing the same wind and the second boat is in the wind shadow of the first. What the second boat tries to do is to "split" tacks with the first, even if the other tack is "unfavorable" for the destination in hopes of picking up better wind. The boat in front will then tack to "cover" the second place boat. Carpenter started to tack, MacMillan saw it and immediately tacked too. But Carpenter's maneuver was a false tack, and he actually came head-to-wind and then fell back on the same tack he'd been sailing. MacMillan failed to pick this up, sailed into a lull, and Carpenter won the race.

The third race on Sunday was sailed in a fairly stiff breeze. Ted Rissell capsized his 'Scot and his crew, but Kathy Rubel climbed out on the centerboard and the boat came right up again. In a show of amazing skill and dexterity Jack Carpenter fell out of his 'Scot! But he grabbed on to the stern, pulled himself back in, and finished third.

It should be noted that both the teams of John and Jennifer Meredith in the Flying Scot A Fleet and Lauren and Bruce Spinnenweber in the Flying Scot B Fleet won first place in the June Series with perfect scores in their qualifying races (all first places).

RACE RESULTS

First race: Flying Scot A - Jack and Rebecca Carpenter, first; Doug and Audrey MacMillan, second; Tom and Frank Wolffe, third. Flying Scot B - Susan Meehan and Ken Gibbs, first; Al Coretto and Jon Skoog, second; Al and Jean Thagard, third. Laser - Keith Spinnenweber, first; Gordy Clefton, second.

Second Race: Flying Scot A - Jack and Rebecca Carpenter, first; Doug and Audrey MacMillan, second; Ted Rissell and Kathy Rubel, third. Flying Scot B - Lauren and Bruce Spinnenweber, first; Al Coretto and Jon Skoog, second; Al and Jean Shagard, third. Laser - Keith Spinnenweber, first; Gordy Clefton, second.

Third Race: Flying Scot A - Dave and Jane Mahan, first; Doug and Audrey MacMillan, second; Jack and Jimmy Carpenter, third. Flying Scot B - Al and Jean Thagard, first; Susan Meehan and Ken Gibbs, second; Lauren and Bruce Spinnenweber, third. Laser - John Coolidge, first; Gordy Clefton, second.

June Series results: Flying Scot A - John and Jennifer Meredith, first; Doug and Audrey MacMillan, second; Dave and Jane Mahan, third. Flying Scot B - Lauren and Bruce Spinnenweber, first; Susan Meehan and Ken Gibbs, second; David and John Frank, third. Laser - Keith Spinnenweber, first.

The Deep Creek Lake Sailing School ran this past week, training juniors at the beginner/intermediate level. There are still openings throughout the summer for both children and adults at all experience levels. For information about available slots during July and August and tuition rates call 301-387-4497.

SKIERS RATED EXCEPTIONAL - Earlier this summer three Deep Creek Lake water skiers, Dale Carpenter, Bill Gross, and Sam Ingram, competed in Salisbury. They finished in first, second, and third places. Last weekend, Carpenter and Ingram compete in Greensburg, Pa., where both achieved their personal best performances. The American Water Ski Association issues four ratings; first class, expert, master, and EP (exceptional performance). In the Greensburg competition Carpenter skied his first EP rated performance with two buoys at 38 off, a total of 56 buoys. Carpenter said he had been striving for this rating for many years but was wondering if he would ever achieve it. Sam Ingram exceeded his personal best by running four buoys at 39 1/2 off, a total of 64 buoys. Carpenter and Ingram will perform with Deep Creek Water Ski Club, July 4, prior to the fireworks display at McHenry. Pictured here is Sam Ingram cutting through the waters of Deep Creek Lake.

July 4 Is Last Free Fishing Day In State

This Friday, July 4, marks not only Independence Day for our nation, but also is an independence day of sorts for the fish of Maryland's waterways. The fish have been, of late, on the receiving end of the lines of thousands of people taking advantage of the free fishing days offered this summer by the Maryland Department of Natural Resources (DNR). The final free fishing day is the Fourth of July.

During Maryland's free fishing days, any person of any age, whether a state resident or out-of-state resident, had been allowed to fish in Maryland's waters without a fishing license. These special days were offered to the general public by DNR to encourage fishing as a family activity.

After the Fourth of July no more free fishing days will be offered this year, and a license will be required of all anglers 16 years old and up fishing in Maryland's waters, and a trout stamp is required should they choose to keep trout catches. Licenses and details of Maryland state fishing regulations are available at all local fishing and sporting shops.

"GYPSY" BROADWATER MEMORIALIZED AT GRANTSVILLE DAYS - The Grantsville Days Tractor Pull on Saturday was dedicated to the memory of the late Willard "Gypsy" Broadwater, one of the co-founders of the event. Despite his recent death, the Broadwater family continued to coordinate the sixth annual contest. Before the competition began, dozens of helium-filled balloons were distributed to family members and friends, with his wife Mary Alice holding the single gold-colored one, and his son Franklin with a black one. Following a moment of silence, the balloons were released. Gypsy traditionally managed the sled during the pulls, but Franklin assumed that role this year, as pictured below. Rich Colors Of Stained Glass To Be On Exhibit At GCC Gallery

By Peggy Santamaria

A collection of items fashioned from vividly colored glass will be on display starting next week at Garrett Community College's Bausch & Lomb Art Gallery. It is the stained glass artwork of Louis DiCarlo.

DiCarlo, who lives in Mtn. Lake Park, creates lamps, suncatchers, jewelry boxes, window hangings, picture frames, candle holders, and other objects from glass that he has hand-cut and edged in various metals.

In describing the pieces displayed in the exhibit, he said that they range in complexity from the suncatchers which he can complete in about three hours, to the lamps, which have as many as 300 individually cut pieces of glass in them. The most intricate of his lamp patterns, he said, is the dragonfly, which is formed from hundreds of tiny pieces of glass. It is a style that was popular in the Victorian era.

Among the other designs he uses in lamps are hummingbirds and flowers. The colors in his lamps and other pieces extend across the spectrum from the vibrant primary colors to the soft, muted pastels.

DiCarlo explained that he discovered his love of stained glass while working as a photographer in Baltimore over 30 years ago. "It was while I was photographing weddings in churches," he said. He described his fascination watching the light filter through the colored glass shapes of the church windows.

And so DiCarlo set out to learn about crafting such objects. In Baltimore he found a stained glass shop. "I offered to work for them for free," he said. He just wanted to learn. "They said no. You couldn't even look in the windows," he continued, adding, "It was a trade secret."

Some of the old timers, he said, would teach him a little, but never very much. So for a while he had to content himself with learning about the history of the art. "At first it was just plain glass that was painted; that's how it got its name," he noted.

Finally, DiCarlo said, he was happy to find that through adult education at a community college he was able to take courses in stained glass. He went from his local college to classes anywhere in the country he could find them.

DiCarlo said that as a result of his frustration in trying to find someone to teach him to work with stained glass, he vowed that he would teach anyone who wanted to learn.

His home is Mtn. Lake Park has 68 windows that he designed. It is at his home that he creates his pieces from over 700 colors of stained glass. He teaches there as well. "I usually teach one person at a time," he said. "Once people learn, they never buy gifts again. They make them," he said, pleased that he has shared what was once a "trade secret."

The work of Louis DiCarlo will be on display at the gallery at GCC from July 8 through July 31. The exhibit will be open Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and on weekends dur-ing special events. A reception for the artist is scheduled for Friday, July 11, 8-10 p.m.

McClive's Food For Thought

by Chef Francesco G. Pisano

Surprise! Many canned and frozen fruits and vegetables contain as much or more of certain nutrients than fresh ones. They're processed right after harvest, with no time lost in shipping.

Shrimp-on-a-skewer is a super-popular party nibble. Marinate peeled-and deveined shrimp in a mixture of ginger, green onion, soy sauce, sherry and sesame oil. Thread onto soaked skewers with chunks of pineapple and cherry tomatoes and broil.

When salad's a separate course, make it stand out. Serve crostini with it—baguette slices topped with goat cheese and broiled until the cheese melts.

Something-for-nothing bargain: don't discard chicken necks, backs and wingtips. Save them in the freezer. They make great soup!

Food history note: a patent for processing chocolate into powder was granted in Holland in 1828. Dutch-process cocoa is still a top choice for full-flavor, lower-fat-baking.

McCLIVE'S LAKEFRONT DINING

Shop Celebrates Decade Of Service To Community

A dinner was held recently to celebrate 10 years of community support by the Highland Thrift Shop in Grantsville and to honor its volunteers.

Proceeds of the shop sales all go support organizations and agencies in the community. In the 10 years the thrift shop has operated $98,049 has been donated to dozens of groups.

Those gathered in celebration listened to music presented by the Byler Family and were welcomed by Leona Maust, board president.

Special recognition went to 14 volunteers who have faithfully given their time for 10 consecutive years. Mary Ellen Beitzel, Janet Brenneman, Grace Brasky, Pauline Bittinger, Nellie Hare, Evert and Roberta Millard, Beulah Moon, Leona Maust, Lucretia Stanton, Laura Turner, Evelyn Yoder, and Nellie Yommer were honored for their service.

Francis Durst, a volunteer who recently passed away, was remembered with gratitude by those present.

On a lighter note, board member and 10-year-volunteer Roberta Millard shared with the group the words she had written for a song. "Ode To Highland Thrift Shop Volunteers" was sung by everyone to the tune of "School Days."

Among the volunteers at the Highland Thrift Shop in the Casselman Ventures building are representatives from 14 different church congregations.

The volunteer appreciation dinner was held at the Maple Glen Mennonite Church and the meal was prepared by the food committee of the church.

Educator-Cousins To Be Honored At Family Reunion

More than 200 educators in the same family who have worked at schools in Allegany County and Garrett County, Western Pennsylvania, and throughout the nation will be honored at a reunion for their work in education.

The cousin-educators are all members of the extended Minerd-Miner-Minor family, whose pioneer roots in the region date to 1791. The clan's annual reunion will be held on Saturday, July 12, at the Kingwood (W.Va.) Picnic Grounds (Odd Fellows Grove).

The honorees have worked over time as school board directors, administrators, teachers, aides, bus drivers, cafeteria workers, and custodians--at places ranging from one-room schoolhouses to the nation's large universities.

"This remarkable group has touched the minds of thousands of students over many generations," said reunion president Mark A. Miner, who is coordinating the research. "Together, they have made a long-term impact in our schools and communities and conveyed a sense of wonder."

To honor the educator-cousins, a 16-page booklet will be published as a free handout at the reunion, containing entries on each educator and select old photos. Additionally, retired teachers Freda (Miller) Channing and Bonnie (Pfeifer) Morell will share their career experiences and compare the field from when they first began teaching.

The reunion will begin at 10:30 a.m., with a picnic lunch at noon. Hamburgers, hot dogs, and soft drinks will be provided. Guests are asked to bring a side dish or a dessert. A freewill donation will be taken to offset costs. A group photo will be taken at 1 p.m., and there will be games and a pinata for children.

The "educator" focus of this year's reunion is part of an ongoing effort to "map" the impact of the pioneer clan by identifying all its descendants and measuring their long-term, combined contributions to the region and the nation.

Other members of the planning committee are vice president Denise (Minerd) Turek of Dunbar, Pa.; treasurer Melda (Miner) Bittinger of Grantsville; secretary Rosella (Resh) Miner, also of Grantsville; and Evanell (Miner) Kimmel Nicklow of Markleton. For more information, persons may call 412-935-4513.

TROOP 22 ON THE MARCH AGAIN - Boy Scouts of America Troop 22, sponsored by the Oakland/Mtn. Lake Park Lions Club, recently participated in the Potomac Council Hiking Camporee at Green Ridge State Forest. The weekend's theme was orienteering and hiking, and Troop 22 learned and then tested its skills during a seven-mile hike that included problem solving activities along the way. The Scouts covered a lot of ground in time as well as in territory, as the weekend included both a pre-1850 "mountain man" camp, and a demonstration landing by Maryland State Police helicopter "Trooper One." The intrepid adventurers are shown above standing at the summit of Town Hill, ready to begin their seven-mile orienteering trek, as Sidling Hill looms in the background.

Contractors Must Be Licensed, Warns The BBB

Everyone wants to add a deck to their house or add another bathroom to their first floor, but consumers should be cautious about who they hire to do the job, according to the Better Business Bureau of Greater Maryland, Inc.

Home remodeling companies amassed the third highest number of consumer complaints in the country last year, being outranked only by car dealers and auto shops, according to the Bureau.

In order to decide whether the contractors with which they may be ready to work are legitimate, consumers need to ask a few questions.

One of the first things to check with prospective contractors is their Home Improvement License and the number and expiration date. Persons should call the Maryland Home Improvement Commission (MHIC) at 410-333-6309 to verify the license and ask about complaints.

Another important tip is to avoid using a contractor with no experience. Contractors should be able to give references and examples of similar work. Persons should hire only licensed home improvement contractors to ensure protection by MHIC Guaranty Fund.

Before the start of the home improvement job, consumers should obtain at least three estimates and get a written contract and examine it carefully. "Do not pay a contractor before you read and sign a contract, and make sure that no blanks are left in the contract and that all verbal promises are put down in writing," stated a Bureau spokesman. Maryland law prohibits a contractor from receiving more than one-third of the contract price at the time the contract is signed.

"Look out for contractors who come to your door unsolicited or offer reduced prices for work using 'left-over' materials. Contractors who drive through a neighborhood and solicit remodeling jobs at a low rate are examples of situations to avoid. They will likely use cheap material that will cause the problem to reappear weeks later. By that time, the location of the contractor often is not known," the spokesman said.

"Whether you are fixing, adding, building or remodeling, check the company's insurance policies. It should cover against workers compensation, property damage, and personal liability in case of an accident," he added.

To contact the Better Business Bureau for a reliability report, 24 hours a day, seven days a week, persons may call 1-900-CALL-BBB. The call costs $.95 per minute and callers must be 18 years of age or older or have parental permission to call. For a free report, consumers should write to the BBB at: Better Business Bureau of Greater Maryland, Inc., 2100 Huntingdon Avenue, Baltimore, MD 21211-3215.

FSU Receives Major NSF Grant For Renovation

Frostburg State University is the recipient of a substantial grant from the National Science Foundation that will greatly enhance environmental research and research training at the institution. The $950,000 research infrastructure grant will be used to renovate laboratories in Gunter Hall on the FSU campus.

According to Dr. Ken Stewart, dean of the School of Natural and Social Sciences, the project will allow FSU's science faculty to further develop their research programs and enhance the training of undergraduate and graduate science students.

"Once the renovation is complete, Gunter Hall will house research training laboratories for the departments of biology, chemistry, and geography. In addition, all geography faculty will be located in the redesigned building," Stewart explained.

Presently, Gunter Hall is the site of the Appalachian Environmental Laboratory (AEL), a research unit of the Center for Environmental and Estuarine Studies of the University of Maryland System. Final preparations are currently underway for building a new AEL research facility on the FSU campus. AEL's operations are expected to move to their new building in 1998.

The NSF funds will be used to relocate and renovate specific laboratories as well as to improve ventilation and utility systems. After renovation, Gunter Hall will include environmental geology, hydrology, soils, environmental chemistry, cartography, image analysis, Geographic Information Systems, aquaculture, and toxicology research/research training laboratories. There will also be an environmental chamber and other research support spaces in the renovated building.

Faculty researchers, graduate and undergraduate students in geography, earth science, environmental analysis and fisheries science, aquaculture, and environmental chemistry will benefit from the new facilities. The research training of approximately 450 undergraduate natural science majors and 50 graduate students in environmental science programs will be significantly enhanced.

"Our biology, geography, and chemistry departments all contribute strongly to our interdisciplinary programs in environmental science," Stewart added. "This renovation will allow them to consolidate many research training activities in one building."

The project competed with other comprehensive university projects at the highest national level. Stewart says FSU received the grant as the result of a "strong team effort."

"FSU's ability to be successful was due to the collaborative efforts of science faculty and our physical plant staff. The management and engineering skills of our staff combined with the research training skills of our faculty led to our success in gaining NSF's support for this initiative," Stewart said.

EARNS AWARD -- Curtis Wesley, a fifth grade student in Carole Glotfelty's class at Broad Ford Elementary School, is shown with the plaque he received, awarded each year to the outstanding social studies student in fifth grade. This recognition program is sponsored each year by the Woodmen of the World organization.

Watchdog Group Releases Legislative Report Card

As part of its public education efforts, Western Maryland Citizens Against Lawsuit Abuse has released its first legislative report card. The two-page brochure highlights some of the key pieces of legislation considered by the Maryland General Assembly during the 1997 session.

"WMCALA is not a lobbying organization except in our desire to encourage the public to stay informed about the issues surrounding lawsuit abuse," said Executive Director Michael O'Connor.

"Our board of directors has taken no formal position on the legislation highlighted in the report. But we favor efforts that seek to reduce the number of frivolous lawsuits that are filed and oppose efforts that might increase that number. Part of our mission is public education, and WMCALA sees this report card as one way to achieve that goal," O'Connor said.

The report card profiles seven bills considered by Maryland legislators and provides the votes cast by the four senators and 12 delegates who represent constituents in WMCALA's area of operation. Senator John Hafer voted for two of the bills, against one, and did not have an opportunity to vote on four others. Delegate George Edwards voted for five of the bills, against one, and did not have an opportunity to vote for one other one.

WMCALA is a grassroots, non-partisan, nonprofit watchdog organization dedicated to educating the public about the costs and effects of frivolous civil litigation and excessive jury awards. The report card is available by calling 301-745-4660.

COVER STORY

Fox hoping All-Star gimmick will catch on

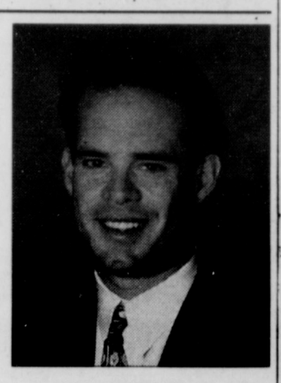
By Jim Baker
©TVData Features Syndicate



Joe Buck

There are two popular explanations why gimmick-motivated Fox is introducing its "Catcher-Cam" during the Major League Baseball All-Star Game on Tuesday, July 8:

1. Baseball officials are so concerned about their sport's sagging appeal – especially among young viewers – that they will approve almost any experiment that might bring back fans.

2. The camera's behind-the-plate view will add an innovative perspective to the midsummer classic beyond the usual showcase of superstars.

Both have merit.

The concern of team owners about baseball's future after the 1994 strike turned away so many fans is reflected not only in the introduction of the Catcher-Cam but in the initiation of interleague play and the approval of Fox's requests for increased audio accessibility to the players and coaches.

Fox senior coordinating producer John Filippelli, in his 21st season producing Major League Baseball telecasts, says the sport was a comparatively silent movie until Fox began initiating changes last year. The network that revolutionized National Hockey League telecasts with "FoxTrax's" computerized blue and red streaks put microphones in bases, dugouts and bullpens and on coaches.

Now comes the lipstick-sized camera that will be attached to the hockey goalie-style catcher's masks being worn by such players as Jim Leyritz of the Anaheim Angels, Sandy Alomar of the host Cleveland Indians and Charlie O'Brien of Toronto. Which catchers will use the mask during the All-Star Game is not known.

If the Catcher-Cam doesn't seem like an entirely new idea, it is because ESPN introduced a thumb-sized "MaskCam" during its coverage of the College World Series – but that camera was affixed to the mask of the home-plate umpire.

The main motive behind Fox's All-Star experiment is to add viewer appeal to a sport that is drawing only 3.0 matinee ratings during the network's five-year, $575 million TV deal with Major League Baseball.

Tim McCarver, the longtime catcher who will work the game with play-by-play announcer Joe Buck and analyst Bob Brenly, believes the new perspective will make telecasts more intriguing and says he would have been willing to try it during his playing days.

"I'd have been very receptive to something new, especially seeing I was going into broadcasting," McCarver says with a laugh. "It is a good idea if a catcher is willing to wear it. And it's an interesting experiment, though I don't know where it will lead.

"I do know progressive owners ... see their sport can be enhanced and brought to viewers in a better package than in the past. The gift is the same, the package is the same, but the wrapping is different. That's what Fox is trying to accentuate."

Buck agrees.

"Baseball and television haven't always embraced each other, but the owners see what other sports give their TV rights-holders and know it's time to step up," he says.

Angela Lansbury

Q: Whatever happened to the Angela Lansbury Murder, She Wrote TV movies CBS promised us? It's been a year and nothing. –Kit Klepadio, Clarks Summit, Pa.

A: Lansbury will indeed appear in a Murder, She Wrote TV movie during CBS' 1997-98 TV season. Watch for it during sweeps.

Q: Several months ago I saw the ice skating team of Paul Martini and Barbara Underhill on TV performing to a beautiful song that featured the repeated phrase "till the days go by." Can you identify it? –A.H., Canton, Ohio.

A: I didn't see that telecast, but it sounds like a haunting ballad Stephen Sondheim wrote called "Not a Day Goes By." The song begins, "Not a day goes by, not a single day, but you're somewhere a part of my life – and it looks like you'll stay."

It closes with, "I want day after day after day after day after day after day, till the days go by ... till the days go by ... till the days go by!"

Q: In the early '70s, James Franciscus played a blind man with a white German shepherd guide dog. No one can remember the name of it. –Lisa A. Rozycki via e-mail.

A: Longstreet, a 1971-72 drama which ran on ABC, starred Franciscus as New Orleans insurance investigator Mike Longstreet.

After being blinded in an attempt on his life that killed his wife, Mike continued his career, solving a new mystery every week with the help of his white dog, Pax ("peace" in Latin).

Q: Is the show Fight Back! With David Horowitz still airing in syndication? –Sam Eckhouse via e-mail.

A: The show left first-run syndication in 1992.

Since it was time-sensitive information about then-current consumer products, it would be almost impossible to syndicate the reruns today.

Q: Why did Rob Estes and Mitzi Kapture leave Silk Stalkings? What is she doing now? –Jessica Zilmer, Longview, Wash.

A: Estes wanted to pursue other interests and currently is appearing in Melrose Place.

Kapture, who stars this week in the TV movie Perfect Crime on USA Network, left to await the birth of her daughter. She also has a number of other projects in development.

Q: Whatever happened to The Practice with Dylan McDermott? Will it be back this fall? –Melissa Kermoade, Suisun City, Calif.

A: Yes, the David E. Kelley (Picket Fences) series returns to ABC on Saturdays this fall.

WFWM To Air New Broadcast, "A Note To You"

A new broadcast of classical music will begin soon on WFWM, Frostburg, Rene Atkinson, program director for the radio station, announced this week.

"Area residents who enjoy learning about classical music as well as listening to it will begin to receive a special treat on Sunday, July 6 at 10 a.m.," Atkinson said. This is when WFWM, public radio from Frostburg State University, has scheduled the first broadcast of the widely-syndicated program, "A Note to You."

Hosted by Roland Nadeau, the weekly series delves into the great works of the western music tradition, examining them at a depth unique among programs dealing with serious music, he explained. "The program, above all, presents great music, complemented by Nadeau's engaging, personable and highly informed observation," Atkinson stated.

Program guests include world authorities on music and a high quality of performers like Christopher Hogwood, Arnold Steinhardt, John Cage, and others. "A Note to You" is a co-production of Northeastern University and WGBH Radio Boston.

WFWM brings classical music to the tri-state region, broadcasting at 91.7 FM, Frostburg, 96.3 FM in the Oakland/Deep Creek Lake area and 93.7 on Cumberland's TCI cable system. Classical programming on WFWM is made possible in part by the Maryland State Arts Council and the Allegany Arts Council. For a program guide, persons may call 301687-4143.

Displacement Of Workers Prevented By New Law

Governor Parris N. Glendening signed an executive order this week titled "Preventing Displacement of Workers by the Welfare Reform Efforts of the Family Investment Program," which clarifies the state's position on "displacement."

"Each day more people are moving from welfare to work and achieving independence," Glendening said, noting that steps taken by the General Assembly and embraced by employers have created new opportunities for people to leave welfare behind.

"My concern is job security for hard-working Marylanders," he said. "Policies put in place to accomplish and reinforce the positive movement from dependency to independence were never meant to threaten low-wage workers. No one should fear that his or her job is at risk as the state works with employers seeking to make room for individuals participating in welfare to work programs."

Representatives from the Maryland Industrial Areas Foundation (MIAF), State Senator Nathaniel J. McFadden, and Maryland Secretary of Human Resources Alvin C. Collins joined the governor at the signing. In his remarks, the governor praised the MIAF for its advocacy for the state's low wage workers and for creating greater public awareness about the issue of "displacement."

"This executive order reaffirms our commitment to prevent and offer remedies for displacement," Governor Glendening said. "It also clarifies the definition of displacement so there will be no doubt as to when it has occurred.

"Clearly, we understand that most business people follow the law and are as opposed to displacement as any of us," he said. "This is to guard against the few employers who might engage in displacement."

The governor met with MIAF members last month and pledged to examine how low-wage workers may be unintentionally harmed by welfare reform. While what constitutes "displacement" is complex, the executive order clarifies its definition and provides a grievance procedure for workers who think they have been displaced.

Existing federal law prohibits "displacement," and workers in Maryland have been able to request a hearing with the Office of Administrative Hearings. The executive order creates additional mechanisms for workers who think they have lost their jobs or had their hours reduced as a result of the Family Investment Program. This mechanism includes a grievance process and creates a Welfare Displacement Review Panel.

The Governor added that the executive order establishes a Governor's Commission on Inadvertent Displacement. The Commission will study issues surrounding unintentional displacement and report its findings by the end of the calendar year.

ARMED SERVICES REVIEW

U. S. Navy Airman Robert D. Beachy, son of Olen D. and Ada M. Beachy, Amish Road, Grantsville, who is currently on a six-month deployment to the Mediterranean Sea aboard the aircraft carrier USS John F. Kennedy, recently completed a six-day port visit to Marseilles, France.

While in port, Beachy and his shipmates had the opportunity to experience the French culture and also share the uniqueness of a U.S. aircraft carrier with the people of Marseilles. Highlights included tours of French castles and vineyards. In addition, crew members also took time out to paint a local soup kitchen.

According to a Navy spokesman, aircraft carriers like Beachy's ship are forward deployed around the world to maintain a U.S. presence and provide rapid response in times of crises. Sailors and marines like Beachy are often the first to arrive in situations ranging from humanitarian relief efforts to combat operations.

The 1993 graduate of Northern Garrett High School joined the Navy in January 1995.

U.S. Marine Lance Cpl. Tony R. Murray, son of Thomas P. and Daisy M. Murray, Shreve Road, Oakland, who recently departed on a six-month deployment, is a member of the 22nd Marine Expeditionary Unit (MEU), which recently conducted non-combatant evacuation operations in Sierra Leone.

The U.S. European Command ordered the evacuation of American citizens from Sierra Leone at the request of the State Department. Since May 30, more than 2,500 people have been evacuated. Citizens from the U.S. and several foreign countries were transported to USS Kearsarge for further transfer to a follow-on location.

The evacuation was conducted with French, Nigerian, and Sierra Leonean surface ships on station, and Marine and Navy helicopters. Conducting air and well deck operations simultaneously, USS Kearsarge also launched one Landing Craft Air Cushion, with supporting security forces from the 22nd MEU aboard to be utilized as necessary.

The 22nd MEU remains available in the area to conduct additional evacuations as necessary.

Murray, a 1993 graduate of Southern Garrett High School, joined the Marine Corps in June 1995.

State, County Crime Down In First Quarter

Incidents of crime in Maryland and in Garrett County decreased during the first three months of 1997 compared to same period in 1996, according to reports recently released by the Maryland State Police.

The figures reported are based on statistics from the state police Uniform Crime Reporting System. The data indicate that overall crime decreased 6% while violent crime decreased 14%. The smallest decrease was reported in property crimes at a 4% reduction.

The statistics for Garrett County reflect a first quarter decrease in overall crime of 22.1% Incidents of crime recorded in 1997 were 120, down from 154 in the same period of 1996. The most significant drop was seen in the number of larceny/theft crimes, which went from 117 in 1996 to 77 in 1997.

State police crime numbers are grouped by region as well as by individual county. Garrett is included with Frederick, Carroll, Washington, and Allegany counties for regional purposes. Of those localities, only two, Garrett and Allegany, recorded decreases in the rate of crime. Overall, the western region saw an increase of 5.5%

Hot Air Balloon Adventure To Be Theme Of VBS

Faith Evangelical Free Church invites children to a Hot Air Ballooning Adventure. "We have an exciting summer program planned for the children in Garrett County," stated Bobbie Rhodes, vacation Bible school coordinator. "This summer we will be transforming the church into a SonRise Balloon Adventure, where children will lift off on a journey of faith," she said.

Rhodes described plans including songs, crafts, games, Bible stories and snacks and said these are all of the things that make vacation Bible school (VBS) so popular with children and parents. "This years emphasis will be to help kids grow in their faith as they learn how God gives us courage," she said.

Children ranging from 3 years of age to those completing the sixth grade this year may register for the VBS. Registration requires the child's name, address, phone number, a parent's name, a medical emergency phone number, and a list of any allergies the child may have.

The SonRise Balloon Adventure Vacation Bible School begins July 21 and continues through July 25, at Faith Evangelical Free Church on Route 135 in Mtn. Lake Park. The hours will be from 9 a.m. to noon. Anyone wishing more information may call the church at 301-334-4172 or Bobbie Rhodes at 301-387-2931.

A Message to all Garrett County Medicaid Recipients

In the near future, you will be asked to select a managed care organization through which you will receive your healthcare benefits. There are currently four managed care organizations approved by the State of Maryland in Medicaid's HealthChoice program.

At the present time, the FreeState Health Plan is the only managed care organization that will pay for inpatient and outpatient services for Medicaid recipients at Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

Until you are enrolled in a HealthChoice managed care program, the availability of inpatient and outpatient services at Garrett County Memorial Hospital will remain unchanged.

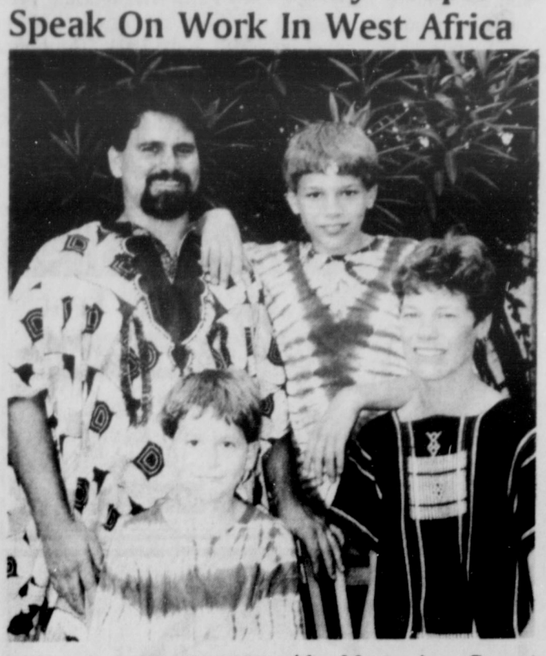
Mennonite Missionary Couple To Speak On Work In West Africa



Dorothy and Stephen Wiebe-Johnson, Mennonite Board of Missions (MBM) workers in Cotonou, Benin, West Africa, will speak at Glade Mennonite Church, July 6, 7:30 p.m.

The Wiebe-Johnsons have completed a two-year term of service in Benin, during which Steve was involved in the Bible training program, served as overseer for Bible training extension classes, worked with community-based development programs, and served as administrative coordinator for MBM contacts in West Africa.

Dorothy worked in community health along with MBM colleagues and other Christian organizations.

From 1993 to 1995, Steve taught international development at Bethel College, North Newton, Kan. Dorothy worked as a hospice nurse in North Newton. Previous assignments with MBM took the couple to Ghana and Liberia.

A native of Kitchener, Ontario, Canada, Steve attended Eastern Mennonite University in Harrisonburg, Va., and graduated from Bethel College with a bachelor's degree in philosophy and international development. He received his master of divinity degree in 1993 from Associated Mennonite Biblical Seminary in Elkhart, Ind. He also served at the Foyer Grebel Mennonite Study and Meeting Center in Paris, France, with Mennonite Central Committee (MCC).

Dorothy, born in Aberdeen, Idaho, graduated from Bethel College with a bachelor's degree in nursing and international development. She served with MCC in West Berlin, Germany, and worked as a staff nurse at Memorial Hospital of South Bend (Ind.).

The Wiebe-Johnsons have two children, Julian and Michael. They are members of Belmont Mennonite Church in Elkhart.

Free Legal Info Available From Bar Association

Facing common everyday situations without the proper legal knowledge, such as signing a contract, renting an apartment, filing for bankruptcy, or divorcing a spouse, can lead many people to make rash decisions, sometimes with negative consequences. The Maryland State Bar Association (MSBA) says it can help people avoid the pitfalls of many of these circumstances with a legal resource, the Public Awareness Brochure Series. This series includes 23 brochures with a wide variety of titles such as: "Divorce & Separation," "Filing for Workers' Compensation," "HIV & the Law," "Your Legal Rights if Arrested," as well as many others. These brochures describe common legal situations not with legalese, but with basic legal information written in laymen terms, stated an Association spokesman.

These brochures are a free public service available to the community. For a complete listing of all the titles available, persons may call Ruth Ballard at the MSBA at 410-685-7878 or 800-492-1964 or send a written request to the MSBA, 520 West Fayette Street, Baltimore, MD 21201.

The Maryland State Bar Association is a professional, non-profit, voluntary organization comprised of over 18,000 attorneys across the state of Maryland, which monitors judicial and legislative issues in the state, offers legal education opportunities, and promotes leadership within its programs that ensure the delivery of quality legal services to all citizens and is committed to furthering the efficient administration of justice and equality for all under the law.

Schofield has been named to the dean's list and also participates in the University Chorale. He hopes to become a high school physics teacher.

The FSU Scholarship program is administered by the FSU Financial Aid Office. Funding is provided through the FSU Foundation, Inc.

WHAT HAS TWO HEADS, EIGHT LEGS, AND ONE STICK IN BETWEEN? Legends abound of "Messie," Garrett County's own version of the Loch Ness Monster. In a rare photograph, we have documented proof of the creature's existence as it breaks the surface of local waters, where it remained above only for a split second, returning in the blink of an eye to the depths of Deep Creek Lake. Actually, this amazing octopod is composed of a pair of goofy golden retrievers, Billy-Bob, left, and Dino. The dynamic doggie duo was out for a swim in this past week's 90-degree-plus weather when they happened upon a stick that they decided to retrieve simultaneously. The only danger posed to humans is when they come out dripping wet and decide to shake off their sopping coats right next to the closest person they can find.

Maryland Leads Country In Welfare Reform Initiatives

As national welfare reform became law on Tuesday, Maryland continues to stand at the forefront of states implementing welfare-to-work initiatives to protect children and working families, according to Governor Parris Glendening.

"Maryland is continuing to develop programs ensuring that the state is a state where everyone who can work does work, where families are strong, children are properly cared for, and partnerships are strengthened among families, businesses, faith and non-profit communities, and government," the governor said.

Over the past two and one-half years, Maryland has helped nearly 70,000 people shift from welfare to independence without taking a punitive approach, Glendening reported. In January 1997, the number of people on welfare in Maryland had decreased more than 22 percent from January 1995. Four months later--by May of 1997--the total reduction had reached 31 percent. From January 1995 to May 1997, Maryland's welfare caseload had declined by a total of 69,666 people.

Maryland's Family Investment Program, which went into effect in October 1996, assists needy children by helping their families become independent of welfare support and achieve independence through work, personal and family responsibility, and community involvement. The program combines several programs: Child Support First, Welfare Avoidance, Family Responsibility Orientation, Entitlement, Eligibility, Family Cap, Local Flexibility, Work Requirements, Child Care, and Payment Accuracy.

Maryland was the first state in the nation to step forward and assume the cost of many programs that congress has cut--investing more than $8.6 million to help children of legal immigrants by providing food stamps and medical assistance to those who would be denied such services by the current federal legislation. Congress passed federal law that would also discontinue food stamps to all legal immigrants--more than 10,000 legal immigrants in Maryland receive food stamps--more than 2,000 of whom are immigrant children.

Maryland established a task force to study the impact of Welfare Reform on legal immigrants and generated the findings for congress; consequently, during the 1997 Legislative Session, the Maryland General Assembly passed the Welfare Reform legislation that specifically prohibited displacement.

The state signed into law this week an executive order that ensures that persons moving from welfare to work do not cause other workers to lose their jobs. The order is titled "Preventing Displacement of Workers by the Welfare Reform Efforts of the Family Investment Program." Glendening has established a Governor's Commission on Inadvertent Displacement to study issues surrounding unintentional displacement and will report its findings by the end of the calendar year.

According to Glendening, Maryland increased Child Care for the Working Poor by $9.1 million, and is reinvesting the savings from declining welfare roles. Approximately $15.7 million from savings has been set aside for training and $4.4 million from savings will go for child care.

"Maryland's economy is in excellent shape--we are fourth in the country in family income, jobs are at an all-time high, and unemployment is down statewide. Sales tax revenues are up more than $2 billion," Glendening stated.

SERVICE-MINDED SCOUTS of Mtn. Lake Park Boy Scout Troop #70 recently painted playground equipment at a local park. Some scouts who participated put in 12 hours of service to the town, and local representatives were impressed and grateful for their efforts. Bartlett Honored For Leadership In Tax Reduction

Congressman Roscoe Bartlett has been recognized and commended by four national taxpayer "watch dog" groups for his leadership in reducing Americans' tax burden. Those groups are the Americans for Tax Reform (ATR), the United States Chamber of Commerce, the Seniors Coalition, and the Christian Coalition.

The ATR's "Friend of the Taxpayer" award was presented to Bartlett at the United States capitol by ATR President Grover G. Norquist.

"Representative Roscoe Bartlett has proven to the people of Maryland that his record affirms him to be a leader in the fight to lower taxes, increase personal responsibility, and return power and money to localities, where it is more effectively and efficiently spent," said Norquist.

The U.S. Chamber of Commerce and its federation of more than three million businesses and organizations presented Bartlett with a certificate of appreciation for "timely and critical leadership" on the Taxpayer Relief Act of 1997, "providing historic tax relief and achieving stronger and long-term economic growth and job creation."

The Senior Coalition commended him on behalf of its two million members and supporters for "passing tax relief for American seniors and their families."

The Christian Coalition gave Bartlett its "Family Taxpayer Hero Award" in recognition of his support of the $500-per-child tax credit and the 1997 tax relief act.

This tax relief act was passed on June 26, representing the first tax cut in 16 years. Over three-fourths of the cut is targeted for families earning under $75,000 per year. Other major provisions are a $500 per child tax credit for children under age 17, expanded IRAs for college costs and retirement, a cut in the capital gains tax rate, and a reduction in the estate (or "death") tax.

Ford Named To Dean's List

Melodie Ford, daughter of David and Lois Ford, Accident, has been named to the Dean's List for the 1997 Spring semester at Mt. Vernon Nazarene College (MVNC), Mt. Vernon, Ohio. A senior majoring in psychology and pre-seminary Christian education, Ford achieved a 4.0 grade point average.

The Dean's List includes all students who carried a minimum of 12 credit hours and have maintained a grade point average of 3.5 or above for the semester.

Affiliated with the Church of the Nazarene, MVNC is four-year liberal arts institution which enrolls over 1,600 students. The college offers the master of ministry and master of education degrees and bachelor of arts and bachelor of science degrees in 41 majors, including business administration, elementary education, biology and communication. MVNC also offers the EXCELL (Executive Center for Lifelong Learning) degree completion program for working adults, age 25 and older, who have two years of prior college work.

Summer Center Offers Advanced Computer Class

The Western Maryland Math Summer Center for Gifted and Talented Education still has several openings for middle and high school students. The summer center, which begins this coming Monday, July 7, at Garrett Community College, offers the opportunity for interested students to gain expertise in math and science skills, with particular emphasis on the latest in computer applications and practice. There still is time and space for interested students to register for the week-long program.

The faculty for the Summer Center, a cross-section Garrett County math and science teachers, received training recently in using computers for digital image processing. This technique involves using a computer in studying photographs to extrapolate mathematical and scientific data.

LEARNING NEVER STOPS - Several local teachers selected for the Western Maryland Math Summer Center for Gifted and Talented Education at Garrett Community College learn how to teach digital image processing by computer. Shown left to right are seminar instructor Sarah Pletcher, assisting Jolene Scofield, Diana Marks and Wade Grove, who are three of the four lead teachers who will be teaching the advanced computer technology to middle and high school students at the academic camp, which begins this coming Monday, July 7. (Janet Thomas of the GCC math department is the fourth lead teacher and is not pictured in this photo.) Openings are still available for youth to attend the Summer Center at GCC, which begins this coming Monday, July 7. Interested persons are encouraged to call Dr. Nancy Priselac of the GCC math department at 301-387-3045 by late Saturday afternoon, July 5, and leave a message on her machine that includes a name and a callback phone number. See story.

As Dr. Nancy Priselac of the GCC math department explained, "digital image processing has numerous applications in the real world. It creates the opportunity to solve real-world problems by using math and science through computer processing of photographs.

"For instance," Priselac continued, "one exercise involves taking a satellite photograph of one of the Great Lakes, and using the computer's digital image processing capability to calculate its size, area, depth, and water temperature variations at different depths. The computer can also animate the photo and recreate the movements of currents and changing temperature variations. This would be especially helpful in monitoring pollution levels by studying the changes in the lake's chemistry," she said. "We are thrilled that the college is offering this opportunity."

GCC computer and math lab technician Mike Nedrow concurred. "GCC is one of the first sites in the country to get this kind of training for public school teachers," he said, "and the real-world applications are practically limitless. For example, another realm that this technology is currently being used in is law enforcement. Police detectives are using digital image processing to enhance photos of crime scenes in aiding their investigations. It's really exciting to think that Garrett County public school students will be able to learn this technology in their classrooms this fall," he added.

Nedrow's enthusiasm is echoed by local teachers who participated in the teachers' training sessions. "The lessons and skills that I'm learning can be integrated into our curriculum right away," said Jolene Scofield, a science teacher at Southern Middle School. Scofield will be joining Diana Marks and Wade Grove, math and science teachers at Southern high, and Janet Thomas of the GCC math department as lead teachers at GCC's Summer Center. All are excited about the possibilities of the new technology.

"Constructing and animating images from collected data is terrific," says Thomas, "but it is even better when you become aware of the communication that can result from sending the information to other researchers over the Internet. Students at the Summer Center will be able to draw from and communicate with worldwide resource centers."

There are still several openings for middle and high school students, both commuters and those needing residential space for the week, to attend the Western Maryland Math Summer Center for Gifted and Talented Education, which begins this coming Monday, July 7. Persons interested in participating are encouraged to call Dr. Nancy Priselac of the GCC math department immediately. Registration will be accepted by phone until late afternoon on Saturday, July 5, and interested persons may call the math department at 301-387-3045 and leave a message, including full name and a phone number where they can be reached.

Friendsville Sets Fiddle And Banjo Contests

The Annual Old Time Fiddlers' and Banjo contests will be held on Saturday evening, July 19, from 7 to 10 p.m. at the Friendsville Town Park. Local bands and square dancers will perform from 3 to 6 p.m. for those who would like to come and secure their seats early for the event.

A highlight of the annual Friendsville Days Celebration, the Fiddlers' Contest has been held every year since the town's bicennential celebration in 1965, and the banjo contest was added nine years ago.

Sponsored by the Rotary and Lions clubs of Friendsville, the contests are open to all amateur fiddle and banjo players in the area. Prize money and trophies will be awarded to the top three winners in four age divisions of the fiddle contest and one age division of the banjo contest.

During intermission between the two competitions, a sing-a-long with audience participation will be led by Judy Fisher and her family from the Pittsburgh area. Additional intermission entertainment will be provided by the Basement Cloggers of Ellicott City, Md.

Admission prices for the musical festivities are $5 for adults and $2 for children under the age of 16. Concert-goers should bring their own seating, and refreshments will be available for purchase. No alcoholic beverages or pets will be permitted on the grounds. Rain date for the Old Time Fiddlers' and Banjo contest is the following day, Sunday, July 20, at 2 p.m.

For further information, interested persons may write Judy Fisher, R.D. #1, Box 179, Dawson PA 15428, or call her in the evenings at 412-736-2297.

"McNeill's Rangers" Returning To Stage Near Burlington

The rolling hills of Mineral County, W.Va., will once again be ringing with the sounds of gunfire and old-time war tunes as the outdoor musical/drama "McNeill's Rangers" comes back to the amphitheater stage at Larenim Park, near Burlington.

"McNeill's Rangers" is the original story of John Hansen McNeill, his son Jesse, and their small band of ragtag rebels who wreaked havoc on the Union strongholds located in and around Cumberland and the New Creek Valley in what is now West Virginia.

Written by former Petersburg, W.Va., resident Vana Nespor, the story of the Rangers and their daring feats is told through flashback, as the Rangers and their Union counterparts, the Ringgold Cavalry, get together for a post-war reunion.

The audience is able to ride along with "Hanse," Jesse, and the Rangers as they recall burning bridges in the dead of night, stealing the boots right off the feet of relaxing Union soldiers, and capturing two of the Union's most notable generals without firing a single shot.

In order to better tell its tale, "McNeill's Rangers" features a variety of musical numbers, including adaptations of authentic Civil War era tunes and original music written by Nespor and scored for the first time this year by Frostburg State University professor of music Jon Bauman.

In addition to serving as musical director for the production, Bauman will also be conducting the newly formed Potomac Highlands Symphony, which will kick off the 1997 McNeill's season with a free Pops Concert at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, July 5.

The "McNeill's Rangers" season will then get underway with opening night on July 10, and will include the playdates of July 10-13, July 17-19, and July 24-26.

Curtain time for the Pops Concert is 7:30 and curtain time for "McNeill's Rangers" is 8:30 p.m.

State Now Spends $491 Per Second Goldstein Says

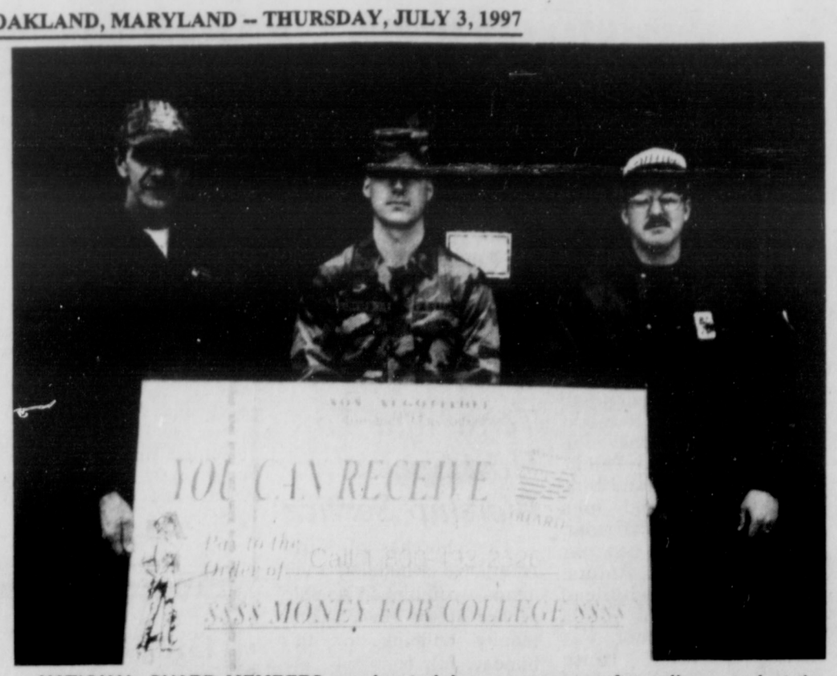
As of July 1, the state of Maryland will spend $4,910 in the 10 seconds it will probably take a person to read this paragraph, according to State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein. He recently outlined the rate of state spending for fiscal year 1998, which began July 1.

"The total budget for fiscal year 1998 is $15,443,465,132," Goldstein said. "This breaks down to a spending rate of: $1,286,955,428 per month; $296,989,714 per week; $42,427,102 per day $1,767,796 per hour; $29,463 per minute; or $491 per second.

"Maryland has a balanced budget, as required by state law," Goldstein said. The state's top three revenue sources supporting the budget are income tax, federal funds, and the sales and use tax, respectively.

Last fiscal year, 1997, a state budget of $14,639,901,532 produced spending at a rate of $466 per second, compared to this year's rate of $491 per second.

"The budget growth reflects Maryland's improving economy and growing consumer confidence, which has resulted in increased tax revenues," the comptroller said.



NATIONAL GUARD MEMBERS receive training, earn money for college, and at the same time serve their country. Three men from Garrett County who were sworn into the 243rd Engineer Company (CSE), 2nd Platoon, Maryland Army National Guard, Oakland, are pictured here. Sgt. Randolph S. Kitzmiller, left, of Deer Park is employed by Doug's Auto and Truck Repairs, Loch Lynn. He enlisted as a heavy vehicle driver and will receive training over a six-month period covering operation of a 20-ton dump truck as well as tractors and trailers which will be used in the new CSE Platoon. Sgt. David L. Meyer, center, of Oakland enlisted as a construction equipment operator. His training will include a 15-day session at Devil's Lake, N.D., where he will learn to operate dozers, front end loaders, scrappers, excavators, and road graders. Sgt. Timothy D. Sanders, Oakland, will receive the same training as Sgt. Meyer while serving as a construction equipment operator. Persons wishing more information on the Army National Guard and the opportunities it provides may contact Sfc. Tom Bittinger at 301-334-9794.

Customer Service To Improve At MVA Offices

Better customer service for Motor Vehicle Administration (MVA) customers is on the way, according to Governor Parris N. Glendening who announced this week that the MVA is using technology to improve access to information needed to obtain a driver's license or register a vehicle.

Beginning immediately, customers will be able to access information about driver and vehicle services and obtain often-used MVA forms via Fax on Demand and the Internet. The MVA also is expanding the hours of its telephone Customer Service Center and is scheduling appointments for driver license road tests.

"These initiatives reflect the first steps in our comprehensive program to improve customer service in all MVA facilities," said Glendening. "This is good news for MVA customers, who often do not have time to access government services during normal business hours."

"Forms on the Internet, Fax on Demand, expanded telephone hours, and driver license road test appointments are making business with the MVA more efficient and convenient for Maryland citizens," said Secretary of Transportation David L. Winstead. "We will be announcing additional customer service improvements in the coming months."

Frequently requested MVA forms now are available on-line at the MVA Expressway, the MVA's home page on the Internet. Customers can view, print, and complete commercial and noncommercial driver's license applications, vehicle title applications, duplicate title applications, and gift certificates for titling a vehicle from one family member to another. The MVA's home page address is: http://www.inform.umd.edu:8080/UMS+State/MD_Resources/MDOT/mva/index.htm.

Internet users also can access the MVA through the Maryland Electronic Capital home page.

Customers can request forms by fax as well. Operational 24-hours-a-day, the Fax on Demand line, 410-424-3050, enables callers to request seven frequently used forms listed in a catalogue which can be faxed to them. In addition to the forms on the Internet listed above, Fax on Demand will offer Chesapeake Bay license plate applications and applications for substitute license plates and stickers.

The MVA's Customer Service Center telephone information line now is operational from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m., Monday through Friday, and from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Saturday. This provides MVA customers with an additional 20 hours a week during which they can have their questions answered by MVA customer service representatives. Customers may call the MVA toll free at 1-800-950-IMVA.

Additionally, customers now can schedule appointments to take the driver license road test.

"Customers welcome knowing that when they come to the MVA, they will be taken care of within minutes," said MVA Administrator Anne S. Ferro. "We are pleased to add driver road test appointments to our growing number of enhanced customer services."

Once a resident passes a vision and written knowledge test, he or she can either schedule a road test in person or call the MVA to make an appointment. Customers can call 24-hours-a-day toll-free 1-888-212-4709 to schedule a road test appointment.

genealogy were shared.

A weekend houseguest of Mrs. Louella Fike, Aurora, was her cousin, Rosalie Miller of Salt Lake City, Utah, who was here to attend the Snyder Reunion held Sunday at the Cecil Snyder Farm on the Ben DeWitt Road. On Monday morning, the above two were accompanied by Ernest and Effie Wotring of Amboy, and Cecil Snyder and Erica Spiker for breakfast at Piddle's Griddle.

Lindsey Teets, younger son of Mark and LaDeana Teets, Eglon, attended a junior academy of the arts and sciences held for the past two weeks at Fairmont State College.

Tory Cullers of Grand Forks, N.D., visited his father, Melvin Cullers, in Aurora recently and has now returned to his home.

Wilma Mae and David Teets of Horse Shoe Run visited Cranberry Glades, saw both "Honey in the Rock" and "The Hatfields and McCoys" at Grand View State Park, and made a stop at the Tamarack Craft Center near Beckley during a four-day vacation in West Virginia. En route home on Sunday, they stopped for a visit with the Rev. and Mrs. Harding Nelson in Franklin.

Madeline Wotring was released from Garrett Memorial Hospital and returned last week to Cortland Acres Nursing Home.

It is reported that Donald Shepherd is now in a walking cast and able to assume some of his normal activities. His son, John David, remains in critical condition in a Roanoke hospital, but his condition has improved slightly. Both were injured in a June 14 auto accident; they are the husband and son of Mary "Bitsy" Teets Shepherd of Salem, Va.

Barbara Loughrie Coberly of Aurora is recovering from recent pneumonia but was only treated at Garrett Memorial, not admitted.

Charlie and Betty Moore and Steve and Sue Hauser, Stemple Ridge, vacationed last week along the southeast coast as far as Savannah, Georgia.

Ruth (Mrs. Roscoe) Teets of Eglon was admitted Friday to Ruby Memorial Hospital, where her condition has improved. Visiting her last week were her aunt, Evelyn Harvey, and daughter Laura, with whom she makes her home in Cumberland. Visiting also were John and Leora Hall of Goldsboro, N.C., who were guests of Maynard and Bonnylin Lantz, Aurora.

There were two burials this week in the Eglon Cemetery: on Monday, Anna Virginia (Evans) Beckman, 90, of Oakland, and on Wednesday, Arley Wotring of Winchester, formerly of Erwin.

A picnic held June 27 followed the 11:30 a.m. closing of the Vacation Bible School held last week at Maple Spring Church, with an average attendance of 65 for the week. Parents joined the children and staff for the event.

Gric-it

written by staff members of the Garrett Rural Information Cooperative

Welcome to yet another edition of "GRIC-IT!" In today's column, actual GRIC members tell their stories of adventures on the 'net. With so many different ways to use 'net, you can bet there's a story for each of them!

Rather than using their actual names in their stories, each person will be identified by "user-id" rather than name. A user-id is the nickname each member chooses as the beginning of his/her e-mail address, and identifies him/her on the local bulletin board. As an example, if you chose "spanky" as your nickname, your e-mail address would be spanky@garrett.ncin.com, and you would be identified on the local intranet as "spanky." This allows people anonymity and ensures that no two members have the same e-mail address.

There are countless uses for the world-wide-web, but you don't even need to go out on the web to find fun for the family. "Luvgran," a longstanding GRIC member, has many new ways to entertain her grandkids with pictures and coloring books she makes using her computer. Luvgran writes: "I came across a great idea for keeping in touch with the grandkids via e-mail! I went into the Paint Shop program, and made drawings of a train and made circles into bubbles. I personalized the drawings with each child's name, 'Teddy's Train,' 'Katherine's Bubbles,' etc., and a short message from Granny. I then downloaded the files into e-mail. Presto! An e-mail for the grandkids from Granny that they can color! The possibilities are endless and are only limited by your imagination!" Luvgran calls her discovery "Granny Graphix," and her grandkids just love them.

Many people are interested in genealogy, and GRIC members are no exception. "Cbeachy" has been a member for several months and has already discovered much about her family. She says, "I made dozens of new friends from Iowa to the east coast." Many people from within GRIC correspond with Cbeachy on-line for information and advice on locating and sharing information. Until six months ago, Cbeachy had little experience on the computer. Who says using the computer is tough?

"Gcrebel" is another member interested in history and genealogy. However, he was looking for family that was still alive, and just out of touch for years. He writes, "An inexpensive offer from GRIC made the idea of using computers interesting. You see, I write to family members all over the country, but there is always postage to buy, and trips to the post office to get mail on its way. I discovered that with e-mail, the post office is just a click of the send button, and the time it takes to be received is seconds, not days. In one case, I was reunited with a cousin I had not been in contact with for 20 years! You see, while learning how to access information on the Internet, I tried to find his name on a web page that assists with people searches. Within moments, two matching names showed up in his state. One of the names had an e-mail address, so with much curiosity I sent him a test e-mail. Well, you can't know how overjoyed I was when the return mail proved to be him! He is married, has two beautiful children, and a successful business. Now, that is just one wonderful part of the Internet, and what it can do for you." It is also worth noting that within a few short months, Gcrebel has been in contact with friends from Italy, and seems to be picking up a bit of the language! He can travel without ever leaving the comfort of his home.

These are just a few of the many ways the 'net entertains and teaches people. It allows folks to communicate with friends and loved ones in minutes. The Internet is a window to the world, and the GRIC intranet allows the GRIC family to communicate through public forums and chat rooms. With the local bulletin board service, you can access forums that have listings of local events and services. Volunteer programs can post their meeting times, and people can share their interests and knowledge without ever leaving home. The possibilities are endless!

If there are any GRIC members out there who have heart-felt, amusing, or even wacky stories of their adventures on the 'net, please e-mail them to kmm@garrett.ncin.com, and maybe your user-id and story will appear in the next edition of GRIC-IT! GRIC would like to know how you use your computer in order to get a better understanding of the member's needs, so if anything comes to mind, you know the address. Or if you're not already a member of the community network and you want to join and get the benefits of on-line communications with others in the county, state, nation, and even throughout the whole world, give GRIC a call at 301-387-3048. It's easy, fun, and economical.

Until next time, happy surfin'!

DNR Issues Boating Safety Reminders

The Maryland Natural Resources Police (NRP) reminds boaters to think of safety this holiday weekend, and throughout the remainder of the summer boating season. Observing the following tips can help ensure a safe and enjoyable outing for any and all users of Garrett County's recreational waters.

Safe Boating Tips

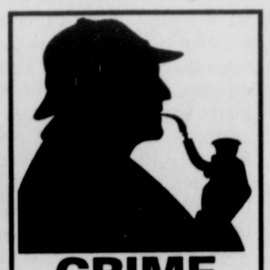
* Slow down - your slower speed improves the ability to maneuver your own vessel and watch out for other vessels.
* Don't drink while boating - dulled reflexes and lack of attention increase the risk of accidents, and operating a boating vessel while intoxicated (OWI) charge can carry a stiff penalty.
* Make sure everyone on board wears a life jacket - it doesn't work if not worn.
* Make sure all safety equipment is in order before leaving the dock.
* Water skiers - be alert of other people in the water.
* Be responsible for your own wake.
* Read the buoy messages.
* Any operator of any motorized vessel, including personal watercraft (PWC), under the age of 25 must possess a boating safety certificate.

PWC Regulations

* Personal watercraft (PWC) is considered a vessel and operators must abide by all Maryland boating regulations.
* PWC may not be operated on Deep Creek Lake between 11 a.m. and 4 p.m. on Saturday, Sunday and holidays from July 1 through Labor Day.
* PWC may not be operated between sunset and sunrise, seven nights a week.
* PWC operators must be 16 years of age or older, and PWC operators under the age of 25 must possess a boating safety certificate.
* Personal floatation devices must be worn by anyone on board a PWC.

There are additional speed and distance restrictions for PWC. For further information on PWC regulations for Maryland and Deep Creek Lake, or any other vessel or water regulations, interested persons may stop by Deep Creek Lake State Park headquarters or any marina in the area.

The NRP asks everyone to boat safely and use good common sense to help continue to make Deep Creek Lake a safe place



CRIME SOLVERS

The case of the week for the Garrett County Crime Solvers involves the malicious destruction of state park signs.

Sometime on May 24 between the hours of 7:30 and 10:30 p.m., someone destroyed three bulletin boards and two signs along the Herrington Manor and Fingerboard roads. Golf clubs were used to destroy the property, which is owned by the Maryland State Forest and Park Service. The loss in this case is estimated in excess of $1,700.

Persons who have information about this or any other unsolved crimes are urged to contact Crime Solvers at 301-387-1975. Callers do not have to give their names nor do they have to appear in court. Rewards of up to $1,000 are available to persons who provide tips that lead to arrests.

Bartlett Pleased About Passage Of Tax Cut Bill

"It's a day all taxpayers should celebrate," Congressman Roscoe Bartlett (R-6-Md.) said last Thursday following approval by the House of Representatives of the Taxpayer Relief Act. "It's been 16 years since American taxpayers have had their taxes cut and that's long enough," said Bartlett.

Bartlett said that the tax package is targeted to middle-income working families. The Congress' Joint Committee on Taxation reports that 76% of the tax cuts will go to families earning under $75,000 per year.

Major provisions of the package are a $500 per child tax credit for children under age 17, expanded IRAs for college costs and retirement, a cut in the capital gains tax rate, and a reduction in the estate, or "death," tax.

The House tax credit covers 11 million more children than President Clinton's proposal, because his proposed child credit would not apply to children over age 12. "Everyone knows that teenagers cost more," noted Bartlett. "Thanks to this bill, more than 111,000 children in Western Maryland will get to keep close to $53 million to save or spend to meet their needs instead of Washington's," he said, referring to a study by the Heritage Foundation.

The plan also includes up to $10,000 in tax deductions for tuition and Education Investment Accounts to allow parents to save tax free for their child's college tuition. It expands Individual Retirement Accounts (IRAs) to help more Americans save for their retirement and lowers the tax children pay when their parents die.

Bartlett said that cutting the capital gains tax would help all Americans. "Everyone who is saving for a home, their retirement, and their children's education will benefit," said Bartlett. "Every American who has invested in a mutual fund will benefit. This will help create more businesses and more jobs to keep the economy growing strong.

"Taxpayers can keep more of the money that they earn," concluded Bartlett.

Imagine trying to give a dinner party in the 19th century. Fresh fruits and vegetables were limited to what was growing in the neighborhood. Homemakers canned beans and tomatoes, made jelly or jam from the fruit and created various types of pickles and condiments such as chowchow and chutney. Meat, fish and poultry were either freshly killed or were dried and salted.

The fare served at a party included the best available foods and several different types of pickles and condiments to enhance or cover the taste of the stored foods.

Some flat pickle dishes were made of cut or pressed glass. Pickle casters were made with glass cylindrical bowls that had a silver-plated holder. The most elaborate examples had a decorated silver base and an arched handle that went above the jar. There were tongs, and a silver cover to protect the pickles from flies. Most were made with clear glass, but the best had colored glass decorated with enamel painted designs.

The imposing casters were the height of fashion in the 1880s and '90s. By 1900, the pickle caster was out of style and rarely made. Today the antique casters sell for hundreds of dollars.

Q. I'm going to have a 1950s Thomas Molesworth table restored. I don't like the colors, but don't know what authentic Molesworth colors are. The restorer told me it will be expensive.

A. Thomas Molesworth was a Western artist and designer born in Kansas who lived from 1890 to 1977. For more than 30 years he made rustic furniture for dude ranches, luxury liners and expensive private homes and lodges.

The Molesworth Shoshone Furniture shop was in Cody, Wyo.

Go ahead and use whatever bright colors you want. The cost might well be worth it.

Molesworth beds sell for about $7,000. A large table would be worth about as much.

Critic's Corner
by Rick Wilson

In "Con Air," a group of the most dangerous and notorious prisoners in the United States Penal System are being transported to a new maximum security facility. Recently paroled Cameron Poe (Nicolas Cage) hitches a ride on the Con Air transport flight. He's most anxious to get home to celebrate the birthday of his 8-year-old daughter whom he's never seen, and also more than anxious to see his wife (Monica Potter) whom he hasn't seen in many years. But that doesn't go according to plan. Poe suddenly finds himself embroiled in a meticulously planned mid-air hijacking masterminded by evil Cyrus "The Virus" Grissom played to the hilt by John Malkovich. On the ground, U.S. Marshal Vince Larkin (John Cusack) faces impossible odds as he tries to avert the takeover, and at the same time, tries to keep his overzealous superiors from blowing the aircraft and its passengers into oblivion. Meanwhile, in the plane, Poe is fighting to stop the new group of savage, hardened lifers from killing everyone on board as the plane careens toward disaster on the famed Las Vegas Strip. (This time, Nicolas Cage doesn't "Leave Las Vegas," he returns to it. But this time, I seriously doubt he'll be nominated for an Academy Award.) It's a Jerry Bruckheimer picture directed by Simon West.

"Buddy" is the true story of Gertrude "Trudy" Lintz (played by Rene Russo in the film), an eccentric socialite of the '20s who has a veritable Noah's Ark on her large estate. There's a kennel of Briard dogs, Rex rabbits, guinea pigs, flocks of geese, pigeons, a stable of horses, owls, three snakes and kittens, to name a few. Added to the fun are four chimpanzees whom she treats as children. Their clothes are tails made at Bergdorf Goodman. She teaches them table manners, how to play croquet, mix martinis, do light housework and to say their prayers. But her gorilla, Buddy, is her favorite. When she first sees him, he is a sickly baby, but she nurses him back to health and proceeds to raise him as her own child. But then Buddy grows up and after all, Buddy IS a gorilla. He can't fit into a human world and finally, Trudy must give him up. This one's for the kids — AND you!

SKIN REMOVAL — For healthier eating, remove the skin from chicken pieces by grasping the skin with a paper towel and pulling. It comes off cleanly and easily. Jill W., Rochester, N.Y.

BODY LANGUAGE — If you're communicating with hearing-impaired people, by all means, don't talk with your hands in front of your mouth.

It is amazing how many people prop their chin in their hand and talk through their palms, an unconscious habit but one which makes hearing their words almost impossible.

I have finally learned to ask people not to put their hands in front of their mouths. Most of them just don't realize what they're doing! Dana P., Farmington, Ark.

Free Summer Concert Dates Noted By GOBA

The Greater Oakland Business Association is sponsoring a summer concert series at the plaza of the Garrett County Courthouse. The concerts are free and will start at 7 p.m. on five consecutive Wednesday nights beginning July 9.

The public is invited to bring lawn chairs or blankets as well as food and drink to the varied entertainment. "The Plaza at the Courthouse is an excellent location to hold such an event and GOBA is excited about this particular project since its sole intent is to give something back to the community while showing how we can keep Oakland's downtown a place to shop, eat and enjoy the arts," said Ken Perrin, chairman of GOBA's Revitalization Committee. "If there continues to be things to do downtown, people will see how easy parking, eating, and shopping can be in the downtown area," he continued.

The schedule for the concerts is as follows:

July 9: Diane Hubka, jazz vocalist from New York City. She performed last year at the Artists' Street Fair and also at the Oakland Country Club.

July 16: Jerry Haines, folk musician from State College, Pa. He has varied musical talents which he will demonstrate with his performance.

July 23: Jeff Gilbert Garage Band. This is one of the most popular bands in the area. The group played for the first and second Save Oakland Station fundraisers.

July 30: Neil Krebbs and Greg Larry. This duo also played last year for the first annual Artists' Street Fair and will do so again this year. They also played at "Thunder on the Mountain" last year. They perform their renditions of rock and pop favorites in area clubs.

Aug. 6: Men of Accord, 7-7:45 p.m. This barbershop quartet voices to bring back old memories. At 8 p.m. Sang Run will perform. This group is known by many in the area for its use of traditional acoustic instruments.

Perrin said GOBA hopes everyone will come downtown on Wednesday nights and enjoy the fellowship with neighbors and listen to great music.

In Memory of
Gene "Pap Pap" Hanes
Who left our side on July 4, 1992

We little knew that morning
God was going to call your name,
In life we loved you dearly
In death we do the same.

It broke our hearts to lose you
You did not go alone,
For part of us went with you
The day God called you home.

You left us beautiful memories
Your love is still our guide,
And though we cannot see you
You are always by our side.

Our family chain is broken
And nothing seems the same,
But as God calls us, one by one
The chain will link again.

C.A.R.E. Effort Activated For Fourth Of July

The Maryland State Police, in cooperation with other state police agencies throughout the County, will participate in Operation C.A.R.E. during the Fourth of July weekend.

Operation C.A.R.E., which stands for Combined Accident Reduction Effort, began in the 1970s. At that time, the program was focused on the Interstate 95 corridor extending from Maine to Florida.

Locally, the Maryland State Police will concentrate enforcement on Interstate 68 for the purpose of enforcing the 65 mph speed limit, seatbelt, and child safety seat usage.

Those who are driving while intoxicated (DWI) will be targeted on all Garrett County roadways.

Troopers will be using Vascar, radar (including laser radar), marked and unmarked patrol cars, and unconventional vehicles for enforcement purpose. Radar stop teams will maximize enforcement efforts.

Aggressive drivers who follow vehicles too closely, change lanes unsafely, or commit other violations which contribute to collisions will be issued citations.

Maryland has been able to maintain an accident ratio per million miles driven that is lower than those in many other states. Enforcement, highway design, and voluntary compliance with the rules of the road on the part of motorists have all contributed to this.

The Maryland State Police have urged drivers to help make Garrett County a safe place to travel while celebrating America's independence this year.

Woodland Owners Sought For Forestry/Wildlife Workshop

The Maryland Cooperative Extension Service and the Ruffed Grouse Society are looking for a few good men and women. Specifically, the two organizations are looking for Maryland woodland owners interested in participating in their jointly sponsored "Coverts Project."

Named for thickets that provide habitat for wildlife, the Coverts Project features a peer-to-peer approach to forest wildlife education. Each year 30 woodland owners receive free training in forestry and wildlife management principles. In return, they are asked to implement what they have learned on their own property and encouraged to share their new knowledge with neighbors and colleagues. This year's training workshop will be held September 25-28 at Shepard Spring Retreat Center in Washington County.

Now offered in 11 states, the Coverts Project recently received national recognition when USDA's Cooperative State Research Education and Extension Service named the program a National NREM (Natural Resources & Environmental Management) Flagship Program for 1997. The panel of reviewers described the Coverts Project as "... one of the best models of partnership anywhere in Extension...," adding that it "...has helped improve habitat throughout the Northeast through voluntary actions by landowners."

In Maryland alone, 164 volunteers have completed the Coverts training and have shared forest and wildlife information with thousands of other state residents through one-on-one contacts, tours and other outreach activities. Persons who would like to be one of the 30 Maryland landowners to join the ranks of Coverts Cooperators this year may contact Jonathan Kays, Western Maryland Research and Education Center, 18330 Keedysville Road, Keedysville, MD 21756 (phone: 301-432-2735).

Estate Tax Gets Attention Of Congress

Estate and capital gains tax reform moved a step closer to reality last week as Congress continued work on the budget reconciliation measure.

The House passed, 253-179, a tax package (H.R. 2014), which provides $85 billion in net tax cuts over five years. Members rejected two Democratic alternatives.

At press time, the Senate was expected to vote on its version before recessing for the July 4th holiday. Among the amendments passed by senators was a Farm Bureau-supported measure to increase the health insurance tax deduction for the self-employed to 100 percent by 2004.

The House version increases the estate tax exemption from $600,000 to $1 million by 2007, while the one expected to pass the Senate gets to $1 million by 2006. Both versions would then index the exemption for inflation. The Senate bill also provides an additional $1 million in relief for family-owned businesses and a $1 million exemption for land subject to conservation easements.

American Farm Bureau Federation President Dean Kleckner outlined Farm Bureau's support for the estate and capital gains relief as well as other provisions--including guarantees that ethanol tax incentives will be extended. The Senate version extends the incentives through 2007.

A conference committee will now work out the bills' differences. Farm Bureau will urge conferees to include provisions that would: clarify that producers using deferred payment contracts are not subject to the alternative minimum tax; prevent farmers from losing the earned income tax credit due to the sale of breeding livestock; and assist farmers forced to sell livestock because of weather disasters.

After Kleckner presented estate tax letters to House Speaker Newt Gingrich (R-Ga.) and Ways and Means Chairman Bill Archer (R-Texas) from farmers and ranchers in their districts, it was evident that the issue had captured the leaders' attention.

Gingrich said farmers are justifiably upset with "a government policy that says if you've done the right thing all of your life, we're now going to punish you for taking care of your kids...why should you work all your life, save all your life and have the government take 55 percent of it just because you did the right thing for your kids and your grandkids?"

Empty Pesticide Containers To Be Recycled Locally

Maryland Secretary of Agriculture Lewis R. Riley has announced the kick-off of the 1997 empty plastic pesticide container recycling program. A total of 27 collection days are scheduled July through September at nine sites located throughout the state, including Southern States Oakland Cooperative in Mtn. Lake Park.

"The response to this program by farmers, commercial agricultural applicators, and other pesticide users has been very encouraging the past four years. Large increases in participation have occurred since the container collection program was first offered in 1993, and I am anticipating additional participation in 1997. Because of requests to maintain the program in regional areas throughout the state, we have kept the nine collection sites used in 1996," said Riley.

"In addition, the container recycling program will help us meet the commitments of the Chesapeake Bay Toxics Reduction and Prevention Strategy. Rinsing and recycling empty pesticide containers reduce the potential for contamination of ground water and the Chesapeake Bay while saving valuable landfill space. During 1996, over 40,000 empty plastic pesticide containers were inspected, collected and processed. The Agricultural Container Research Council (ACRC) will provide a chipper to grind the plastic containers into flakes, which are then transported to a contractor for recycling," said Riley.

Maryland's container recycling program is a combined effort of state, county, and federal agencies and private industry working together to protect the environment. With the cooperation of Mid-Shore Regional Recycling, Kent County Public Works, Wicomico Public Works, Frederick County Bureau of Solid Waste Management, Harford County Public Works, St. Mary's County Public Works, Southern States Oakland Cooperative, Martin's Elevator, Maryland Environmental Services, United States Department of Agriculture, and ACRC, and Maryland farmers or applicators, the program has been effective in reducing the landfill disposal of plastic pesticide containers and in allowing the plastic to be reused.

"With continued cooperation among the participating groups, farmers and pesticide applicators, the program will continue to be successful and will protect the natural resources of the state from potential contamination by pesticides," said Riley.

For additional information, those interested may contact Mary Ellen Setting, chief of the department's Pesticide Regulation Section (410-841-5710).

The Garrett County dates for collection at Southern States Oakland Cooperative in Mtn. Lake Park will be July 9, August 6, and September 10, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. each day.

Ag Survey To Update Acreage Data

In March, Maryland farmers said they were planning to plant about the same number of corn acres this year as in 1996. The soybean acreage was forecast at 510,000 acres, up four percent from the acreage of soybeans planted last year.

Now that the corn planting season is essentially finished and many of the soybeans are in the ground, it is time to update the numbers. Economic conditions and weather may have caused changes in the farm operators' plans from March till the crops were in the ground. New numbers will reflect the actual planting situation more accurately. Therefore, the Maryland Agriculture Statistics Service will be collecting data relating to major field crop acreages from a representative sample of farm operations in early June. Additional data will also be collected for the development of up to date information about hog production, farm numbers, land in farms and other pertinent data relating to the food production sector.

A representative of the Maryland Agriculture Statistics Service will contact local producers between May 29 and June 16. A little later, additional data will be collected relating to the cattle industry. "We safeguard the confidentiality of all survey responses," Bruce West, the state statistician, says. "Information from individual operations is combined with other responses to determine directions and trends in the industry."

The Maryland Agriculture Statistics Service works with farmers and ranchers to supply meaningful, accurate, and objective statistics that help keep participants in U.S. agriculture informed. The enumerator working in Allegany and Garrett counties will be Carolyn Ganoe.

Mixed Prices Received In May By Md. Farmers

Prices received by Maryland and Delaware were mixed for May. Wheat, corn, hay, milk, and eggs were down. Oats, barley, soybeans, hogs, and broilers were up, and beef cattle, calves and chickens were unchanged from a month ago.

The Future of Cull Cow Prices

Effective August 25, USDA will lift its 68-year ban of inports of fresh, chilled or frozen beef from Argentina due to the elimination of foot-and-mouth disease in that country. In an article titled "Cheaper Beef from Argentina to Save Consumers $90 Million a Year," the USDA is quoted as saying livestock and beef producers are likely to lose $40.1 million a year due to the lower priced Argentina meat. Of that amount, dairy farmers would lose $18.7 million on proceeds from the sale of cull cows.

Keep a Close Watch on Alfalfa

The southern winds are blowing the potato leafhopper into our area. A heavy leafhopper population left uncontrolled can cost you 1½ tons of alfalfa during the rest of the summer and next spring. Also, after you have seen the yellowing of the leaves, the damage has occurred. Every alfalfa grower should have an insect sweep net and monitor when to spray. I have the guidelines and procedures for monitoring upon request.

Anthracnose Disease on White Oaks

For the last few years Anthracnose has been tough on white oak trees. Anthracnose is a fungus disease that is characterized by making dark, irregular areas on the oak leaf. It is common for a tree that is infected year after year to die. Unfortunately, there is very little you can do to control the disease on large trees or trees that are in forest land. Smaller trees that can be sprayed with a fungicide can be assisted in handling the disease. Some of the tree experts are treating the trees with a systemic fungicide, which is a good approach. I would strongly suggest that a protectant leaf surface spray of fungicide be applied in the spring when the leaves are just open. I would repeat the application 14 days later. If you need more information, please feel free to contact me.

Nation's Winter Wheat Production Up Six Percent

Winter wheat production is forecast at 1.56 billion bushels, up six percent from 1996, and one percent more than in 1995. Based on May 1 conditions, the U.S. yield is forecast at 38.2 bushels per acre.

If realized, this would be a full bushel better than last year and a half-bushel above 1995. Grain area totals 40.8 million acres, up three percent from last year. Hard red winter wheat production is forecast up 17 percent from last year while soft red and white winter wheat are down three percent and 12 percent, respectively.

A hard freeze hit portions of Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, and Colorado April 11-13. Considerable damage was evident, but assessment of crop loss is continuing. This same area also suffered a mid-April freeze in 1995. The hard red winter wheat area for grain is expected to be up nine percent from last year. Soft red winter wheat is estimated to be down 10 percent from last year and white winter wheat area is about six percent less than a year ago.

Prior to the freeze, expectations for the central and southern plains hard red winter wheat crop were well above average. Condition ratings fell the week following the freeze, but have started to improve. Nebraska's major growing area had minimal winterkill, but needed moisture.

Yield expectations are down from last year's records in Idaho and Oregon. Prospects are for yields much higher than last year in Michigan and New York. The southeastern soft red winter wheat is developing ahead of average progress, but yield forecasts are generally down.

The 4th Of July Picnic; An American Tradition

To commemorate Independence Day, the United States Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census, is releasing an article "The 4th of July Picnic--An American Tradition." It contains information about which states and counties are the top producers of foods likely to be served at such a picnic. The data come from the 1992 Census of Agriculture, the most recent one conducted. The next Census of Agriculture, which will take place later this year, will be the first conducted by the U.S. Department of Agriculture National Agricultural Statistics Service, rather than by the U.S. Census Bureau.

The 4th of July celebration is special for most Americans. As with many holidays, the celebration includes food, drinks, and the realization of how fortunate we are as a nation. Though there is not a fixed menu for this celebration, traditional favorites can be counted on, such as hamburgers and hot dogs, chicken, ribs, garden salads, potato salad, chips, watermelons, baked beans, and beer. Many people wonder where these foods were produced. The food on this holiday's menu is produced in many areas of the nation, but the Census Bureau is highlighting certain states and counties that are the top producers. Here are some of the 1992 Census of Agriculture state and county data.

The beef on backyard grills could have come from Texas. It was the leading state in cattle and calves sold, with 11.5 million head. Weld County, Colo., was the top county in cattle and calves sold, with over 952,000 head. Deaf Smith County, Texas, and Texas County, Okla., were second and third, respectively.

That's the answer to the question "Where's the beef?" but a more perplexing question might be "Where's the pork?" Iowa, traditionally the top state in hogs and pigs sold, accounted for about one fourth of the nation's total. However, hot dogs and ribs may have originated in Duplin County., N.C., which made its way to the number one position in hogs and pigs sold, up from 11th in 1987. Sampson County, N.C., followed closely, with Sioux County, Iowa, in the number three position.

What about the mustard that might be put on hot dogs or hamburgers? Where were the seeds for mustard production grown? Bottineau, Ramsey, and Towner counties in North Dakota accounted for about 55 percent of all mustard seed production.

The chicken on the barbecue grill may have come from one of the traditional broiler-producing states. Arkansas, Georgia, Alabama, North Carolina, and Mississippi are the top five. These five leading states accounted for about 60 percent of total production in 1992. Sussex County, Del.--several hundred miles away from the heart of broiler production--was the leading county in the nation during 1992. It alone produced over 194 million broilers.

Health-conscious Americans might enjoy a good salad on July 4th. Calling California "America's salad bowl" is no misnomer. One fourth of all land used for vegetable production in 1992 was in California. Over one half of all lettuce produced in the United States came from Monterey County, Calif., and Yuma County, Ariz.

As for the tomatoes in the salad or in the ketchup on the hamburger or hot dog, California and Florida had almost 80 percent of all acres in tomatoes harvested. And carrots--rabbits would be in heaven in Kern and Imperial counties in California. These two counties accounted for over 83 percent of California's carrot acreage in 1992.

The potatoes in the potato salad or those used to make potato chips may have come from Aroostook County, Maine, Bingham County, Idaho, or Grant, Benton, or Franklin counties in Washington. These five counties accounted for almost 22 percent of all potatoes grown in the United States.

And now for the baked beans. Where did they originate? Perhaps they came from North Dakota, Michigan, or Nebraska. These three states produced just over 53 percent of all dry edible beans. Notable counties were Grand Forks, N. Dak., Huron, Mich., and Twin Falls, Idaho.

For dessert, watermelon may be a consideration. In 1992, five states--Texas, Florida, Georgia, California, and South Carolina--produced about two-thirds of the nation's watermelons. The top watermelon producing counties in 1992 were Hildago, Texas, with 9,112 acres harvested (4.1 percent of the total) and Dunklin, Mo., with 5,771 acres harvested (2.7 percent of the total). It should be noted that even though individual county production percentages appear small, 44 counties produced just over one half of all watermelons harvested in 1992.

On the beverage menu, a cold beer might be the choice. The hops in beer are grown in only a few areas of the nation. Four counties--Yakima and Benton, Wash., Marion, Oregon, and Canyon, Idaho--produced just over 98 percent of all the hops grown in the United States in 1992. Yakima and Benton counties accounted for just over 78 percent of the hops production.

The Census Bureau also offers some other July 4th information. The value of United States manufacturers' shipments of fireworks totaled $22.9 million in 1992, up from $15.3 million in 1987.

United States imports of fireworks totaled $95.7 million in 1996; most of this total ($87.2 million) came from China. U.S. exports of fireworks, on the other hand, totaled $5.5 million, with Canada being the leading country of destination ($2.9 million).

As of March 1996, nine percent of the nation's residents (24.6 million) were foreign-born. More than one-quarter of them came to this country since 1990 and another 34 percent entered during the 1980s.

Also in March 1996, 32 percent of the nation's foreign-born persons were naturalized citizens. While only 23 percent who entered during the 1980s were naturalized citizens, 46 percent who came during the 1970s and 72 percent who arrived before 1970 were citizens.

University Of Maryland Professor Wants To Give Soil A Good Name

Bruce R. James, a professor of soil chemistry at the University of Maryland, is a man with a mission. Dr. James wants the world to elevate soil to equal partnership with air and water in the triad of earth systems that have influenced our understanding of ecology, culture, religion, agriculture and the arts throughout history.

He takes great issue with grammar textbook authors and other writers who equate soil with words like besmirch, dirty and smudge.

James also is concerned that the study of soils has been spun off into separate disciplines like fertility, conservation, mineralogy and microbiology.

By linking the various soil disciplines more closely with the aquatic and atmospheric sciences, he feels strongly that the three major earth systems (water, air and land) could help us to understand ecosystems more clearly and our relationships with them.

To further these concepts, James last year founded the International Center for Soil and Society, with encouragement from the International Society of Soil Science, based in Vienna, Austria. This month (July 5-7), the center will sponsor its inaugural meeting with high hopes that this will become an annual worldwide event. Up to 50 persons from nine countries are expected to attend.

During the three-day meeting, speakers from a wide range of backgrounds will guide participants toward the goal of developing new thinking, understanding and appreciation for the role of soil in the earth's ecosystem.

Topics will range from "The Biblical Roots of Western Civilization's Perceptions..." to "Human-Soil Relationships in Ancient Civilizations" and "Can We Learn Lessons from the History of Water Pollution?"

Program sessions will be held in the Volunteer Firefighters Room on the second floor of the Inn and Conference Center, off University Boulevard (Highway 193) on the western edge of the University of Maryland campus at College Park.

For registration information, those interested may contact Dr. James by phone at 301-405-1345, by fax at 301-314-9041, or by e-mail at bj5@umail.umd.edu.

Maryland Wheat Harvest Begins

Barley was two percent very poor, two percent poor, 17 percent fair, 45 percent good and 34 percent excellent as harvest slows down. Rye condition was 18 percent fair, 60 percent good and 22 percent excellent. Sorghum planting has continued making good progress and is well ahead of last year.

Pastures were three percent very poor, 15 percent poor, 40 percent fair, 37 percent good, and five percent excellent.

Apples were two percent very poor, three percent poor, 26 percent fair, 53 percent good and 16 percent excellent.

Hay supplies were six percent very short, five percent short, 87 percent adequate and two percent surplus. Mostly clear, hot weather favored haymaking and fields were being cut for the second time.

Topsoil moisture was 11 percent very short, 36 percent short, 51 percent adequate, and two percent surplus. Subsoil moisture was eight percent very short, 39 percent short, 51 percent adequate and two percent surplus. There was an average of 6.1 days suitable for fieldwork last week in Maryland.

The 4th Of July Picnic; An American Tradition

To commemorate Independence Day, the United States Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census, is releasing an article "The 4th of July Picnic--An American Tradition." It contains information about which states and counties are the top producers of foods likely to be served at such a picnic. The data come from the 1992 Census of Agriculture, the most recent one conducted. The next Census of Agriculture, which will take place later this year, will be the first conducted by the U.S. Department of Agriculture National Agricultural Statistics Service, rather than by the U.S. Census Bureau.

The 4th of July celebration is special for most Americans. As with many holidays, the celebration includes food, drinks, and the realization of how fortunate we are as a nation. Though there is not a fixed menu for this celebration, traditional favorites can be counted on, such as hamburgers and hot dogs, chicken, ribs, garden salads, potato salad, chips, watermelons, baked beans, and beer. Many people wonder where these foods were produced. The food on this holiday's menu is produced in many areas of the nation, but the Census Bureau is highlighting certain states and counties that are the top producers. Here are some of the 1992 Census of Agriculture state and county data.

The beef on backyard grills could have come from Texas. It was the leading state in cattle and calves sold, with 11.5 million head. Weld County, Colo., was the top county in cattle and calves sold, with over 952,000 head. Deaf Smith County, Texas, and Texas County, Okla., were second and third, respectively.

That's the answer to the question "Where's the beef?" but a more perplexing question might be "Where's the pork?" Iowa, traditionally the top state in hogs and pigs sold, accounted for about one fourth of the nation's total. However, hot dogs and ribs may have originated in Duplin County., N.C., which made its way to the number one position in hogs and pigs sold, up from 11th in 1987. Sampson County, N.C., followed closely, with Sioux County, Iowa, in the number three position.

What about the mustard that might be put on hot dogs or hamburgers? Where were the seeds for mustard production grown? Bottineau, Ramsey, and Towner counties in North Dakota accounted for about 55 percent of all mustard seed production.

The chicken on the barbecue grill may have come from one of the traditional broiler-producing states. Arkansas, Georgia, Alabama, North Carolina, and Mississippi are the top five. These five leading states accounted for about 60 percent of total production in 1992. Sussex County, Del.--several hundred miles away from the heart of broiler production--was the leading county in the nation during 1992. It alone produced over 194 million broilers.

Health-conscious Americans might enjoy a good salad on July 4th. Calling California "America's salad bowl" is no misnomer. One fourth of all land used for vegetable production in 1992 was in California. Over one half of all lettuce produced in the United States came from Monterey County, Calif., and Yuma County, Ariz.

As for the tomatoes in the salad or in the ketchup on the hamburger or hot dog, California and Florida had almost 80 percent of all acres in tomatoes harvested. And carrots--rabbits would be in heaven in Kern and Imperial counties in California. These two counties accounted for over 83 percent of California's carrot acreage in 1992.

The potatoes in the potato salad or those used to make potato chips may have come from Aroostook County, Maine, Bingham County, Idaho, or Grant, Benton, or Franklin counties in Washington. These five counties accounted for almost 22 percent of all potatoes grown in the United States.

And now for the baked beans. Where did they originate? Perhaps they came from North Dakota, Michigan, or Nebraska. These three states produced just over 53 percent of all dry edible beans. Notable counties were Grand Forks, N. Dak., Huron, Mich., and Twin Falls, Idaho.

For dessert, watermelon may be a consideration. In 1992, five states--Texas, Florida, Georgia, California, and South Carolina--produced about two-thirds of the nation's watermelons. The top watermelon producing counties in 1992 were Hildago, Texas, with 9,112 acres harvested (4.1 percent of the total) and Dunklin, Mo., with 5,771 acres harvested (2.7 percent of the total). It should be noted that even though individual county production percentages appear small, 44 counties produced just over one half of all watermelons harvested in 1992.

On the beverage menu, a cold beer might be the choice. The hops in beer are grown in only a few areas of the nation. Four counties--Yakima and Benton, Wash., Marion, Oregon, and Canyon, Idaho--produced just over 98 percent of all the hops grown in the United States in 1992. Yakima and Benton counties accounted for just over 78 percent of the hops production.

The Census Bureau also offers some other July 4th information. The value of United States manufacturers' shipments of fireworks totaled $22.9 million in 1992, up from $15.3 million in 1987.

United States imports of fireworks totaled $95.7 million in 1996; most of this total ($87.2 million) came from China. U.S. exports of fireworks, on the other hand, totaled $5.5 million, with Canada being the leading country of destination ($2.9 million).

As of March 1996, nine percent of the nation's residents (24.6 million) were foreign-born. More than one-quarter of them came to this country since 1990 and another 34 percent entered during the 1980s.

Also in March 1996, 32 percent of the nation's foreign-born persons were naturalized citizens. While only 23 percent who entered during the 1980s were naturalized citizens, 46 percent who came during the 1970s and 72 percent who arrived before 1970 were citizens.

University Of Maryland Professor Wants To Give Soil A Good Name

Bruce R. James, a professor of soil chemistry at the University of Maryland, is a man with a mission. Dr. James wants the world to elevate soil to equal partnership with air and water in the triad of earth systems that have influenced our understanding of ecology, culture, religion, agriculture and the arts throughout history.

He takes great issue with grammar textbook authors and other writers who equate soil with words like besmirch, dirty and smudge.

James also is concerned that the study of soils has been spun off into separate disciplines like fertility, conservation, mineralogy and microbiology.

By linking the various soil disciplines more closely with the aquatic and atmospheric sciences, he feels strongly that the three major earth systems (water, air and land) could help us to understand ecosystems more clearly and our relationships with them.

To further these concepts, James last year founded the International Center for Soil and Society, with encouragement from the International Society of Soil Science, based in Vienna, Austria. This month (July 5-7), the center will sponsor its inaugural meeting with high hopes that this will become an annual worldwide event. Up to 50 persons from nine countries are expected to attend.

During the three-day meeting, speakers from a wide range of backgrounds will guide participants toward the goal of developing new thinking, understanding and appreciation for the role of soil in the earth's ecosystem.

Topics will range from "The Biblical Roots of Western Civilization's Perceptions..." to "Human-Soil Relationships in Ancient Civilizations" and "Can We Learn Lessons from the History of Water Pollution?"

Program sessions will be held in the Volunteer Firefighters Room on the second floor of the Inn and Conference Center, off University Boulevard (Highway 193) on the western edge of the University of Maryland campus at College Park.

For registration information, those interested may contact Dr. James by phone at 301-405-1345, by fax at 301-314-9041, or by e-mail at bj5@umail.umd.edu.

Pastures were three percent very poor, 15 percent poor, 40 percent fair, 37 percent good, and five percent excellent.

Apples were two percent very poor, three percent poor, 26 percent fair, 53 percent good and 16 percent excellent.

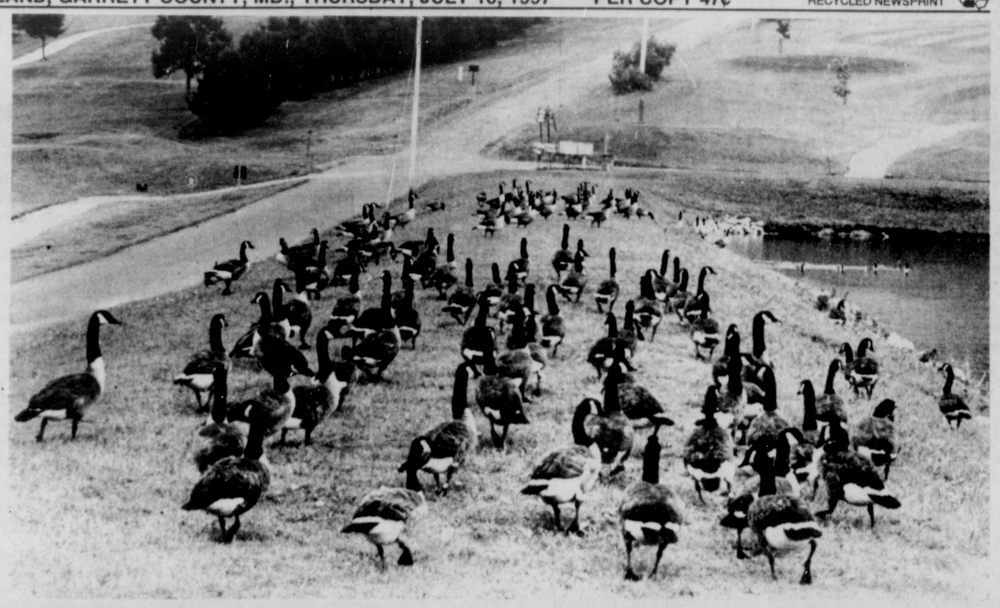
Meeting Set To Discuss Sale Of Health Center

A public meeting will be held in Grantsville on Wednesday, July 16, at 7:30 p.m., in the basement of the Grantsville Family Health Care building to discuss the planned sale of the facility. The Northern Garrett Rescue Squad plans to purchase the building from the Western Maryland Health Care Corporation, which is dissolving.

The only change potentially affecting patients of the facility is the move of the Grantsville branch of the Garrett County Health Department offices to the Grantsville Plaza Shopping Center, which has already occurred. There will be no change in the services of the physicians and medical staff of the Grantsville Family Health Care practice, and its office hours will continue as before at the existing location on Miller Street.



"ATTENTION SHOPPERS: There's a blue light special in lake number two." This flock of Canada geese was happened upon by staff photographer John McEwen yesterday at Alpine Lake, near Terra Alta, W.Va. They have descended on the lake resort area, apparently almost to the distress of management. Canada geese are one of the familiar sights of nature around the mountaintop, along with deer and bears, turkeys and grouse, foxes and raccoons. In order to live in harmony, humans are asked to keep their garbage tightly contained to deter animals from becoming dependent upon it for their survival. Don't feed the creatures, please. And don't pester the geese -- their tour bus is waiting.

School Budget Reviewed; Cuts Not Necessary

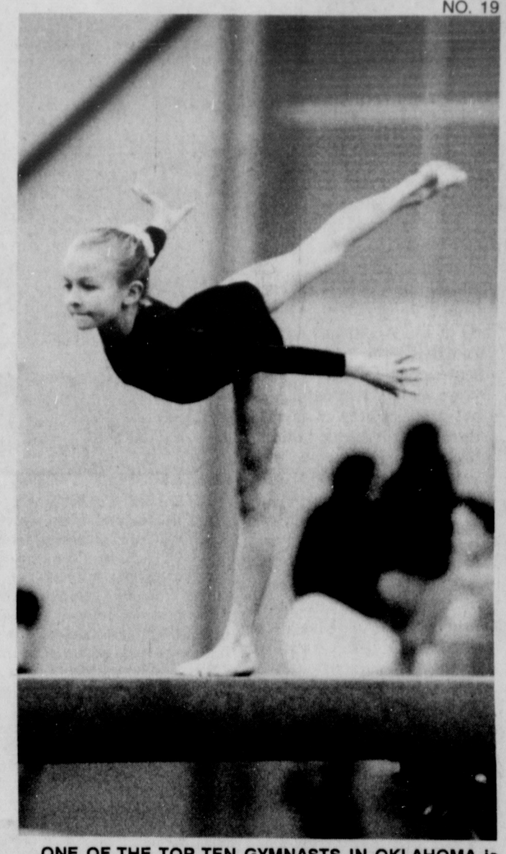
At the Tuesday night meeting of the Garrett County Board of Education, board members found in reviewing an analysis prepared by Dr. Jerome Ryscavage prior to his retirement as superintendent, they did not need to cut items from the proposed school budget.

When it was submitted to the Garrett County Commissioners last month, the budget had not been approved for the full amount. It appeared that the school budget would need to be reduced by about $275,000.

A combination of identifying additional state aid and reducing expenses as a result of retirement of personnel contributed to adjustment of the bottom line budget numbers that resulted from Dr. Ryscavage's review.

Dale Carpenter, president of the board, said all the members were grateful to receive the recommendations for their review the week prior to meeting. "We were very pleased that we didn't have to go in and make any further cuts. We'll be able to fulfill our negotiated contracts with the four union groups," he said.

The unions Carpenter referred to are the four organizations that negotiate contract terms for school board personnel. Contracts for the coming school year had been signed prior to submission of the budget to the county commissioners.



ONE OF THE TOP TEN GYMNASTS IN OKLAHOMA is former Oakland resident Amber Webster, who took ninth place in the state's overall competition for her 9-year-old age group. Webster performed on the balance beam, parallel bars and vault, and performed a floor routine. She resides in Tulsa, Okla., with her parents, Talan and Paula King, and her brother Colbey, a former Broad Ford Elementary School student along with his sister. Webster's maternal grandparents are Frani King of Friendsville and Doug King of Bruceton Mills, W.Va, and her paternal grandparents are Margie and Earl Casey of Oklahoma.

Oakland Tailgate Market To Open This Saturday

The Mtn. Fresh Producers have announced that opening day for the 1997 Tailgate Market will be this Saturday, July 12. The market, located in the pavilion at the Oakland Municipal Parking Lot, will open at 10 a.m., each Wednesday and Saturday morning through October. The public is reminded to come early for best selection, but no sales will be made prior to the 10 a.m. opening time. Most sellers will stay open until noon or until they run out of produce; some remain longer.

This will be the ninth year of operations for the market. In addition to selling locally grown produce, baked goods, cut flowers, perennials, herbs, plants, jams and jellies, and honey, a wide variety of handcrafted items will also be sold.

Anyone residing in either Garrett, Tucker, Allegany, or Preston counties who is interested in joining the association may do so by submitting an application for membership along with the $25 fee. Members then pay only $5 each time they set up at the market. Applications may be obtained at the Garrett County Exten-

MDE Congratulates County For Having Highest Recycling Rate

A letter from the Maryland Department of the Environment (MDE) was received last week at the Garrett County Commissioners' Office commending the county for maintaining the highest recycling rate in the state. The state average was 29% for 1996. Garrett County's percentage was 40.

"Congratulations on the continued success of Garrett County's recycling program. The reported recycling rate for 1996 of 40% is excellent," wrote Jane T. Nishida, MDE secretary.

At a recent staff meeting with the commissioners, Rodney Glotfelty, director of the Garrett County Office of Solid Waste and Recycling, reported that recycling in the county will get another boost as plastics receptacles will soon be available. Persons will soon be able to recycle all colors of #2 plastics -- soda bottles, laundry detergent containers, milk jugs, and other items. (The recycling number is generally located on the bottom of bottles and jugs.)

Glotfelty said these receptacles should be established at two sites later this month or in early August.

Residents may also take plastics, as well as card-

Garrett Gets High Marks When MSDE Scores SOAR

Garrett County is one of two counties in the state to meet the standards of the Maryland State Department of Education (MSDE) in the annual SOAR (Student Outcome and Achievement Report).

Jim Ferrant of MSDE and Jo Ann Vent, supervisor of career and technology education for the county, presented this information to the Garrett County Board of Education at its meeting Tuesday night. Statistics in the reports were based on the 1994 career and technology graduates.

Graduate performance in education and employment were evaluated as a gauge of the effectiveness of school programs in preparing students to be productive members of the community. Standards were developed, Ferrant explained, to note performance as excellent or satisfactory. In four of the five categories Garrett County public school graduates achieved a rating of excellent. "This is really positive. I can't over emphasize this," Ferrant said.

Categories analyzed for this report were: percentage of students employed or in college, standard GPA (4.0 scale), demonstration of entry level skills, ability to learn new job skills, and positive work habits.

Ferrant stated that Garrett County's Tech Prep cluster development and the

Leads Sought In Broadford Park Explosion, Injury

The Garrett County Sheriff's Office is investigating the injury of a spectator at the Broadford Park Fourth of July fireworks display. The illegal explosive device was apparently set off by a group of young people at the park, and investigators are asking the public for their assistance in locating those subjects for questioning.

Roy Allen Moats Sr., Aurora, W.Va., was standing near the park's spillway at approximately 9:30 p.m. when the explosion occurred behind him. He suffered numerous laceration injuries from plastic shrapnel to his back and hand, requiring treatment at Garrett County Memorial Hospital. Eyewitnesses reportedly stated they felt certain that the device was larger than an M-80 firecracker, a very powerful explosive in itself.

Anyone with any information on a group of teens or young adults setting off fireworks of their own at the park that evening is encouraged to contact the sheriff's office at 301-334-1911.

Dr. Teets Takes Office As School Superintendent

The first item on the agenda of the Garrett County Board of Education on Tuesday was the swearing in of Dr. Wendell Teets as the superintendent of schools.

Dr. Teets filled the office vacated by Dr. Jerome Ryscavage on June 30, after 17 years in that position. Dr. Teets gave credit to his predecessor for the work accomplished during his tenure.

The new superintendent comes to Garrett County with many years of experience in education and administration in West Virginia.

State Anti-Crime Grant Funding To Target Grantsville

Garrett County Department of Juvenile Justice, Division of Parole and Probation, will receive a grant award in the amount of $48,698 from the Maryland Office of Crime Control & Prevention to provide crime prevention measures in Garrett County's designated HotSpot, Grantsville.

Local officials selected the hot spots in their jurisdictions based on the rate and fear of crime and the presence of community organizations that can work with police to mobilize anti-crime efforts.

The Governor's Office of Crime Control & Prevention, under the direction of the Cabinet Council, determined the level of grant funding and other assistance based on each neighborhood's need and the quality of the crime-fighting strategy it proposed.

Under the guidelines of the Glendening-Townsend Administration's HotSpots Communities Initiative, the funds may be used for new police officers, probation agents, nuisance abatement teams, after-school activities, citizen patrols and other "proven enforcement and prevention strategies," according to Maryland Lt. Governor Kathleen Kennedy Townsend.

Grantsville is one of 35

Route 219 Lobbying Group Pitches Interstate Highway

Officials from Garrett County, Annapolis and Baltimore gathered this past Tuesday to hear a presentation led by David Moe, president of the Garrett County Chamber of Commerce, and state delegate George C. Edwards, as representatives of the business and political community from both within and without Garrett County made a pitch for the construction of a four-lane north/south interstate highway through Garrett County. Moe and Edwards outlined their concept of a new interstate highway which would eventually become part of an international trade and travel corridor leading from the Canadian border at Buffalo, N.Y., to the southern tip of Florida at Miami, referred to as "Continental One" on brightly-colored buttons worn at the meeting by supporters.

The focus of the meeting centered on the group's assertion to the state leaders that there is apparent county-wide support for the project. Moe and Edwards outlined a strategy that lobbied the state officials for their support of the project, asking for their help in lobbying the federal government for allocation of federal highway monies for the project.

Capitol Hill lawmakers have been deliberating for months on the nature of the distribution of federal highway funds, and are due to vote on the matter this fall when the current Intermodal Surface Transportation Efficiency Act (ISTEA) of 1991 expires. ISTEA determines how federal highway funds are allocated to the states for highway construction and related projects.

The details of this fall's ISTEA vote will determine whether or not the Route

LIGHTING UP THE SKY, and the water, giving the observer "stereo vision," was the annual Fourth of July fireworks display at Broadford Park near Oakland (pictured here), as well as the annual display presented above Marsh Mountain in McHenry. Great weather for the events drew huge crowds of people, all responding with the customary "ooos" and "ahs" after each burst. Scores of local businesses, as well as municipal entities, once again provided the funding for the displays. Photos by John McEwen.

Friendsville Man To Serve Time For Stealing

A Friendsville man was sentenced to jail in last week's Garrett County District Court after he was found guilty on theft and forgery charges stemming from his arrest this past winter in Accident.

Harvey Joe Dilley, 19, had been arrested this past January after allegedly attempting to steal cash from a Pepsi machine located at the Accident Garage. Judge Ralph M. Burnett sentenced Dilley to two years in jail, suspending all but nine months of the jail term, and placed him on two years of supervised probation.

In other district court news recently, Amanda Jon Kisner, 18, Mtn. Lake Park, received a probation before judgment (PBJ) as a result of a possession of marijuana conviction. Kisner was fined $100, placed on six months of supervised probation, and ordered to complete 30 hours of community service. The PBJ ruling means that the case will not reflect a criminal conviction if Kisner complies with the terms of her sentence.

Jason Michael Stiegler, 19, Glen Burnie, received a PBJ after being convicted of possession of marijuana and driving under the influence. Stiegler was fined $255, placed on one year of supervised probation, and ordered to complete 30 hours of community service. He was not prosecuted on two other traffic charges stemming from the same arrest.

The court revised the sentences of several individuals who had previously been convicted on various charges.

Ricky Scott Moats Sr., 34, Oakland, had all fines and court costs against him waived by the court. Moats is still responsible for paying $2,800 to his victim after being convicted of acting as a building contractor without possessing a valid license.

Joseph Arditi, 22, and Jessica Urban, 22, both of Timonium, each had their convictions for marijuana possession revised to a PBJ by the court. Both subjects still must pay a $155 fine and successfully complete six months of unsupervised probation.

Mark Edward Mostrom, 23, Darnestown, had a possession of marijuana sentence revised to a PBJ by the court.

The court placed charges against several defendants onto the stet docket, meaning that any of the individuals involved could have their charges recalled for trial within the next 365 days if the court deems it necessary.

Daniel Andrew Merrill, 19, and Michael Lee Kitzmiller, 21, both of Grantsville, had charges of possession of marijuana and possession of cocaine placed onto the stet docket by the court. Each of the men was ordered to complete 30 hours of community service.

John Peter Georg, 27, Accident, had charges of second-degree assault and trespassing placed onto the stet docket by the court. An additional charge of malicious destruction of property was not prosecuted.

James Arthur Dillsworth, 22, St. George, W.Va., had a charge of second-degree assault placed onto the stet docket by the court.

The court passed several not guilty verdicts in the trials of several individuals.

Karen Ann DeWitt, 19, Oakland, was found not guilty of second-degree assault.

Lisa Paugh, 27, Friendsville, was found not guilty of second-degree assault.

Sherry Stanton, 27, Friendsville, was found not guilty of second-degree assault.

Several individuals were not prosecuted by the state's attorney's office.

Chad Campbell, 19, Grantsville, was not prosecuted on three counts of second-degree assault and three counts of child abuse, stemming from a series of alleged spankings of a child in his custody.

Keith House, 30, and Loretta Fazenbaker, 28, both of Friendsville, were each not prosecuted on charges of marijuana and paraphernalia possession due to insufficient evidence.

OLD TIME SOUNDS will resound around the courthouse plaza in Oakland when Jerry Haines entertains on July 16. A vocalist and musician, Haines even plays the harmonica and autoharp at the same time. He picks and strums both a 12-string and 6-string guitar while performing songs that range from the traditional Woody Guthrie to the lively and often humorous songs of Arlo Guthrie. His original tunes extend from waltzes to jigs and reels. Haines has shared the stage with some of the best performers including Tom Chapin, Livingston Taylor, Nitty Gritty Dirt Band, Leo Kotke, bluesman Chris Smither, Windham Hill's Nightnoise, and even Peter Noone of Herman's Hermits. The Jerry Haines concert will be one of the free summer concert series sponsored by the Greater Oakland Business Association and radio station WKHJ. The performance is scheduled for Wednesday, from 7 to 9 p.m.

DWI & DUI Hearings

Several driving while intoxicated (DWI) and driving under the influence of drugs and/or alcohol (DUI) cases were heard in district court recently.

Michael Richardson Dorsey, 48, Oakland, was found guilty of DUI and received a 30-day suspended sentence, placed on one year of supervised probation, and ordered to complete 30 hours of community service.

Joseph Patrick Germain, 20, Oakland, was handed a PBJ as a result of his DUI hearing. He was fined $355 and placed on one year of supervised probation.

Cindy Robin Slaubaugh, 36, Westernport, was handed a PBJ as a result of her DWI hearing. She was also fined $100, placed on one year of supervised probation, and ordered to complete 20 hours of community service.

Finally, Steven Joseph Eddy, 41, with a last known address of Oakland, failed to appear for his DWI hearing last week. An bench warrant for his arrest charging him with failure to appear for trial was issued by the court.

July Proclaimed As Parks And Recreation Month

The Garrett County Commissioners received and publicly read a proclamation from Governor Parris N. Glendening this week, declaring July as Parks and Recreation Month in the state.

The proclamation reads in part that the good health and well-being of Maryland residents is enhanced by the commitment to valuable parks and recreation programs. It states that more than 60% of the country's adults are not regularly physically active and Americans spend over $32 billion annually on diet and weight loss programs. Because of these issues, the proclamation states that all residents should realize the value of parks and recreation programs that encourage physical activity and foster an appreciation for the environment.

"Maryland celebrates the efforts of the National Parks and Recreation Department and joins in applauding the successful . . . programs which have had a positive and productive impact on the lives and experiences of the citizens of Maryland throughout the year," the document states.

Wife Charges Oakland Man With Assault

Oakland Police report that a complaint of disorderly conduct resulted in the charging and arrest of a town resident.

Police responded to a call from Crystal Gardea, 41, Oakland, July 8, 8:45 p.m. She stated that she wanted her husband, Victorbar F. Gardea, 41, Oakland, locked up, the police report stated. She complained that he came home drunk, started yelling at her, and then struck her.

She was transported by police to the district court, where she filed charges against her husband for assault and disorderly conduct.

Garrett County Sheriff's Office assisted in serving the warrant and in arresting Gardea.

UNSAFE VEHICLE

An accident resulted when brakes failed on a vehicle being driven in Oakland.

Police report that Cheryl Moats, 38, Oakland, was southbound on Fifth Street July 6 at 1:50 a.m. when she lost the brakes on her 1982 Buick. She attempted to stop using the emergency brake, but the cable broke.

Moats allegedly then drove the vehicle off the road, striking a stop sign, a fire hydrant, and a tree. The fire hydrant broke when the car struck it, resulting in loss of water and water damage to nearby residences. Oakland Water Department employees were called for emergency repairs.

Moats was charged with driving an unsafe motor vehicle on a highway.

SUSPENDED LICENSE

Ray L. Friend was charged recently by Oakland Police with driving on a suspended license and exceeding the speed limit by 16 miles per hour.

DWI

Kathryn S. Beals was charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol and negligent driving on Third Street, Oakland, recently. Police reported that Beals was unable to negotiate a one lane bridge and struck the left guardrail. She was not injured and was later released on her own recognizance.

RED CROSS MONTH PROCLAIMED - The Garrett County Commissioners this week proclaimed July as Garrett County Red Cross Month, in conjunction with the national observance. The proclamation states that whereas the local chapter of the American Red Cross provides an invaluable service to the community and is totally dependent on local contributions, and whereas it provides emergency and disaster services as well as important training and education services making it essential to the well-being of the citizens, the month of July is proclaimed as Garrett County Red Cross Month. The commissioners encouraged members of the public to offer financial and volunteer support through donations to the local chapter. Pictured left to right are Gary Yoder, organizer of the local American Red Cross Golf Tournament; Carol Dearden, representing the local Red Cross chapter; and Commissioners Wayne Wilt and Gary Fratz.

C.A.R.E. Effort Helps Assure Holiday Safety

Project C.A.R.E. (Combined Accident Reduction Effort) contributed to safer roadways in Garrett County throughout the long July 4th holiday weekend, according to Maryland State Police.

"C.A.R.E. played a major part in reducing the accident rate over the holiday weekend. The officers did an excellent job," said Sgt. Wayne Paugh of Maryland State Police, Barrack W, McHenry.

He referred to the aggressive enforcement of speed regulations and the number of patrol cars visible on the roads as significant factors in maintaining a low number of accidents during the period.

State police reported one accident with injury during the weekend.

HARE HOLLOW ROAD

A man was flown to Cumberland Memorial Hospital by MedEvac helicopter following an accident on July 4.

Police reported that Jason P. Holliday, 23, Grantsville, was traveling northbound on Hare Hollow Road, Grantsville, around 12:20 p.m. at a speed too fast for road conditions.

Holliday reportedly tried to apply his brakes, lost control of his vehicle, and began skidding. He collided with a tractor in the southbound lane, overturning it and injuring the driver. The driver of the tractor, Harold W. Wiley, 71, Grantsville, was taken by helicopter to Cumberland Memorial Hospital, where he was treated and released.

Northern Rescue Squad and Grantsville Fire Department also responded to the accident.

Holliday was charged with failure to reduce speed to avoid a collision and failure to wear a seat belt.

DWI

Paul D. Fazenbaker Jr., 26, Salisbury, Pa., was charged by state police with driving while intoxicated on July 6.

Police report an another DWI incident July 6, in which the driver, James L. Glover, Addison, Pa., was found asleep in his vehicle, with the engine running and his foot of the brake. Glover had pulled off the side of Accident-Friendsville Road when an officer spotted his vehicle around 5:05 a.m.

According to the report, the officer was unable to awaken Glover and had to break the window of the car when it began to roll forward. After parking the car and removing the keys, field sobriety tests were administered which the subject allegedly failed.

Glover was charged with DWI, and negligent driving

Two Injured In Wreck On New Germany Road

Two individuals received minor injuries in a one-vehicle crash last week along New Germany Road. Rangers from New Germany State Park responded to the July 7 incident, which took place at about 3 p.m.

Michael R. Sechrist, 21, Kitzmiller, was driving a delivery truck south from Deer Park when, at about 1/2 mile south of Blackhawk School Road, he lost control of the vehicle as it rounded a curve. The truck overturned on the left side of the road.

Sechrist and a passenger, Dennis M. Cooper, 36, Oakland, were both transported to Garrett County Memorial Hospital by the Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad. They were treated and released, according to a hospital spokesperson.

Maryland State Police officers and the Bittinger Volunteer Fire Department responded to the scene to assist. Sechrist was cited for driving without having his license with him.

In the June 26 issue of The Republican, an article appeared about Danielle Jackson, a Southern High School graduate, who has received scholarships to attend Frostburg State University. The article stated that Miss Jackson had earned a full ride to the university via the scholarships, but it should be noted that in fact she has received the following: a Merit Scholarship, which will provide $1,000 per year for four years, and a Residential Scholarship, which will pay for room and board for one year.

Police Arrest Three In Fight In Local Bar

An altercation in a Garrett County bar resulted in police charging four people with assault and disorderly conduct.

A report filed with Maryland State Police, Barrack W, McHenry, stated that officers responded to a fight in progress at the Honi Honi Bar, Deep Creek Lake, July 3 at 8:50 p.m.

Ryan J. Blair, 28, Essex, reportedly struck Mark Thorne. Justin F. Smith, 21, Galena, was then struck by Thorne's friend, Tracy Marie Lemley, 27, Morgantown, W.Va. All were termed disorderly by the police.

An attempt was made to flee the scene in a car driven by Jason A. Whitaker, 20, Baltimore. They were stopped after a hit and run incident in the parking lot.

Blair, Whitaker, and Smith were arrested. In addition to the assault and disorderly conduct charges filed by police, Whitaker was charged with DWI, possession of a controlled dangerous substance (CDS) and paraphernalia. Smith was also charged with CDS and paraphernalia.

All were later released on their own recognizance.

Lemley was also charged with assault and disorderly conduct.

Thorne was transported to the hospital for treatment.

M Street Brass Quintet To Play At Penn Alps

Music at Penn Alps (MPA) will continue its fifth season of music on Saturday, July 12, with the M Street Brass Quintet. The concert will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the Great Hall of Penn Alps, Grantsville.

Founded in 1978, the M Street Brass Quintet is a Maryland-based ensemble that has provided virtuoso brass music to a wide audience. The group has performed at the Kennedy Center, Wolf Trap, The Shrine of the Immaculate Conception, and the Washington Cathedral. The players have been seen on Fairfax Public Television and heard on National Public Radio's "All Things Considered." In addition to its many performances in the metro area public schools, the group gave a concert at the Maryland Band Director's Conference in Ocean City.

The group used to hold rehearsals in co-founder Larry Eden's former residence on M street in Washington D.C., thus the band's name. The three-story townhouse had an open foyer, which reached all the way to the third-floor ceiling. The sound was great for brass instrumentations, according to a group member.

The quintet includes Terry Alvey and David Levin, trumpets; James Impara, horn; Kurt Lucas, trombone; and Larry Eden, tuba. All are free-lance musicians as well as members of the group, and all teach music in the metro area public schools, except Jim Impara, who is a builder and land developer by day and musician by night.

David Levin is a graduate of The Catholic University, has been with the quintet for 12 years, and teaches in the Montgomery County Public Schools. Terry Alvey is a general vocal music teacher, has been a quintet member for 8 years, and is a graduate of St. Mary's College. Jim Impara, with 16 years of service, is the quintet's "renaissance man." He is a graduate of MIT, holds a law degree, and plays in the Fairfax Symphony. Quintet co-founder Kurt Lucas has a master's degree from The American University, is an instrumental music teacher in the Montgomery County Public Schools, and plays in the "Redskin" band. Leader and co-founder Larry Eden is a graduate of the University of Miami and The American University. He is responsible for many of the quintet's music arrangements, mostly done on his computer using software.

With a repertoire spanning four centuries, The M Street Brass is at home in a wide variety of settings. The group's repertoire for the Music at Penn Alps concert, which is titled "The Cowboys and the City Slickers," will include pieces from Copeland's Rodeo, highlights from Richard Roger's Oklahoma, and Rossini's William Tell Overture. Also included will be excerpts from Bernstein's West Side Story, Harold Arlen's The Wizard of Oz, and highlights from Aladdin.

Music at Penn Alps is a summer-long series of concerts in the Great Hall of Penn Alps. All concerts are at 7:30 p.m. on Saturday evenings. For information about the concert schedule and ticket information, persons may call MPA at 301/895-3332.

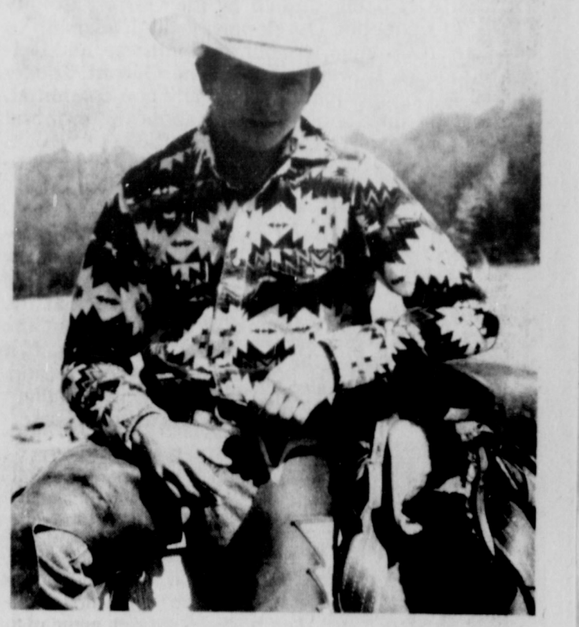
Glotfelty Wins Major Rodeo Title, Qualifies For Nationals



Dennis "Toby" Glotfelty, McHenry, continues to make a name for himself in cowboy rodeo competition, as he traveled to Tioga Park in Nicholes, N.Y., recently to capture the year-end Saddle Bronc Championship.

During the season Glotfelty traveled to 18 high school rodeos to go into the finals 25.5 points in the lead. After two solid second place finishes, he captured the championship. For his efforts he was presented at the awards banquet with a $500 gift certificate from Barstow Rodeo Equipment, a championship buckle, a pair of Double H boots, a T-shirt, and a hat box.

Glotfelty, who is the son of Dennis and Sandy Glotfelty, McHenry, will travel to Pueblo, Colo., July 14-20 for the National High School Finals, the largest event of its kind in the world. The event will pit 1,500 high school athletes from 38 states and four Canadian provinces. The top four contenders from each event will compete in the first two go-rounds, with the top 20 athletes in each event qualifying for the championship round in 12 events and 13 performances over eight days.

Glotfelty was elected as student delegate to represent all the student contenders from the Pennsylvania State High School Rodeo Association at the national finals.

Glotfelty is a 1997 graduate of Northern High School, where he represented Northern in the State Vocational Industrial Clubs of America, competing in carpentry. He is the first student to win the state award and the first student to win three consecutive medals at states in Northern's history. He was also chosen as Carpentry, Masonry, and Vocational Student of the Year at Northern. He traveled to Kansas City, Mo., to participate in the National VICA competition, where he placed 21st.

Glotfelty is also the first student from Northern to compete in rodeo at the high school level and to have won a championship in this sport.

Any student interested in joining the National High School Rodeo Association may obtain information by writing to NHSRA at 11178 N. Huron, Suite 7, Denver, CO 80234. The student must keep a C average throughout the school year to be able to participate. The association also makes it possible for senior students to obtain scholarships for further education.

"Rodeo also offers many travel opportunities and is a family oriented sport," stated an NHSRA spokesman.

We Need a Meeting...

The push is continuing to convince the federal government that it should help the state of Maryland finance the expansion of U.S. Rt. 219 into a four-lane highway through the middle of Garrett County. At least it is being pushed by the Garrett County Office of Economic Development, the leadership of the Garrett County Chamber of Commerce, and Delegate George Edwards. So far, the Garrett County Board of Commissioners is basically non-committal, particularly since some concerns about the proposal are beginning to trickle into their office.

Frankly, we believe that if the general public were aware of a few things, there would be many more individuals who would express concerns and ask questions. Many people aren't saying much right now because they have been told that the project is many years away, even if the money for it were allocated today. This is true, but most don't realize that the federal government will make a decision about the funding for this project in October of this year. If it is approved, then the project will proceed, period. The bulldozers would be manned, and only the alignment of the new highway would have to be determined.

We also believe that, while many of our citizens have concerns and questions, they don't know where to direct them.

We think that the intentions of those pushing the project are worthy. Economic development to combat local unemployment and build the county tax base is certainly important. In their view, this highway is needed if we ever hope to attract new business and industry.

To an extent, we agree with them. There is no question that our efforts to attract certain kinds of business would be enhanced with such a thoroughfare. But we must ask, at what cost to everything else? Would this project seriously damage our county's most precious assets, such as its relatively pristine, non-urban environment, which is precisely what so many of our visitors come here to enjoy? Colloquially, would it kill our "golden goose?" What effect would the proposed by-passes have on businesses in Accident, Oakland, and along the lake? What would be the environmental ramifications? What about the increase in the criminal element that would surely come with the new highway? Is there business and industry out there ready to commit to locating here if we get the highway? What about the many types of industry that do not need major trucking routes? There are scores of other questions that need to be answered clearly and completely, and there needs to be forum for that purpose - now.

While the proponents of the project believe they are speaking in the best interest and for the majority of their constituents, we aren't so sure that this is true. To our knowledge there have been no polls taken about the project. Town councils haven't been asked for their input, at least not lately. The Chamber of Commerce membership has not been polled, and there was no motion approved at a recent meeting to endorse the project. What about the Deep Creek Lake Property Owners' position?

We suggest that a controlled, public meeting be held within the next month or so in order to give everyone an opportunity to provide input, express concerns, and ask questions. Far too many projects come to fruition without such an opportunity, leaving a generally apathetic public then wondering what went wrong and asking why there never was an opportunity to participate in the decision-making process.

Welcome Home
by Mary Sincell McEwen

In recent weeks, I have had sudden correspondence from people I have not seen for probably 10 years, at least. It was a surprising coincidence (and a pleasant one) that two folks wrote to me in the same week, just commenting about the paper and the county. They both have moved far away, yet still get the paper and keep up on the goings-on around here. I was reminded that many, many people do the same thing, and I thought it would be nice to take those readers for a walk around their home county.

The weather is behaving in the way you remember -- 70s to 80s in the daytime and down in the low 60s after sunset. You start the night out with just a sheet, but by morning you are yanking the blanket up over your shoulders. The sky is that amazing azure blue -- that crystal-like sapphire that nearly goes through you as you gaze upward. The trees are lush with fat green floppy leaves -- the rich green against that blue sky is truly a gift. Although they've had a slow start, the farmers' fields are progressing -- the corn was not quite knee-high by the Fourth of July, but it's getting there. The rolling fields from Grantsville to Pleasant Valley are still surprising in their expanse -- when they open out in front of your eyes, you get that urge to take a deep breath and let it out in a sigh.

The rivers are full, running their courses -- some swiftly, some languidly. The draw of the water is strong for many of us -- in the middle of the working day, we long to break free to traipse along the paths at Swallow Falls or canoe on one of the lakes or simply sit along the banks of the Potomac, Laurel Run, or the Casselman to watch the rushing water braid and unbraid itself as it slips down the mountainsides. The stars are strewn across the night sky like tiny glittering gems, so bright and so many. If you lie on your back and stare directly up, keeping everything peripheral out of view, it is hard to believe that with a simple reach of your hand you couldn't pluck one down.

The deer are everywhere, and the bears are thriving. There are sightings all the time -- to the angst of some, the delight of others. The "lake people" are here, making me wonder, as always, how they perceive this place at first glance. Surely they are amazed by the beauty. That age-old defense of us natives does come to the fore just a tiny bit, especially in the rare case when a visitor is too impressed by our collective intelligence, our fine libraries, or by the availability of indoor bathrooms. But we welcome them, of course, and accept their admiration of the area with quiet pride. We sometimes forget that the place is splendid -- the tourists help to remind us. We are so very busy rearing our children and paying our mortgages and balancing on the ever-shifting crest of life, we often disregard our fortune of living in such a marvelous region of the world.

Deep Creek is whitecapped with activity, of course -- the speed boats bumping wildly against traversing wakes, skiers with distended thighs slicing the rough, and sailboats clipping along with the help of neon-colored spinnakers. The golf courses are crawling with taller players and the shorter folks are manning the miniature courses. Kids in cut-offs are everywhere -- tanned, towheaded, and barefoot. They thrive here, just as we did.

And when the blue skies are clouded, the storms that come are also as you remember. Powerful and swift, breaking the calm with house-shuddering roars of thunder. The mighty trees lurch -- their leaves turning their pale sides out -- and the lightening pierces the gloom with orange fire. People scatter and disappear to safety as the power of nature thrashes about. Thoughts turn to possible flooding in some small towns or maybe a tornado through the valley. Children giggle nervously at the booming and measure the storm's distance by loudly counting the seconds between the flash and the noise.

As quickly as it comes, it goes away. The scent of wet dirt permeates the air and a coolness wafts through the screens of the re-opened windows. Droplets hang precariously on slightly beaten blooms and the bent grasses leisurely unbend back to normal. Life goes on.

Thanks for writing, Mike and Carrinell. To you all who have re-located, may your best days be ahead. Come visit. Much of what you remember is still here. There are problems, of course, as there are everywhere. But the beauty remains.

Enjoy your recollections and remembrances -- they are a part of your soul.

No, I am no better than any other person! My heart is just as deceitful and desperately wicked as the next man's (Jeremiah 17:9). The answer to sin(s) is not in violence or hatred, but neither is it is quiet surrender! It is found only in the person and blood of Jesus Christ. We cannot sit back and keep silent about the things we feel strongly about And there is nothing wrong, legally or morally, with condemning that which God condemns or putting my money where my mouth is by boycotting those businesses that promote a perverse philosophy and lifestyle!

To the Editor:

The Oakland Golf Club, under the management of Wheeler Stuart and Sheri Hesson, has given Oakland the boost that has been badly needed. They have come a long way in making it a first-class golf course this past season and this one.

It's a pleasure to have such devoted people looking out for your pleasure as you play golf, or just visit. They always make you feel at home.

This isn't where the ball stops. The food and drinks are served, as if you were at the U.S. open.

Wheeler Stuart has the mental preparation to know what his customers want and like, and he really delivers.

If you have never been out to the Oakland Golf Club, it's well worth your time to go.

The Oakland golf course has been long in the making. At first we did not have carts; you carried your clubs or you could pay a caddy, but that's another chapter.

Go out for a meal or just visit with people you haven't seen all summer.

Hats off to Wheeler Stuart, and I hope he will be around for a long time. This is what the Oakland Golf Club has needed for a long, long time.

Thanks,

To the Editor:

My wife and I have been regular Republican readers for many years. We have had a second house on the lake for 35 years, and live in Silver Spring. It is your editorial and political cartoons which are the occasion for this note.

After reading your editorial "Live and Let Live" (6/26/97) and enjoying a laugh over the accompanying cartoon, we felt an expression of our appreciation was long overdue. We find your editorial opinions wonderfully liberal, courageous, timely, and instructive. We look forward to our regular perusal of your newspaper, and commend your contribution to the information and education provided to our community.

I wish to congratulate you and your staff for the outstanding work that was done in your producing the "Summer Sensations" that was included in your recent issue of The Republican.

We are fortunate to have you printing such a fine paper for our area.

I wish to take this opportunity to acknowledge a deleted contributor to Northern High School's After Prom Party. Jill A. Rodeheaver of Balloons-N-Stuff in McHenry donated two gross of balloons to the after prom party. Their name was unintentionally omitted from the published acknowledgments in your paper. I wish to publicly apologize to Mrs. Rodeheaver and her staff for this error. Without the support of the businesses in Garrett County, these events would not be possible. Mrs. Rodeheaver, please accept this apology. I hope you will continue your support in the future.

To The Editor;

I am not a Southern Baptist! I never have been and I never will be! I do not go to Disney movies or any other movies! I do not watch prime time TV and very little of any other kind! But I AM an independent Baptist and I feel I must speak up in defense of the Southern Baptist Convention's (SBC) decision to boycott Disney, especially in light of your recent attempts to discredit their actions.

You suggest that those who are opposed to the homosexual lifestyle, promotion and agenda should just "LIVE AND LET LIVE." I would like to respond to this suggestion with four observations:

1. No one is suggesting that anybody die! A "boycott" is simply a decision to refuse to buy, or do business with, a company or a product. This is a safe and legal action on the part of Christians to protest and seek to stifle an attitude and lifestyle that is condemned by God and is morally harmful to our nation, families, and in some ways to our lives!

2. You are condemning the SBC for making a moral "judgment" about a lifestyle that is, again, condemned by Scripture! But in so doing, you are judging the SBC's right to make this judgment! It is amazing how one-sided our "rights" can be. My family and I lived in Boulder, Colo., for three years before moving to Garrett County. Boulder is a very "homo-friendly" town, to say the least. We were there during the Amendment 2 debate and vote. All we heard from the homosexual community was, "hate is not a family value." This was shouted and displayed the whole time they threw condoms at our churches, spray-painted obscenities on our church buses, and disrupted our meetings. Not once did I observe or read about a Christian who threatened or abused their opponent! Not once was the use of rudeness or perversity suggested by the churches involved. They have the right to be offensive, but we have no right to politely and actively protest!

3. Your attempt to discredit the SBC's decision by associating them with the KKK is a thin cloak for your baseless argument. To suggest that because the KKK hated the black man (because of his skin color) and the SBC opposes homosexuality (a chosen lifestyle), they can somehow be identified one with another is extreme to say the least! To use your guilt-by-association technique, I could also suggest that because some KKK members were on school boards and some were editors of newspapers, therefore school board members and newspaper editors have some "distinct similarities" with the KKK, which is of course absurd! Unlike the KKK, the Christians supporting a boycott of Disney do not hide their identities, they do not seek to burn any one's houses nor do they advocate lynching anyone! So please, let's be reasonable!

4. You seem to suggest that no matter what someone else does, Christians are to just shut up and take no action to protest that which is clearly condemned by God! Are you suggesting that the husband or wife of an adulterous spouse should just "live and let live" regardless of how the other's actions may affect their family and sense of right and wrong? Are we to just let the drug dealer "live and let live" regardless of how his actions affect society? No, we do not hate the person who chooses to be a homosexual, but we do condemn and abhor the homosexual lifestyle! According to the word of God, sodomy (God's term for homosexuality) is the moral equivalent of rebellion,

View From My Window

NOT A GOOD GARDENER

I have created a false impression which needs correcting: namely, that I am a good gardener. People approach me, and ask me questions about cultivation practices or pest control. I write and talk so much about gardening that people think I must do it well.

Let me get this off my chest: I am a poor gardener. As time permits, I do work hard at it. In a sense the fact that I do work so hard at it is proof of how poorly I garden. If I were more skillful I would be able to work smarter if not actually less hard.

It is precisely because I am a poor gardener that I recommend it so heartily. If I can garden, then anyone can, and everyone should.

Last summer, for example, we were away from home for a full month. For 32 days no one was physically here to do anything in the garden. Despite that fact we are still eating potatoes from last summer's crop.

We canned over 60 quarts of tomatoes. There were cantaloupes and corn and lettuces and kale and various other delectables that we ate through the late summer, throughout the fall and into the winter. In fact, I only pulled up the last kale from 1996 two weeks ago to make room for some late season tomatoes.

Those prodigious quantities of food came from a garden that looked like Sam Hill, or worse. None of the rototiller companies made offers to photograph my garden for their promotional material.

I have probably had to work all the harder this year because things went to rack and ruin last summer. The weeds have been quick and thick. The soil has been hard to turn over because of the root systems left by last year's weeds. I am hoping that my diligence in 1997 will make for easier and more productive gardening in 1998.

There is a certain time window which one must crawl through while it is open. Once closed only damage can be done by trying to get through it. One of the things I did not get planted this year was sweet corn. I feel sad about it, but it is a fact. There is no use crying over spilled milk or, for that matter, unplanted corn.

The wonder of gardening is that there are so many other things to plant. One crop is lost for the year, but others are gained. I took some trouble to establish a bed of sorrel, a salad green, and herb for cooking. It is a perennial bed, and so--Lord willing--I shall not have to establish it again. There is a substantial area of leeks--a special sort of onion--which I have never successfully grown before.

The garden is full. In fact, my wife allowed me to take over some of the yard for the winter squash, a particular favorite of hers. The place begins to look like a victory garden.

Around the community there are other gardens that are bigger and better looking than mine. What is done with all the food they produce? If the shelves of a poor gardener are full, what kind of pantries of food do the good gardeners have?

So I have convinced you that I am a poor gardener, and that if I can produce wheelbarrows of food, so can you. But what about the premise that everyone should garden? Whence comes the moral imperative? Just think of the money saved, not only from the grocery store, but from the health club dues saved, the golf green fees saved, the money saved from not smoking cigarettes and drinking beer in sundry taprooms.

Maybe gardening alone wouldn't save this country, but it might be worth a try.

Late-Night Walk Leads To Jail For Swanton Man

A Swanton man was arrested on drug charges recently after being stopped while traveling on foot on Walnut Bottom Road at 1 a.m.

Garrett County sheriff's deputies checking the area for a report of a man carrying a rifle came upon Daniel Wayne Tichinel, 21, who was walking on the road carrying a fold-up shovel.

The sheriff's report stated that Tichinel had a strong odor of marijuana about him, and that they observed what appeared to be a small plastic bag of marijuana and a pipe lying on the ground next to where Tichinel was standing. When a deputy leaned over to inspect the items more closely, Tichinel reportedly tried to kick the bag under a parked vehicle.

Tichinel was then placed under arrest and charged with possession of marijuana and possession of marijuana paraphernalia. He was subsequently released on a $5,000 bond.

In other Garrett County sheriff's news recently, two Oakland men were arrested and each was charged with assault as a result of an alleged domestic altercation.

Gary A. Wotring Jr., 28, and John Sims Harvey, 54, each reportedly had assaulted the younger man's wife, Joanne Wotring, as she was attempting to leave her and her husband's residence. She alleged that she and her husband Gary got into an argument when she told him she was leaving to go visit a friend. She told investigators that during the argument Gary hit her in the face with a can of beer, and as she began to drive away from the scene she further alleged that Harvey, her father, came upon her on the road and blocked her way with his truck. Harvey reportedly got out of his truck and assaulted her as well, allegedly hitting her in the face several times with his fist.

Both men were arrested and charged with assault and battery, and each was subsequently released on his own recognizance.

The sheriff's office is investigating the theft of a Shindaiwa 440 model chainsaw from the 1600 block of Upperman Road. The saw has a 16-inch bar, is red in color, and is valued at approximately $500.

Also under investigation is the report of a theft of a gun from a truck parked in the 1000 block of Shallmar Road in Kitzmiller. No further details were available.

The sheriff's office received a report of an accident with injury involving a four-wheeler last week. A call was received from Garrett County Memorial Hospital requesting a police report in regard to a subject who at the time was being treated in the emergency room for his injuries. No further details were available.

Group Pitches

219 project will move forward, for if the federal money is approved, the state will then be in a position to consider adding 20% of the total needed for construction. With the total cost of the upgrades in Garrett County projected at $300 million, the state of Maryland would have to supply approximately $60 million to move the project along.

The main reason given for the need for the highway is jobs. Backers are convinced that Garrett County's 12.1% unemployment rate, highest in the state, will only decrease with improvements to the county's infrastructure, and they told the gathering that the best way to do this is by constructing the new interstate. "The infrastructure is the key to bringing down unemployment," Edwards said later. "In opening up access with a new highway, we are not aiming at bringing new people in to work here, but creating jobs to allow our own young people to stay in Garrett County."

James Hinebaugh, director of the County's Economic Development Department, concurred. "A conservative estimate is that 4,000 new jobs would be created in Garrett County alone, not to mention the potential benefits to the region as a whole. That would make the county more self-sufficient, and we wouldn't have to go begging to the state for money."

The presentation, complete with booklets, brochures, and five large full-colored maps at the head of the room detailing the proposed route of the highway through the county as well as for the entire eastern seaboard, was received with approval by the state officials. "You've presented a strong, concentrated community effort," commented state transportation secretary David Winstead. "We will do what we can to help. There aren't many interstate highway projects that can draw on a multi-state coalition to give you extra leverage in getting federal funding. Route 219 presents a unique opportunity to do this. We need to pitch the highway as an international trade corridor that will benefit all of the east coast and take advantage of the NAFTA (the North American Free Trade Agreement)."

Little was said in the discussion about specifics of the exact route of the new interstate, but as Parker Williams of the state highway administration said, "We are nearing completion of a full cloverleaf at the intersection of I-68 and Route 219 at Keyser's Ridge; the proposed 219 bridge replacement over Bear Creek is a $3 million project that is important in upgrading the highway to a four-lane. Bypasses for Accident, Roman Nose Hill at Deep Creek Lake, and Oakland are still in study." An official from the office of state planning indicated that the state was very reluctant to consider an eastern route for the highway, because of the possible impact on state forests and state parks in the eastern corridor.

There was no opposition expressed at the meeting. A state official commented to the gathering that for every great idea there is usually a cadre of opposite thinkers with equally great ideas, and he asked Moe what the nature of local political opposition to the project was. Moe replied, "There hasn't been any opposition locally." Later, when asked to comment on the apparent lack of opposition, Moe said, "I can't understand why anyone would want to stop it, and I've been receiving lots of feedback from fellow members of the Chamber of Commerce that they are behind it. If it were put to a vote by the Chamber, I'd bet it would pass overwhelmingly."

Moe went on to say that "if people have concerns about the project, they need to voice them now, by writing and calling state delegates and congressional representatives. There are no other meetings scheduled to discuss the project between now and the fall Congressional vote on fed-

THIS YEAR'S FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATION in Terra Alta was dedicated to the late James A. Gregg, a well-known local resident and pharmacist who devoted most of his life to serving the community. FRIENDS DONATE TO LIBRARY - The Terra Alta Library gets some vital support from the community group called Friends of the Terra Alta Library (FOTTAL). The group members focus on raising public awareness and raising funds for the library. One recent and almost successful venture of the group was participation in the Terra Alta 4th of July parade. Riding in a classic Studebaker, FOTTAL members had signs promoting the library. "The car quit before the whole parade route had been driven," regretted Eve Rafferty, chair of FOTTAL. However, the heavens smiled on another event planned by the group -- a raffle. Offering the prize of two tickets to the first Steeler exhibition game to be held in August in Pittsburgh, Pa., the Friends group raised $1000 dollars from sale of raffle tickets. Recently, a check for this amount was presented to library representatives. From right to left are Maureen Mielenz, FOTTAL treasurer, Ima Thomas, librarian, Eve Rafferty, chair, and Sharon Haskiell, assistant librarian. Other executive committee members of FOTTAL who were not present for the photo are Margaret Sypolt, vice chair, June Frazee, secretary, and Cathy Nardi, ways and means. It was she who conceived the idea of the raffle and donated the Steeler tickets. The owner and driver of the Studebaker for the parade is John Kehoe of Alpine Lake.

Two Of Three Oakland LL All-Star Teams Win Districts

Two of three Oakland Little League All-Star teams captured district championships this past week, and a third team just missed garnering a district title last night in Boonesboro.

The Junior Division team, comprised of 13-year-olds, and the Senior Division team, which consists of 14- and 15-year-olds, each won district championships and will continue their quest this week for state titles. The Minor Division team, comprised of 9-10-year-old players, finished as the district runners-up by losing a one-run, nine-inning heart-breaker last night, 5-4, to West End.

Details of the playoff games for each of the three divisions are as follows:

Senior Division

As reported in last week's issue of The Republican, the Senior Division Oakland All-Stars got off to a hot start in District I tournament play, demolishing their first three opponents by a combined score of 43-5. The unbeaten string earned them the right to host the championship game against Maughansville this past Sunday.

Oakland took that contest by a 10-2 score, the same result of its first matchup against Maughansville five days earlier. Jason Finch and Christian Warfield pooled their pitching to produce a six-hitter, while Jon Lucas belted a grand-slam homer and collected five RBIs for the day. Jason Hinebaugh added two hits, and his glove was instrumental in Oakland's defensive play.

"We've had a great effort and great production from all 13 players," All-Stars manager Ken Tressler commented. "The total team effort has been superb, and it's been a great run so far." Tressler is assisted in his duties by coaches Al Rohrbaugh and Rick Bittinger.

The Senior League Oakland All-Stars will go on the road for the Sectional Playoffs this coming weekend, playing the District II winners for the right to advance to the State Tournament and stay in the running for the Little League World Series in Williamsport, Pa.

Junior Division

The Junior Division Oakland All-Stars kicked off their tournament play by defeating the Halfway All-Stars by a score of 15-2. Bryson Meyers picked up the win behind the hitting of Bryan Schwalm, Ricky Reams, and Meyers himself.

In their next matchup, the Oakland All-Stars beat Maughansville 15-6, as pitchers Brian Hauser, J.B. Murphy and Ricky Reams combined their talents on the mound, and Meyers, Chad Panther, Joel Helbig and Steve Eiswert led the offense.

DISTRICT CHAMPIONS - One of the Oakland Little League all-star teams which captured a District I championship this past weekend was this group of 13-year-old players, who defeated Maugansville in the final game, 7-5. Bryson Meyers was the winning pitcher, and leading the Oakland offense were Steven Eiswert, Ricky Reams, and Ryan Ewing, who each recorded two singles. The team will now compete in the sectional tournament. Pictured from left, front row, are: Ryan Ewing, Joel Helbig, Bryan Schwalm, Chad Panther, J.J. Bolyard, J.B. Murphy, and D.R. Parsons. In row two, same order, are: Chris Remley, Brad Palmer, Jim Ford (coach), Steven Eiswert, Tort Helbig (manager), Bryan Hauser, Ricky Reams, and Karl Schwalm (coach).

The All-Stars' next opponent was dealt an even more severe blow, as Clear Spring fell to the Oakland onslaught by a score of 19-3. Manager Ken Tressler spread the pitching duties between five hurlers, with Chris Remley collecting the win. The hitting attack was paced by Brad Palmer, J.J. Bolyard and D.R. Parsons.

The championship game featured a rematch between Oakland and the Maughansville team at Broadford Park. The visitors rebounded from their earlier defeat but Oakland proved unbeatable once again, clinching the District championship by a score of 7-5. Meyers picked up his second win, while Reams, Eiswert and Ryan Ewing paced the offense with two hits apiece.

Managed by Tort Helbig and coached by Karl Schwalm and Jim Ford, the Junior Division All-Stars have played outstanding defense, not committing a single error in any of their four tournament victories.

"Our defense has been outstanding in the tournament," said Helbig. "The coaches have done an excellent job in emphasizing defense in our practices."

The Oakland All-Stars will host the District II champions at Broadford Park this Saturday, July 12.

Minor League

The Oakland 9-10-year-old All-Stars entered Wednesday's night District I Championship game with a 7-1 record.

The team opened play with a convincing win over PVAA by a score of 12-3. Corey Tressler was the winning pitcher. Contributing two hits apiece were Brad Reese and Corey Tressler. The second game of the tournament was against a hard-hitting Clear Springs team. The local squad came up short 9-7. The Oakland team then traveled to Hancock and coasted to an easy 12-1 victory. Corey Bosley was the winning pitcher. Jason Weeks had three hits for Oakland and Bosley added two.

The next opponent was a rematch with PVAA. Oakland again had little trouble and recorded an 11-2 win. Brad Reese was the winning pitcher. Having two hit games were Scott Wildesen, Corey Tressler, and Chad Everd.

A rematch with Clear Springs was next and Oakland jumped out early in the game 5-0. The Clear Springs squad quickly tied the score in the top of the second. The game continued to be close throughout and was finally decided in the bottom of the sixth when Corey Tressler doubled home the winning run to give Oakland a 13-12 win. Corey Bosley was the winning pitcher. Having two hits in the game were Tyler Livengood and Corey Tressler.

Oakland moved on to face Frostburg with the task of defeating the host team twice. In a seesaw battle, Oakland came out on top 14-11. Recording the victory on the mound for Oakland was Scott Wildesen. In the District I West title game, Frostburg proved to be a stubborn opponent and took an early lead of 3-0. Oakland recorded two runs in the bottom of the first and tacked on five more in the second to lead 7-2. Frostburg added three runs in the third inning. Oakland failed to score in the third and fourth inning but added to its lead in the fifth. Leading 10-6 going into the sixth inning, Oakland held onto a 10-9 win in an exciting finish. Corey Tressler was the winning pitcher and recorded three hits on offense.

The double-elimination format of the tournament forced Oakland to carry its loss to the District I Championship round in Boonsboro. Their opponent West End had not lost in the East section of the District. Oakland again rose to the challenge and handed West End its first loss 8-5. Scott Wildesen fired a one-hitter and Jason Weeks led the offense with two hits.

Contributing outstanding defensive plays in the tournament were Jason Weeks, Jason Wakefield, Matt Savage, Tyler Livengood, Matt Skidmore, and Brad Reese.

Details of last night's deciding game, which Oakland lost 5-4 in nine innings, were unavailable at presstime. A team photo and more details will be published next week.

Western Garrett Nipped By Lions

Despite the fact that two Western Garrett pitchers limited the Cumberland Lions to just three hits in a Hot Stove League game Tuesday, the local squad was edged in the contest, 6-5.

The score was knotted at 4-4 after seven innings, forcing an extra frame, and Western Garrett took a 5-4 lead in the top of the eighth by scoring a run on a passed ball. But Mario Bascelli, the winning pitcher, walked for the Lions in the bottom of the eighth and stole home to tie the score once again at 5-5. Later in the same inning, Andy Tabler then won the game for the Lions with a triple, the only extra-base hit in the contest for his team.

Bascelli went the distance on the mound, allowed five hits, and struck out 10. Grant Green pitched into the seventh for Western Garrett and was relieved by Keith Artice.

Tim Umbel had two of Western Garrett's five hits, both singles.

Western Garrett is slated to play again this Friday at home against CSX.

Garrett County Legion Team Edged 5-4 Before 16-6 Win

The Garrett County American Legion baseball team was edged by visiting Fort Cumberland last Thursday, 5-4, at the Garrett Community College diamond, but then evened its second-half season record at 1-1 Friday by defeating visiting Frostburg, 16-6.

A two-out single in the top of the ninth inning by Jeremy Boyer led to Garrett County's defeat in Thursday's contest, as Brian Powell came home to break a 4-4 lead.

Powell had reached on a two-out double and finished the game with three doubles and a single, while J.R. Cross hit a two-run homer and a double. Boyer and Angelo Bascelli each had two singles in Fort Cumberland's 11-hit effort.

Sisler Lumber Crushes Elks

A three-hitter by Jeff Carr led Sisler Lumber to an 11-1 romp over host Cumberland Elks yesterday in Hot Stove Baseball League action. The contest was called early because of the 10-run rule.

Sisler's, leading the league with a 12-1 mark, finished with 14 hits, as Adam Brenneman and B.A. Sisler each rapped a triple and two singles for two RBI. Levi Schmuck and Paul Beitzel each hit a double and a single, Carr aided his own cause with two singles for two RBI, and Josh Hook contributed a run-producing double.

Carr limited the Elks to just three infield singles.

Sisler Lumber will host the Optimist team this Friday at Northern High School.

Oakland Wins Two Of Three Against Fairmont In Pen-Mar

Oakland faced Fairmont in a Pen-Mar League single game on Saturday in Fairmont and then hosted the same team for a doubleheader on Sunday at Garrett Community College. The Oaks emerged from it all with two wins and one defeat, as they topped the West Virginia squad Saturday, 11-7, and won the first game of Sunday's twinbill, 3-1, before dropping the second contest, 10-6.

The results left Oakland with a 13-3 record, while Fairmont finished the weekend with a 9-6 mark.

Mark Elliott and Ernie Galusky paced the Oaks' offensive effort in Saturday's game, as each recorded three hits and three RBI. Elliott's total included a solo home run and two singles, and he also scored three runs. Galusky rapped a double and two singles and scored twice.

The score was knotted at 1-1 going into the fifth inning, but that's when the Oaks scored four runs and took the lead for good. They added three runs in the sixth to make it 8-1.

Starter Jason Lantz, who pitched the first seven innings, was credited with the win, and teamed with reliever J.D. Hawkins to record a six-hitter.

Leading Fairmont's hitting were Jason Sleeth with two singles and John Chambers with a double and three RBI.

Elliott again led the Oakland batting effort in the first game on Sunday, as he stroked a solo homer in the bottom of the third, hit two singles, and stole a pair of bases.

Kent Taylor was the winner on the mound, as he went the distance, struck out five, and allowed only three hits. Andy Jeffries, who took the loss, gave up just six hits.

A sacrifice fly in the second inning by Josh Woods put the first run of the game on the board for Oakland. A bases-loaded walk drawn by Jason Sweitzer later in the inning scored the winning run before Elliott tagged on the insurance run with his solo shot in the third.

Fairmont's only run was recorded via a solo homer by Aaron Bushko in the top of the seventh.

The Oaks fell behind 4-0 in the top of the first inning of the second game and couldn't quite recover, although Jeremy Fitzwater's three-run blast in the bottom of the same inning cut the Fairmont lead to 4-3.

Fitzwater's effort was matched by Fairmont's Jacob Lowther in the top of the third to give the visitors a 7-3 advantage. After Oakland scored a run in the bottom of the third, Chance Hearn put the game out of reach with a two-run homer in Fairmont's three-run fifth.

Oakland rallied for two runs in the seventh, but could get no closer.

Hearn also had a double and finished with three RBI, while Mike Viani hit a double and a single for Fairmont.

Aaron Taylor and Galusky each had a double and a single for the Oaks, Woods singled twice, and Elliott contributed a double. The Oaks out-hit Fairmont in the losing effort, 11-7.

The Oaks, who are in first place in the league standings, will get a bye this week. The Pen-Mar League All-Star game was played last night at Garrett Community College. Representing Oakland on the Maryland team were: Jason Lantz and Kent Taylor, pitchers; Jeremy Fitzwater, catcher; Bill Phillips, Donnie Reeves, and Joey DiSimone, infielders; and Josh Woods, Mark Elliott, and Ryan Folk, outfielders.

Manta Rays Open '97 Season In YMCA Freestyle Meet

The Garrett County Manta Rays, coached by Joanne Graybill, opened their 1997 swimming season of competition with considerable success on Saturday, June 28, by capturing a number of top awards in the Cumberland YMCA's annual freestyle meet, held at Frostburg State University.

The Manta Rays won seven first places and five second places in A flight events, and 12 firsts and 10 seconds in B flight competition, as well as two relay events. A flight swimmers are those who compete throughout the year, or those who have won B flight championships, which is how all of the members of the local team achieve A flight status since none of them swim year-round.

Earning first places in A flight were: Caine Chorpenning, senior boys, 50-yard and 100-yard; Rusty Strubin, junior boys, 50 and 100; and Kelly Taylor, tyke girls, 25 and 50.

Manta Rays who were second-place winners in A flight were: James Marc, junior boys, 100; Michael Schwalm, junior boys, 50; Natalie Sanders, junior girls, 100; and James Naylor, cadet boys, 50 and 100.

Winning a third place in A flight was Michael Schwalm, junior boys, 100.

Capturing first places in B flight events were the following Manta Rays: Noelle Collins, senior girls, 50; Jill Speicher, senior girls, 100; Matthew Sincell, senior boys, 50 and 100; Rachel Sincell, junior girls, 100; Brandon Heselbach, junior boys, 50 and 100; Brittany Naylor, prep girls, 100; Amanda Bell, prep girls, 50; Kailee Craig, cadet girls, 25 and 50; and Andrew Kight, tyke boys, 50.

Second places in B flight were won by: Jenny Grant, senior girls, 100 free; Jill Speicher, senior girls, 50; Greg Speicher, junior boys, 50 and 100; Rachel Sincell, junior girls, 50; Joshua Lantz, prep boys, 50; Andrew Kight, tyke boys, 25; and Krista Hollingsworth, mini-tyke girls, 25 and 50.

Earning third-place ribbons in B flight events were: Malia Collins, junior girls, 50 and 100; Nick Gangler, junior boys, 100; Joshua Lantz, prep boys, 100; Megan Shaffer, cadet girls, 50; and Jessica Petrella, tyke girls, 50.

Winning first places in relay events were the senior coed team comprised of Caine Chorpenning, Matthew Sincell, Sara Sincell, and Jill Speicher, and the junior relay team consisting of James Marc, Natalie Sanders, Michael Schwalm, and Rusty Strubin.

Finishing in second place was the senior relay team of Julie Geisler, Jenny Grant, Kristen Spurrier, and Keri Strubin. Third places in the relay events were won by the junior team consisting of Amanda Bell, Malia Collins, Laura Hollingsworth, and Shelley Reynolds, and the cadet team of Lindsey Strubin, Shar Hollingsworth, James Naylor, and Chris Speicher.

The Manta Rays are now training at Wisp Resort pool in McHenry after suddenly having to leave their previous site, Alpine Lake.

"We really appreciate Mark Husek (Wisp Hotel manager) and his staff for being so accommodating to us when we suddenly found ourselves without a pool," stated Coach Graybill. "We were literally a 'team out of water' and, under the circumstances, Wisp was our only hope of being able to remain a viable program."

The Manta Rays were in competition again last night at the new YMCA facility pool in Cumberland, where they participated in the annual YMCA backstroke meet. They will compete in the same location next Wednesday night in the breaststroke meet. The results of the backstroke meet from last night will be published next week.

ANATOMY OF A BASS TOURNAMENT

On Friday, June 27, the Maryland Bass Federation orchestrated their second tournament trail event, this one on Deep Creek Lake. The group conducts five such events through the season and if you want to see a finely tuned operation, these events are a real show.

Imagine launching and retrieving close to 100 expensive bass boats in about a half hour each way. Imagine catching, holding, weighing, and releasing back into the lake nearly 300 bass without a fatality. Imagine weighing in the entire catch, computing the results, and naming the winners in less than an hour. Tournament Director Butch Ward and his staff have this down to a science.

Though the day was a beauty, fishing conditions were tough, with a front having come through on Thursday. The winner of the event was Aaron Hastings of the Hub City Bassmasters, who logged five fish weighing a total of 7 lbs. 14 ounces. Jim Iden of the Garrett Bassers and owner of Appalachian Mountain Crafts finished fourth with five fish weighing 7 lbs. 6 ounces. J.R. Robertson took the "lunker" prize with a bass of 4 lbs. 10 ounces.

The next federation tournament will be held Sunday, July 20 at Smallwood State Park on the Potomac. Also, there will be one on Sunday, August 24, on the Nanticoke River and Sunday, October 5, at the Dundee Creek Marina on the upper Chesapeake Bay.

Tournament staffer Rocky Beaver and sponsor Brook Hoover of Cabin Fever Tackle took the time to explain some of the doings to this writer and explained that the Maryland Bass Federation has been around for 25 years and has an agenda that goes beyond putting bass in a boat. They emphasized the organization's objectives of promoting conservation, working with youth, and supporting the DNR efforts in preserving Maryland waters. They also donated a pontoon boat to the state park that is used for youth work and tours.

THE ROLE OF THE MUSHROOM

Certain mushrooms carry a stigma of being potentially lethal if ingested by humans. Consider the derivation of the word toadstool (a dangerous mushroom). The name is derived from two German words, tote (death) and stuhl (chair). Yet, these same mushrooms play an important role in the continuance of the ecosystem. Pathogenic fungi help maintain balance in biotic communities by eliminating weaker units in a population. Decay fungi help maintain healthy ecosystems by recycling nutrients from dead plants and animal tissue back into the soil. And, mycorrhizal fungi absorb minerals from the soil and transfer them to the roots of plants.

JET FIGHTER SIGHTING TECHNOLOGY APPLIED

Today's F-14 fighters use holographic displays for their super accurate target acquisition systems. Now, this Bushnell Holosight adapts this technology for a sight that can be adapted to just about any kind of sporting firearm.

The way it works is that a holograph of a reticle pattern is recorded on a display window that becomes visible over the target and remains in focus on the target. Critical eye alignment is not required and multi-plane focusing error is eliminated.

The system is designed with interchangeable windows and reticle patterns that can be changed quickly, even in the field. There is no magnification with this system that comes with five interchangeable reticles. Interested? Check with your outfitter or call Bushnell Ports Optics at 1-800-423-3537.

RIVER REPORT

All local rivers have been running at midsummer flows recently except for brief periods of higher flow following downpours. And, the Yough, Savage, and North Branch are producing for fly fisherman using the right patterns. Harold Harsh said that the Yough has been producing on Cream Midges in size 18 to 16 and on ants and grasshopper imitations.

The Savage requires deft technique and small floating patterns, with the emphasis on small. Anglers planning on fishing the North Branch should consider Stimulators (size 12), Elk Hair Caddis (size 14), ants (size 16), grasshoppers (size 12), and beetles (size 14). The Lost Land Run area has been producing some nice brookies.

A BOOK FOR DOVE HUNTERS

No hunter gets 100% on doves. They are fast and they are unpredictable. In fact, hunters shoot more shells at doves for each one bagged than any other North American bird or animal. They are a great game bird, plentiful and generally underutilized.

The book A Hunter's Guide to Mourning Doves covers the mourning dove's habits and traits and gives the kind of information needed to become a successful dove hunter. The author, Bob Conrad, has studied doves and the techniques needed to bag them. He has boiled this knowledge into a 28-page work of no-nonsense methods and techniques. If you are thinking about hunting this fine game bird come September, or want to compare your hunting notes with those of an expert, you will find this book interesting. Check with your local book store or write Beaver Pond Publishing, P.O. Box 224, Greenville, PA 16125.

HUGE PICKEREL BREAKS 20-YEAR RECORD - Todd Whitacre, Kitzmiller, recently reeled in the largest chain pickerel ever recorded in Deep Creek Lake fishing history. The fish weighed six pounds, five ounces, and was 28 and 3/4 inches long. Whitacre's catch broke a record that had stood for 20 years. It was caught in the Turkey Neck area of the lake, apparently on a Johnny's Baithouse nightcrawler.

Sailboat Racing On Deep Creek Lake

FIRECRACKER REGATTA HAS SOME OF EVERYTHING

by Dan Muss

The Firecracker Regatta is a five-race affair with two races each on July 4 and 5 and one on July 6. On Friday morning I looked out at the lake from the deck of the yacht club and thought about rigging for the first race. The wind didn't look that bad most of the time, but there were these wicked gusts that came up every few minutes.

I went inside to look at the anemometer readings. It was blowing about 7-10 knots from the west, but there were the gusts and they were up into the 20 knots and they came with 20 to 30 degree shifts in direction. I decided that discretion was, in this case at least, the better part of valor and I headed back home to watch the action from my motorboat.

As I rode by the committee boat I, offered my services as additional patrol; they said that they had more patrol craft than sailboats. They were right; I was not the only one daunted by the mad wind. But those sailboats that did compete had no major problems and none of the Flying Scots capsized. (Lasers always capsize but they get them up with relative ease.)

Conditions on Saturday were ideal with a nice breeze and sunshine. I was out there but had a tough time, coming in next to last. On Sunday there was almost no wind at race time. The committee postponed for an hour, then started in very light, fluky air. But the wind kept building and I was approaching the finish line in fourth place when a sudden wind shift let two boats slip across the line before me. They told me, "You was robbed!"

FIRECRACKER REGATTA RESULTS

Laser A - Kevin Rissell, first; Tom Johnson, second; Bruce Spinnenweber, third. Laser B - Jessica Potts, first.

American Trust Golf Tournament Set For Friday; ARC To Benefit

American Trust Bank will hold its Ninth Annual Charity Golf Tournament at the Oakland Golf Club this Friday, July 18.

The bank has sponsored a charity tournament of this nature for the last eight years and has succeeded in raising over $115,000 for a number of philanthropic organizations through the generosity of area contributors. This year's recipient of funds will be the Garrett County Chapter of the American Red Cross.

The American Red Cross received top honors by three leading consumer watchdog groups, which touted the Red Cross as one of the nation's most fiscally responsible charities. The Red Cross also met all nine standards of philanthropy of the National Charities Information Bureaus. This bureau's mission is to promote informed giving and charitable integrity to enable more contributors to make sound giving decisions and to encourage giving to charities that need and merit support.

This Garrett County chapter of the Red Cross is dependent on local contributions and fund-raising events. All donations and contributions are for the sole use of Garrett County residents. "Without these needed funds, the Garrett County Red Cross may not be able to continue providing services it has offered in the past," stated and ARC spokesperson. "Proceeds from the tournament help worthy ARC projects, such as Health and Safety classes, Disaster Services, and Blood Services." All programs are taught and run by volunteers who are certified American Red Cross instructors. For example, in 1996, 1,595 units of blood were collected, which results in approximately 4,785 potential lives being saved. "Let's keep this important community asset in place by making a tax deductible contribution today!" the spokesperson said.

"We are really excited about this year's tournament," said Gary Yoder, member of the organizing committee. "We have made several changes that will speed play and our prize selection is the best ever. In addition, we are working closely with the staff at Oakland Golf Club to develop a brand new menu for our post-tournament cookout. We think this is going to be our best tournament ever."

In order to speed play, the organizing committee has limited the number of teams to 36 (four fewer than in past years). Interested participants are urged to enter their teams as soon as possible to ensure a place in the tournament.

Registration forms for the tournament are now being accepted by American Trust Bank. The event has been planned to include the golf tournament, contests, prizes, and dinner. Businesses and/or individuals can participate by entering teams, sponsoring teams, or by simply contributing a donation. Associate sponsors are eligible to win gift certificates from local restaurants such as McClive's, Will O'the Wisp, Red Run, and the Oakland Golf Club. Those interested may call American Trust Bank at 301-334-5451 or the golf professional, Wheeler Stewart, at the Oakland Golf Club.

Area Speedway Review

Video World presented racing and a candy rush for the children at Interstate 79 Speedway on Friday, June 27, with only one driver visiting the winner's circle for the first time this year.

Gary Dalton led the first half of the late model feature and appeared to have the race in hand when a small puff of smoke appeared and Dalton headed toward the pits. Frank Wilson who started seventh, took over the lead and was challenged several times by Mike Hawkins. On the final circuit, Hawkins was making his final bid for the win as he tangled with a lapped car and was sent spinning. Wilson picked up his first win of the '97 season ahead of Robbie Scott, Sammy Stiles. Duke Pratt. and Tim Harsh. Stiles and Dalton picked up the heat wins.

The semi late feature had to be the best of the evening with great racing and a photo finish at the line. Jerry Haseleu led 18 of the 20 laps until his car began to slow. Somehow he and Rick Strickler tangled, bringing out the red flag, when Haseleu complained of back pain and was slowly removed from his car. When the race resumed, there was one lap for race leader Scott Miles to hold off Doug Horton, who had come from a 16th starting spot. Miles had the lead coming out of the fourth turn, but Horton edged Miles at the line by inches. Chris Smith was third, followed by Kevin Wolfe and Jon Messenger. Heat wins went to L.C. Powers and Haseleu.

Mike Wilson won his third McDonald McModified feature as he bested Shawn Davis, Vic Vandergrift, Charles Cochran, and Dave Gump in the caution-filled 15 lapper. Vandergrift, Wilson, and Tom Singleton won the earlier heats.

The dwarf car division has had only two winners this season as Steve Mason and Terry Hall continue to dominate. This week it was Hall nabbing the victory, followed by Greg Shingleton, Butch Summers, Mason, who spun earlier and had to tag the tail, and Al Roach. The heat winner was Mason.

Brian Tonkery continued his winning ways in the pure stock class as he picked up his 6th win this season. Tonkery came through the field after an earlier altercation and took the win from Mark Bell, who was trailing smoke the last few laps. Gary Yost wound up third, with Paul Watson and Ian Wamsley following.

Doug Thompson brought out a red flag as he rolled over one and a half times, landing on his roof. Thompson was uninjured. Heat winners were Roger Coffman and Tonkery.

A racing double header next weekend, with the Western Auto Parts America Night on the Fourth of July and racing in all five divisions. On Sunday the third leg of his West Virginia State Championship Series is set to pay $5000 to the late model winner when the MACS drivers make their second appearance at 1-79. Racing on Sunday, July 6, will be presented by Roy's Travel Trailers. Also, Rodney Combs will return "home" to the dirt at 1-79 after beginning the year in the #43 Lance Busch Grand National car. Fans are urged to attend this big holiday weekend of racing at Interstate 79 Speedway, which is located at Exit 125 just north of Clarksburg, W.Va. For information, persons may call the office at 304-592-3200 or the speedway at 304-592-0916.

neighborhoods across the state receiving a portion of the $10.5 million. Garrett County's portion of the grant will also pay for the assistant state's attorney to devote one day a week to domestic violence and other criminal cases in Grantsville.

According to reports, State Police Lt. Ray Milburn estimates that eight percent of the county's destruction of property cases and similar crimes occur in Grantsville, many of the cases involving children.

Maryland State Police, Barrack W, McHenry, will act as lead coordinator for the strategy. Officials at the MSP barrack will be providing mapping and criminal intelligence support.

Exact use of the funds for programs in Granstville is still in the planning stage, Milburn said. Some details need to be filled in on several of the current outlines.

Milburn also said that a meeting is being planned that would bring Michael Sarbanes, of the governor's office on crime prevention, to Grantsville to meet with local members of the implementation and enforcement team. The date and time of the meeting have not yet been confirmed.

gantown, W.Va.), and Brock Scrap Steel (Cumberland). Glotfelty said the office welcomes new bidders as well.

At the staff meeting, Glotfelty also announced that officials from Tucker County, W.Va., have planned to come visit the county's operation to learn more about how to set up their own facility.

In Nishida's letter, she notes that the state does not want to rest on past successes and that recycling participation must continue to be promoted.

Glotfelty said this morning that the sites in Garrett County are clean and well-staffed.

"People do not have to have stickers to bring recyclables to the sites. Anyone can come, for free. There are people there to help and to keep people informed of the latest recycling news. We encourage everyone to take advantage of the sites."

The site locations are as follows: King's Run Road (Mt. Nebo site), 1/4 mile east of Rt. 219, just north of Oakland; Weber Road Crossing site, Rt. 219 South, 3 miles out of Oakland; Backbone Mountain site, along Rt. 135, 1/2 mile west of Swanton Hill Road; Bumble Bee Road site, 1 1/2 miles east of Garrett Community College; Friendsville site, along Rt. 42, 3/4 mile northeast of Friendsville; and the Grantsville site, along Rt. 40, 1/4 mile east of Rt. 219 North.

All refuse site locations are open Monday through Friday, 7 a.m. until 6 p.m.; Saturdays, 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.; and on Sundays, noon until 6 p.m. Persons may bring to the sites newspaper (no slick inserts), telephone books, metals (aluminum, steel, and bi-metal food and beverage containers), and clear, brown, and/or green glass bottles and jars.

Magazines and assorted office paper should be brought directly to the landfill, which is located along Oakland-Sang Run Road, 3 1/2 miles north of Oakland. The hours at the landfill are Monday through Saturday, 9 a.m. until 4 p.m.

For more information about recycling, persons may call the landfill office at 301-387-0322. Detailed information can also be found in the local telephone book on pages 42 and 43.

career development model implemented five years ago seem to be the key to reaching these standards. The models help students to focus at an early age through such activities as career exploration, he said.

The efforts of Vent and Al Coviello, assistant superintendent, in development of the career and technology program were acknowledged by Ferrant. "Garrett County may be Maryland's model for career development and technology education," he said. "I applaud your leadership -- I mean Garrett County as a school system," he stated.

He recognized the positive effects of the Pathway program in the school system. The program permits students to select a career direction and cluster their courses to lead toward it. "Students here know where they want to go," he said.

The other state school system to meet MSDE SOAR standards was St. Mary's County.

To the Editor:

After months of crawling up over the backs of others who would impede my progress, I have achieved the most coveted position in the free world: president of the board of directors of Our Town Theatre. Looking down from this lofty height I asked the board what they would have me do. They responded (smiling and winking to each other, they were so happy for me), "Come in every day and empty the dehumidifier and water the big plant." I have fulfilled these tasks almost without fail.

Feeling magnanimous I allowed an underling, namely, Jann Dehus, to try to fill my shoes for one night. Ms. Dehus promptly rewarded my generosity with a scathing attack on my character in the form of a recent letter to the editor. Ms. Dehus has clearly set her sights on "The Big Prize" and wishes to unseat me.

Let us examine the letter in question, paragraph by paragraph, with the probing eye of justice, for it contains errors aplenty.

In paragraph one the letter calls me "A idiot of the first magnitude." The article is incorrect. It should read "An idiot...."

Paragraph two contains a reference to "the stupidest, meanest, dumbest person I know of." I think we all know better than to end a sentence with a preposition.

Paragraph three begins, "On the night of May 7, Mr. Hill, you were seen..." and goes on to describe a scene of corruption and degradation. This is false. I recall the event as occurring on May 6.

The next several paragraphs I didn't read because they looked kind of long.

The final paragraphs go on to describe a rather graphic and explicit.... Hey, wait a minute...this isn't Jann's letter, it's from the Internal Revenue Service! HA HA! Oh, well, you get the idea.

Anyway, please consider becoming a charter member of Our Town Theatre. Charter memberships are only available until the end of the year and are tax deductible. You could be the start of something big. And I look forward to seeing you at our Reader's Theatre Series, every Sunday evening at 7:00 throughout the summer. It's fun and entertaining. Anyone (age 12 and above) can come and read a part, listen, or both. This Sunday (July 13) we will be reading the comedy You Can't Take It With You.

Meanwhile, I need to look up Dr. Kevorkian's phone number, in case I do get a part in Sound of Music.

Sincerely yours,
Richard Hill
President and Supreme Dictator For Life

To the Editor:

We are writing to comment on the Mtn. Lake Park citizens' Crime Watch Day, held at Veterans Park on "L" Street. We feel everyone involved, the V.F.W., the Crime Watch citizens group, the people who had booths, people who worked getting things ready, the D.J. for the music, the entertainers, the volleyball and basketball groups, the horseshoe throwing groups, bicycle race groups, Paul Pratt who let the "Peace Doves" go, and the cooks who did refreshments and anyone else involved should be given a big "thank you" for a job well done. They all did a lot of work and it was a very memorable day watching the flag being raised and all the dedicated people of the area on hand for the dedication service.

A special thanks to Deputies Paul Pratt and Pat Kelly. (Good job, guys.)

We read in the newspaper and on the radio to back your neighborhood and children. We wonder why no representation of The Republican office or the Garrett County Sheriff was present for the affair.

"Maybe" one or both had a legitimate excuse. Maybe everyone will remember next year.

Thanks again, guys!
Mr. and Mrs. Harold Murphy
Mtn. Lake Park

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Murphy,

Point 1. We did extensive coverage of the event before it happened to make sure people knew about it, and we have additional coverage this week.

Point 2. We received no request from anyone to provide some photo coverage of the event. We do not just automatically show up for every activity that's going on in the county, which would be impossible for us anyway. But all it takes is a phone call and a request for a photographer, and 95% of the time we are willing and able to accommodate. Perhaps you could give us that call for next year's event.

Point 3. We don't wish to speak for the sheriff of Garrett County, but as you point out, his office was well represented at the event.

Editor

To the Editor:

There is a better than even chance that in 20 years or so Garrett County will be bisected by a north-south level access four lane highway. The proposal is to upgrade Route 219 into an international trade route from Buffalo to points south.

The official proposed route is basically the same as existing Route 219. If that is the final route, tourists in cars, on bicycles, and on foot are going to commingle with highballing through-traffic. It is a dangerous combination. The record is clear in the development of suburban Washington before I-95 took through-traffic off their level access four lanes. The record is clear in suburban New York City, Palisades Parkway was built specifically to separate local and tourist traffic from commercial traffic. Many other areas constructed literal killing zones before they separated local traffic from highballing through-traffic.

The proposal is for a limited access four-lane. The land is too valuable and the commercial possibilities are too great. There is zero chance this route can be a limited access highway. Doubters need to go no further than Hagerstown and Frederick. Along four-lane Route 40 there was originally limited access. The only evident limits are how close together it is reasonable to place traffic lights and owning frontage.

The lessons of traffic management have been available since the late 1960s. My understanding is that the local Chamber of Commerce has filed for an official reopening of the process that determines which is the most beneficial path for the proposed four-lane. It is not too soon for other concerned groups and citizens to write and call officials.

The eastern corridor from Chestnut Ridge to Gorman is the ideal path. It passes through-traffic out of the main tourist zone. In addition, that four-lane can in reality be limited access. There isn't a single shipper in this county that can suffer from moving the route 10 to 15 miles east. By leaving it where it is the entire business community on Deep Creek is put at risk. There is a point beyond which taxes should not go. There is clearly more room for tax base growth along the eastern route. Attempts to tie the proposed four-lane to smart growth contain dubious logic.

Would you send your children across four lanes on foot at McHenry? How would you like to walk from the theatre across four lanes with your family to the restaurant at Thayerville? We are not Coney Island. Four lanes through the western half of this county destroys the pastoral nature of Route 219, a primary reason many people come here.

My tendency is to avoid people who live in the past, and my patience with Luddites is limited. This letter is written on a state-of-the-art Mac Powerbook. The good old days are favored by those who refuse to progress in personal spirit and those without hope. This county is going to change more in the next 20 years than it has in the last 200 and only fools will try to stop it. Forward-looking residents need to take control of the changes to control the destiny of Garrett County. If that means working with existing officials or putting new people in official positions by hire, appointment, or election, now is the time to begin.

This issue does not need emotion, it needs deliberative analysis. In particular it needs a published cost-benefit analysis comparing the two logical routes. To my knowledge no cost-benefit analysis has been done. If the government can spend millions studying what bears do in the woods, it's probably worth a hundred thousand or so to insure that a mega-million dollar road is located in the corridor most beneficial to the long-term quality of life and economic development of Garrett County.

I am open to being convinced that building four lanes along existing Route 219 is actually the best way to go for our long-term quality of life. The supporting views I've heard so far do not convince. They are either pedantic ("That's where it's going because that's where the state highway commission wants it"), heresay ("Other areas have benefited from this kind of road"), or unlikely ("It'll help tourism on Deep Creek Lake"). It would be interesting to see actual verifiable statistics on the issue.

Any verifiable information sent to my address below will be forwarded to this newspaper and to Delegate Edwards and to other appropriate offices. In addition, I will provide assembled updates to those who request them. No finely carved wood boxes, please.

To the Editor:

Here we go again. And this time I'm really scared. In newspapers from Seattle to South Florida, from Maryland to Montana, last month, came word of yet another product so dangerous it should require warning labels; a product so disease inducing, the industry should pay for all the harm it has caused. This silent killer -- milk. White death, I call it. How can conscientious, so-called family farmers peddle this poison to our children? A Washington State man is suing Safeway and the Dairy Farmers of that state saying he is a milk-a-holic and his habit has contributed to clogged arteries and a minor stroke.

Please! I sympathize with Mr. Mayo's illness. I am sorry he got sick. But his lawsuit against the dairy industry appears to be just the latest example of frivolous litigation with the hope of striking it rich. Like many people, Mr. Mayo seems to believe there is a "lawsuit lottery" waiting to be won. Well he is wrong, and so are all the people contemplating similar suits in the hopes of a big settlement.

Our legal system is crumbling under the weight of such suits and it is time for all Americans to just say no. I too might be laughing about this suit as many people I know are, except that it is symptomatic of a larger issue, and that is the growing lack of personal responsibility and common sense in our society.

Though I have never farmed, I am aware of the struggles the agriculture industry faces. I'm sure dairy farming is as important to Washington State as it is to the economy of Western Maryland. But the margins just aren't that big. And these farmers certainly cannot afford the time and money necessary to defend against such idiocy. No doubt, Mr. Mayo hopes to get a generous settlement from Safeway. After all they are big business, they can afford it. Wrong. No matter who wins frivolous lawsuits, we all pay, we all lose.

Western Maryland Citizens Against Lawsuit Abuse is dedicated to educating the public about the costs and effects of frivolous lawsuits and excessive jury awards. And thanks to people like Mr. Mayo, unfortunately, it's a big job.

To the Editor:

The Garrett County Commission for Women (GCCW) supports initiatives that promote increased support of health care for children and families. As you know, the GCCW recently wrote several letters to local congresspersons seeking their support for the Kennedy-Hatch bill. The provisions of this bill were essentially to increase the tobacco tax to provide supplemental health care to children. Because of the awkward timing of this bill with the balanced budget bill, it was delayed in committee.

However, the silver lining in the hard work done by the Children's Defense Fund and the American Cancer Society's networking efforts was realized on June 19, 1997, when the Senate Finance Committee passed a 20 cent increase in the tobacco tax. This will provide an additional $8 billion to the budget for children's health. States can choose to use the money for Medicaid expansion or receive the money as a block grant.

On June 25, several amendments were adopted to strengthen the Children's Block Grant initiative, summarized as follows:

A directive to states that the new money be used to help families buy child health insurance with a good benefits package equivalent to insurance for federal employees with additional vision and hearing services;

a directive to states not to charge families earning up to 150% of poverty ($24,000 for a family of 4) more than a nominal amount for child health services; and a directive to states to use the new funds for uninsured children and not divert them to the costs of covering children already on Medicaid or state child health programs.

There are several local senators who deserve a thank you for their strong support of children's health insurance throughout the budget process: Rockefeller (D-W.Va.), Spector (R-Pa.), and Sarbanes (D-Md).

The GCCW is proud to commit its time to perform outreach for children's health services, and we encourage local citizens to become energetic in legislative affairs. Persons interested in assisting GCCW with its projects may write to GCCW at P.O. Box 623, Oakland, MD 21550.

Sincerely,
Susan Athey-Oxford

To the Editor:

Do you believe the National Endowment for the Arts should be eliminated because it functions without Constitutional authority to fund offensive works of art in our nation? If so, you'll be pleased to know that Roscoe Bartlett, our Congressman, agrees with you.

I spoke with the Congressman's legislative assistant, Jeff Jones, by phone today. Citing lack of Constitutional authority as well as NEA funding of "offensive" and "possibly pornographic" endeavors, Mr. Jones advised that Congressman Bartlett will support a proposed 90 percent cut in funding for the National Endowment when the full House votes on the measure this month.

I asked Mr. Jones if the courts have ever reviewed the question of Constitutional authority for federal funding of the arts. Mr. Jones responded by asking me if I'd ever read the Constitution.

In past years, Congress has funded the National Endowment as the federal grant making agency authorized to support the visual, literary, design, and performing arts to benefit all Americans. The Endowment's historic mission has been twofold: (1) To foster the excellence, diversity, and vitality of the arts in the United States; and (2) To broaden public access to the arts.

According to the American Arts Alliance, funding for the NEA represents just 0.01% of the federal budget. "Eliminating the agency would contribute virtually nothing toward balancing the budget."

Is the National Endowment for the Arts offensive to you? The House of Representatives will act on the proposed cut this month. Concerned citizens of Garrett County may register their opinions on the issue with The Honorable Roscoe Bartlett by phone (202-225-2721) or by letter (322 Cannon House Office Building, Washington, DC 20515).

Sincerely,
Steve Schlosnagle

To the Editor:

I would like to congratulate Congressman Bartlett on supporting the Republican-sponsored Taxpayer Relief Act currently pending final approval in Congress. The ideology behind this bill is clear -- to provide over $85 billion in tax relief to hard working Maryland families over the next 10 years. The Democrats have continuously cried "foul," using their age-old tactic of class warfare by labeling this bill a tax cut for the rich. Nothing could be further from the truth, as over 75% of the tax relief will go to families earning less than $75,000 per year! Families with children are also big winners with this legislation, as the $500 per child tax cut will give many struggling parents the extra funds they desperately need.

A reduction in the death tax allows for families to pass on more of their savings to their children by giving the average middle class family $1 million in phased-in relief. A cut in the capital gains tax from 28% to 20% will help retired Americans keep more of their life savings. More than half of all taxpayers claiming capital gains earn less than $50,000 per year. Many of these people are senior citizens who are converting long-term investments to supplement their income. With this legislation, the Republican Congress has taken a big step, not only in giving Americans tax relief, but also in balancing the budget by 2002.

Congressman Bartlett realized the potential benefits behind this bill for his community and therefore supported it. the Republican plan will benefit over 111,000 children in Western Maryland's 6th district and will save families over $52,700,000. By comparison, Bill Clinton's plan only offers support to 81,600 children in the 6th district, giving families there only $20,200,000 in relief. That's a difference of over $32,000,000!

These are your tax dollars and you deserve to have some of them back. In 1993, Bill Clinton imposed a $240 billion tax increase, the largest in U.S. history, on the American taxpayer. This long awaited legislation will reverse nearly one-third of that increase and give the average hard-working Americans the much needed relief they demand. Thank you, Congressman Bartlett, for standing up to Bill Clinton and the Democrats and supporting the hard-working families of the 6th Congressional District!

Sincerely,
Joyce Lyons Terhes,
Chairman, Maryland

McClive's Food For Thought

by Chef Francesco G. Pisano

1-2-3 glaze for chicken or salmon calls for 1 cup honey, ½ each dijon and grainy mustard, plus salt and pepper to taste. Brush on as you grill.

Not-quite-lemonade: fill a pitcher with 3/4 cup fresh lime juice, ½ cup sugar and 3 cups club soda. Serve over ice. It's a favorite in Bangkok.

Super soup doesn't get cooked at all. Use the blender to buzz 3 cups coarsely chopped tomatoes, 1 cup vegetable or chicken broth and an 8-ounce can of tomato soup. Stir in 2 Tbsp. snipped fresh basil (or a little dried) and chill until serving time.

Grill thick slices of red onions, then separate the rings to sprinkle over spinach salad.

Watching the fat and calories? Use skim or low-fat milk in most recipes, except puddings or custards. Instead of whipped cream, top desserts with sweetened, pureed low-fat cottage cheese.

Safer Situations," "P.A.S.S.," for short.

Many innocent lives are lost each year as a result of drunk drivers. It seems that "chronic drunk drivers, cause up to 60% of alcohol-related deaths and injuries on U.S. roads each year." (U.S.A. Today 5-23-97, C.J.Castaneda and P. Hoversten). It is this percentage of recidivists that I intend to target with a program, such as P.A.S.S., instead of addressing the crime once it has claimed a life.

P.A.S.S., is set up to be part of the sentencing process upon an individual's first DWI. It is the intention of P.A.S.S. to have the offender carry a photo of an innocent individual whose life was claimed by a drunk driver, on any set of vehicle keys that the offender will operate daily. The photo will have a short description of the victim on the back with aspirations/goals or dreams. The offender will never operate a vehicle again without seeing the face of an innocent victim of a drunk driver. Should the offender get stopped by a police officer for failure to use a turn signal, yield right of way or stop at a stop sign and police records show that the offender belongs to P.A.S.S. and does not have the photo on the vehicle key-chain, a minimum of a 30-day-jail sentence will be imposed. Increase the sentence depending on the vehicle offense committed.

It will be the understanding/responsibility of the offender to get his/her P.A.S.S. photo replaced immediately if lost, stolen or damaged beyond recognition.

P.A.S.S. will further evolve once the wheels begin to turn. It is my intention to have P.A.S.S. nationally recognized and operated, but if the inspiration of P.A.S.S. does not take off nationally, why not set the precedent here in Garrett County, Maryland, and promote it through results. We have an opportunity to draw state and federal attention with P.A.S.S.. Let us begin saving lives, crack down on recidivism, and have the innocent lost lives save lives. I am looking for your support to get this idea started. Your influence, suggestions, and backing are greatly anticipated.

Sincerely,
Joseph D. Shaffer

Guidelines Offered On Acupuncture To Treat Arthritis

The Arthritis Foundation has offered guidelines to those who seek relief from the chronic pain of the disease with complementary treatments such as acupuncture.

"Interest in acupuncture is growing among people with arthritis," said Norine M. Walker, chair of the public information and education committee of the Maryland chapter of the foundation.

Walker also said that according to reports from the Food and Drug Administration an estimated half a billion dollars is spent by Americans on acupuncture treatments each year for problems such as chronic pain.

Arthritis Today, the national consumer magazine of the foundation, provides a concise outline of suggestions to consider when a person reviews the treatments for pain in addition to the conventional medical regimen prescribed by a physician.

Discussing with the treating physician a decision to try acupuncture is advised by the foundation. The magazine article also stresses that medical intervention should not be replaced with the acupuncture. In addition, the patient should continue to inform the physician of any changes during treatments.

Check the credentials of the acupuncturist, the articles advises. Many states require no specialized training to perform acupuncture.

Information on medical doctors or doctors of osteopathy with at least 200 hours of training is available by contacting the American Academy of Medical Acupuncture at 1-800-521-2262.

Insist that the acupuncturist use disposable needles, the article urges. Diseases have been traced to uses of improperly sterilized needles.

The final admonition is "Be aware of the cost." Insurance may not cover this treatment. Non-physician acupuncturists charge from $40 to $100 for a first visit and $30 to $70 for each follow-up, the article states. Physicians, it concludes, charge at least $20 more.

The Arthritis Foundation offers free brochures on managing pain. Anyone wishing more information may call 1-800-750-9078.

eral highway funds; public meetings would follow the approval of funding, where people would be given the opportunity to discuss all sorts of impacts the construction would have, such as the alignment of the route. But once the money is earmarked, the process will go forward."

When asked about the possible negative effects a second interstate highway might have on the quality of life in rural Garrett County, Moe responded "I don't think it will have any effect on the quality of life."

Hinebaugh echoed Moe's response, saying, "It depends on how you look at quality of life. If you talk about better paying jobs, more employment opportunities, then it can improve the quality of life. If you talk about additional traffic, well, the problem is that people of the county can't have it both ways. You can't complain about not having employment opportunities and good jobs while saying you want to keep things the way that they are, in terms of remoteness, isolation, inaccessibility, that sort of thing," he said.

While agreeing with the principle of boosting the area's economy, afterwards several local officials addressed concerns that residents of Garrett County may have about the project. "Farmers will be concerned about it, for sure," Garrett County Commissioner Gary Fratz said. "They will be worried about losing land to the highway."

Commissioner Wayne Wilt said that while he is leaning to supporting the project, he did feel that "we need to make the decision as a county; if we want jobs it appears that we have to have new highways. Maybe folks who may be against it need to have meetings and invite folks who support it in and have a discussion as an educational fact-finding process," he said.

"The Chamber of Commerce and the Economic Development Department are going full blast," Wilt continued, "and if people on either side of the issue want to give their input they should do it now by contacting their state and federal elected officials. People on both sides need to air their concerns now, and both sides should have an opportunity to be heard. By (the congressional ISTEA vote) this fall it might be too late for either side to have much impact."

THERE WAS MUSIC, there was art, there was dancing, there was a parade, and there was perfect weather at the annual Fourth of July Homecoming in Accident last weekend. Some of the music was provided by the Accident Community in Harmony Chorus, pictured above left, and some was provided by the Accident Concert Band, above center. Still more was provided by the band Timberline, to which Rene and Bert Massengale couldn't resist dancing a few steps (above right). Angela Maust won the blue ribbon in the professional division of the art exhibition (below left) for her oil painting titled "The Exchange" (of Christ's forgiveness for man's sins). "Barrels of Fun" was one of the many units in the parade (below center), and something as simple as an elastic ball filled with air provided entertainment to 3-year-old Matthew Wilburn and his brother, C.J. Blood Drive Slated At Zion Lutheran

A blood drive will be held at the Zion Lutheran Church on Main Street in Accident, Friday, July 18 from noon until 6 p.m. According to Leslie Nicholson of Red Cross Services, the goal of this drive is 40 units of blood.

There is an urgent need, Nicholson said, for O negative, O positive, B negative, B positive, and A negative blood types. She explained that one unit of blood can be used to save the lives of three to four people.

The American Red Cross Blood Services supplies blood and blood products to area hospitals, including Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

Nicholson urged all eligible donors to attend. Donors need to be at least 17 years old, weigh at least 105 pounds, and be in generally good health. Anyone wishing further information may call 1-800-54-BLOOD.

Oakland Church To Hold Turkey Dinner

A turkey dinner with all the trimmings will be served by members of the Apostolics of Oakland Church, Saturday, July 12, 4-7 p.m. at the Mtn. Lake Park camp meeting grounds across from El Lobo on G Street.

Dinner will include hot turkey, dressing, mashed potatoes, green beans, gravy, dessert, and drinks for a donation of $5 for adults and $2.50 for children.

Carry-out meals will be available and deliveries can be arranged by calling 301-334-5873 the day of the dinner. Anyone wishing information prior to that day may call 301-334-2998.

To Attend Hood

Abigail Clarissa Nichols, Oakland, plans to attend Hood College in Frederick, beginning in the 1997 fall semester.

Nichols, a daughter of Kevin P. and Abigail A. Nichols, is a 1997 graduate of Southern Garrett High School, where she was a member of the National Honor Society. She was also a member of the marching band and indoor guard.

Oakland Holds Hearing, Enacts Noise Ordinance

A public hearing was held June 30 in the Oakland Municipal Building to review the town noise ordinance. The regulation was enacted.

According to Mayor Asa McCain, this ordinance will be enforced by the Oakland Police following appropriate training. The purpose of this regulation is control of excessive noise within the town limits.

Town police will use a meter that rates the noise level according to the number of decibels emitted. Using an average decibel level, a noise can be more objectively noted as excessive, McCain noted. He also said that in setting the guidelines recommendations have been sought from other jurisdictions that already have noise ordinances in effect.

The state has also enacted a noise ordinance to address specific types of noise problems. These regulations, however, do not address the issue of noise on private property.

The council will next consider curfew within the Oakland town limits. There will be a public hearing scheduled, the mayor said.

Aflame with tiger lilies, the countryside was an orange banner proclaiming summer's arrival; such a breathtaking sight that en route to the city, a passerby stopped and picked one long-stemmed blossom to brighten the workplace.

Upon arrival, the distracted commuter, mentally rehearsing the morning presentation, forgot the beautiful blossom. It lay on the seat, wilting in the June heat.

The following morning, the shriveled flower was nearly discarded. Instead, plucking off the offended blossom the commuter instinctively carried the wilting stem into the office and placed it in a vase with little hope.

A day and a night passed. The next morning, the commuter was distraught. A co-worker had been the victim of a heart attack while sleeping. "God, where are you? I need you!"

Then the unreal was realized. The barely budding tiger lily, nearly discarded, had flowered in the night. It's brilliant orange petals seemingly reached out to say..."Here I am."

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

ARE YOU A DOCETIST?
July 13, 1997

Background Scripture:
Hebrews 2
Devotional Reading:
Hebrews 10:1-10

In early Christianity Docetism was condemned as a heresy. But that certainly did not put a stop to it, for docetism is consciously or unwittingly embraced by many Christians today who think of themselves as being quite orthodox.

Docetism came into Christianity primarily through the agnostics, a group who were influential in Christian thought, particularly from the second to the fourth century A.D. Docetism comes from the Greek word dokein which is translated as "to appear" or "to seem." The agnostics believed that Jesus had no material essence, but just "appeared" or "seemed" in human form. The agnostics believed that physical form was evil. Thus, agnostics believed that Jesus was divine but not truly human.

In 326 A.D., repudiating docetism and other heretical interpretations, the Council of Nicea fashioned a creed which proclaimed: "We believe in one Lord, Jesus Christ, the only Son of God, eternally begotten of the Father, God from God...of one being with the Father...and became truly human..." The belief of the early church was thus balanced between the convictions that Jesus Christ was fully divine and fully human. He did not just "appear" to be human.

100% OF BOTH

This does not mean that Christ was 50 percent human and 50 percent divine, but 100 percent of both. How can that be? It is a paradox: two seemingly contradictory realities held together in one person. Neither a mathematical equation nor a scientific formula, it is a human attempt to express a divine experience.

I have encountered many people who, although they have not called themselves 'docetists'—and wouldn't know the name if they heard it—understand Jesus Christ from a docetist perspective. They think of him as basically 'divine,' not really human. As they elevate his divinity, they denigrate our humanity. They put a chasm between Jesus and ourselves that makes him irrelevant and us hopeless.

The writer of Hebrews does not leave any room for a docetist Christ: "Therefore he had to be made like his brethren in every respect, so that he might become a merciful and faithful high priest in the service of God, to make expiation for the sins of the people" (2:17).

FLESH & BLOOD

Actually, a Christ who is not fully human—as well as divine—is of little value to us. If he doesn't know what it is to be a human being, to have the same limitations, and suffer the same temptations, we can easily dismiss him: 'Oh well, he's Jesus and we're us,' as if that lets us off the hook. But what Jesus was and taught is not beyond human experience. In a sense, Jesus came to be like us so that eventually we might be like him.

It also means that, quite contrary to the agnostic teachings, the physical form of humanity is not degrading. Jesus was not debased because he had a real physical body. "Since therefore the children share in flesh and blood, he likewise partook of the same nature..." (2:14).

What makes Jesus our Lord and Master is the fact that he knew what it meant to be human. "For because he himself has suffered and been tempted, he is able to help those who are tempted" (2:18). He is not saying that Jesus 'appeared' to be tempted, but that he actually was tempted.

Just as we are.

TRIVIA CONTEST CHAMPS TRANSFER WINNINGS TO SHELTER - The Paper Boys, a three-man team from The Republican newspaper, were victorious in this year's WKHJ-Uno's Trivia Challenge for Charity, a several-month-long contest involving numerous local groups. The teams play for chosen charities, and the Paper Boys won the top prize money of $1,325 for the Garrett County Domestic Violence and Sexual Assault Resource Center shelter project (now being referred to as the Dove Center). The teams played through the regular contest, then the quarter finals, semi-finals, and finals. This is the second year the Paper Boys have won, taking the top honor in 1995 for the Frantz-Ashby Memorial Fund. The final contest for both 1995 and this year was between the Paper Boys and the Clerks of the Circuit Court, whose charity was the Garrett Community College athletic department. The court team members and the Paper Boys, along with about 25 employees and friends of Sincell Publishing, were treated to a pizza party at Uno's last Friday, where the plaques and checks were distributed. In the photograph above, left to right, are Paper Boys Jerry Stewart, Don Sincell, and John McEwen, WKHJ's Stephanie Shaffer, Patrick Mitchell, Uno's assistant manager; Debbie Holler, shelter coordinator; and Brenda Arnold, shelter counselor. Pictured below, same order, are the Clerks of the Circuit Court team members Tim Miller, Sondra Buckel, and Dave Martin with Mitchell, and Kristine Miller, Uno's assistant manager. "We really appreciate the opportunity to participate in the contest," said McEwen, team captain. "And it's great to be able to hand this money over to the shelter. We feel it is a very important project for this community." Mrs. Holler said the money will be used to purchase playground equipment at the shelter. She and Ms. Arnold expressed their gratitude to the Paper Boys, WKHJ, and Uno's.

Plans Underway For Reunion Of OHS Students

Plans for the eighth annual Oakland High School reunion are currently underway. The event is scheduled to be held on Saturday, Aug. 9, at the McHenry House, Wisp Resort, McHenry.

The evening will begin with a social hour at 4 p.m. to be followed by a buffet style dinner at 5:30 p.m.

Oakland High School operated from 1908 to 1952 and had a total of 2,400 students graduating during that period. The first graduating class numbered three while 86 students graduated in the final class, 1952.

The reunion will feature several displays of photographs and memorabilia. The Garrett County Historical Society will be represented, seeking memberships and selling historic publications.

Anyone having a reproducible class picture for the years 1912-1941 is asked to bring it to the reunion so copies can be made. These will be used to complete the archives of photos that are available to the alumni.

The cost of the evening is $15 per person and it is slated as a black and white casual dress affair. No one will be admitted without a reservation.

Any person who attended the school is encouraged come to the reunion. Because there is not a complete or correct list of all addresses of those who went to Oakland High School, people may not have received invitations.

Those who wish to attend may contact Robert Stockslager at 301-387-6505. Spouses and guests are also invited.

Assistance will be provided for those who wish to be served at the table, and transportation in Oakland is available but must be requested with a return invitation.

A photographer will be available for group pictures. Deadline for reservations is July 28. Jerry Moyer is chairman of the planning committee; Robert Stockslager is treasurer; and Lucille Ludvigsen is secretary.

BE ON ALERT FOR LYME DISEASE

Lyme disease afflicts thousands of individuals each year. In 1994, more than 13,000 cases of the disease were reported in 44 states, up from 8,000 cases in 1993. Lyme disease, named after the town of Old Lyme, Connecticut, where it was discovered in 1975, is a bacterial infection caused by the bites of certain infected ticks, particularly the deer tick found in the northeast and north central states and the western black-legged tick in the West.

The onset of the disease occurs primarily during the summer months when ticks are most active. However, later symptoms of untreated Lyme disease can occur at any time of the year.

The first sign of Lyme disease in many patients is a flat, red, circular skin rash near the area of the tick bite beginning from 3 to 30 days after the bite occurred. As the rash expands, it can reach a size of at least two inches in diameter and often has the appearance of a "bull's eye." The rash usually is accompanied by flu-like fever, headache, tiredness, and muscle and joint aches and pains. Some individuals may experience swollen lymph glands. If left untreated, a victim could develop further problems involving the heart, joints or nervous system as the disease progresses.

If your summer plans include hiking, camping, or other outdoor activities, here are a few precautions you and your family can take to protect yourselves from tick bites that could lead to Lyme disease.

- Wear long pants. Tuck pant legs into long socks or seal pant legs with tape or rubber bands.
- Spray a tick repellent containing permethrin on your clothes, if it is available in your state.
- Use a repellent containing DEET on the exposed area of your skin (except your face). Follow the label directions carefully, especially when using DEET on children.
- Check your entire body carefully for ticks twice a day, including the neck and scalp. Use a fine tooth comb to help locate ticks in your hair.
- Remove attached ticks from your skin immediately with tweezers by grasping the tick's head as close to your skin as possible and applying slow, steady traction. Do not attempt to get ticks out of your skin by burning or coating them with anything, such as nail polish remover or petroleum jelly. If you remove a tick before it has been attached to your skin more than 24 hours, you greatly reduce your risk of infection.

Lyme disease is treatable with antibiotics. If diagnosed early, you could have a quick recovery and be completely cured. If your Lyme disease has gone undiagnosed for many years, however, damage to the nervous system or joints may require a prolonged period of treatment. For additional information on Lyme disease, contact the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention at 404-332-4555.

COVER STORY
Curtin rises to occasion on NBC's 3rd Rock

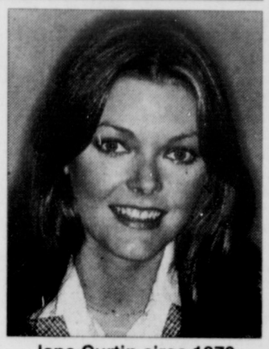
By Luaine Lee
©TVData Features Syndicate



Jane Curtin circa 1979

When Jane Curtin was just starting out in New York as an actress-comic, her pal Henry Winkler warned her she was not ambitious enough to succeed in show business.

She listened attentively – the way she'd been taught at boarding school – and proceeded to ignore his advice.

Despite two Emmys, a five-year stint with Saturday Night Live, a first-class berth on Kate & Allie for six years and a series of movies and specials, Curtin still lacks ambition.

She hates looking for a job, she explains, leaning back on the velour cushion in her small dressing room. "I'd rather wait for the telephone to ring," she says with a shrug.

That's how she snagged her latest gig as one of the mixed-up zanies on NBC's 3rd Rock from the Sun, airing Sundays.

She was at home in rural Connecticut when she got a phone call from an old friend, TV producer Bonnie Turner.

"I thought it was going to be one of those long conversations where I sit with my feet up on the counter with a glass of wine and talk to Bonnie for two hours," she says.

"At the end of the conversation, she said, 'What're you doing in March?' I said, 'I don't know, probably shoveling snow.' "

The original 3rd Rock pilot had misfired, and the producers asked Curtin if she was willing to fill in on a new pilot. She agreed as long as she didn't have to commit to anything.

It's just another example of Curtin taking the road less traveled.

On Saturday Night Live, she was the odd one out: a former debutante who wanted to be a diplomat in the foreign service.

"I was the conventional-looking one," she says. "I looked like a young mother, not threatening. I was what people were used to seeing on television – this enormous face that was young and dewy. The network (executives) wanted to sit next to me at dinner because they knew I wouldn't hurt them."

Curtin got her start in commercials. "I knew I was glib and knew I could make a living in some way through my wits," she says. "There was always something I could do. I did lot of Lysol (commercials), I think because I was one of the cleanest people at the audition."

She watched John Belushi, her co-star on Saturday Night Live, wallow in drugs.

"It's devastating to lose a friend to anything," she says, "but when somebody is hell-bent on doing it, there's no way you can stop them. All of John's heroes died young and died from indulgence. He kind of liked that idea: Live fast, die young, have a good-looking corpse. But when you're doing speedballs (the heroin-cocaine combination that killed Belushi), your corpse isn't good-looking."

Curtin has been married to writer-producer Patrick Lynch for 25 years. They have a 14-year-old daughter, and the family has temporarily moved to Los Angeles for 3rd Rock.

When that's over, the family will return to Connecticut. And there, Curtin once again will take up her position next to the phone.

Leah Remini

Q: Please help me remember what other series the actress who plays Terry in Fired Up has been in. –Wondering in North Dakota.

A: You may remember Leah Remini (Terry in Fired Up) as Carla's (Rhea Perlman) rebellious daughter Sarafina in Cheers or in the recurring role of Daisy in Evening Shade.

Remini also had a recurring role in Saved by the Bell, as well as regular roles in Living Dolls, First Time Out and The Man in the Family, the last two of which the actress doesn't mention in her NBC biography.

Q: My favorite character on The X-Files is agent Pendrell, played by Brendan Beiser. Do you have any information on him? –S.W. Fraser via e-mail.

A: Not much beyond the fact that he is a native of Boston, made a guest appearance in an episode of The Sentinel and has a role in the upcoming film Excess Baggage, which has its U.S. release in August.

He also co-starred with Harry Anderson (Dave's World) in a TV movie remake of Harvey, which was filmed last year in Canada but apparently never has aired.

Q: Can you please tell me why Kirstie Alley replaced the actress who played Rose Marie in the early scenes of The Last Don? –J. Masterson, Spring Hill, Fla.

A: Alley played the same character at an older age.

Q: I remember watching the great show Naked City, which I believe starred George C. Scott. Am I right about the star? –J. Ward O'Brien via e-mail.

A: Sorry, no. James Franciscus and John McIntire (whose character was killed off during the first season) were the stars when the series premiered on ABC in 1958. Paul Burke joined Franciscus in 1960, and both continued through the rest of the run, which ended in 1963.

Scott also starred in East Side/West Side, which aired on CBS in the 1963-64 season.

Q: I say that a Russian ballet dancer named Alexander Gordov co-starred in Witness with Harrison Ford and Kelly McGillis. My wife says I'm wrong. –John Dowling, New Smyrna Beach, Fla.

A: Alexander Godunov received raves for his performance in that 1985 thriller. He also appeared in Die Hard.

His fans were shocked when the former ballet star died unexpectedly at age 45 on May 18, 1995. His doctor attributed Godunov's demise to natural causes, but several obituaries reported he died of heart failure brought on by alcoholism.

He had been undergoing treatment for alcohol abuse for two years prior to his death.

Historical Group Elects Cosner At Annual Dinner

The Garrett County Historical Society elected officers at its recent annual dinner meeting.

Lawrence Cosner of Mtn. Lake Park was elected president of the society and will serve in that capacity until 1999. He previously served on the society's board of directors for about four years.

Cosner, a native of Garrett County, lived and worked in Ohio for 47 years. He returned to his home town six years ago.

His involvement in the community includes serving on the council of St. John's Church in Redhouse and on the board of directors for The Friends of The Ruth Enlow Library. Cosner is the founder of the Fort Pendleton Civil War Round Table and the Reunion of McNeill's Rangers' Descendants, the civil war confederate unit that raided Oakland and captured all the Union troops and officers.

Matthew Stieringer Sr. was elected vice president, John Grant was elected to continue as editor of the Glade Star, and Robert Rodeheaver was elected circulation manager. All three will serve two-year terms.

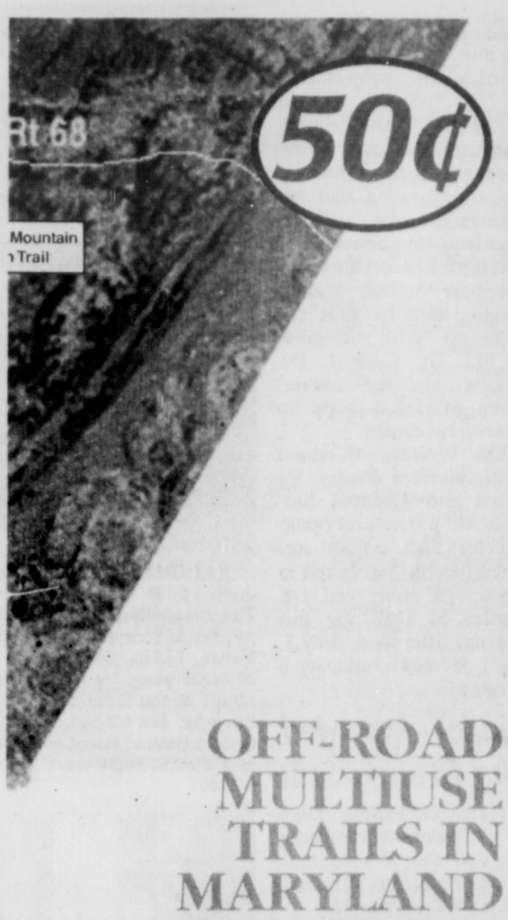
Elections were also held for members of the board of directors. Jerome Moyer will fill the seat vacated by Matthew Stieringer. James Ashby, Charles Strauss, Kevin Callis, Clifford DeWitt, and Jane Fox were also elected to the board. they will serve three year terms.

A capacity crowd filled the Bittinger fire hall for the dinner meeting, according to Martha Kahl, corresponding secretary of the Historical Society. Reservations had been required. "We had to turn people down," she said.

The guest speaker for the event was local historian Betty Van Newkirk. Her topic was the National Road.

Kahl gave a financial report to the group and presented an update on the funding of the new museum facilities on Second Street in Oakland. The original cost of the building to the society was $150,000. Proceeds from the sale of the former museum building were applied to the mortgage along with donations. "We now owe $75,000. The mortgage payments are made from the donations we receive," Kahl explained.

Those gathered also honored the oldest member of the society, Lillian Davis, who recently celebrated her 101st birthday.



OFF-ROAD MULTIUSE TRAILS IN MARYLAND STATE FORESTS & PARKS

Garrett County

The State Forest and Park Service hopes that you have an enjoyable experience while visiting our state forests in Garrett County.

FOREST TRAILS AREN'T JUST FOR HIKING ANYMORE, as this recently published map of off-road multi-use trails in state forests and parks of Garrett County shows. The full-color, fold-out map details the routes and topography of nine different local trails available for a variety of uses, including off-road bicycling, 4-wheel ATV riding, motorcycling, horseback riding, snowmobiling, cross-country skiing, and the oldest sport of all, hiking. A joint project of the Maryland Department of Natural Resources and the Maryland Bicycle Advisory Committee, the map is available for 50 cents at all local State Forest and State Park Service offices in Garrett County.

Correction To Markwood Center Pump Hours Noted

A photo caption in the June 19 issue of The Republican incorrectly stated the hours that gasoline is available for sale at the Markwood Convenience Center on Route 219. The caption should have stated that self-serve Citgo gasoline is available at the pumps 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

A pump attendant is available Monday through Saturday, 6 a.m. to 7 p.m., to pump gas and perform minor services and vehicle checks to motorists who desire to take advantage of that service at no additional cost.

NRP and Rangers Keep Holiday Safe For Boaters

With the increased recreational boating traffic during the past holiday weekend, Maryland Natural Resources Police (NRP) and rangers from Deep Creek Lake Recreation Area worked cooperatively to enforce boating safety on the lake.

The NRP helicopter played a vital role in safety enforcement, as officers who spotted violations from above contacted marine units of NRP and rangers to respond on the water. As a result, NRP issued eight citations for personal watercraft (PWC) violations ranging from negligent operation, distance restrictions and towing people too close to another vessel. Twenty-one warnings were also issued dealing with registration and equipment violations.

"Boaters of all vessels, including PWC, are reminded to follow Maryland's rules and regulations for recreational vessels and remember that PWC have a set of their own regulations," stated NRP Sgt. John Williams. "Please boat safely and use good common sense while using Maryland waters this summer."

The case of the week for the Garrett County Crime Solvers involves the theft of a truck last month.

A 1994 Ranger pickup, which was parked at the Dreamland Motel near Oakland, was stolen on June 8. The vehicle was recovered later that day along Heron Cove Road, off Paradise Point Road. It had been burned. Stolen from inside the truck was a Browning Buckmark .22 caliber semi-automatic pistol.

The total loss in this case is $7,250.

Persons who have information about this or any other unsolved crimes are urged to contact Crime Solvers at 387-1975. Callers do not have to give their names nor do they have to appear in court. Rewards of up to $1,000 are available to persons who provide tips that lead to arrests.

HELPING TO BEAUTIFY OAKLAND recently was the Oakland Rotary Club's Community Service Committee, who planted trees, shrubs and flowers at the Town Parking Lot and the adjoining park at the Mountain Fresh Pavilion. This work represents the first of a three-year commitment by the Rotary to work with the Greater Oakland Business Association and the town of Oakland to continue the revitalization of the downtown area. The park adjacent to the parking lot across the footbridge will be christened "Rotary Park" next year as the club moves ahead with improvements there. Pictured above, left to right, is Rotary member Joe Disimone (background), and Ken Perrin, chairman of the Rotary's Community Service Committee, and Tom Browning, its secretary. "Rotary is interested in directing its energies toward improving the community and preserving the beauty of Oakland," said Perrin. "That's why we chose this project and were willing to commit substantial money, involvement and energy to demonstrate that level of interest." (Also participating in the planting, but not pictured, were Doug Riley, incoming Rotary president, Bob Ulino, Rotary member, and Oakland Mayor Asa McCain.)

Southern High Student Excels In Vet Field

Michelle McCartney, an honor roll student at Southern High School, recently took first-place honors in the state for her FFA Bio-Tech project at the Western Research Center of the University of Maryland.

McCartney credits Dr. Joyce Colbert, an Oakland-based farm animal veterinarian, and Dr. Nancy Priselac, math coordinator at Garrett Community College and the director of the Western Maryland Math Summer Center for Gifted and Talented Students, with encouraging her on the path to success.

After having attended GCC's Summer Center for four years, McCartney praises the center for introducing her to the newest computer technology and the latest in graphing calculators. She feels that the center provides the opportunity to explore math in creative and challenging ways.

ROLE MODELS PLAY AN IMPORTANT PART in the success of any young person. Dr. Joyce Colbert, DVM, is encouraging Michelle McCartney to excel as she pursues her dream of a career in veterinary medicine. As McCartney, an honor roll student at Southern High School, moves into more difficult coursework in her preparations for college and vet school, she credits Dr. Colbert, along with Garrett Community College's Western Maryland Math Summer Center for Gifted and Talented Students, in helping educate and inspire her to achieve her goals. See story.

Dr. Priselac said she believes that the Summer Center is a wonderful place for students like McCartney to explore and to test the limits of math technology and to network with other students and faculty with similar interests. "I make every effort to bring in knowledgeable, nationally known consultants," said Dr. Priselac. Seeing experts take the time to share their knowledge with students "opens young minds to career possibilities in math and science. I am so pleased to see how students like McCartney grow into inspiring, young leaders for the future."

McCartney, who aspires to a career in veterinary medicine, has received guidance and inspiration from Dr. Colbert as well. Challenging students, especially young women, to extend their knowledge beyond the limits of the classroom, Dr. Colbert encourages young learners to defy the norm. "Young people should not limit their thinking," she said. "Their mindset should be that of a lifelong learner. What better way to do this than by relating their knowledge to the natural world around them. No information should be wasted."

Dr. Colbert helped McCartney develop an understanding of the key points she needed to cover in her award-winning project, and her enthusiasm helped McCartney decide upon veterinary medicine as the career she wishes to pursue. McCartney noted that excellence in math and science is an important component for acceptance to veterinary school, and is working hard to meet the challenge. "With role models like Dr. Colbert, Dr. Priselac, and my mother, Diana Marks, I hope to achieve my dream."

The Western Maryland Math Summer Center for Gifted and Talented Students still has several openings for high school students. Persons interested in registration must call Dr. Priselac at GCC by this Saturday afternoon, July 5, at 301-387-3045 and leave a message.

NATIONAL FLAG DAY was observed by members of the local Elks Lodge #2481 on June 14, as they commemorated the birth of the American and Maryland state flags. The Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks was the first and only fraternal body to require a formal observance of Flag Day. In July of 1908, the Grand Elks Lodge of Dallas, Texas, provided for the annual nationwide observance of Flag Day on June 14 of each year, by making it mandatory upon each subordinate Elks lodge. Pictured above at the local ceremony are Elks members, left to right in the front row, Richard Stevens, Bill Hogan, John Downer, and Jim Stewart. In the back row are Eric Sines, Shorty Boyce, Bob Stockslager, Russ Eddy, and Neil Krebs. Below, Shorty Boyce, left, and Jim Stewart work as a team to raise the American Flag in front of Elks lodge #2481.

Ridder Awarded The Bronze Star

Garry D. Ridder, Deep Creek Lake, was recently awarded the Bronze Star, 52 years after his participation in World War II.

Ridder was a member of the 4th Infantry Division, 22nd Regiment, of the United States Army. With the rank of T5, he was part of the offensive in Germany. In February of 1945, he was wounded with shrapnel, for which he received the Purple Heart. Now, 52 years later, the United States Army has recognized his service by awarding him the Bronze Star.

A native of Kitzmiller, Ridder is a graduate of Kitzmiller High School. He graduated from Maryville College in Maryville, Tenn., prior to serving in the army.

He returned to Garrett County to reside at Deep Creek Lake upon his retirement from the Pittston Coal Company in 1977.

ARMED SERVICES REVIEW

Navy Airman Robert D. Beachy, son of Olen D. and Ada M. Beachy, Grantsville, recently completed an eight-day port visit to Palma De Mallorca, Spain, while on a six-month deployment to the Mediterranean Sea aboard the aircraft carrier USS John F. Kennedy.

In addition to observing the sights and sounds of the island resort, Beachy and his shipmates volunteered time to clean and paint an orphanage, a Catholic church, and a children's home.

Aircraft carriers like Beachy's ship are deployed around the world to maintain a U.S. presence and provide rapid response in times of crises. Sailors and Marines like Beachy are often the first to arrive in situations ranging from humanitarian relief efforts to combat operations.

A 1993 graduate of Northern Garrett High School, Beachy joined the Navy in January 1995.

Private Chad A. Maroney, Oakland, was recently sworn in by the Maryland Army National Guard as the newest member of Company B, Det. 1, 121st Engineer Battalion at the Baltimore Military Entrance Processing Station.

Private Maroney will attend unit training at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., in August, and after completion will attend monthly weekend drills at the Oakland Armory. He is a student at Garrett Community College and is working towards a career in elementary education using the benefits that he will receive as a member of the National Guard, such as monthly salary, Montgomery G.I. Bill, tuition waiver of 50%, and tuition assistance.

Private Maroney resides in Oakland with his parents, John and Linda, and sister Beth.

Anyone interested in joining the National Guard and/or learning more about its benefits may contact Sfc. Tom Bittinger at 301-334-9794.

GEORGE C. MARSHALL

World War II was the most devastating conflict in history. A hundred million dead, nations bankrupt, and everywhere ruin. In Germany alone, it is estimated, there were 500 million tons of rubble.

Rebuilding such a world was a huge task that perhaps only one man was equal to: George C. Marshall. He had been the Army's highest ranking general during the war, and was recognized as the architect of victory. Born in Uniontown, Pa. in 1880, he graduated from Virginia Military Institute in 1901.

He had shown such skill as an organizer during the war that President Truman named him Secretary of State in 1947 and asked him to spearhead a plan for recovery in Europe. The vindictive Versailles Treaty that ended World War I served only to set the stage for the next conflict. America wanted to avoid that mistake this time.

Marshall, working with top officials, came up with the plan that bore his name — the Marshall Plan. Through it, America gave the equivalent in today's dollars of $100 billion. When the plan was in full force, 150 ships a day were carrying food and fuel to Europe.

After that came raw materials and machinery that rebuilt the economy of a continent. From the beginning of World War II in Europe until the Marshall Plan took effect in 1947, the standard of living in Europe declined by eight percent per year. Afterward, it grew by 10 percent for many years.

The Marshall Plan delivered more than goods. Europe was exhausted after the struggle, full of hatred and division. The Marshall Plan helped countries work together. It established goodwill for the United States, and it made aggressive Communism less appealing.

Winston Churchill said the Marshall Plan was "the most unsordid act in history." And for it, in 1953, George Marshall became the first individual to be awarded the Nobel Peace Prize.

Critic's Corner

Nature lovers will go wild over "Wild America." No explosions, car chases, concrete, noise. Only the wonders of nature captured on film. Based on a true story, it's about three brothers who leave their Fort Smith, Arkansas home to travel America photographing the dwindling population of some of our most awesome creatures. It is the adventure of a lifetime, all captured on film. All real. No computerized creatures, no puppets, no fakes. Many times, the brothers narrowly escape death to capture this real thing. One is caught in the antlers of an enraged moose, another almost eaten by a hungry alligator, and all at peril when they advertently stumble into a cave of hibernating grizzlies. It's a wondrous adventure for both children and grownups, filmed on location in some of America's most scenic and natural settings. Jonathan Taylor Thomas, Devon Sawa and Scott Bairstow play the brothers, and what they bring to the screen is BIG, BIG, BIG! "Wild America" is a Morgan Creek Production.

"Kiss Me, Guido" is the story of an aspiring actor/pizza man named Frankie Zito played by Nick Scott. He answers a newspaper ad for a GWM roommate, thinking it means "Guy With Money." His new roomie, Warren, played by Anthony Basile, is more interested in "gay white male." And brotherrr! Is it a collision of cultures when Frankie and Warren try to come to terms with each other in ways that are both funny and very affecting. By getting past their phobias — homo and hetero — the characters step outside their own circles and learn that being "out" can also mean being open. "Kiss Me, Guido" was filmed in its entirety in New York City, and was a favorite at the 1997 Sundance Film Festival. Tony Vitale directs most successfully in his first time behind the camera. It's a Paramount Pictures release.

Q. My heavy white pitcher has a picture of a young man in 18th century dress under the "Honor the Brave" motto. It also has decorations of crossed flags, eagles and ribbons that say, "Liberty." It looks very old. Can you help to identify it?

A. It appears that you have a Liverpool pitcher. Several pottery and porcelain factories in Liverpool, England, made earthenware with black transfer decorations between 1716 and 1785. Many items were made for the American market and feature patriotic emblems.

Later copies have been made. If your pitcher is old it could sell for between $550 and $2,400. The price depends on who is pictured and the condition of the transfer decoration.

Q. When were Magic Chef stoves made, and what are they worth?

A. The American Stove Co. of St. Louis made Magic Chef stoves in the 1930s. Kitchen items from that era are popular collectibles, although stoves generally must be in working condition to sell.

An appliance store might like one for a window display. Someone with a vintage kitchen might appreciate one.

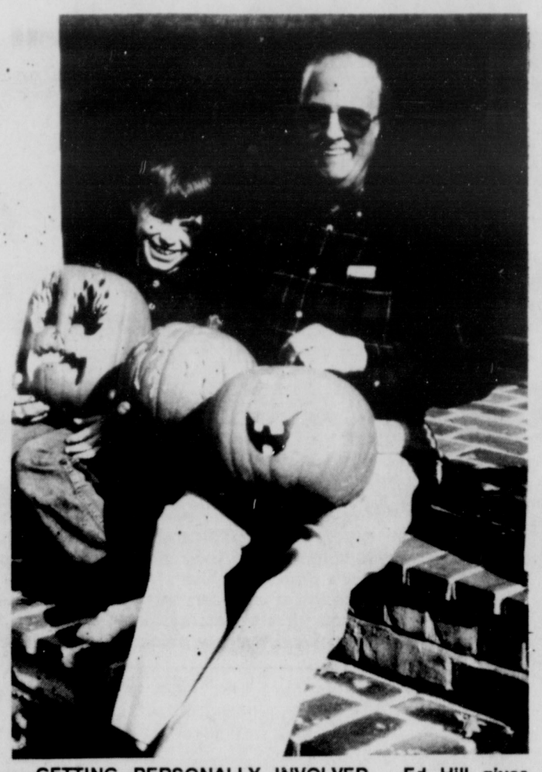
Retiree Honored For Outstanding Volunteer Work

Baltimore Gas and Electric (BGE) has named Ed Hill, a long-time Baltimore county resident who currently resides in Oakland, Retiree Volunteer of the Year. Annually BGE honors active and retired employees who have shown an outstanding commitment to their communities.

"These employees epitomize our corporate mission and values by providing outstanding customer service to the non-profit organizations they support," said Gary Fuhrman, executive director, management and regulatory affairs unit at BGE.

"Their volunteer activities demonstrate the qualities of self-motivation, leadership, and team work, qualities only a superior work force can possess. And through volunteerism, they have shown their deep concern and commitment to improving our community and environment." he stated.

There were 20 retirees nominated for the honor. The winner and runners-up were chosen by the Corporate Volunteer Council of Central Maryland. As a winner Hill received a $1,000 contribution from BGE for the charity of his choice. Runners-up receive $500 contributions.



GETTING PERSONALLY INVOLVED - Ed Hill gives generously of his time to Big Brothers/Big Sisters. For this and his other community efforts he has been recognized as Retiree Volunteer of the Year by Baltimore Gas and Electric Company. He is seen here with Little Brother Kevin enjoying one of their activities.

Hill said he believes in the importance of helping those less fortunate by getting personally involved in a hands-on fashion. He splits his time between two organizations: Big Brothers/Big Sister and Habitat for Humanity.

As a Big Brother, Hill spends at least one day a week working, playing, and doing homework with his fifth grade Little Brother from Oakland. Hill has seen an improvement in the yout'hs attitude toward studies. "All these kids really need is someone to have as a caring friend whom they can talk with and learn from," he said.

In 1996 Hill worked on the construction and did all electrical wiring for two homes built by Habitat for Humanity. He also serves on the board of directors for the organization.

Hill worked for BGE for over 40 years, most recently as a general supervisor of substation maintenance.

State, County Jobless Rates Rise In May

The number of Maryland residents holding jobs rose for the fourth consecutive month in May. However, a seasonal increase in the number of job seekers caused Maryland's unemployment rate to inch up slightly from 4.4 percent in April to 4.5 percent in May.

The seasonally adjusted unemployment rate dropped slightly from 4.8 percent in April to 4.7 percent in May.

Meanwhile, in Garrett County the jobless rate edged up from 12 percent in April to 12.1 percent in May, well above the May 1996 rate of 8.6 percent.

Statewide, a number of businesses added workers to their payrolls in May, with expansion at restaurants, among special trade contractors and in amusements, hotels and agricultural services leading the advance.

"Continued growth in the state's employment level is good news that reflects economic strength," said Eugene A. Conti Jr., secretary of the Maryland Department of Labor, Licensing and Regulation (DLLR). "The slight increase in the unemployment rate in May is not alarming; it reflects the seasonal trend that stems in part from high school and college students looking for summer jobs. While seasonal hiring particularly in trade and services picks up, the increasing number of temporary job seekers usually exceeds job availability in May."

Locally, unemployment rates in May included lows of 2.3 percent in Montgomery County, 2.8 percent in Howard County, and 3.1 percent in Calvert and Talbot counties. Nationally, the unemployment rate continues to remain higher than Maryland's at 4.7 percent.

As schools began their summer recesses in May, students and other seasonal job seekers entered the labor market to begin their work search. The labor force grew by just over 25,100 people. About 90 percent of entrants found jobs, raising the employment level to 2,640,310. The remaining job seekers opted to stay in the labor market and continue their search, causing the unemployment count to rise to 124,060.

Former Local Student Earns Many Honors

Kayla Murphy, daughter of former Garrett County residents Ralph and Angela Murphy, now of Hubert, N.C., recently received a number of honors at her school's achievement banquet, which was titled "Reach for the Stars."

Kayla earned the following certificates: Superior Achievement and Excellence of Performance in Language Arts (100 Club); Excellent Author Award for exceptional writing; Exceptional Academic Achievement; Certificate of Appreciation for notable contributions to positive attitude; the Art Award for special recognition for outstanding achievement; and the Algebra I and Science Awards (100 Club) for having the highest grade point average. She was also a participant in the annual science fair and was an honor roll student every grading period. She met all of the academic requirements for the 1996-97 academic year and received the Golden Eagle Award.

Kayla, a former student at Dennett Road Elementary School, is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Mikles, Hubert, N.C., formerly of Aurora, W.Va., and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Murphy, Mtn. Lake Park.

Humberson's Friendsville Exhibit Brings The Artist "Full Circle"

An artist whose work has been displayed nationally and internationally comes "Full Circle" in exhibiting her work in Garrett County.

"Full Circle" is the name of the show by Sandra Humberson, M.F.A., a Baltimore artist who was born and raised in Friendsville. Humberson's primary medium is fabric. Her work has been featured in the Maryland Invitational at the Baltimore Museum of Art and in other shows sponsored by the Maryland Printmakers, the National Institutes of Health, the Life of Maryland Gallery and in national touring shows.

The winner of numerous awards and fellowships, she has taught at the Cleveland Institute of Art and other schools.

Humberson was selected as one of the artists from across the state to show her work at the Governor's Mansion in Annapolis in "Art Blossoms in Maryland."

She brings her training in textile design to her work. In most of her pieces, multiple screen-printed patterns overlap, working together to create a complex surface. Some of her creations are abstract designs and others have symbols and images.

"I work with fabric because it seems most natural to me. Intuitively, I am drawn to its properties. It is at times soft, yet resilient, sensual, sometimes repulsive, most often comforting and always fascinating," she said.

She also said she never tires of learning about fabric, its history, and its importance in our lives.

"My work has been shown in museums and galleries across the United States and Canada. However, this is its premiere showing in this area in which I was born and raised. It was time for me to come full circle. " says Humberson

The work of Sandra Humberson will be on display at the Windrush Gallery, 720 Morris Avenue, Friendsville through Aug. 4.

The public is invited to meet the artist and discuss her work at the artist's reception to be held Saturday July 12, from 7:30 until 9:30 p.m. Refreshments will be served. Anyone wishing more information may call the gallery at 301-746-4083.

Tourism Office Designs "Maryland Call Center"

For the first time, visitors to Maryland can not only find out information about events around the state, but can also purchase tickets to these events through the "Maryland Call Center," a new service designed by the Maryland Office of Tourism Development, part of the Maryland Department of Business and Economic Development.

"This ticket service brings us closer to being a one-stop shop for travelers," said Maryland Office of Tourism Development Director George Williams. "With one toll-free phone call, people can have access to information and tickets for a great Maryland vacation."

The Maryland Call Center was designed to help promote Maryland events and improve services for travelers. The first event to take advantage of this service is the 135th Anniversary Commemoration of the Battle of Antietam, which will take place from September 12 to 14, 1997. Tickets for the re-enactment weekend went on sale on June 2 and as of June 26, 407 tickets have been sold.

"This is a terrific service," said Dennis Frye, president of the Association for the Preservation of Civil War Sites. "It is customer friendly, efficient, and provides all the information the visitor needs for an enjoyable experience."

The Maryland Call Center is operated by Biospherics, Inc., a Beltsville firm that handles all of the travel inquiries about the state.

Organizations in Maryland that are interested in having the state provide ticket sales for their events may contact Elaine Ward, manager of telemarketing/direct response services, at 410-767-6275 for more information.

My Dad the Coal Mining Man

My Dad was an incredible man. One fist of iron, one fist of steel. His hands were brittle and embedded with black dust, you see he worked in the Coal Mines from dawn to dusk. My Dad the Coal Mining Man.

Since we were a family of many, I shared a bed with him, his nightmares of the mines falling in was such a scary thing back then. My Dad the Coal Mining Man.

If you're old enough to remember, you will know this song, I loaded sixteen tons and what do I get, another day older and deeper in debt. The story of My Dad the Coal Mining Man.

I tried the Coal Mines once in my life, what a disaster that was for me. As I brushed the coal dust from my high school ring, I knew this wasn't the life for me. Dad, would you mind if I don't return today? With a smile he left on his way.

As a Coal Miner's son, I'm lucky to have had you to lead the way. Thank you Dad, I'm a better man today.

In Memory of My Dad the Coal Mining Man: Mr. Victor E. Hauger, Jr.

Men Charged For Spotlighting Deer Off Rt. 495

Two Grantsville men face charges after being observed using a spotlight in an apparent attempt to hunt deer last week in the Bittinger area.

David C. Wilburn, 41, and Ivan J. Yutzy, 26, were observed spotlighting in a field off Route 495 by a Department of Natural Resources Police (NRP) helicopter around 11:30 p.m. on this past Saturday. The helicopter crew notified NRP officers in the area to respond, and they located Wilburn and Yutzy in their vehicle with a loaded 7mm Remington Magnum rifle and a high-intensity spotlight.

Wilburn, the driver, was issued four citations for spotlighting with a firearm in his possession, carrying a loaded gun in a vehicle, driving while intoxicated, and operating a vehicle on an expired license. Yutzy was issued citations for spotlighting with a firearm in his possession and carrying a loaded firearm in a vehicle.

The Department of Natural Resources reminds the public that spotlighting of deer is illegal at all times under all circumstances. NRP are actively pursuing enforcement of this illegal activity.

4-H Club News

NORTH STAR 4-H

Youth from Accident's North Star 4-H club gave up their Saturday morning recently to spread a strong tobacco-free message through their community.

Beginning at 10 a.m., 15 students and their 4-H club advisor positioned themselves along the Garrett Highway outside key community spots in Accident.

Holding signs decorated with tobacco-free messages, the club members talked to residents and visitors in the town. The event was called "Accident No Tobacco Day" and was held on World No Tobacco Day recently.

The 4-H club organized the project with mini-grant money from the Garrett County Health Department. The youth designed T-shirts with an anti-smoking message imprinted on them.

Many members designed signs to hold and help spread the health message to passage motorists. Over 250 vehicles honked to signs that said "Honk! if you are tobacco-free!"

The 4-H club plans to participate in the annual July 4th parade in Accident and promote their theme of "Holy Cow! Be Tobacco-free Now!" Plans have also been made to design a tobacco display for the holiday celebration. "We want people to be tobacco-free," said North Star member Kris Knox. "Everybody has a choice to make and, hopefully, they will choose the tobacco-free one."

Local Students Selected For Forestry Camp

The Garrett County Forestry Board has announced that two local students will be among those attending this year's Awareness Week for Forestry and Natural Resources workshop July 28 - August 1. The students are David Wampler, Accident, and Jesse Shimrock, Grantsville.

The week-long workshop is designed to acquaint high school students with forestry and natural resources management career opportunities. A variety of lectures, field trips, and meetings give participants a first hand look into the fields of forestry, wildlife biology, fisheries, recreation, and the physical sciences. The workshop will be held at Camp Hickory Environmental Education Center near Accident.

The camp is sponsored by the Maryland Association of Forest Conservancy District Boards in cooperation with the Department of Natural Resources, Forest Service.

GOT MILK? - Wilmer and Carol Miller of Keysers Ridge, seated at the business end of this bovine, were winners of a cow-milking contest held recently at Jennerstown Speedway, Jennerstown, Pa. The competition was part of the intermission activities, which the Millers seemed destined to win. The first taste of success resulted from the endeavors in the preliminary event among 12 teams -- the goal: to siphon a gallon of milk through a 50 foot length of garden hose. The Miller siphoned their way handily through the first round and into the finals -- the cow milking challenge. Lined up at the starting gate, so to speak, the finalists were ready to milk. The flag came down and they were off. The one minute battle of the bucket was on. As the clock ran down, the Millers had far and away more milk in the pail than any other team -- three pounds. This was a full pound more than any other contender. Carol and Wilmer won a weekend get-away at Seven Springs, Pa. "It's been 43 years since I milked a cow, but its just like riding a bicycle: once you learn, it comes right back to you," Wilmer said. Carol commented that it had been 36 years since she milked cows regularly on the farm where she was raised. Those who know Carol as the manager of the Accident branch of American Trust Bank may be surprised to know of these other accomplishments to her credit. The Millers, besides being champion milkers, are avid race fans.

TRACTOR SAFETY WILL BE FEATURED at this year's Farm Safety Day Camp, slated for Saturday, July 26, from 8:30 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. at the Garrett County Fairgrounds in McHenry. Tractor roll-overs and run-overs are the largest causes of injury and/or death on farms. This is the third year for the safety day, which is sponsored by the Agricultural Care & Education (ACE) program of Garrett County Memorial Hospital, the Garrett County Health Department, and the Maryland Institute for Emergency Medical Services System. The camp is open to persons ages 9-18 who live or work on farms (agricultural or timber). The registration deadline is July 18. For more information or to register, persons may call the hospital at 301-334-2155, ext. 411, or the health department at 301-334-8111.

Farm Queen Applications Being Taken

Applications are now being taken for the Garrett County Farm Queen Contest held during the Garrett County Fair. The deadline for applications is July 23.

Applications are available from Debbie Barnard, 301-334-4170, or Becky DeBerry, 301-334-1178.

The contest is open to single girls at least 16 years of age but not 20 years of age by the date of the state contest. The contestant and/or her family must be a current Farm Bureau member. She and/or her family should be engaged in the production of agricultural commodities or she should have an understanding of the agricultural industry. Final determination of eligibility shall be decided by the county Farm Bureau.

On the application, the contestants should discuss the type of farm on which they live, their outdoor responsibilities, home responsibilities, current school status, their ag activities, school and community involvement, their hobbies and special interests, and their future plans and ambitions.

The winner of the Garrett County Farm Queen Contest will go on to compete in the state contest during the Maryland State Fair, and spend the next year promoting agriculture and Farm Bureau.

Maryland Pork Producers Plan Board Meeting

Maryland Pork Producers Association (MPPA) President Steve Ernst has announced that the election of the two pork producer delegate candidates for the 1998 Delegation Body of the National Pork Board (Pork Act) will take place at 10 a.m. Saturday, August 23. This election will be held in conjunction with the MPPA Board of Directors meeting at the Maryland State Fairgrounds in Timonium. All Maryland pork producers are invited to attend. "Pork checkoff funds have been used successfully to promote 'Pork. The Other White Meat. ,'" said Ernst.

Any producer who is a resident of the state and has paid all assessments due may be considered as a delegate candidate. For further information, those interested may contact Lynne Hoot, executive director at 410-956-5771, or write to MPPA, 53 Salma Road, Edgewater, MD 21037.

Trader's Landing
DEEP CREEK LAKE CONDOMINIUMS

EXCITED ABOUT THEIR NEW VENTURE, Paul Sprenger and Jane Lang show their delight in their latest accomplishment -- the purchase of Trader's Landing at Deep Creek Lake. The two are highly successful lawyers who operate large firms in both Washington, D.C., and in Minneapolis. They came upon Maryland's "best kept secret" some years ago and, instantly enchanted, purchased a home here. In the short time they have been in the county, their impact has been noticeable and certainly positive, chiefly through Jane's writers' workshops that have involved numerous local individuals, both young and not so young. They intend to keep the ball rolling in their local interest, having purchased the business and condo complex from the Bernard family. The couple's plans for the area include a performance stage and a café, just to name two. See story.

They are both high-powered, successful lawyers who have been featured in publications such as The Washington Times, The Washingtonian, and the Washington Lawyer. They are partners in law and partners in marriage. And, after 45 years in one Garrett County family, Deep Creek Lake's Trader's Landing complex has been purchased by this pair -- Paul Sprenger and Jane Lang.

The two operate a national law practice (Sprenger & Lang) specializing in class action employment litigation from two offices, one in Washington, D.C., and the other in Minneapolis, Minn. Over the past 10 years, they have conducted large litigation across the country -- in Dallas, Kansas City, Des Moines, Washington, D.C., and others. The winning judgments and settlements in the company's cases are in the multi-millions, Sprenger reported. He now feels that he and his wife have accomplished substantially all they wish to in law, together having practiced for a combined 58 years.

But why would two successful Washington lawyers take on such a different venture in such a different place? What is it about this county that has drawn Sprenger and Lang to not only live here but intensely engage in local trade?

The answers are different for Jane, 50, and Paul, 56. Jane's wish is to have a year-around anchor in the Garrett County community, from which to expand her writing and other interests. Through her family's Eugene Lang Foundation, she has generously spearheaded local writing programs. The Mountain Lakes Young Writers' Workshop is in its third year, and other programs -- the Adult Poetry Workshop and the Adult Fiction Writing Workshop -- have followed. The workshops have been highly successful. She is also vice president of the Levine School of Music (Washington) board of directors and hopes to see its programs expanded into Garrett County.

She chiefly spends her time writing now, having had a story published this past spring in the Baltimore literary magazine Passenger and currently awaiting the publication of another work in an anthology.

Sprenger plans to continue running large scale litigation nationwide (with Lang in a consultative role), but, with computers, e-mail, and faxes, he can do that from Trader's Landing overlooking Deep Creek Lake. Having just completed a four-month recovery from cancer, he said he has a new outlook on life.

"A bout with cancer makes you think seriously about the rest of your life and what you want to do with it," he said.

The Trading Post is in the center of the 10-acre complex, located along Rt. 219 just south of the Deep Creek Lake bridge. It also includes Subway, High Mountain Sports, Bodyworks, and several other businesses. A condominium development is growing behind the grouping of stores, where 26 units have been built and about 54 are in the planning stages.

Skip Bernard and family have owned the Trading Post for 45 years. Sprenger said Bernard will remain with the company for about five years, offering his experience and guidance to the relative newcomers.

Paul and Jane have a home in the Deep Creek Lake area, which they purchased after one look in a blinding snowstorm some five years ago. They had been seeking a vacation area homesite located somewhere between their two law offices and found Garrett County almost by accident. Apparently it was love at first sight.

"This place has everything you would want in a vacation," Paul said. "We're very happy here."

While he wants to keep his place in the legal world, Sprenger has several ideas for the future of Trader's Landing, including the establishment of a café as well as a 150-seat performance theatre. He would also like to provide a location for persons to purchase items produced by the local Amish community.

"We want very much to convey our intent of serving everyone here -- not just tourists," he commented, adding that they have noticed residents do not necessarily visit the more tourist-oriented businesses. He said the development will be in keeping with the aesthetic qualities of Deep Creek Lake, to enhance what is there while providing new opportunities.

"This is a challenge -- one that we are looking forward to," Sprenger said. "We're excited about the venture."

GRANTSVILLE ROTARIANS INSTALL OFFICERS - The Grantsville Rotary Club met recently at Penn Alps Restaurant, and among the agenda items was the installation of officers, conducted by Bob Stevenson, a member of the Frostburg Rotary Club and installing officer for District 7350. Pictured from left above are: Earl Yoder, sergeant at arms; C.C. Bender, secretary/treasurer; Gary Ruddell, president (1997-98); Bob Stevenson; Joe Bender, past president, board of directors; Dan W. Edna Bender To Present Oil Painting Workshop

Local freelance artist Edna Bender will present a workshop in beginning oil painting on behalf of the Garrett County Arts Council beginning July 21 at Garrett Community College. The four-session workshop will meet each Monday evening and conclude August 11.

The enrollment fee for the workshop is $40. Advance registration is required by contacting the Garrett County Arts Council at 301-387-3121.

While the workshop is designed to encourage participants with limited previous experience, the format will also challenge those who have participated in a prior version of the course. Bender will explain and demonstrate the basic techniques of oil painting, and participants will be encouraged to complete an original oil painting.

Bender has been self-employed as a freelance artist and art enrichment teacher for children and adults since 1963. Her commissioned paintings have been exhibited throughout the United States and abroad. She coordinates the annual Independence Day Exhibition of Art in Accident, and she's a member of the Society of Children's Book Writers and Illustrators.

In 1995, Bender illustrated April Bluebird, an award-winning children's book authored by Esther Bender and published by Herald Press. She subsequently illustrated The Crooked Tree, also authored by Esther Bender. She's currently working on illustrations for a third book.

Though Bender teaches students at many levels of achievement, she claims "a special satisfaction" in introducing first-time students to the joys of painting.

Workshop participants must supply their own oil painting materials for the class. As an option, they may rent all materials with the exception of canvas from the instructor by prior arrangement. Further information is available through the Garrett County Arts Council at 301-387-3121 and from "ArtWorks '97" brochures available at all branches of the Ruth Enlow Library.

Lutheran Brotherhood is represented in the Oakland/Garrett County area by David L. Meese, FICF, Berlin, Pa.

Breakfast At New Senior Center May Be Repeated

A Saturday breakfast was hosted at the Grantsville Senior Center as part of Grantsville Days festivities last week. Having met with success this year, the event will probably be repeated next year.

According to Chas. Rittenhouse, manager of the senior center, people were lined up at 8 a.m. waiting to sample the chipped beef and gravy, egg, bacon, and cheese omelette, home fries, toast, juice, coffee, and melon. The breakfast was an "all-you-care-to-eat" buffet.

The seniors also held a sale of baked goods and items made by the leather crafting group. The quilters from the center took the opportunity to kick off their sale of raffle tickets on a large quilt that will be given away around Labor Day.

Seniors who volunteered their time and efforts were Laura Turner, Stella Edwards, Nora Crow, Charles and Maxine Ross, Zeola Robeson, Evelyn Clark, Edna Rolo, Stella Swauger, Harold and Minnie Bittinger, and Barbara Butler.

"The seniors look forward to repeating this extraordinary feed next year," Rittenhouse said, adding, "they promise to double the recipe."

Needlework Studio

"Feet used to dance here," said Faye Atkinson Snow, the Academy of Life-skills[tm] owner-director, describing the studio at 124 West Third Street in South Cumberland, which now houses the Academy's needlework classes. "Now hands will dance across rotary cutting boards, gleaming beds of knitting machine needles, and whirring sewing machines, creating beautiful and useful items for personal and family use."

FAYE ATKINSON SNOW, owner-director of the newly opened Needlework Studio at the Academy of Lifeskills in Cumberland, demonstrates machine knitting, which is one of the courses offered at the studio.

Classes in sewing, quilting, and machine knitting will be offered in air-conditioned comfort for ages 8 through adult, beginning with the Learn to Sew Camps, which will commence July 14 and run for one week each for age groups 8-10, 11-13, and 14 through adult.

The fall and winter programs will offer sewing, quilting, and machine knitting during the day for home-schoolers, homemakers, and seniors. Evening classes will be offered upon request.

A special hands-on tour titled "Where Do Clothes Come From?" will be offered during the winter months for school field trips. School officials interested in the tour should call the academy at 301-724-8796 to reserve a date. Dates allotted for the tours are limited.

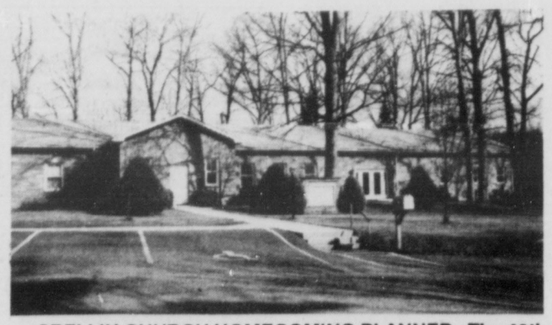
The academy of Life-skills[tm] was founded in 1995 to offer specialty seminars in skills that enhance the quality of life, Ms. Snow said. Gardening, food preservation, and bread-making seminars are held at the Snow Hill Farm, east of Cumberland. Another hands-on tour for school children, titled "Where Does Food Come From," is offered at the farm from springtime through fall.

Other academy seminars include "Emergency Preparedness," to help families prepare for natural and man-made disasters, and "French for Christian Witness and Worship," a contract program with Christian day schools and to home-schoolers.

An open house at the Dancing Hands Needlework Studio is slated for Saturday, July 12, 1-4 p.m. The official ribbon cutting will be at 2 p.m.

Academy tuition is reasonable, Ms. Snow said, but a scholarship program for the needy has been established through the generosity of Johanna Learish, Janny Hollis, and Jackson Hayman in memory of Majorie Hayman, who loved the needle arts and devoted her life to helping others. Prospective scholarship recipients should request an application when obtaining a program brochure.

Free brochures on all academy programs will be available at the open house.



CRELLIN CHURCH HOMECOMING PLANNED - The 40th annual homecoming is being planned by members of Crellin United Brethren in Christ. The event will be held on Sunday, July 27, at the Church. The singing group His Way will minister in music at the 11 a.m. service. A covered dish picnic will follow the service with games and activities organized by the homecoming planning committee. All members of the community are invited to join in this celebration.

Oakland Man Sentenced For March Assault

In last week's Garrett County District Court proceedings, an Oakland man was convicted on an assault charge, receiving a jail sentence and an order to cover the cost of the medical treatment his girlfriend had sought as a result of the incident.

Michael A. Corby, 23, reportedly started arguing with his girlfriend at their Cranesville Road residence last March when they came home and found the dog untied. As the argument escalated, the court records state that Corby slapped her, threw her against a wall, and then threw her to a bed and began choking her. She reportedly then tried to escape, running out to her car, but couldn't get it started as he had allegedly tampered with it.

When she came back inside the house to confront Corby with this suspicion that he tampered with the vehicle, he allegedly threw her to the floor, then up against a door, then down the basement stairs, kicking her in the hips in the process. He then reportedly dragged her by her hair outside and kicked her again. She ran from him back into the house to a bedroom, where Corby allegedly followed her, picked her up, and threw her on the bed. At this point the victim's brother intervened to stop the assault, although Corby continued verbally abusing her and began breaking things in the room.

Garrett County sheriff's deputies were called to the scene, and Corby was subsequently arrested and charged with second-degree

GYMNASTICS ON A MAT OF WATER - These two youngsters appear to be about to perform a handstand and perhaps a little walk on the water in this photo of captured action, taken by staff photographer John McEwen. The girls are participating in an activity that will probably be quite popular today, which is predicted to be possibly the most uncomfortable day of the season. Although "hot" in Garrett County is still rather cool compared to many surrounding areas of lesser altitude, local folks are indeed seeking comfort at such places as pools and beaches. Rain is needed, although forecasters have noted only the chance of widely scattered storms Friday night. The bright, hot, sunny days are then to continue throughout the weekend. Going headfirst in the pool above is Cora Collers of Eglon, W.Va., and the feet-first jumper is Lacee Liller, Oakland.

THE ONE THAT DIDN'T GET AWAY - Kassidy Leanna Sciullo, 6, who is visiting Garrett County from her home in Estell Manor, N.J., reeled in a whopper when she caught this 24 inch catfish. Kassidy had been fishing for blue gill with her grandparents, Carl and Louise (Spoerlein) Gosnell, Mtn. Lake Park, when she hooked the former resident of Broadford Lake. Kassidy knew she had a struggle on her hands and something big on her hook. Thinking she had a little blue gill on her line, her grandfather encouraged Kassidy to just reel it in. And she did. Her sister Melanie Rae, 5, could hardly believe her eyes and leaned a little closer to get a better look at this fish that is almost as big as she is.

Public Hearing Set On Curfew For Oakland

Oakland will hold a public hearing on Aug. 4 on the proposed town ordinance 097-0,7 which would introduce a curfew within town limits for minors.

This regulation was introduced last week at the town council meeting. Its purpose is to regulate the behavior of the young people in public places. The ordinance defines the duties of parents and business owners regarding minors as well as provisions for enforcement and for penalties.

The thrust of the ordinance is to maintain the quiet residential community atmosphere that prevails in most of Oakland and to diminish incidents of illegal or dangerous behavior.

Curfew hours are midnight to 6 a.m. seven days a

Garrett Memorial To Host Open House For New Subacute Unit

Garrett County Memorial Hospital will host a public open house on Tuesday, August 5, from 2 to 5 p.m., marking the opening of its new Subacute Unit.

For the past several months, a portion of the hospital's second floor has been under renovation to accommodate the new service, a collaborative effort between the Cuppett Management Corporation, Inc., and Garrett Memorial.

Subacute care is designed for patients who are too ill to return home or go to a traditional nursing home, but not ill enough to remain in the normal hospital setting, according to Elizabeth Daniels, RN, MSN, nurse manager of the new unit. Two types of patients are generally treated: rehabilitation patients and medically complex patients.

"Usually the individual's condition is such that care does not depend heavily on high-technology monitoring or complex diagnostic procedures, lowering the cost of care while maintaining high-quality standards," explained Daniels.

Garrett Memorial's 10-bed unit will feature a comfortable, home-like environment with its own dining area, activity room, and laundry facility.

Administrator James Cuppett, who is also administrator of the Cuppett-Weeks Nursing Home, medical director Margaret Kaiser, MD, and Ms. Daniels will oversee the operation of the unit.

"Subacute services provide patients with the care and education needed to function in a home-like setting upon discharge through a high-intensity of nursing and rehabilitative care," said Daniels. "Our focus is on healthy outcomes, with patients demonstrating an ability to reach their maximum independence.

"We encourage the community to attend this grand opening event, which will provide a great way to learn more about Subacute Care--a new concept for many people," Daniels added.

The open house will feature a ribbon-cutting ceremony, followed by tours and refreshments.

Poll Shows Support For Rt. 219 Project, And Desire For More Info

In an effort to gauge support from the Garrett County business community for the proposal by several local agencies and organizations to construct an interstate highway which would bisect the county from north to south, part of the proposed "Continental One" international trade and travel corridor, The Republican conducted an informal telephone survey this week of the membership of the Garrett County Chamber of Commerce.

While David Moe, president of the Garrett County Chamber of Commerce, stated last week that it was it was his impression that the concept had the overwhelming support of the chamber's membership, he added that no vote on the matter had been taken by the membership, and no survey had been conducted by the chamber as of last week.

During the course of The Republican's two-day survey, the newspaper staff was able to contact and pose three questions to 42 of the 58 members of the Chamber of Commerce, or just over 72% of the Chamber's membership.

The majority of the respondents supported the concept of the new interstate, but also felt that they needed more information on which to base their final decision, and an overwhelming majority support the idea of holding a public meeting soon to discuss the issue.

The specific survey results are as follows:

Question #1

Do you feel adequately informed about the proposal to make Route 219 a four-lane interstate highway?

- 35.7% responded that they felt adequately informed.
- 54.8% responded that they did not feel adequately informed.
- 9.5% were undecided in how to answer this question.

Question #2

Do you support or oppose such a proposal?

- 71.4% in support
- 16.7% in opposition
- 11.9% undecided.

Question #3

The federal government will make a decision this fall on funding appropriations that would move the project along. Do you feel the need for a public meeting here in Garrett County for information and discussion purposes between now and then?

- 85.7% would like to have a meeting
- 14.3% do not see the need for such a meeting.

Town Officials Update Regs. On Planning, Zoning

Over the last several months, each town in Garrett County has reviewed and updated parts of its planning and zoning ordinances.

The regulations on development in each town have been changed where needed to bring the ordinances in line with the countywide growth plan required by the Maryland Economic Growth, Resource Protection, and Planning Act of 1992.

The state mandate requires provisions for protection of sensitive areas, flood plains, steep slopes, and stream buffers. It also stipulates regular updates of comprehensive plans for town expansion.

The ordinances developed by the municipalities parallel those adopted by the Garrett County Commissioners that apply to all county lands that lay outside of chartered towns.

Town councils and mayors were assisted in this undertaking by members of the county's office of planning and zoning.

Jim Torrington of the planning office, who worked with several of the town groups, explained the incorporated towns are considered "growth areas" in the state plan.

"The major changes in town ordinances have been the addition of sensitive area ordinances," he said. The concerns of stream buffers, steep slope development, and flood plain development had been addressed in these regulations already, he added.

Each town has adopted or will adopt its own provisions.

About the writing of the new book, Bender said, "Writing a story for the first time is easy. But then I have to cut and cut to get it down to picture book size. And, of course, it needs revisions. I rewrote for nearly a year on the upcoming book."

Edna Bender's intensive work on the book is just beginning. She has finished the layout. "Now it is time to do the finished paint-

Oakland Man Jailed After Gun Incident

An Oakland man was arrested by Garrett County sheriff's deputies last week after firing a handgun several times in the course of an argument with his former employer.

Robert Lynn Layton, 35, reportedly went to the home of Ken Niner on Boy Scout Road on the night of July 14, seeking repayment of a debt that Niner allegedly owed him. When Niner told Layton that his payment wasn't due yet, the two got into an argument over the debt, and about some comments Layton alleged Niner had made about him to others. The argument reportedly climaxed with Layton going to his vehicle and retrieving a handgun. Layton then allegedly fired one shot at Niner's feet, then allegedly fired several more shots into the air in the vicinity of Niner's head. No injuries resulted, and Layton left the scene immediately thereafter.

Layton was subsequently located at his Sand Flat Road residence, and arrested and charged two counts of assault and two counts of reckless endangerment. He is currently being held in the Garrett County jail on a $50,000 bond.

McHenry Man In Hot Water After Skinny Dipping

A McHenry man was arrested in the wee hours of this past Friday morning when he jumped from the Route 219 Bridge into Deep Creek Lake in full view of a Garrett County sheriff's deputy. The report went on to note that the subject was not wearing any clothes at the time the incident took place.

Jason Noel Powell, 27, McHenry, was observed standing naked on the bridge in the company of five other (clothed) males at 2:30 a.m. by a passing deputy. When the deputy stopped his marked cruiser to question Powell about his apparent lack of attire, Powell leaped from the bridge to the chilly waters below. He was seen getting into a waiting boat that contained two females, who transported him to shore at the waiting deputy's order. Powell reportedly had a strong odor of alcohol about his person, and when he was asked how much he had to drink that night, the report states his reply was "Too much."

Powell was arrested and charged with indecent exposure and disorderly intoxication. He was subsequently released on his own recognizance.

Oakland Police Begin Classes On New Ordinances

Training sessions on enforcement of new town ordinances begins today for the Oakland police officers.

According to Mayor Asa McCain, the result of the planned workshops is the fair and consistent treatment by law enforcement officers.

Several new ordinances have been passed in the town to address some the most frequent complaints by residents. Among those issues are speeding, abandoned cars and property, dogs, noise, and skateboards in town.

"The workshops are scheduled on three consecutive Thursdays," McCain said. The first one will address Jake brakes and skateboards. The second one, on July 24, will address dog problems, abandoned buildings and cars, and property maintenance. The last one, July 31, will cover speeding, the use of radar, and the new noise ordinance, he said.

I feel it is an honor for First United to support such a valuable organization." Traffic, Theft, Drug Cases Heard In Circuit Court

Several criminal cases were heard in Garrett County Circuit Court last week, with Judges Fred Thayer and James Sherbin presiding over the proceedings.

A Friendsville man indicted by the Grand Jury pleaded guilty to the charge of distribution of marijuana. Craig E. Stanton was then sentenced by Sherbin to one year in jail and was fined $500. A possession charge was not prosecuted.

A pre-sentence investigation (PSI) was ordered for Clint A. Artice, Friendsville, who had also been indicted. He pleaded guilty to the charge of conspiracy. Sherbin continued bail for Artice while the PSI is conducted.

An Ellerslie man will be in jail for three months by order of Judge Thayer. Rex H. Ashby, 29, pleaded guilty to the charge of driving with a revoked license. Several other traffic charges were not prosecuted.

The judge sentenced him to one year in jail, suspending all but three months. He also fined him $500. Ashby was arrested in July of last year by a Department of Natural Resources officer in the Swallow Falls State Park area.

Timothy A. Whitacre, 36, Oakland, pleaded guilty to operating a vehicle with an improper license. Thayer fined him $500 plus court costs. He was arrested by Maryland State Police earlier this year.

Two cases were placed on the stet docket, meaning they will not be prosecuted at this time but will remain open for one year. Terry L. Ford, 34, Oakland, had been charged with battery in April 1996 following a domestic altercation in Crellin. The case was put on the stet docket with the condition that Ford have no contact with the victim.

Leon G. Sisler, 55, Friendsville, had been charged with car theft in August 1996. This case was also placed on the stet docket.

Local History Comes To Life At UM Church

"Next Door to Heaven," a historical community drama, will be presented at the Aurora United Methodist amphitheater on Friday, July 25, and Sunday, July 27, at 8:30 p.m.

Carolyn Wotring, a member of the Aurora Church, wrote the script and directs the play. It was presented last year as part of the centennial celebration of the building of the sanctuary of the church. By popular demand, it will again be presented.

The drama opens with Rev. Stough arriving in the community and continues, presenting many other events as they occurred in the community. The circuit rider (portrayed by the current pastor of the church, Rev. Joseph Robinette), is included as is the building of the Northwestern Turnpike, the Civil War, World Wars I and II and Desert Storm re-enacted by local veterans.

A 93-year-old gentleman shares with the audience his recollections of the oil chandelier hanging in the sanctuary of the church, and a 70-year-old lady sings a song taught to her by her father, recalling deaths in her family during an diphtheria epidemic.

The singing school taught by the "masters" is brought to life, and the "truth comes out" about the mischievous boys who ate melons from a neighbor's melon patch.

Numerous historical items of the area will be displayed in the nearby Memorial Building.

Rain dates for the performance will be Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 9-10. A free-will offering will be accepted to help defray expenses.

The public is invited to participate in this evening of tribute to our ancestors. Those attending are encouraged to dress in period costumes and to bring lawn chairs. The stone church is located on U.S. 50 near the post office.

Anyone wishing more information, may contact Carolyn Wotring, 304-735-3501 or Virginia Martin, 304-735-3402.

Citizen Response Helps Catch And Convict Thief

In last week's Garrett County District Court proceedings, an Oakland man was sentenced after an earlier theft conviction. His charges stemmed from his arrest when a citizen checked a four-wheeler's vehicle identification number with the sheriff's office, which revealed that the vehicle had been stolen.

Melvin Ray Howell III, 21, had been arrested in March by Garrett County sheriff's deputies in connection with the theft of a 1997 Polaris four-wheeler ATV. Howell was implicated in the crime when another subject came to the sheriff's office and asked them if the Polaris four-wheeler that he had just traded his 1958 pickup and 1987 four-wheeler for was stolen. A check of the vehicle identification number revealed it to match a four-wheeler that had been reported stolen earlier in that week from a Yacht Club Road residence.

Howell was then located and arrested, and during his subsequent trial he pleaded guilty to three counts of felony theft. His sentencing hearing this past week resulted in a three-year jail sentence, all but six months of which were suspended. He was also ordered to pay $1,200 in restitution to the owner of the Polaris four-wheeler, placed on two years of supervised probation, and ordered to refrain from alcohol, obtain alcohol addiction counseling, obtain his general equivalency diploma and seek employment.

Additional charges of second-degree burglary and theft scheme were not prosecuted against Howell by the state's attorney.

Frank Wilmer Robinette, 45, Oakland, pleaded guilty and was convicted of a charge of possession of marijuana. The charge stemmed from his March arrest by sheriff's deputies, who were attempting to serve papers on another subject living at the residence. When they knocked on the door, Robinette opened it, and they detected the odor of burning marijuana coming from inside. When they told him of their suspicions, and that they had probable cause to conduct a house search, he cooperated by producing a fanny pack containing marijuana and assorted paraphernalia.

Robinette received a six-month sentence, five months of which were suspended, a $155 fine, and was placed on one year of supervised probation.

Clint Allen Artice, 25, Friendsville, pleaded guilty to a possession of marijuana charge and received a probation before judgment (PBJ). The charge stemmed from his March arrest at his Bear Creek Road residence by Maryland State Police executing a search and seizure warrant.

Artice was fined $155 and placed on six months of unsupervised probation. His PBJ order means that the case will not reflect a criminal record if he complies with all the terms of his sentence.

Charles Jacob Getston, 22, Oakland, was determined to be in violation of probation by visiting Allegany District Court Judge William T. Finan. Getson's probation was revoked, and the judge reimposed his 15-day jail sentence. He had originally been convicted on a charge of battery, and a recent driving while intoxicated arrest placed him in violation of his probation.

Steven Ray Thomas Sr., 35, Hyndman, Pa., was determined to be in violation of probation on his original destruction of property and driving while intoxicated convictions. Thomas's probation was revoked, and a total of 14 months of his original suspended sentence was reimposed as time to be served in jail.

Richard Dale Layton, 27, Oakland, was found not guilty on charges of violating an ex parte order and harassment of his wife. In turn, his wife, Jennifer Carrie Layton, 27, also of Oakland, was found not guilty on a charge of harassing her husband.

Brian Keith Craver, 31, Mtn. Lake Park, was found not guilty on a charge of second-degree assault.

Melita Lynne Halterman, 19, Oakland, was found not guilty on a charge of shoplifting.

Logsdon was further ordered to pay $750 in restitution to the owner of the other vehicle he collided with while he was DUI.

James Brian Hay, 29, Garrett, Pa., was convicted of DWI and fined $200, received a six-month sentence, all but seven days of which were suspended, and was placed on two years of supervised probation.

Mark L. Meyer, 37, Pa., was convicted of DWI and fined $155, received a 30-day sentence, all but three days of which were suspended, placed on one year of supervised probation, and ordered to complete 30 hours of community service.

Mack Gary Hart, 46, Piedmont, W.Va., was handed a PBJ as a result of his DWI hearing, and was fined $155, received a 60-day suspended sentence, was placed on one year of supervised probation, and was ordered to complete 30 hours of community service.

Jason Michael Stiegler, 19, Md., was convicted of DUI and fined $155, received a 30-day suspended sentence, was placed on one year of supervised probation, and was ordered to complete 30 hours of community service.

Matthew James Werdebaugh, 20, Mtn. Lake Park, was convicted of DUI and received a 30-day suspended sentence, all but three days of which were suspended, and was placed on two years of supervised probation.

Danny Lee Rhodes, 31, Davis, W.Va., was convicted of DUI and fined $155, received a 30-day suspended sentence, was placed on one year of supervised probation, and ordered to complete 30 hours of community service.

Tucker Fisher Fry, 19, W.Va, was convicted of DUI and fined $155, received a 30-day suspended sentence, placed on one year of supervised probation, and was ordered to complete 30 hours of community service.

William Bradley Bray, 54, Oakland, was handed a PBJ as a result of his DWI hearing, and was fined $155, received a 30-day suspended sentence, was placed on one year of supervised probation, and was ordered to complete 30 hours of community service.

Robin Daryll Graham, 36, Uniontown, Pa., failed to appear for his DWI hearing. The judge issued a bench warrant for Graham's arrest, charging him with failure to appear, and set a cash bond of $1,000.

TRAVELING A NEW FRONTIER OF KNOWLEDGE were 42 young people who participated in the fourth annual Maryland Summer Center for Gifted and Talented Students, recently held at Garrett Community College. Here students are shown participating in a "compressed classroom," a real-time interactive video link between their GCC classroom and the Oakland Science Center in Oakland, Mich. On the screen to the left is Stu Schultz, one of the center's facilitators, shown talking from his Michigan classroom to students at GCC on how to use a computer program in figuring the volume of water in Deep Creek Lake. This was the first occasion of the use of an interactive video link in Garrett County that went across state lines. Interactive video is an emerging technology expected to have wider applications in classrooms of the not-too-distant future.

Singer Galvin To Perform At Penn Alps

Bass-baritone Eugene Galvin will perform as part of Music at Penn Alps (MPA) on Saturday, July 19, at 7:30 p.m. in the Great Hall of Penn Alps, Grantsville. The singer will be accompanied by Mary Lou McDonald Galvin.

Galvin returns to Western Maryland with a program ranging from Rossini and Handel to Rodgers and Hammerstein. He known to area concert-goers following his performance in the Western Maryland Symphony/Cumberland Choral Society's presentation of Handel's "Messiah" last December.

Galvin is also familiar to Washington, D.C., area audiences from his many operatic appearances with the Washington, Northern Virginia, Opera Camerata of Washington, and Summer Opera Theater companies, and at Constitution Hall as Sarastro in "The Magic Flute," under the baton of Victor Borge. He has sung hundreds of operatic performances throughout the country with the Cincinnati, Sarasota, and National operas and has just returned from the Daughters of the Regiment tour with Opera New England.

Opera News magazine has praised Galvin, a specialist in the Bel Canto repertoire, as having a "rich voice and superb musicianship" in his role as Callistene in the new edition premiere of Donizetti's Poliato.

In addition to opera, the singer has performed as a recitalist and soloist with the Arlington Symphony, at the Smithsonian, and the Kennedy Center. He was winner of the Montpelier Arts Center 1992 Recital Competition.

Presently pursuing a doctorate in musical arts at the University of Maryland, Galvin directed that school's Undergraduate Opera Theater and appeared with the Maryland Opera Studio. He holds a master's degree from the Catholic University and a bachelor of arts degree from Frostburg State University. Galvin currently teaches voice at Frostburg and at the Shenandoah Conservatory.

Mr. Galvin will be accompanied by his wife, Mary Lou McDonald Galvin, a graduate of the Catholic University, who teaches at Holy Trinity College in Washington, D.C., and conducts at the Duke Ellington School of the Arts.

MPA is a summer-long series of concerts, held each Saturday at 7:30 p.m. For information about the concert schedule and ticket information, persons may call MPA at 301-895-3332.

What Will Tomorrow Bring?...

When one who is old enough looks back just a decade or so and remembers what was happening in the world at that time, and then compares it to what is happening today, it nearly boggles the mind. There are so many examples of radical, totally unpredictable change that have taken place.

Twenty years ago, when we were bitter enemies of Russia (then Soviet Union), who would have ever imagined that as soon as the 1990s American astronauts and Russian cosmonauts would be living and working side by side in a space station? Who would have imagined that the mighty communist, Soviet empire would be completely unraveled into individual, non-communist nations once again?

Just three years ago, when the stock market's Dow Industrial figure was around 4,000, who could have imagined that on July 16, 1997, that figure would exceed 8,000?

Ten years ago when one spent 10 days in the hospital following gall bladder surgery, who would have imagined that today the same surgery involves relatively minor invasiveness and only about one day of hospitalization?

Who would have believed 10 years ago that by today we would have such incredible technology at our fingertips - the Internet, fax machines, interactive video classrooms, cellular telephones...?

Five years ago, who would have imagined that by today scientists would have successfully cloned a sheep?

In a negative vein, who would have believed five years ago that O.J. Simpson, a highly respected, legendary icon in the world of athletics, would today be suspected of - and most believe, guilty of - murdering two people, including his own wife? Who would have believed one day after those murders that Simpson would have been found not guilty about a year later?

Who would have believed five years ago that one of our own citizens would become a terrorist against his own country and blow up a federal building, killing scores of fellow citizens in the process?

All of this shows us that, even with our most vivid imaginations, there is so much that lies just around the corner which we simply cannot predict. It's both exciting and frightening.

Within the next 10 years, maybe we will find a cure for AIDS, multiple sclerosis, cancer, and other dreaded diseases. Maybe Christopher Reeve will truly walk again. Maybe we will have a female president, or one of a minority race. Maybe we will have human beings back on the surface of the moon, or maybe even on Mars. Maybe, shudder the thought, we will be engaged in military conflict with an as yet unknown enemy, or we will be in the midst of a major environmental crisis brought on by today's continued destructive practices (i.e., the cutting of the rain forests).

What will tomorrow bring? Sometimes our best guesses don't even come close.

To the Editor:

We have completed the placement of several war monuments and flag poles in the county over the past few years, and Woodmen of the World has played a major part in the process by donating flags and poles to Deer Park and Mtn. Lake Park. There are always people who work in the background on such projects who often go unnoticed. Thank you, Asa McCain and Deb Bittinger, for your efforts.

Not only are the war memorials in place and U.S. flags waving all over the county, but there is also a park in Mtn. Lake Park called Veterans' Park, in honor and memory of all those who served. Garrett County is a great place for veterans of all wars. Thank you, Mayor and Town Council of Mtn. Lake Park.

To the Editor:

Few could say today that they haven't seen more kids using tobacco or that they haven't heard or read reports recently about the increase in underage smoking or smokeless tobacco use. With that in mind, a bill has been introduced in Congress to raise the tax on a pack of cigarettes by 42 cents. The money raised would be used to help fund health care for poor children.

In support of such action, a "Break the Chain" rally is being planned to encircle the U.S. Capitol twice around next Tuesday, July 22, with hospital bracelets representing friends and family members impacted by tobacco use. The rally will hopefully get the attention of Congress, letting members know that there are many of us throughout the country who are serious about wanting to reverse the trend of underage tobacco use.

For more information about the rally, contact the American Lung Association at 410-560-2120, Maryland Group Against Smokers' Pollution at 301-262-5867, or me at 301-334-1804 (evenings).

To the Editor:

Folks! Do you like the lifestyle of the Accident, McHenry, Deep Creek areas? You don't? Well, you're in luck. All the better things are coming. Think it's too quiet here? This air too fresh? The good folks who plan our roads and highways are going to fix that. Eighteen wheelers, noise, and pollution are at hand. We can be just like other parts of the country. We can have truck stops, industrial parks, and mega-malls blasted out of that disgusting farmland scenery and rolling countryside. All those tourists and people who come up here to "get away from it all" will vanish, because there won't be any "all" to get away from. (Heck, they can go spend money somewhere else.)

I want to look out my window and see a nice, sleek, cement highway. I want to sit on my deck and hear the roar and smell those diesel fumes.

Let's all ring up our legislators and beg them for the Rt. 219 bypass. It's the least we can do for our grandchildren.

Sincerely,
Tom Davis

To the Editor:

I went to a writer's workshop a couple of weeks ago, held at Fantasy Valley. It was sponsored by GLAF and the Eugene M. Lang Foundation.

I arrived on Friday evening not knowing what to expect.

Sandy Flanigan and Barbara Hurd greeted me as I arrived, putting me at ease. Sandy was setting a table with snacks, fresh vegetables, and fruit, while Barb guided me to a table where a vast array of material was at my disposal.

I went in not knowing whether I had "real talent" or not, afraid I wouldn't measure up to the others. What I came away with was immeasurable! I had forgotten how hard I could work my brain. I remembered!

I was given three days of absolute pleasure to learn; three days to get to know nine other writers, to share feelings, ideas, and hopes.

I want to thank everyone involved for that weekend and to let them know that a whole new world of poetry has been given to me and I won't waste it! Thanks to GLAF and the Lang Foundation, to Barb, Sandy, Jack, Mikal, Mary Kay, Mary Lucille, Elissa, Yvette, Margaret, and Janet!

In closing, for Jack, subscribe, subscribe, subscribe to the Writer's Round Table! (P.O. Box 509, McHenry, MD 21541).

Thanks again,
Libby Kitzmiller

P.S. Thanks to all the friends and family who came over to our reading/reception and to Heather and Steve for making it "My Day!"

To the Editor:

I simply cannot believe that in a wonderful community such as we live in, Richard Hill and Jann Dehus cannot resolve the issues of how to drink tea and be tolerant of each other's peculiar differences. I have been hesitant to enter into this fray, but the time has come for another "Angel in the Wings" to come forward.

Being a person who puts his actions where his mouth is, I quickly have become a Charter member to support this theatre project, hoping to bring sensibility and peace between these two people. But I know the issues are larger than I am, so I am calling upon the other "priestly" boys (and girls) of the local clergy to assist me. Since we all now have sandwich type billboard signs in front of our churches and special ads in the local newspaper (supporting the retirements of sign-painter ... Barry ... and newspaper editor Don), we all ought to dedicate some of our resources and support to more lofty and heavenly issues.

Now since we all are "booked" on Saturday evenings, perhaps we can take the leisure Sunday evenings and continue to enjoy our mutual fellowship on Sundays at 7:00 p.m. at the Readers' Theatre Series. So, Revs. Mike, Roger, Ann, and Chip, I am calling on you and your churches to become "Leading Men/Women" or "Angels in the Wings" and to join the support with my congregations behind the "Our Town Theatre Project." And, then, may we all continue to enjoy our laughter in peace and enjoy our mint juleps on the veranda.

Sincerely,
Rev. F. Richard Spencer,
Pastor

To the Editor:

As a taxpayer in this county, I am writing this letter as an open letter to the Commissioners of Garrett County and requesting that it be published in The Republican.

We all have heard of the problems within and surrounding the Health Department, but under the Freedom of Information Act, I am requesting that the County Commissioners and the county attorney give a full disclosure of the "Physical Recovery Plan" for the Health Department.

There are a lot of questions I have about employees of the Health Department whose jobs had been terminated and who have been laid off, then rehired on contractual basis. I feel that there are questions that others have that need to be addressed, but until this "Fiscal Recovery Plan" is made available to the taxpayers, we will never know those answers.

There are other departments within the county and state that need greater emphasis on management and layoffs than "home care." What are we doing to those taxpayers who need this care in the late stages of their lives and cannot afford hospital care? We are losing some of the best nurses in the county, and need to address other areas of government rather than "home care."

I am requesting the county commissioners come up with a "study" and tell the public how many jobs there are in this county that are "tax based" and how many jobs that are in the private sector that support those. I think the people in this county deserve to know the total of those jobs and whether they are state or county. I think the totals will surprise everyone.

Are there enough jobs in the private sector" to cover the cost of these employees and their benefits?

Thank you.

To the Editor:

In last week's Republican I read Ms. Joyce Lyons Terhes' letter concerning Congressman Bartlett's support of the Republican-sponsored Taxpayer Relief Act. I tried to refrain from responding; honestly I did. But I must. To describe this bill as "tax relief to hard-working Maryland families" is like describing the sinking of the Titanic as a minor boating accident. Unless the hard-working Maryland families are also among the richest people of the state.

In an almost "Limbaughist" double-speak, Ms. Terhes distorts the facts by stating that "more than half of all taxpayers claiming capital gains earn less than $50,000 per year." That may be true, but what is a more revealing and less misleading fact is that 90% of all tax dollars raised from the present capital gains tax structure is paid by the richest 10% of all taxpayers. Yes, you and I may pay taxes on our mutual fund or stock profits, but it is normally a minimal amount to begin with. Since the profits from the sale of a personal residence by persons over the age of 55 is still exempt from taxation, our senior citizens are not affected by those transactions. And let's face it, most people with income under $50,000 are earning their money the old fashioned way--they earn it--they are not investing and selling large portfolios of stock or selling high value real estate investments and having to pay taxes at a regular income level. It just isn't so. But it does look good in print in selling tax relief for the wealthiest people in the nation to lead us all to think it is good for the "hard-working Maryland families."

I, like many of you I suppose, have grown increasingly sick of the distortion of the truth by those we entrust with the responsibility to govern in attempting to make themselves or their political party appear to be "right." Ms. Terhes' letter was just one more in a long line of propaganda trying to present a case for their personal agendas by using half truths or statistics that have no real meaning. Maybe this is a place for the media to present ALL facts surrounding issues like this so the public can decide on the merits with ALL of the information.

DRY DOG DAYS

It's mighty dry in the hollow where I live. The last significant rain we had was on May 25 and 26, about two inches. Since then the ground has had a drink or two, but nothing that could rightly be called a rain.

A professional gardener once told me his old father always said, "One extreme follows another." That leaves us with weather that tends always to be extreme. What we never know is which extreme is coming next. The summer, thus far, has been extremely dry, which followed a spring that was extremely cool (and dry), which followed a winter that was extremely warm.

I don't remember last autumn as extremely anything. The summer of '96 was extremely wet and cool. And, of course, the winter of '96 was extremely cold and snowy. When it comes to weather there are lots of kinds of extreme to choose from, only we don't get to do the choosing, which is just as well, or things would be worse than they are.

For those who haven't checked their almanacs, dog days began on July 3 and continue until August 11. These days of the dead summer have been recognized since the times of the ancient Romans, Greeks, and Babylonians (2,500 years or more). The way in which dog days appear in literature suggests that its origins are hidden before the dawn of history.

The "dog" in question is Sirius, the dog-star, who, in the constellations, is the hunting hound of Orion. The ancient Greek writer Hesiod said that "Sirius parches head and knees." Dog days are associated with what is called "the helical rising" of Sirius. That means the star rises at the same time as the sun.

One of the problems of setting a fixed date for dog days is that the helical rising of Sirius commences at different times, depending upon latitude. The convention of ancient times seemed to shift the beginning of dog days to the entering of the sun into Leo, or 23 days after the summer solstice. That would set the beginning of dog days on or about July 13.

The lore I learned on my parents' knees was that whatever the weather at the beginning of dog days, it would continue until the end of dog days. This may indeed have been the lore of dog days in ancient times too, because conflicting things are said about it. On the one hand, as Hesiod said, it is a parching time. On the other hand, the ancients also marked that it was the season of thunder storms.

During the middle ages in England most of the lore relating to dog days was transferred to St. Swithun's Day, which falls on July 15. As with many of the saints from the period between Roman times and the Norman Conquest, we know little about St. Swithun. The most documented fact has to do with the reburial of his remains (more than a century after his death) in the newly restored Winchester Church on July 15, 971 A.D.

Legend has it that as his remains were being moved it rained like fury. Whether for that reason or for some other, most of what I have said about dog days got attached to St. Swithun's Day. As was the habit of medieval times, the device for remembering the lore of St. Swithun's Day was to render it in verse (all the easier to be recalled by faulty memories). In these lines St. Swithun's Day takes on a persona, and is being addressed.

St. Swithun's Day if thou dost rain
For forty days it will remain;
St. Swithun's Day if thou be fair
For forty days 'twill rain na mair--

The high-tech modern person does not need any of this lore, ancient or medieval, because we have our own priesthood of weather. Week after week they explain to us why we did not get the rain we might have gotten and which--the day before--they suggested we would get. With precise retrospective accuracy they tell us that it is dry, dangerously dry. But then, we already knew that.

To the Editor:

No one really knows for sure, but it was some time around 1913 that the Sunday School class of the Emmanuel Lutheran Church in Bittinger began holding picnics on the Perry Broadwater farm (presently Brenneman's Grove). Mr. Broadwater bought the farm in 1891. Somewhere along the way, the Sunday School picnic became know as the "Bittinger Picnic." The grove was known as Broadwater's Grove until the 1940s when it became Brenneman's Grove. Perry's daughter, Mary, and her husband, Lawrence Brenneman, began operating the farm in the 1930s, which was the reason for the name change. The descendants of the family have continued the name of Brenneman's Grove.

The Bittinger Picnic has been held there ever since. Some folks recall that dur-

Development Map Approved; Zoning Hearing Date Set

The comprehensive development map for Friendsville was approved during the Tuesday night town meeting following a public hearing. A date has now been set for the public hearing on the updated town planning and zoning ordinances.

The comprehensive development map for the town provides a long-range plan for land use by the town through a visual representation of types of development that will be permitted in different areas.

According to Spencer Schlosnagle, town mayor, changes to the previous ordinances were minimal. "The last review we did was about five years ago," he said. At that time many adjustment were needed because it had been 15 or 20 years since the ordinances had been updated, he explained.

Several revisions have been made in zoning districts to make them more compatible with county ordinances. The map of the comprehensive plan for the town is divided according to these zones, Schlosnagle said. "We've changed the terms R-1, R-2, and such. Zones are now termed TR for town residential, TC for town center, and SR for suburban residential," he said.

Both the map and the ordinances developed for the Friendsville area are compliant with the state regulations on sensitive areas, flood plains, steep slopes, stream buffers, and management of future growth and development.

Schlosnagle explained that in managing the growth of the town, it is his hope that its historic colonial heritage may be highlighted. "We want to deal more with historic preservation. I'm looking at getting back to using colonial colors for buildings," he said.

The town has purchased some new Christmas decorations through donations by business people and residents, which, the mayor said, will reflect the colonial theme.

The tax rate for town residents, Schlosnagle stated, has dropped this year from $.61 to $.59 per $100, while the town has been able to continue providing amenities including trash removal, paving, and snow removal.

The hearing for the planning and zoning ordinances is set for Aug. 4, 7 p.m., at Town Hall. The development map will be available for public viewing and comment on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. for 10 days.

Bloodmobile To Visit Oakland Friday, July 25

A special summer blood drive will be held at the Proctor Kildow Post 71 American Legion hall, Oakland, on Friday, July 25, from 11:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. According to a spokesperson for the American Red Cross, blood inventory is "very low" and all eligible donors are urged to attend. The goal of the visit is 75 units.

In critical need right now are blood types O negative and A negative, and those listed as in urgent need are types O positive, A positive, B positive, and B negative.

Each unit of donated blood can be used to help three to four patients, according to the ARC spokesperson. The Johnstown Region of the ARC supplies blood and blood products to area hospitals, including Garrett County Memorial.

Donors must be at least 17 years old, weigh at least 105 pounds, and be in generally good health. More information may be obtained by calling 1-800-54-BLOOD.

Local persons are also reminded that the ARC bloodmobile will also be at Zion Lutheran Church in Accident this Friday, July 18, from noon to 6 p.m.

CUCUMBER FORCE is the name of a local band that has been entertaining this summer, and a couple of Deep Creek Lake businesses have been hosting them in order to provide some good, safe fun for area and visiting teens. The Harbor at Silver Tree Inn will be the place this Sunday, July 20, from 2 to 5 p.m. There is no admission charge. Cucumber Force and two other bands - Josiah, of Philippi, W.Va., and Feedback, based in Keyser, W.Va. - will also perform during Willyfest 1997 at Dr. Willy's Great American Seafood, slated for Aug. 9. Members of Cucumber Force, pictured above from left, are: Seth Folickman, David Peterson, John Menker, and Tim Beckman, all local residents. Support for the teen events has been coordinated and solicited by Steve Folickman, who reports that many business people have been responsive and willing to participate. "We are just trying to find something for the kids to do on Sunday afternoons that is fun and safe, and nearly everyone I have asked for some financial support has been very generous," the elder Folickman said. "Silver Tree and Dr. Willy's really don't make much money providing the locations for these events. They just want to support them and see the kids have a good time." Folickman said that, besides the music, there are dance contests and volleyball games available at the events. "We had about 100 kids at the last one (July 6), and they seemed to have a great time," he said.

Trio Arrested, Charged With Drug Violations

A driver and his two passengers were arrested by Garrett County sheriff's deputies and charged with possession of a controlled dangerous substance (CDS), after being stopped on the grounds of the Timbers on the Yough Association.

The vehicle, being driven by David Allan Smith, 30, Oakland, was stopped as deputies were checking on a complaint of the vehicle's occupants driving dangerously and disturbing the peace. During the course of the onscene investigation, Smith's vehicle was searched, and marijuana was found in the car as well as in his mouth when deputies checked it prior to administering an intoximeter breath test.

Smith was arrested and charged with possession of a controlled dangerous substance (CDS) and driving while intoxicated (DWI). His two passengers, Dean Francis Norton, 34, and Freda May Curtis, 34, both of Mtn. Lake Park, were also arrested and each was charged with CDS possession.

Smith was subsequently released on a $500 bond. Norton and Curtis were each released on their own recognizance.

Michael Milton McRobie, 38, Swanton, was arrested after threatening his wife, who was seeking refuge from him inside an M Street residence in Mtn. Lake Park. McRobie was charged with burglary after it was determined that he allegedly broke into the house through a basement window to remove their children from the house. He reportedly was intoxicated, and was still on the scene when deputies arrived and placed him under arrest. He was subsequently released on his own recognizance.

A jogger suffered minor injuries after being struck by a vehicle on the Oakland-Rosedale Road on the morning of July 13.

The driver of the vehicle, Georgia Lucille Harvey, 33, Mtn. Lake Park, told investigating deputies that she was checking the vehicle behind her in her rearview mirror when she returned her attention to the roadway in front of her and saw the jogger too late to avoid striking him. James Ralph Browning, 44, Oakland, was struck in the leg by Harvey's car, sustaining injuries to his right foot. He was transported to Garrett County Memorial Hospital by the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad, where he was treated and released. A citation was issued to Harvey charging her with a violation in the accident, but the details were unavailable.

A hit and run accident occurred in the early morning hours of this past Saturday on Route 135 just west of E Street in Mtn. Lake Park. No injuries were sustained in the two-car accident.

Christine Tasker, 36, Oakland, was reportedly traveling westbound on Route 135 when she allegedly crossed the centerline and struck a vehicle being driven in the opposite direction by John Lewis Griffin, 56, Oakland. Griffin reported to the sheriff's office that when it became apparent to him that the other vehicle was not going to stop, he turned his around and proceeded to follow it, stopping to call the tag into the dispatcher.

Tasker and her vehicle were subsequently located at her residence, and she was issued a citation charging her with a violation in regard to the accident, but the details were unavailable.

The Oakland Moose Lodge on Hutton Road was the scene of an attempted burglary this past week. Deputies are investigating the discovery of an apparent attempt to gain entry through a side bathroom window by the subject(s) removing several panes of glass from the window. Successful entry was not gained, however.

A van parked on D Street in Mtn. Lake Park was damaged by subject(s) throwing eggs this past Saturday night. The damage is estimated at $500.

Several arrests occurred in recent days as the result of warrant service by the Garrett County Sheriff's Office.

James Nelson Livengood, 40, Oakland, was arrested and charged with violation of probation, and subsequently released on a $2,000 bond.

Samuel Wade Knox, 33, Grantsville, was arrested and charged with violation of probation, and was subsequently released on a $2,000 bond.

Brenda K. Chapman, 24, Oakland, was arrested on a bench warrant charging her with passing bad checks. She was subsequently released on her own recognizance.

Barbershop Chorus To Be Next GLAF Event At GCC

An evening of harmony and nostalgia awaits the Garrett Lakes Arts Festival (GLAF) audience on July 25 when the Mountainaire Barbershop Chorus takes the stage in the Garrett Community College theatre. Set for 8 p.m., this concert is being sponsored by the Wisp Resort.

Representing the Clarksburg-Fairmont Chapter of the Society of the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America, the Mountainaire Chorus has won first place awards in contests for five consecutive years. Its 43 members work to perpetuate the art of male four-part unaccompanied singing.

The feature quartet of the chorus -- The Mason-Dixon Line -- were the 1991 champions for the Johnny Appleseed District of the Barbershop Society. Dave Callis, Mtn. Lake Park, sings bass with this group.

Barbershop style singing consists of a simple melody led by the second tenor, referred to as the lead. A harmony sung above lead by a tenor, a strong bass on the low notes, and a baritone filling in the rest of the chord creates the full, distinctive sound.

Although many of the Mountainaires' songs will be from a "by-gone" era, the singers have also adapted more recent tunes to the barbershop style. Favorites will be heard as well, including "Swanee," "Emaline," and "Mary Lou."

Tickets for the concert are available at the GLAF office (301-387-3082) or at the following pharmacies: Gregg's, Beachy's, Deep Creek, or Englander's. Admission is $8 for adults and $4 for persons ages 17 and younger.

Programs of GLAF are partially funded by the Garrett County and Maryland State arts councils.

Bethany Browning Recognized For Nursing Excellence

Bethany Browning, RN, CCRN, a cardiac rehabilitation nurse at Garrett County Memorial Hospital, was one of 51 nurses from Maryland's acute care hospitals recognized as part of the 1997 "A Celebration of Nursing Excellence," which is sponsored by MHA: The Association of Maryland Hospitals and Health Systems.

Maryland Governor Parris N. Glendening joined MHA President Cal Pierson and MHA Board Chair David Daneker in presenting the awards during a ceremony on Thursday, May 29, at Government House in Annapolis.

Maryland hospitals statewide were invited to honor one nurse who demonstrates the highest standards of nursing. The program recognizes the valuable contributions nurses make as members of the health care team. Nurses considered for recognition are required to be staff nurses engaged in direct patient care at least 60 percent of the time. They must also be unit-based and responsible for patient care for an entire tour of duty, treatment or hospital encounter.

"Bethany is not only recognized for her skill in rendering patient care, but for delivering that care in an atmosphere of trust and comfort that is reassuring to patients and their families. I have personally observed the exceptional emotional and physical support she gives them. Throughout Garrett Memorial, Bethany is recognized for her competence, compassion and professionalism," said Joyce Andrews, RN, director of nursing.

Coronary Intensive Care nurse Donna Crawford, RN, added, "Bethany's commitment to the nursing profession is evident through her continuing efforts to maintain high standards of care and her dedication to improving the practice of nursing at Garrett Memorial."

RECOGNIZED FOR EXCELLENCE -- Bethany Browning, RN, CCRN, a cardiac rehabilitation nurse at Garrett County Memorial Hospital, was recognized for nursing excellence through this year's A Celebration of Nursing Excellence program sponsored by the MHA: The Association of Maryland Hospitals and Health Systems. Ms. Browning is pictured with Maryland Governor Parris N. Glendening at the awards ceremony held in late May at the Government House in Annapolis.

In his remarks, Governor Glendening noted that the nurses being recognized "are on the cutting edge of changes in our health care delivery and are leading or participating in changes that will provide Maryland citizens with the high quality of care they have come to expect." He added that the efforts of these and all Maryland hospital nurses also are "ensuring that patients receive the highest quality of care while hospital stays are decreasing and health-care costs are facing increased scrutiny."

"A Celebration of Nursing Excellence allows us to recognize the ever-expanding role of nurses in hospitals today and to honor those who have demonstrated that they are among the best and the brightest," said MHA President Calvin M. Pierson. "The nurses recognized here epitomize the qualities necessary to continue the success of this health care evolution."

Mothers Learn To Make World Safer For Kids

Young mothers recently had the opportunity to learn how to make their children's world a safer one by reducing risks from choking, poison, abuse, and injuries.

Representative from five local service groups joined forces at a workshop called Safety Safari, which was held at Garrett Community College. The presenters focused on helping the parents learn to identify potential dangers that are common in the home and hazards of traveling in a car.

Prevention of child abuse was the topic covered by Debbie Holler of the Domestic Violence/Sexual Assault Resource Center. Holler explored with the parents ways to identify and protect against verbal and emotional abuse. She also stressed the importance of identifying bad behavior rather than labeling a child as bad.

Elizabeth Huxford of the American Red Cross demonstrated techniques to recognize and give relief to a choking infant and child.

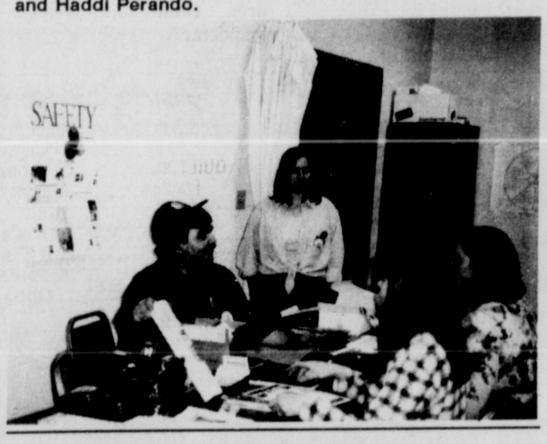
Safe eating guidelines were explained by Anna Marie Bowman, RN. She suggested cutting round foods such as grapes and hot dogs lengthwise into pieces and advised parents to not feed honey to a child under age 4.

Bedtime safety hints, provided by Gretchen Durst, AmeriCorps member with the Garrett County Health Department, including warnings on putting a baby to bed with a bottle. This practice can contribute to development of cavities in the teeth or even choking.

There were other subjects covered and information shared with the young mothers at this one day seminar, which was organized by Huxford and coordinated Barbara Frey, director, and Virginia Jeffrey, intake counselor for the Caring Connection program at GCC.

Funding for the event came from a mini-grant program of the Parent Education Network, and donations from AmeriCorps, Arrowhead Market, the Dental Health Group, Discovery Toys, Garrett County American Red Cross, Garrett County Health Department, Gerber Products Company, Heinz Company, Proudfoot's Pharmacy, and Water Street Market Place.

DANGERS IN THE HOME were explored and explained by presenters at the Safety Safari Workshop held recently at GCC. Mothers learned how to protect their children from many hazards hidden in daily routines. Above, Anna Marie Bowman, RN, is pictured as she demonstrates some "dos and don'ts" in preparing food for small children. Below, Michael Gibbons and Gretchen Durst, AmeriCorps, discuss home safety aids with workshop participants Kelly Rush and Haddi Perando.



SAFETY SAFARI WORKSHOP participants met at GCC recently to learn some useful information on child safety for everyday use. Specialists from county organizations shared facts including those on household products that could be poisonous and ways to serve food to babies to avoid choking. Historical RR Meeting Changed

The Western Maryland Chapter, National Railway Historical Society, has rescheduled the monthly social meeting for July.

Instead of being held on Thursday, July 17, this meeting will be held on Thursday, July 24. The change was necessary in order to accommodate the guest speaker, R. Robert Bitzer, NRHS vice president for the mid-Atlantic region.

Bitzer will give an illustrated talk on the mining railroads of Minnesota. This meeting is open to the public and will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the Western Maryland Station Center on Canal Street, Cumberland.

Anyone wishing more information may call 301-722-2101.

GCC To Offer New Employment Skills Training

A new employment skills training program will start September 8 at Garrett Community College. According to a GCC spokesman, this 630-hour program is designed to quickly prepare program completers with the skills needed to assume positions in various work settings. The program addresses the needs of those with limited job experiences, as well as those of laid off or displaced workers who need training in order to transition into a new field.

The specialty areas that will be a part of the new program have been selected because they offer the most immediate employment opportunities, the spokesman said. The nursing assistant specialty will prepare students for nursing assistant and geriatric aide positions in local health care settings. The office skills training will prepare participants for positions in small business office work. The small business management will be valuable for those wanting to start their own small businesses.

The training will begin with approximately 300 hours of core skills training in math, language, computer applications, problem solving, fitness, and interpersonal and job-keeping skills. Simultaneously, students will be trained in one of the following specialty areas: nursing assistant training, small business management, or office skills. After completion of the specialty training, students will be placed in work sites for practical on-the-job training.

Upon the successful completion of the work site experience, students will be awarded short-term training certificates and will be assisted by their job coach in obtaining employment.

This program is being developed and implemented by the small business programs area of the Continuing Education Division of GCC. Sandy Major is serving as the program coordinator. Those interested in learning more about this program are invited to contact her at 301-387-3101.

Date Set For Fourth Annual Md. Arts Camp

The Fourth Annual Maryland Arts Camp West will be held at Frostburg State University July 21 - August 8.

Formerly known as the Alvin Ailey Camp Maryland West, the day camp will expose 50 middle school students from Allegany, Garrett, and Washington counties to various art forms through classes and lecture demonstrations.

Phadelma Ashley, the camp's director, is a middle school teacher in Baltimore County. She will be introducing theater skills as well as directing the closing day production, "Cindy."

Instructors for the camp are Lloyd Whitmore, director of the Florida Dance Theater; David Cole, formerly with the Delphonics; Roberta Clark, guidance counselor of Washington Middle School; and Nancy Steele, former professional dancer.

While learning about dance, music, creative dramatics, and personal development, the campers will have a chance to meet the Washington Redskins, who are training at FSU. They will also hear from FSU English professor James Richardson, who will be giving lecture demonstrations on music and poetry.

The campers were selected by the principals of their respective schools. They will be transported from Allegany and Garrett counties with the help of the Allegany and Garrett county boards of education. Washington County campers will be transported as well.

Attendance at this year's Maryland Arts Camp West is free because of the support from various sources, including the Maryland State Arts Council, the Donaldson Foundation, FSU, and the Washington, Garrett, and Allegany county arts councils.

Miss Cooley Becomes Bride Of Mr. Brill During May 31 Event

Lori L. Cooley, formerly of Mtn. Lake Park, and David G. Brill, Wellsboro, Pa., were united in marriage in an outdoor ceremony in Harrisburg, Pa., on Saturday, May 31. Officiating at the double-ring nuptials was Rev. Claudell Heffner County, Mechanicsburg, Pa.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her brother, Scott E. Kapel, Swanton. She wore a floor-length gown of white brocade satin, designed and hand-fashioned by her grandmother, Elsie Show, Hopwood, Pa. The fingertip veil was made by the bride of silk illusion and ruffled lace, trimmed with white silk roses and sprays of baby's breath and pearls. Her accessories included a freshwater pearl necklace and matching earrings, a gift of the groom. She carried a cascade bouquet of iridescent white silk roses, baby's breath, and accents of pearl sprays trimmed with miniature ivy leaves and mint and lilac ribbons.

Maid of honor was Megan Cooley, daughter of the bride. She wore a lilac silk gown and carried a bouquet of white, lilac, and mint green roses trimmed with matching ribbons. Bridesmaid was Angela Maust, friend of the bride, Accident, who wore a matching lilac silk gown and carried a bouquet similar to that of the maid of honor. Junior bridesmaid was Ashley Show, cousin of the bride, who wore a mint green brocade print dress trimmed with a white lace oversized collar. She carried a nosegay of mint, lilac, and white roses and matching ribbons.

Best man for the groom was his father, George G. Brill, Wellsboro, and usher was his brother, James G. Brill, Harrisburg. Ringbearer was Troy David DeWitt, son of the bride. All the groomsmen wore black tuxedos with matching silk brocade vests and boutonnieres of silk rosebuds.

Mothers of the bride and groom were presented with corsages of white silk roses and lilac or mint ribbons, as were her grandmother and Roberta Show, aunt of the bride, who attended the guest book and the cutting of the cake. Photos were also taken by Mrs. Maust during the reception.

Catering of the meal was handled by Catering of Course, Etters, Pa., and the three-tiered wedding cake was designed and baked by D&B Pastry Shop.

Music was provided by Jeffrey Cooley, brother of the bride, Mtn. Lake Park. All bouquets, corsages, and flowers for the wedding party and tables were designed and hand-made by the bride.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Carol L. Cox, Mtn. Lake Park. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Brill, Wellsboro.

A rehearsal dinner was given by Mr. and Mrs. Brill at Catalano's Restaurant in Wormleysburg, Pa.

The new Mrs. Brill was graduated from Southern High School in 1985 and is employed as office manager for PA Pipe, Inc., a division of Skyline Steel Corporation in Camp Hill, Pa.

Oakland 9, 10 All-Stars Lose 5-4 Thriller

Championship games are supposed to be exciting, and no fan was disappointed in the Maryland District 1A championship held last Wednesday between Oakland and West End in Boonsboro. The game was filled with good pitching and defense and was not decided until the ninth inning, as West End squeezed out a 5-4 win.

The spectacular play of Oakland shortstop Corey Bosley accounted for 12 of West End's outs.

Having defeated West End earlier in the week, Oakland needed to duplicate the feat to capture the district title. West End jumped out to a 1-0 lead in the top of the first inning. Oakland quickly tied the score in the bottom of the inning with a two-out, RBI single by Brad Reese.

West End again went on top, 2-1, in the third, but Oakland again tied the game in the bottom of the inning. Oakland then gained the lead in the fourth, 3-2, only to see West End tie it at 3-3 in the fifth.

With the winning run in scoring position and one out, Oakland failed to end the game in the bottom of the sixth. In the top of the seventh, West End regained the lead, only to see Oakland tie the game at 4-4.

Again, Oakland had the bases loaded with one out and could not end the contest. Neither team could score in the eighth. As darkness set in, tournament officials were preparing another field, with lights, in Hagerstown, so the teams could finish the game. The umpiring crew decided to allow the ninth inning to be played and West End took the lead 5-4 on a sacrifice fly.

Oakland was not to go down easy, however, as Scott Wildesen led off with a walk and advanced to third on a wild pitch and a fielder's choice. In extremely poor light conditions, Corey Bosley fouled off seven 3-2 pitches before popping out to the West End shortstop to end the game.

Corey Tressler pitched the first three innings for Oakland and Brad Reese hurled the final six.

Manager Steve Reese said, "It would have been a tough loss for either team, but I am extremely proud of these players. They represented Oakland in a fine way and delighted fans from both West End and the South Mountain Little League."

Each Oakland player received a District Little League pin, and the team received a runner-up trophy.

Oakland 11-12s Eliminated From District Event

The 11- and 12-year-old Oakland Little League All-Stars saw their hopes for a District I title dashed when they lost to National, 7-4, in the double-elimination tourney this past weekend. The Oakland team fell to National in their first game, 17-9, to fall into the losers' bracket, then won three straight before being ousted in their fifth contest.

The 17-9 loss to National of Hagerstown was filmed by an ABC Television film crew for a special on Little League baseball. Randy Chapman provided some of the fireworks by smacking a pair of home runs for Oakland, while teammate Kevin Goralski had a two-run shot in the first inning. A.J. Bender paced the Oakland defense.

The Oakland team then rolled over Hancock, 11-0, as Goralski fired a four-hitter. Danny O'Brien and Tobi Stoner each had home runs.

The local all-stars then played their only home game of the tourney and knocked West End of Hagerstown out of the event with a 9-2 victory. Dennis Tressler tossed a four-hitter, and Billy Reams and Goralski each hit home runs. Other key hits were by Mike McCauley and Brandon Louden. The victory avenged a loss to West End the previous year, which had eliminated the Oakland team from the tournament.

Oakland then played at Clear Spring and recorded a 3-2 win, as Tobi Stoner recorded a two-hitter and struck out 11 batters. Zack Savage had an RBI single for Oakland and O'Brien scored two runs.

The local team then had to face National again and, despite strong pitching efforts by Dennis Tressler and a 3-0 first-inning lead, Oakland could not hold on for the win. Dan Vagnetti, Matt Stephens, and Chris Hoff each had key hits in Oakland's first inning.

"We had a strong showing in the district tournament, but just couldn't get by a strong National team," stated Oakland manager Tracy Rinard. "Our players worked very hard in practice and defeated some quality opponents."

The Oakland 11- and 12-year-old all-star teams have fared well in district play over the past five years, as the 1993 team finished fifth, the 1994 team won the district title and the state tournament, the 1995 team placed third, and the 1996 team lost in the district finals. This year's team placed fifth among 16 teams.

The Little League tournament, the national finals of which are played in Williamsport, Pa., in front of a national television audience, is one of the oldest baseball events in the country.

Senior League All-Stars Will Meet Thurmont

The Oakland Little League Senior All-Stars, who captured the Maryland District I title last week, will play a sectional series this weekend against the District II champion, Thurmont. The best-of-three series will begin Friday evening, with the second and, if necessary, third games scheduled for Saturday. All of the games will be played at Thurmont.

The winner of the series will advance to the Maryland North State title game.

Garrett County Tennis Open To Begin On Friday

The annual Garrett County Tennis Open will be played this weekend on the Mtn. Lake Park Tennis Club clay courts along Rt. 135, with play slated to get underway Friday and be concluded Sunday.

According to Darrell Gregory of the Mountain Lake Tennis Center, competition will be held in the following categories: men's A and B singles; women's A and B singles; men's doubles, women's doubles; men's 45 and over; women's 45 and over; mixed doubles; boys 18 and under; boys 15 and under; girls 18 and under; and girls 15 and under. The tournament referee reserves the right to cancel any of the categories if there is not a sufficient number of players.

The deadline to register for the tournament is 7 p.m. this evening. Those wishing to enter may contact Gregory at 301-334-4641.

The Mtn. Lake Park Tennis Club courts are among the few remaining red clay courts in the east, and have also been the site of the annual Western Maryland Championships for the past 75 years. That event will be held this year July 31-Aug. 3 (see separate story).

Oakland League 13-Year-Olds Win Sectional

The Oakland Little League Junior All-Stars (age 13), who captured the District I title last week, swept the District II champion, Taneytown, over the weekend to win the sectional title and advance to the Maryland North State title round against Elkton.

The locai team won the first game, 12-1, over Taneytown behind strong pitching of Bryson Meyers and J.B. Murphy. Leading the offense were Chad Panther, Bryan Schwalm, and Bryan Hauser, who each recorded two hits. Brad Palmer and Joel Helbig each scored twice.

Oakland won the second game, 9-6, after taking a 3-0 lead in the first inning on a bases-loaded double by Ryan Ewing and never trailing. Meyers hit a home run and a double, and defensive standouts were Steve Eiswert, Ricky Reams, J.J. Bolyard, and D.R. Parsons.

"Our team defense was again outstanding," stated manager Tort Helbig. "Our coaches - Jim Ford and Karl Schwalm - prepared the defense and the offense flawlessly."

The Oaklanders will play at Elkton July 22-23, and the winner of that sectional will move on to the Mid-Atlantic regional in Millsboro, Del.

The local all-stars have advanced in both district and sectional play without a loss and are one of four teams left in the state still competing in the national tournament.

Final preparations are underway for the 11 a.m. Saturday, July 19, scrimmage between the Washington Redskins and the Pittsburgh Steelers at Frostburg State University.

A tribute to the late Jack Kent Cooke, Washington Redskins owner who died in April, will be included in this year's event.

The Redskins/Steelers scrimmage at FSU's Bobcat Stadium will be the only scrimmage the Redskins will hold this year. Gates will open at 9 a.m. with the Redskins and Steelers beginning drills at 11 a.m. and the scrimmage starting at noon. The scrimmage will be held rain or shine.

Tickets for the event are still available at several locations throughout Western Maryland. The main ticket outlet is the Frostburg State University Bookstore in the Lane Center on the FSU campus.

Other ticket outlets include Wisp Ski Resort in McHenry and Gregg's Pharmacy in Oakland.

Credit card purchases can be made over the phone by calling the FSU Bookstore at 301-687-4341. Tickets may also be purchased at the gate on the day of the scrimmage starting at 9 a.m.

All seats are general admission priced at $6.50. Children age 3 and under will be admitted free of charge.

Parking is free on the FSU campus for the day of scrimmage only.

This will be a controlled scrimmage, which consists of 10 offensive plays in a row. There are no ball possession rules. Although there are no first downs related to possession, yardage is kept and marked by linesmen to assist the coaches in trying out different types of plays.

Frostburg State University is committed to making all of its programs, services, and activities accessible to persons with disabilities. Persons may request accommodations through the ADA Compliance Office, FSU Library Room 228, 301-687-7955.

Western Garrett Records Three Hot Stove Wins

Western Garrett upped its Hot Stove Baseball League record to 12-3 this past week by recorded three victories, a 14-4 thrashing of visiting CSX on Friday, and 8-6 defeat of host Knights of Columbus in Cumberland on Saturday, and a big 3-2 edging of Frostburg First United last night in Frostburg. The local team will play again this Friday in Friendsville against Boal's Funeral Home.

The Western Garrett bats recorded a total of 20 hits against CSX on Friday, with Tim Umbel leading the way with a home run, a triple, a double, and a single for six RBI. Mark Wolfe finished with three triples, P.J. Workman had a triple and two singles, Ryan Savage doubled and singled, and Brian Lenhart provided three singles.

Workman, who pitched the first four innings of the five-inning game (shortened by the 10-run rule), earned the win on the mound, as he yielded four hits and struck out seven.

Nathan Dorsey hit a triple and a single for CSX (7-7) and Matt Winters added a double.

Workman maintained his momentum into Saturday's game against K of C, as he rapped three singles in Western Garrett's eight-hit effort. Dave Wampler and Mark Wolf each hit doubles.

Keith Artis and Ryan Savage combined on a six-hitter, as Artis pitched the first five innings. Jarod Fradiska hit a triple and a single for K of C (5-7) and Aaron Vagonia added a double.

The win last night over First United was a major one for Western Garrett, as the host team came in with a league-leading 13-1 record, and the Garrett County team accomplished victory with just one hit as Frostburg hurt themselves with four errors.

Western Garrett scored a pair of runs in the first inning after runners reached second and third on an error and a sacrifice bunt. Ryan Savage followed with a sacrifice fly to score the first run and the second was scored moments later on an error.

Savage recorded the only Western Garrett hit of the day, which was a single.

Brant Green pitched a strong game for Western Garrett, as he allowed only three hits in going the distance. Skidmore had a double, Koppel hit a run-producing single, and Llewellyn singled.

Sisler Lumber Splits A Pair; Record Is 12-2

Sisler Lumber Company split a pair of Hot Stove League games this past week, losing to visiting Cumberland Optimist last Friday, 4-2, at Northern High School, and then rolling over host Flintstone on Tuesday, 10-0. The local team remains on top of the Hot Stove standings with a 13-2 record, and will go after win number 13 this afternoon at home against the Frostburg Eagles.

Matt Wright went the distance for Optimist on Friday, struck out 14 Sisler batters, and allowed only four hits.

The contest was knotted at 1-1 until the bottom of the sixth, when Optimist scored three runs and took the lead for good. Andrew Delawder led off with a single, T.J. Smith followed with a bunt single, and Billy Crippen rapped a two-run triple. Crippen then came home on a single by Wright.

Smith and Wright each had two singles in the seven-hit effort by Optimist (8-6), while Levi Schmuck hit a double for Sisler's.

The highlight of Sisler's 10-0 win over Flintstone on Tuesday was the top of the second inning, when the local team recorded eight runs. Paul Beitzel had an RBI double, Adam Brenneman hit a run-producing double, and Jeff Carr, Taylor Glotfelty, Josh Hook, and Schmuck each had an RBI single.

Carr pitched the first four innings for Sisler's and was credited with the win, as he struck out six and allowed only one hit. Adam Brenneman tossed the final inning and gave up just one hit as well. Jennifer Wharton took the loss.

Grantsville Post 214 had a busy week in Hot Stove League play, as the local team played four games, losing the first two, winning the third, and tying in the fourth. Grantsville was topped by the visiting Cumberland Lions on Friday, 7-4, fell to Frankfort on Saturday, 11-1, also at Grantsville, defeated Fort Ashby, 9-6, later the same day, and then tied with visiting Oldtown last night, 9-9, when darkness forced stoppage of the game. The results left the team with a 5½-9½ record.

Grantsville managed just two hits in the game against the Lions on Friday, as Lion pitchers Josh Covalt and Jacob Growden combined for 14 strike-outs. Mario Bascelli led the Lion offense with a three-run homer in the fourth inning, while Covalt hit a double and a single, Brandon King doubled, and Growden had two singles.

In the loss to Frankfort, the Grantsville offense had only one hit, a single by Jed Wilhelm.

Meanwhile, Frankfort finished with eight hits, with Justin Albright providing a double and a single, D.J. Bittinger hitting two singles, and Derek Folmer connecting for a double. It was the eighth win in 14 starts for Frankfort.

Jim Kenner had a good day on the mound for Grantsville in the game against Fort Ashby, as he scattered four hits in five innings and got two effective innings of relief from Jim Yoder.

Roy Holliday and Jed Wilhelm led Grantsville at the plate with two doubles each, while Yoder contributed a double and a single for two RBI.

Scott Fridley had three singles for Fort Ashby and Justin Llewellyn hit a double and a single.

Justin Robinson paced Grantsville's offense in the tie with Oldtown last night, as he smacked two doubles and a single, while Jeremy Rice recorded a double and a single.

The contest went seven innings before having to be called for darkness. Parker led Oldtown with three singles and Morris had a double and a single.

It was the final game for Oldtown, which concluded with a 1½-14½ mark. Grantsville will visit the Medicine Shoppe this Friday.

Garrett County Tops Farrady, But Then Swept

Garrett County's American Legion baseball team recorded a 9-2 victory in Mountain District play over Farrady Post at Frostburg last Thursday, but then dropped both ends of a doubleheader on Saturday to Fort Cumberland, 10-8 and 9-4. The results left the local team with a 2-3 record for the second half of the season.

Joey DiSimone led Garrett County's 14-hit attack against Farrady Post, as he recorded four hits, while Derek Everd recorded the win on the mound with a four-hitter and aided his own cause with a triple and a single.

DiSimone had a double and three singles, Matt Fritz and Chris Bittinger each hit a double and a single, and Jason Weaver contributed two singles.

There were no runs scored until the top of the third when Garrett took a 2-0 lead, and were up 5-0 before the Frostburg team scored a pair in the bottom of the sixth. Everd went the distance, allowed four singles, walked only one, and struck out eight. Getting two of those singles for Farrady Post was Jason Ricker.

Garrett County's pitching was not as effective in Saturday's doubleheader, as Fort Cumberland hitters finished the day with six home runs. Angelo Bascelli hit two in the first game and J.R. Cross rapped a pair in the second.

Bascelli's homers were for three runs and two runs in game one, while Brian Powell had a two-run blast and a single, and Josh Logsdon hit a double and a single.

Joel Uphold led Garrett County's hitting with a two-run homer and a double, but also had to take the loss on the mound, despite recording 11 strike-outs. Jim Barrett struck out seven and pitched the first six innings for Fort Cumberland to get the win.

Cross's home runs in the second game were both solo shots, as was another homer by Logsdon.

Garrett County scored all four of its runs in the top of the first inning to take a 4-0 lead against starter Bascelli, but Tom Welsh then took the mound and allowed only two hits the rest of the way. Garrett had just four hits, including two singles by Jason Weaver.

The sweep gave Fort Cumberland a 5-0 record for the second half of the season and clinched the Mountain District regular-season title.

HOW DO I GET STARTED SAILING?

by Dan Muss

As I looked at the sailboat racing fleet this past weekend, I was struck by the fact that sailing is a real family sport. Harry Carpenter was sailing this past weekend with his son Jimmy, Tom Scannell was crewing for his daughter Jennifer, Jane and Dave Mahan swap skipper/crew positions and place pretty regularly, Bruce Spinnenweber was crewing for his son Brian, John Frank was crewing for his son David, Mo and Vicky Willey moved up from the Flying Scot B Fleet to A this year and are doing quite well, Ted Rissell has as his crew his married daughter, Kathy Rubel, and Gary Schubert often takes the entire family out for the weekend races.

How does one go about getting into this challenging and exciting sport? Is it very expensive? Is it "exclusive?" Well, it's not free, but second-hand boats at reasonable cost are available and a season's mooring is within most people's budget. And this may surprise you, but the sailing crowd is anything but "exclusive." They welcome newcomers and will go out of their way to help you get started.

The best way to learn to sail is to sign up for the Deep Creek Sailing School. Tuition is reasonable for both adults and children

Somerset County Speedway

Racing resumed at the Somerset County Speedway on Saturday, July 5. Stock heat winners for the evening were Brad Reckner of Boswell and Bobby Smith of Meyersdale. Ed Kemp of Confluence was the Pro Stock heat winner.

Lonnie McKenzie of Meyersdale was the winner of the "B" Main feature. McKenzie started in second position and fought his way to the front in lap 2. Dale Wilt of Meyersdale challenged McKenzie the entire race, but was unable to gain the lead. Behind McKenzie and Wilt were Carl Arnold, Rodney Weyant, and Bill Nolf.

Fans saw an exciting "A" Main feature as Bobby Smith of Meyersdale captured the victory. John Valentine of Stoystown moved behind Smith in lap 10 and tried to steal the first position. He came close in lap 19, but Smith held him off for the win. Brad Reckner finished third, followed by Don Shaffer, Mike Jones, Dave Greer, Dan Delancey, and Glenn Pritts.

Ed Kemp of Confluence was the winner of the Pro Stock feature for the second week in a row. Kemp, Tom Humberson, and Duane Folk made it an exciting race for the fans as they exchanged places for the lead several times early in the race. Kemp took over in lap 6 and never looked back. Humberson finished second, Folk third, Duane Horning fourth, and Joe Donaldson rounded out the field in fifth.

Jason Imes of Ridgely, W.Va., was the winner of the Enduro Race. He started in pole position and led most of the race. He was followed by Tom Warren, Don Dostal, Dale Miller Jr., Scot Sturtz, Joe Fullerton, Eddie Kniseley Jr., Matt Riley, Kelly Smith, and Terry Frye Jr.

Interstate 79 Speedway

Friday, July 11, was Jack's Auto Wrecking and Stepping Stones Night at Interstate 79 Speedway. Picking up feature victories were Gary Dalton, late model; Scott Miles, semi-late; Shawn Davis, McDonald McModified; Terry Hall, dwarf car; and Paul Watson Jr., pure stock.

Mark Myers led the first few laps of the late model feature, but a spin ended his chance for a win and he tagged the tail of the field. Gary Dalton assumed the lead and had to hold off several challenges from Chuck Harper. Dalton grabbed his second win of the year in the red number 14 Target Industries Rocket and will retain his points lead. Harper had to settle for second followed by Mike Hawkins, Denny Chamberlain and Dave Groves, who had started 17th after bad luck in the heat caused him to start the main event at the tail. Rounding out the top 10 were Paul Wilmoth Jr., Nolan Dalton, Robbie Scott, Danny Hamrick, and Tim Harsh. Heat winners were Harsh and Myers.

The top two points men in the semi-late division continued with their 1-2 finishes. This week it was Scott Miles taking the win as Doug Horton tried every way he could to get around Miles. Horton is the current points leader over Miles. Finishing up third through fifth were Jerry Haseleu, Kenneth Gould, and Tim Senic. Winning the earlier heats were Haseleu and Gould.

Shawn Davis picked up the McDonald McModified win, but point leader Vic Vandergrift finished second and Davis gained very few points on the leader. Charles Cochran was third followed by Steve Cook, who was leading until he spun in the final turn, and Tom Singleton in fifth. Singleton, Cook, and Davis were also heat winners.

Terry Hall has been dominant in the past few weeks in the dwarf car class as he notched his sixth straight win. Second in points, Hall cut into the lead of Steve Mason as Mason was not present Friday night at I-79. Following Hall to the line were Bob Bolin, Eric Stoltz, Garry Sisson Jr., and Carol Rush. Hall doubled with the heat win also.

Paul Watson Jr. was probably the happiest winner as he got his first pure stock win of '97. Watson, driving his Bill Elliott look-alike, held off Gary Yost, Gary Tonkery, Bob Medved, and Jim Bendishaw. Heat winners were Danny Staggers and Pat Frazier.

Coming up this Friday, July 18, will be Skoal Racing Night, with action-packed racing in all five divisions. In two weeks, it's "Fan Appreciation Night" when admissions will be lowered, and with a $2 coupon, which will be available at local sponsors, fans can see regular racing for just $5.

ed comments of their own: "We need a more defined explanation of the route, how it will affect towns and the Lake, before we make any decision. We need a more detailed explanation now of what this will involve"; "The alignments need to be discussed now, not later"; "A public meeting is absolutely necessary to inform the public"; "A public meeting is necessary to define the project and see if it actually has citizen support."; "I'd like to see the alignment and proposed bypasses published in the paper"; "A public meeting would be a disaster, and only slow things down"; "A public meeting would only confuse the issue, and get people confused"; "It's a little late to discuss such a proposal"; "I retired early to move back to Garrett County to raise my children here. I would not support this concept if I thought it would adversely affect their future, which I don't. I think it will benefit them"; "I hope it goes right by the front door (of my business); that would make me the happiest man in Garrett County."

GCDC Passes Resolution

At the regular monthly meeting of the Garrett County Development Corporation, held in Accident last night, that body passed a resolution concerning the proposal. Specifically, the resolution reads: "Be it hereby resolved that the GCDC supports the concept of a limited access, four-lane, north-south highway in Garrett County."

There were approximately two dozen GCDC members at the meeting, and the vote was reported as unanimous.

Man Sentenced

assault. His girlfriend sought treatment at the emergency room of Garrett County Memorial Hospital (GCMH), where she was treated for bruises and lacerations, and released.

After hearing Corby's not guilty plea to the charge during last week's trial, Judge Ralph M. Burnett convicted him and gave him a six-month sentence, all but two months of which were suspended, and placed him on one year of supervised probation. Conditions of his sentence state that he have no further contact with her during the course of his probation, obtain alcohol addictions counseling, and pay $626 in restitution to GCMH to pay for the victim's medical treatment.

In another district court hearing involving a domestic incident, another Oakland man was convicted of second-degree assault on his girlfriend.

Donald Wayne Mathews, 49, had pleaded not guilty to a charge of second-degree as-sault, stemming from his May arrest at the Fingerboard Road residence he and his live-in girlfriend were sharing. During the course of an argument, he allegedly hit her in the back of the head, knocking her over a couch and to the floor. Deputies responding to the scene reported that the woman initially showed them an injury to the back of her head allegedly consistent with such a blow. When the woman refused to sign a written statement that repeated what she had told sheriff's deputies had happened, the deputies filed for the charge and arrested him.

After convicting Mathews, the judge gave him a 10-day jail sentence.

Stolen Car Found; Arrest Reported

The Garrett County Sheriff's Office recovered a vehicle stolen on Wednesday night from the residence of its Deer Park owner. One subject is in custody in connection with the incident.

Joshua DeWitt, 19, Oakland, was arrested and charged with motor vehicle theft and two counts of destruction of property. He is currently being held in the Garrett County jail on a $10,000 bond.

NEWS from THE MARYLAND FOREST, PARK & WILDLIFE SERVICE

MARYLAND'S TREE EXPERT LAW PROTECTS CONSUMERS

Are you considering having trees on your property pruned or trimmed, or contracting a business or individual to perform tree care work? If so, the Maryland Department of Natural Resources (DNR) Forest Service urges you to use the services of a licensed tree expert. A Tree Expert License issued by the Maryland DNR is required by law of anyone (individual or business) who advertises or represents himself as an arborist, tree specialist, tree surgeon, tree expert, or similar title, and charges a fee for that service. This does not include someone who simply cuts down and removes trees.

The intent of the Tree Expert Law is to insure that persons and companies involved in the performance of tree care work are competent in tree care and health standards, and are covered by liability insurance. This law is designed to protect tree health and the consumer. A licensee, in addition to being at least 18 years old and meeting certain educational or experience requirements, must also pass a written examination and show proof of liability insurance.

When selecting a tree care service, the following tips may help you to get the job done right.

1. Choose a company that advertises in the Yellow Pages of the phone book, under the heading "Tree Service."

2. Ask for one's Maryland DNR Tree Expert License number. Licenses can be verified by contacting the local MD DNR Forest Office at 301-334-3296.

3. A written estimate and a written work contract are desirable. Make sure that you know what you are getting for your money. Don't forget clean up (removing brush and/or the stump) after job completion. Beware of door-to-door soliciting.

For more information concerning the Maryland Tree Expert Law, contact the MD DNR Forest Service office at 301-334-3296.

New Admissions Team Is Formed At Garrett CC

A new team of admission representatives has been formed at Garrett Community College and new strategies developed to disseminate information about college programs and services to the community it serves.

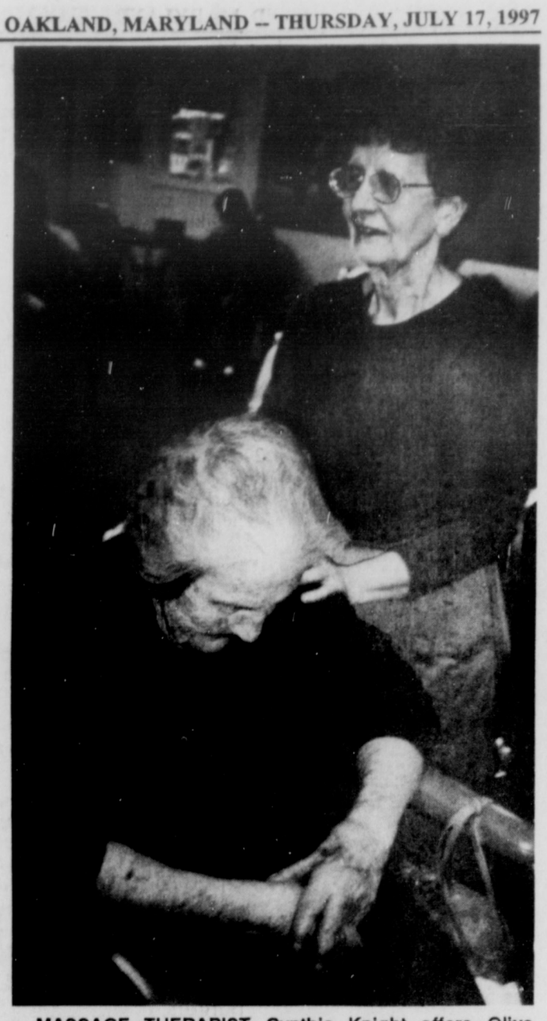
Dennis Gibson has now joined the team of Ed Wildesen and administrative assistant Darlene Reed as an admissions representative. Members of this team will visit area high schools, represent the college at fairs and career days, conduct admissions conferences, and host special campus events for prospective students.

According to Joan B. Crawford, director of enrollment development, one of these persons will visit Northern, Southern, and Preston high schools on a scheduled basis each week beginning in September. The purpose of the visits to the guidance offices will be to meet with interested students to give them information about college programs and services and to answer any questions they have. Topics of particular interest are expected to be new program options, the honors program, and articulation agreements that allow college credit to be given for specified courses taken in high school. Members of the admissions team will also visit other high schools in Western Maryland, and in nearby Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

Other strategies to improve two-way communication between the college and the high schools are being planned. "Now that the high school seniors have been scheduled on Tech Prep career paths, we would like to have college instructors from various disciplines speak to appropriate high school classes where possible," Crawford said. "We have also planned a breakfast for high school guidance counselors on September 26 to help develop better two-way communication between the college and the schools."

In addition to the regular visits to area schools, two open houses will be held for high school students, one in November and one in early April. Evening coffee hours will be scheduled for adults who are interested in learning more about GCC programs and services. The first of these is set for August 21, 5-7 p.m., in the Lakers' Cafe of the Student Center.

Anyone desiring further information about these events may call the Student Assistance Center at 301-387-3044.



MASSAGE THERAPIST Cynthia Knight offers Olive Wenzel, a client at Mountain Glade Adult Medical Day Care, a seated massage. Cynthia volunteers her time and skill at Mountain Glade on a monthly basis. She is a graduate of the Garrett Community College massage therapy program. Besides offering her services at Mountain Glade, Cynthia also offers massage therapy from her home in Grantsville. She includes full body therapeutic massage as well as seated massage. The therapy is recommended to help relieve stress as well as immune system diseases and sports injuries. She has also been licensed to perform relaxation techniques.

GCC Offering Massage Therapy Seminar Aug. 1-3

The Continuing Education and Training Division of Garrett Community College will offer a seminar titled "Multi-dimensional Approach to Touch" August 1-3. This course is designed for practicing therapists and students in the Massage Therapy curriculum.

Friday's session will meet from 6:30 to 9:45 p.m., and both Saturday and Sunday sessions will meet from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. All sessions are scheduled for the Community and Continuing Education Center, McHenry Campus, Room CE-307.

According to a GCC spokesperson, this seminar offers participants the opportunity to explore the emerging holistic paradigm and how the paradigm relates to the practice of massage therapy. The major objective of this weekend seminar is to help students expand their awareness using multi-dimensional concepts. Applications which may be useful with massage therapy clients will be stressed. Highlights of the course include the definition of dimension, relating conceptually to ancient parallels, human energy anatomy theory, vibrational concepts, and modern multi-dimensional theories. Specific topics include sensory skills, grounding, intent, intuition, awareness, and energy models. Students should dress for movement and bring a spiral notebook, pillow, and light blanket.

The instructor, Mary Finnel, is certified in reflexology, polarity therapy, and massage therapy. She has over 2,000 hours of training in integrated therapeutic massage modalities, and has a private practice in Morgantown. She is the founder of the Center for the Healing Arts, also in Morgantown. The center offers health services and classes in bodywork, yoga, and related healing arts.

Persons are asked to register at the Continuing Education and Training office, McHenry Campus, Room CE-300, no later than July 28. For additional information, persons may call 301-387-3069.

GCC Offering EMT Course; To Begin In August

The classes, which are to prepare individuals for certification as EMT-Basics, will be held on Monday and Wednesday evenings at 6:30 p.m.

The program will utilize the new Department of Transportation curriculum and include CPR (cardiopulminary resuscitation), bleeding and bandaging information, fracture immobilization, medical emergencies, and loads, lifts, and carries. The course has been expanded to include instruction in the operation of automatic external defibrillators.

The classes will conclude in January and certification exams will be given by the Maryland Institute for Emergency Medical Services Systems.

The course is free to members of fire and rescue agencies.

Pre-registration closes on July 29. Interested persons are urged to contact Phil Rook at 301-334-4623 or the MFRI office at 301-729-0431.

Task Force To Look At Utility De-Regulation

In a move that puts Maryland in step with the growing national trend toward examining utility deregulation, Governor Parris N. Glendening, Senate President Thomas V. Mike Miller Jr., and House Speaker Casper R. Taylor Jr. have jointly appointed a wide range of legislators, government officials, and private citizens to serve on a 20-member task force to study retail electric competition.

In addition, the governor, president, and speaker jointly appointed an 18-member advisory group composed of industrial, commercial, and residential representatives to assist the task force in its deliberations.

The task force will be co-chaired by Senator Thomas Bromwell (D-Baltimore County), chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, and Delegate Ron Guns (D-Cecil), chairman of the House Environmental Matters Committee. The task force membership includes three administration officials and one public member appointed by the governor, seven senators, including Senator John J. Hafer, one private citizen appointed by the president, and eight delegates appointed by the speaker.

The 18-member advisory group is comprised of individuals from across the state and from all segments of the state's economy. The membership includes three industrial, three commercial, and three residential electric customer representatives. There is also a representative from each of the investor-owned utilities serving customers in Maryland, including Allegheny Power in Western Maryland; PEPCo in the Washington metropolitan area; BGE in the Baltimore area; and Delmarva Power on the Eastern Shore. Appointed to represent the Maryland coal industry was David W. Thomas of Friendsville, corporate affairs manager for the Mettiki Coal Corporation. Municipal electrical systems, independent power procedures, and alternative energy producers are also among the members.

Glimpse of The Past . . .

A POST CARD mailed 88 years ago captures the open spaces and rolling hills of Accident. The picture was taken somewhere near the current site of the Accident Elementary School, west of town, looking east. Accident-Bittinger Road stretches from the lower right corner, crosses Route 219 and heads up "Town Hill" becoming Accident-Friendsville Road. Zion Lutheran Church is at the far right of the picture. The post card is addressed to Mr. Orval Thomas, Selbysport, Md. The message, dated May 19, 1909, is one sentence in rolling script: "The Cove Church will be dedicated Sunday, 23. Try and come out, N.S." Mr. Harley Glover, a long-time resident of Accident now residing in Friendsville, owned this little piece of the past and has shared it.

Sanders Attends Woodmen Event In Nebraska

Linda Sanders, a field representative for Woodmen of the World/Omaha Woodmen Life Insurance Society, recently returned from a special "Sure Start" training school held at the Society's Home Office in Omaha, Neb.

The basic workings of the fraternal benefit society were taught, highlighting Woodmen insurance and investment products.

Mrs. Sanders will be contacting Woodmen members in the area to offer fraternal and insurance services. She will also be contacting prospective members who may wish to join Woodmen of the World. She has nearly 30 years of banking experience in the local community. She is married to Dennis Sanders and they have one daughter, Jennifer.

Woodmen of the World, founded in 1890, is one of the largest fraternal benefit societies in the United States and offers insurance protection with fraternal benefits. Insurance products include whole life, universal life, term and hospital supplement insurance, and annuities.

The society's 850,000 members, who hold more than one million certificates, belong to 3,000 lodges throughout the United States. Woodmen lodges across the country conduct fraternal projects of benefit to people and their communities. These projects range from the presentation of U.S. flags to the donation of equipment to fire departments, rescue squads and hospitals, and assistance for senior citizens, the physically impaired, and orphans.

ing World War II there were no picnics, but at the ending of the war they started holding them again.

The Bittinger School closed in 1958, and the building and lot were purchased by a group of citizens that maintained the building for community use. The Bittinger Community Building was established. An extra parcel of land was donated to the community by the late Roy Beitzel. Proceeds from the Bittinger Picnic were used for maintaining the Bittinger Community Building and an addition was added to the building in 1968.

In 1973 the Bittinger Volunteer Fire Department was established and the Community Building was transformed into a fire department building. At this time the Bittinger VFD Ladies Auxiliary began sponsoring the Bittinger Picnic.

As with everything else, things change. Because of the aging of the trees, it has become unsafe for crowds to congregate in the grove. After much deliberation it was decided that it was time for the picnic to be re-located to the Bittinger Volunteer Fire Department grounds. So on August 16, 1997, a new era will begin and the Bittinger Picnic will be held at the Bittinger Volunteer Fire Department. We members would like to take this opportunity to invite everyone to join us for the annual Bittinger Picnic. We are attempting to make it as much as a homecoming picnic as possible and hope you will be able to join us and continue to support our efforts.

The Bittinger VFD would like to thank Margaret Brenneman Hershberger Wagner and family for the use of their beautiful grove for so many years and all the fond memories that go along with the picnics in years past.

To the Editor:

Having your paper sent to my home may have been the single smartest thing I have ever done. Specifically, the July 10, 1997, discussion of proposed changes to Rt. 219 was of interest to me, a potential non-resident property owner. My wife and I both graduated from Frostburg and have long loved the area. We are now older and in a position to consider spending weekends at Deep Creek Lake. However, the idea that the lake would be bordered by an interstate to be used for trucking in our opinion would ruin the attractiveness of the area. I agree with the position you took in your editorial. The public needs to become involved and informed. You have done a valuable service as far as it goes. More remains to be done.

From the article on 219 expansion, two things are apparent. Firstly, those supporting it are well organized. I think it is reasonable to ask if their motivation is financial. What is their vested interest? Secondly, the route is not established. Isn't this always the case? I would strongly recommend that all possible routes be disclosed and discussed at your meeting and all potentially affected property owners contacted.

Let me close with some examples, one recent and one from the past. I hail from the Eastern Shore of Md., specifically, St. Michaels. If any of you have visited there over the last 30 years, you know how much impact tourism has had on the town and the mixed blessings it brings. A neighboring town, Oxford, was the original home of Robert Morris and a shipping center. Early on, the operations were moved to what is now Baltimore. Baltimore became a huge shipping port and Oxford is still a small residential community. All these towns/cities are enjoyable to visit, but each has its own strengths and weaknesses.

Garrett County citizens, current and future, would be ill served to yield to the most vocal or well organized on an issue of this magnitude. One thing is for sure: any town can be poorly developed and what was gained in the past can be lost by one poor decision.

Thank you,
Clint Bradley

To the Editor,

Having read the latest article about the proposed four-lane interstate highway, I feel obliged to write and share my views and questions on the matter.

I see from the article that a group of people acting as "representatives of the business and political community from both within and without Garrett County" asserts that there is "apparent countywide support for the project." Was a survey of all Garrett County residents made to determine this?

The main reason given in support of this project is jobs. They say that this is the "best way" to create new jobs here. They say, "In opening up access with a new highway, we are not aiming at bringing new people to work here, but creating jobs to allow our young people to stay in Garrett County." Bringing new people here may not be the aim, but surely this will be one of the results if this highway goes through. It has been happening with the development of the lake for the past 20 years.

The article further states that there has been no local opposition. Mr. David Moe, president of the Garrett County Chamber of Commerce, says, "I can't understand why anyone would want to stop it." I can think of several reasons.

A four-lane highway requires a lot of land. How many residents would willingly give up their land for this project? A four-lane highway would bring more noise and air pollution from the north end of the county to the south end. It would effectively bisect the county right down the middle. How picturesque. How lovely. The build-up that I have seen around interstates consists of fuel plazas, restaurants, and the occasional mall. This is the vision I get. If the highway takes the eastern route, does that mean the state forests are expendable?

Am I alone? Do the majority of Garrett County residents want this? The feedback I relieved from my previous letter was that people were appalled by the idea of another "four-lane." Rt. 219 is a beautiful rural highway, and should receive "scenic status," in my opinion. People move here to get away from the city. Garrett County appears to be heading down the road, so to speak, to urbanization and over-development like so many other "resort" areas that were once beautiful. It will all be written off to "progress." There will be a few who will gain a lot. A few may make millions on the "development" aspects. The rest of the people will help pay for it and will be the chumps.

Will the schools get more money? Will the new jobs provide quality,meaningful employment? What will these new jobs be, exactly?

To the south, in West Virginia, "Corridor H" has no popular support, yet the politicians and business interests are pushing to see it go through. That highway may end at the Virginia state line.

If the people here do not want another four-lane highway through our already rapidly changing county, the time to wake up to this reality is now.

I have written a simple survey, and would like to see it distributed and responded to, county-wide. I am very curious about how the majority of residents feel about this. If anyone would like to help, please contact me in Oakland at 8842 (that's how we used to dial local numbers around here). Thank you.

Sincerely,
Jaime Alvarez

To the Editor:

The pace and magnitude of strip mall and unplanned development taking place in Garrett County is frightening. Only the voice of the citizens can protect our proud and centralized communities from the greed of self-dealing public officials.

Garrett County's clean and healthy environment IS OUR BIGGEST ASSET, and we must demand its protection. Can we afford to sit by silently as serious environmental concerns are swept under the rug of cronyism by the arrogant circumvention of the Waste Water Permit Program?

Food For Thought
by Chef Francesco G. Pisano

Iced tea—a long-time summer favorite—was invented at the 1904 Louisiana Purchase Exposition at St. Louis. There are almost no calories in it unless you add sugar.

Marinades and spice rubs will flavor meats and fish even better if you score the skin first.

Low-fat cream cheese and low-fat sour cream form the base for delicious party dips. Add capers, anchovy paste, chopped green onions, caraway seeds, paprika, cayenne pepper and grainy mustard and buzz in the processor until pureed. Chill overnight.

Give grilled meats extra flavor by sprinkling fresh herbs over the coals near the end of cooking time. Strew springs of rosemary if you're cooking lamb, thyme for fish, sage for chicken or turkey.

Perfect produce tips: choose firm cucumbers with no shriveled or soft spots. Smaller ones are more tender. Check the leaves on celery; they should be fresh and green, not yellow and droopy.

We start with perfect produce, and then our chef makes it taste even better. you'll love the food at

Beth Covers The Community To Keep Cove Readers Informed

THE COVE CORRESPONDENT for The Republican, Beth Long, collects the news from her neighbors in the community. She relies on the telephone and her word processor to get her stories to the editor by deadline.

By Peggy Santamaria

After many years of providing neighborhood news, the Cove correspondent for The Republican retired this past spring. A new and perhaps unlikely reporter came forward and offered to take up the pen on behalf of the Cove community. And so the baton passed from Myrtle Hanft, after 40 years of service, to Beth Long.

What makes the situation a bit unusual is that Beth, the current correspondent, is 12 years old.

Living with her parents Gary and Alice Long in the Cove all her life, Beth is acquainted with the families in the neighborhood. So when Mrs. Hanft announced her retirement, Beth's mother suggested that Beth give reporting a try.

It was April when she agreed to take on the responsibility. A deal was struck with the editor of The Republican, Don Sincell, for Beth to join the ranks of the fourth estate, as the press is called.

And so the Northern Middle School sixth grader became the newspaper's youngest reporter.

"I like to write," Beth stated, as a simple explanation as to why she took the job. "And I just like to type," she added. Beth said she did take typing at school, but her mother reminded her that when she was no more than 4 years old she got a children's computer as a gift. And at that tender age Beth began to type.

These days the "cub reporter" uses a word processor to prepare her weekly column.

When school was in session Beth would start making her phone calls to neighbors in the community after she got home on Monday. "I take notes while I talk to people," she explained. Each week she collects tidbits of information on activities from three churches and about 35 people in the community.

Some of the people contact Beth, some she calls, and others call and leave messages with her mother.

After the information is gathered she is ready for the next step. "I just start typing. Usually I have it all finished by Tuesday night," she said.

The final step is the one that can cause difficulties. Getting her copy to the news office by deadline isn't easy for the 12-year-old. "What she really needs is a fax machine," her mother laughs. It is mother who must drive to Oakland with the copy if they can't find a fax machine to use.

Besides keeping up with what is going on in the Cove and writing the column, Beth has energy left over to pursue lots of other interests. She is very involved with activities in the Cove Kids 4-H Club. She plays flute, piano, and drums, and shares her music with the members of her church congregation.

Among her other skills, Beth knows sign language. She has opportunities to use this with several friends.

"I like to read," Beth said, but she added that she has no favorite author or type of book. "I just read everything I can." Overhearing this, her mother explained with both amusement and amazement that Beth is able to read three or four books at the same time and know what is going on in each of them.

And what is the young reporter's preferred subject at school? Math. As a matter of fact, she had just finished tutoring a 9-year-old boy in math.

Sincell said that during the many years that Mrs. Hanft supplied news items from the Cove, her work was appreciated by the newspaper staff and by her readers. "So many people who have moved out of the area continue to subscribe to the paper in order to keep track of their friends. We send newspapers out to subscribers in every state and many of those who receive it are depending on the coverage of the community correspondents," he said. "Mrs. Hanft did a wonderful job as the Cove correspondent and Beth seems to have made a smooth transition into that role," he stated.

And from Beth's point of view, it is a good situation. She enjoys the work she is doing and she is earning some money. What will she do with her earnings? "The money is going in the bank," she said. She is starting a savings account for college.

4-H Club News

COVE KIDS
by Rachel Schmidt, Reporter

The regular meeting of the Cove Kids 4-H Club was held Thursday, July 10, at St. John's Lutheran Church in the Cove near Accident. Melissa Paugh called the meeting to order with the American pledge led by Keenan Kabell and the 4-H pledge led by Jody Brenneman. Roll call was answered by naming things that you take on a picnic.

Those members who went to 4-H Camp told about an experience that happened to them at camp. Those attending from the Cove Kids were Jason and Josh Tackett, Beth Long, Rachel Schmidt, Keenan Kabell, Matthew Margroff, and David Wampler.

Keenan Kabell gave a report on the bike trip to Ohiopyle. Twelve members attended and they traveled 10 to 12 miles.

A paper was distributed to each family, with the activities for July and August listed.

The float committee reported that the 4-H Fourth of July float in Accident's parade won first place and a check for $25. This same float will be at the Friendsville Days parade on August 2 and the Garrett County Fair parade. All members are encouraged to come on these days and ride the float.

The Black and White Show was discussed and arrangements were made to get food donations for our food sale on July 24.

Fair books were handed out to each family. Alice Long, our leader, encouraged each member to participate in the fair and try to do a demonstration there.

New business included a discussion of the signs on Cove Road about the Cove Kids club. The signs need to be put back up after a recent wind storm tore one of them down. It was decided to buy plywood to reinforce the signs.

Lindsay Swearman gave a demonstration on her cat, Mittens, that she calls "Lou." Lou is a female cat who has mothered many kittens.

The meeting was closed by everyone participating in the Butter Song. Refreshments were served by the Swearman family. Leslie Swearman had made cookies with the 4-H stamp that she received from one of her projects.

There will not be an August meeting because of the Garrett County Fair.

HERCULES

Unless you've chosen to participate in the Baptist boycott of all things Disney, you won't want to miss out on this latest animated offering. And lest you think you're "too old" to enjoy cartoon fare, guess again. This one has something for everyone, but especially, the young at heart!

Despite the mythic subject, this flick is very loosely based on the Hercules stories, and rightfully so. You can't take as many liberties (and comic takes) as Disney has and stick to the Herculean tales. The son of Zeus and Hera, Herc nonetheless finds himself on earth, sans immortality granted to most other gods, and is raised by foster parents. A lonely teen who knows he doesn't fit in in the world of mere mortals, Herc makes a pilgrimage to the temple of Zeus. There, Daddy Zeus tells Herc that if he can become a hero, he will be reinstated to his birthright as a god on Mount Olympus.

Determined, Hercules sets out to find a "mentor" to help him in his quest, coming to train with Philoctetes (or Phil), a satyr whose "occupation" is "trainer to the stars." They set out together for Thebes.

In the blink of an eye, Herc becomes the city's biggest celebrity, regularly vanquishing monsters and dispatching bad guys. However, this is nothing when it comes to his battle with Hades, god of the underworld, who has designs on taking over Mount Olympus and dethroning, if you will, all the other gods and goddesses.

To defeat Hades, Hercules must look within himself to find the right stuff. (By the way, the beauteous Megara, Hades' unwilling assistant, needs to be rescued as well.) It is only then that Herc triumphs.

Starring the voices of Danny DeVito, Tate Donovan, Rip Torn and James Woods, this film is a real romp. Best of all, the score is something to die for. You'll be humming along before the credits roll! And, I'll bet you'll be running out for the soundtrack, if not the video, when both are available!

I give this a definite four stars. It's not to be missed!

FILLET KNIFE — When our family rented a lake cabin a few years ago, I could not find a knife sharp enough to slice a tomato.

Luckily, I had some fillet knives in my tackle box. The small fillet knife worked so well that I now keep several in my kitchen drawer at home.

The knives come in a leather case and are wonderful for just about any job I need to do. Tess F., Spokane, Wash.

VACATION WATERING — If you're going away on vacation and worrying about your plants, try this. Put a child's wading pool on your kitchen floor before you go away, put all your houseplants in it and fill it with enough water to keep them moist until you return.

You don't have to clean out the bathtub as soon as you return home so your family can take a bath or shower.

A baby bathtub works too if you don't have a lot of plants. Linda G., S. Euclid, Ohio

Antiques

The color used on a piece of glass or porcelain can help you to date it.

In the 18th century, ceramists favored dark blue, an easy color to produce. The plain blue designs were often enhanced with rose red, gold, apple green or turquoise.

By the 1820s, an orange-red was popular.

Violet was stylish about 1900.

In the 1930s, the bold, bright colors favored by Fiesta pottery were used. Bright yellow, dark blue, green and orange glazes covered many dinnerwares. Orange, especially popular in Czechoslovak wares, was used in abundance.

By the 1950s, a new look in American pottery saw the use of gray and earth tones of green and brown. Russell Wright dishes used mottled versions of those colors.

The 1960s California potters started using different colors. They liked pink, baby blue, light green and other pastel shades. One well-known California potter, Kay Finch, worked in Corona Del Mar from 1935 to 1963. She died a few years ago, and collectors are paying high prices for her pastel-colored figurines of whimsical animals and cartoon people.

Next time you are at a flea market, look for the pastels to find the 1960s California pieces.

Q. My upright piano is marked "Holland Cabinet Grand, No. 22865." Any information as to age and maker?

A. The Holland Manufacturing Co. made Holland, Norland and Geo. B. Norris brand pianos between 1913 and 1927. It had factories in Menomonie, Wis. and Minneapolis. The company also had a Chicago address, probably a sales office. The number on your piano dates it to 1915.

Oakland Council, SOS Group Plans Teen Dance

The Save Oakland Station (SOS) Committee and the Oakland Town Council have slated a planning meeting to discuss a dance-concert for teenagers. The funds raised will benefit SOS.

The planning meeting is slated for Friday, July 18, at 1 p.m. in the City Hall council meeting room. The dance is slated for Friday, Aug. 8, at the Mountain Fresh Pavilion.

Bands interested in performing at the event must send a representative to the planning meeting. Organizers are also looking for teenaged and adult committee members.

According to Donna Cook, council member, organizers hope to build on the idea and perhaps plan more activities in an effort to bring adults and youngsters together in working for the community. Cook said she needs volunteers for decorating, lighting, refreshments, parking, and chaperoning.

Interested persons may either come to the planning meeting or contact Cook at 301-334-4465.

ARMED SERVICES REVIEW

U.S. Navy Airman Robert D. Beachy, son of Olen D. and Ada M. Beachy, Amish Road, Grantsville, recently completed a three-day port visit to Koper, Slovenia, while assigned to the aircraft carrier USS John F. Kennedy, currently on a six-month deployment in the Mediterranean Sea and Persian Gulf.

During the port visit, Beachy and fellow crew members hosted more than 11,500 visitors and completed more than five community projects. The community relations projects included painting and landscaping at a local children's home, a church, a park, and a home for developmentally disabled adults, as well as repairs to a wooden playground at the center for children with special needs. In addition, Beachy's ship's choir performed for thousands of spectators at three different concerts.

Aircraft carriers like USS John F. Kennedy are forward deployed around the world to maintain a U.S. presence and provide rapid response in times of crisis, according to a Navy spokesman. "They serve as a highly visible deterrent to would-be aggressors and, if deterrence fails, offer the most versatile and powerful weapons available," he said.

Beachy, a 1993 graduate of Northern Garrett High School, joined the Navy in January 1995.

ment plant for 10 ERU's capacity (equivalent residential units) by the Garrett County Sanitation District Commission (GCSDC), the Town Council and Planning Commission, the Health Department, and the County Planning Department is plainly illegal under the Maryland Law, according to information given to me by Jeffrey Rein, deputy administrator of the Waste Water Permit Program, Maryland Department of Environment (MDOE).

According to Mr. Rein, as early as last fall the Friendsville plant was three times over capacity on a daily basis. (You might ask the Youghiogheny Wild and Scenic River or our neighbors downriver in Pennsylvania how they feel about the other two-thirds.) Allowing building construction without approval from the MDOE when it involves a plant with no available capacity is a serious environmental crime. The Title 9 is an obvious law for obvious reasons.

Yet Wendell Beitzel, administrator of the Sanitary District, had the temerity to insult the intelligence of his friends and neighbors by telling them at a public meeting that no restrictions apply to the Friendsville plant.

The GCSDC is the one entity that most controls the rate and pattern of development, yet according to them, they are autonomous from government controls, and they say no public hearings are required for the extension of sewer and water services. They knowingly withhold vital treatment capacity figures, don't care about planning, and there is nothing we can do about it...yet. Their rush to grant service without public hearing is an outrage.

I asked the Planning Department to please refrain form granting permission to construct until this particular project can be looked at carefully. I have expressed in writing numerous concerns about the capacity of this proposed sewer line, the development of commercial areas in identified prime agricultural resource areas, the issues of sprawl and development outside existing town centers, the development of environmentally sensitive areas, the development of shallow and land-locked sites adjacent to the highway, the visual approach and scenic viewshed guidelines, economic traffic patterns and the economy of Friendsville, the county's adopted facilities and services plan, the right of citizens to be a part of the planning and development process, impacts to Minnow Creek and the Yough Fishery and Lake, and questions about the dangers to the town water supply.

The Planning Department refuses to answer any questions. Despite the fact that the Waste Water Permit Program had sent them the requirements of the law and the allocation tables, they approve construction, full speed ahead; a mockery, in my opinion of sound, and professional conduct. We have a Planning Department that loves sprawl, strip malls, convenience stores, and couldn't care less about consistency with the adopted Comprehensive Plan.

Everyone knew that Steve Sherrard of the Health Department and Friendsville mayor Schlosnagle had been sent the law and tables by J.L. Hearn of the MDOE, yet they too allowed construction to proceed. What a tangled web we weave.

All these circumstances, questions, and concerns have been clearly stated in writing numerous times to the county Planning Department, and the county commissioners. Keyser, W.Va., buried itself in convenience stores and "marts." Is that our future here too? Who profits?

The future could get real ugly, real fast if we don't demand that the process for gaining a balanced future is followed. The county's plan is hundreds of pages. Get a copy; check it out.

Raw sewage has backed up into kitchens, and raw sewage has been discharged into a Wild and Scenic river. We've been lucky with a dry summer, but what happens next year? Water borne transmission of disease is a serious issue...typhoid, cholera, E-coli, to name a few.

Do we really want Garrett County to be the Convenience Store capital of Maryland? If we don't figure out how the planning process works, straighten it out by harsh measures, and demand it be followed, then we have only ourselves to blame when Wal-Mart comes in, and Oakland's economy moves out to the 219 bypass. Who needs 219? Who owns the land at the interchanges? It will be a slow and painful death for Oakland for sure.

We must fight to stop this insane path of over development fueled by the greed of the self-appointed chosen few. Retail sales clerk jobs and gas stations cannot replace the lost Bausch and Lomb plant.

We must fight to protect our communities' future from short-sighted decisions like the ugly walls that now hide our county's beautiful courthouse. We must clean house and join together to work in constructive ways that protect and preserve our number one drawing card, the environment.

We should be known for revolutionary ideas and a preservation of community values. Citizens who sit passively by while our beautiful towns are destroyed have only themselves to blame for the hole they dig.

Sincerely,
Crede Calhoun
Friendsville

OUR REFRIGERATOR IS WELL-STOCKED

In order to retain their freshness and therefore their effectiveness many or our medicines must be stored under refrigerated conditions. For example, certain types of suppositories would melt and become useless if they were kept at regular temperatures. In a few instances a vaccine might have to be kept in the freezer compartment.

Insulin for diabetics, certain eye ointments and solutions, and some vitamins are a few other examples of products that must be kept in a refrigerator. Naturally, we will periodically check to be sure that the exactly right conditions are being maintained.

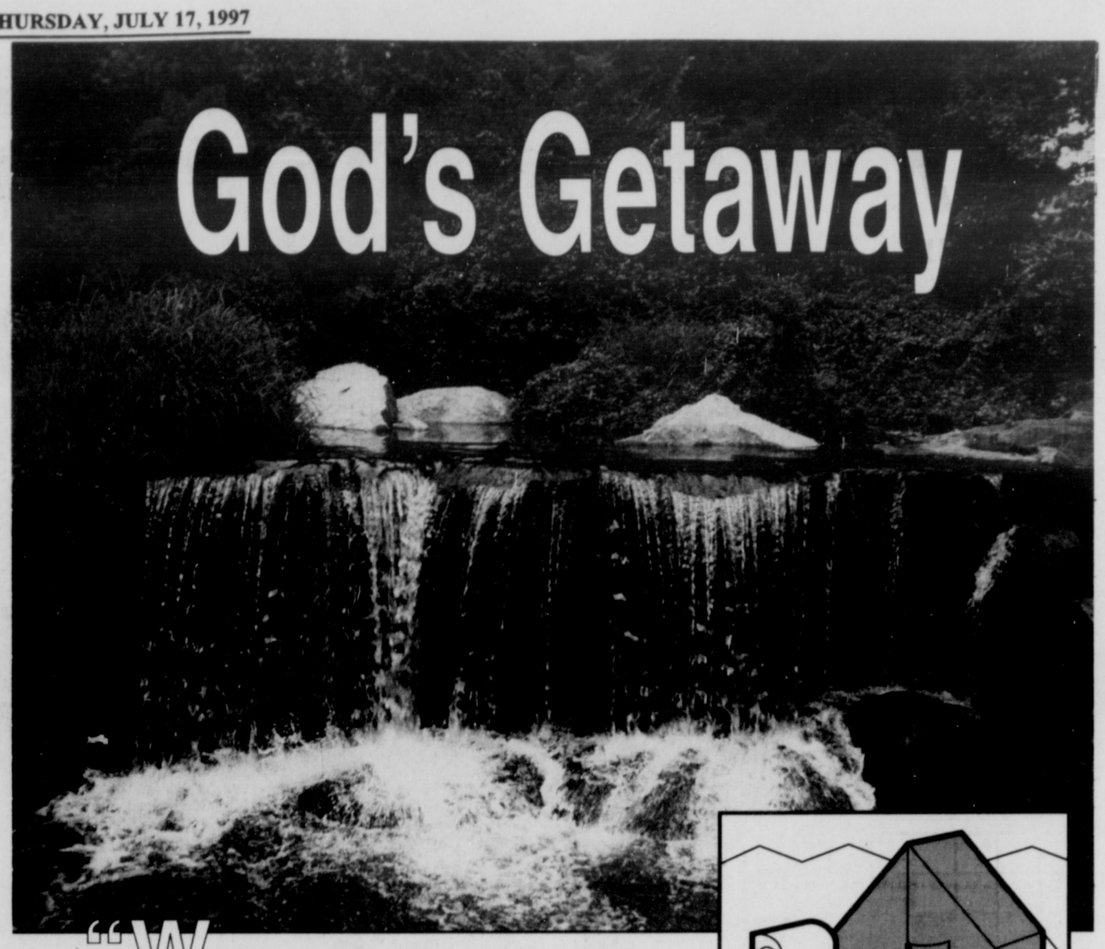
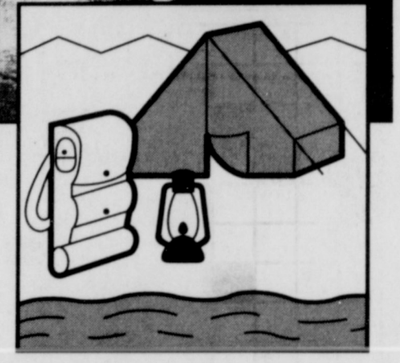
God's Getaway





"Well, it's Sunday. Vacation is over. It was so refreshing camping by the stream. I guess I'll start the same old grind again in the morning. By Wednesday, I won't even feel like I've been on vacation at all. How relaxed I am now. Why does it have to end so soon?"

It doesn't have to end. God provides a getaway for your soul whenever you desire it. Psalm 42:2 cries, "As a heart longs for flowing streams, so longs my soul for Thee O God, for the living God." The Lord provides the answer in His Word in John 7:38, "He who believes in me...Out of his heart shall flow rivers of living water."

Worship each Sabbath and learn to escape the pressures of the world in the shelter of God's love. Bathe in the waters of the Spirit. Visit God's getaway.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

THE ADVOCATE
July 20, 1997

Background Scripture:
Hebrews 4:14 through 5:10; 7
Devotional Reading:
Hebrews 7:20-28

If you knew that you were about to appear before the throne of God and could appoint someone to act as your intermediary or advocate, what kind of person would you choose?

The popular choice in our day would probably be the meanest, toughest lawyer we could find. Someone else might choose a government official with 'lots of connections.' But I don't think either if those types would do very much for me before the Lord.

What I would choose for myself would be the kind of person described in Hebrews 4:14 to 5:10. "Since then we have a great high priest who has passed through the heavens, Jesus Christ, the Son of God, let us hold fast our confession" (4:14). No one in God's whole creation stands as high as he does; there would be no one else with, as we put it today, 'so much clout' in our favor.

The problem with this passage is that the concept of a 'great high priesthood' is essentially alien to us and our times. The Levitical priesthood ended almost 2,000 years ago. The concept of sacrificing animals for our sins is today repugnant to us.

OUR ADVOCATE

Perhaps the passage in Hebrews would connect with us more clearly if we think of Jesus as our 'mediator' or 'advocate.' The Apostle John himself spoke of Jesus in this manner: "...if anyone does sin, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous..." (1 Jn. 2:1). In the days when the New Testament was written the Greek word we translate as 'advocate' meant "one who pleads for us" and was applied to anyone who took the side of another in a lawsuit or trial. One scholar says it meant "the help of anyone who 'lends his presence' to his friend."

While I personally have experienced almost nothing of the kind of priesthood of which Hebrews is speaking, I have known some people who have figuratively "gone to bat for me." These are people who have stood with me in a time of trial, just as today's lawyer stands with his client in a court of law. I can relate to one who will act as my mediator or advocate before the throne of God.

There is a German word that I have often used when speaking of Jesus Christ as our 'great high priest.' The word is stellvertreter (STELL-fur-TRAITOR), literally "one who stands in the place of someone else." Haven't most of us experienced at some time a person—parent or friend—who has been our stellvertreter, someone who has stood, not just with us, but in a sense before us, 'taking the heat' that was rightly ours?

INTERCESSOR

Jesus is uniquely qualified to be our advocate. Even "In the days of his flesh, Jesus offered up prayers and supplications with loud cries and tears. He was and still is our intercessor, one who 'pleads' for us in our weakness and ignorance. His whole life was one of being there for others.

We can be confident knowing that he cares deeply about each of us.

Besides the fact that we believe Jesus Christ was "called by God" and thus bears his authority, that which makes him so appealing for us as an advocate or 'great high priest' is our realization that he has known the limitations of our humanity. "For we have not a high priest who is unable to sympathize with our weaknesses, but one who in every respect has been tempted as we are..." (4:15). We know that, though he is from God, he is also one of us.

In a criminal case one may hire a lawyer or be assigned one, but Jesus comes to us, taking our case even before we ask him. It is thus that we can "with confidence draw near to the throne of grace, that we may receive mercy and find grace to help in time of need" (4:16).

COVER STORY

Home is where the show is: Bob Vila on how-to TV

By Roberta Nelson
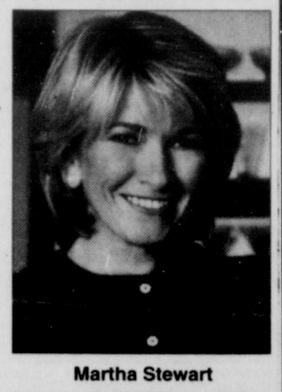
©TVData Features Syndicate



Martha Stewart

Catching up with home improvement guru Bob Vila isn't easy. For a man so closely associated with home, he's hardly ever there.

In May, Vila flew to Europe, where he traced the influence of 16th-century Italian architect Andrea Palladio for his Guide to Historic Homes series airing on A&E.

This month he travels to California, where the Bob Vila's Home Again crew is finishing renovating a 1922 Sears Arts and Crafts house for Home Again's upcoming season.

Between trips, Vila was in New York looking at dummies for the next issue of Bob Vila's American Home, his glossy home-improvement magazine that debuted last September.

The original host of PBS's This Old House talked from his home in Cambridge, Mass., about the recent proliferation of how-to shows.

"I think you're going to have whole channels – there already is Home & Garden – where you can spend the whole day just kind of watching people fix stuff," Vila says. "You name it, somebody is going to go out there and do a show."

The current range of home how-to programs includes Home Again, This Old House, and syndicated Your New House and This Old House episodes from old seasons.

Among the most prolific new home how-to shows are those about gardening. Again, PBS takes the prize with Victory Garden. The popular series airs new programs on PBS, and previous seasons' episodes are syndicated on Home & Garden Television.

Cable networks and advertisers got the message that gardening is America's fastest growing hobby, with gardeners spending $26 billion annually. Rebecca's Garden and Over the Hedge are two new shows catering to them.

While Rebecca's Garden is good, solid gardening how-to, Over the Hedge offers regional segments, lasting about five minutes in each half-hour episode, plus a bimonthly magazine coordinated with the program.

Shows for "nesters" will likely increase in number and category. The nation's 76 million baby boomers are turning 50, finding themselves with more leisure time and money as their children leave home.

Andi Sporkin of Eyemark Entertainment in L.A. can't believe somebody hasn't produced a how-to show about cars: how to take care of one, what makes them work, traveling to classic car shows.

And Vila says a show about boats is worth consideration.

"I've been approached by many people over the years who want to do a This Old Boat show," he says.

But one show you won't see is Bob and Martha, pairing Vila with Martha Stewart, the home diva both admired and reviled for her fastidious advice.

"Oh, please," Vila protests, while conceding Stewart has a lot of good ideas and acknowledging her show beat his for a daytime Emmy.

"I don't think Martha and I are going to show up as a married couple – that I guar-antee."

IN FOCUS

Colin Buchanan returns in the role of Detective Inspector Peter Pascoe in Dalziel and Pascoe: Ruling Passion, premiering Tuesday, July 22, on A&E Network.

Peter and his pregnant wife plan a quiet trip to the Oxfordshire, England, village of Thronton Lacey to visit friends.

But their journey is anything but quiet when they arrive to find their hostess and two of her guests dead, and the hostess's husband missing.

Warren Clarke also stars.

Liquid Stage carries viewers away, dude

By Suzanné Gill

A surfer hunches under the white crest of a wave and lets his playful fingers break drops from the wall of water rising next to him.

In a moment, the water's force could topple him and send his board spinning. But if he's lucky, he'll come shooting across the wave just ahead of the curl, slowly let down on a free ride that is never twice the same.

Liquid Stage: The Lure of Surfing takes viewers to the offshore world of the wave worshiper. The special, airing Wednesday, July 23, on PBS (check local listings), begins with surfing's birth on the Hawaiian Islands, where it was an expression of the "aloha spirit."

Modern surfing began with Duke Paoa Kahanamoku, a 1912 and 1920 Olympic swimming champion who rode the waves on a heavy redwood board. Liquid Stage recalls the many changes in the sport. When surfing reached the mainland, it spawned a counterculture lifestyle. Lighter boards were developed, surfing surged into popular culture, and some beach bums turned pro in corporate-sponsored competitions.

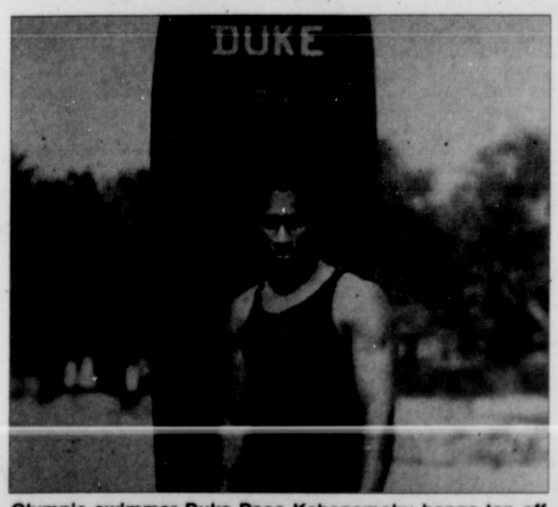
"Surfing is a dance form on a liquid stage," says The Surfer's Journal publisher Steve Pezman.

With the power of the wave beneath him, the surfer dares to push back, in a pas de deux with a restless planet.

Catch a wave, a poet once said, and you're sittin' on top of the world.



Olympic swimmer Duke Paoa Kahanamoku hangs ten off the coast of Hawaii in Liquid Stage: The Lure of Surfing, airing Wednesday on PBS (check local listings).

Regional Office Of AHA Opened In Hagerstown

For the past 50 years, the American Heart Association (AHA) has provided community and public education services to prevent heart disease and stroke in Western Maryland. The AHA plans to continue this service in Western Maryland, but plans to improve the services.

The AHA opened a regional office in Hagerstown on Tuesday to service the western counties of Maryland and part of eastern West Virginia. Previously the AHA had limited staff resources offices in Columbia, Cumberland, Frederick, and Hagerstown. By closing these four offices and opening the regional office where AHA staff are centralized, the AHA will be able to improve public services by providing immediate assistance and guidance with cardiovascular information and AHA services, according to an AHA spokesperson.

"By forming a service center for the region, we can improve efficiency and reduce the duplication of efforts among our staff and volunteers," said Jeannette Rudy Fitzwater, Garrett County AHA board president. "We owe it to our donors, volunteers, and the public to be as effective as possible in accomplishing our mission of reducing death and disability from heart disease and stroke."

Kay Hoffman will serve as the regional director of the new office, which will service Allegany, Carroll, Frederick, Garrett, Howard, and Washington counties in Maryland, as well as Berkeley, Grant, Hampshire, Hardy, Jefferson, Mineral, Morgan, Pendleton, and Tucker counties in eastern West Virginia.

The directors with territory responsibilities include Jay Jack for Garrett County and the West Virginia counties. An area director for Allegany and Washington counties will be hired. The three administrative personnel, who have worked a combined 70 years for the AHA, include Shirley Bartik, Joanne Parker, and Sue Whitter.

"The success of the AHA has always been dependent on the volunteer leadership in each community," said Mrs. Fitzwater. "With this organizational improvement we know our community leadership will only continue to strengthen in Western Maryland and West Virginia.

The phone number for the regional office in Hagerstown is 1-800-684-1000. One can reach the office's web page at www.americanheart.org.

SHA Improving Visibility Of Pavement Marks

The State Highway Administration (SHA) is repainting and upgrading pavement lane markings to increase their visibility on major interstate and primary routes in Maryland. SHA crews are applying a durable, fast-drying latex paint to keep markings fresh and experimenting with large glass beads in the paint (Visibead) that increase the reflection of light off the painted lines during rainy nights. SHA is responding to motorists' requests, in a recent customer survey, for improved visibility of pavement markings on state roads.

"We are trying some new products and techniques in an effort to increase visibility of the pavement markings particularly at night and in bad weather," said SHA Administrator Parker F. Williams. "Continually improving the quality of our service to the public is always a primary goal."

The cost of the enhanced Visibead technique averages about 0.5 cent more per linear foot of striping than standard markings. If the pilot project proves successful, the total cost increase to treat the state's 95 million plus feet of pavement markings would be approximately $500,000.

The mild winter left Maryland highways cleaner than usual, and with lower than normal humidity, paint crews completed more than 9,000 miles of striping by June. Crews are limited to applying the environmentally friendly paint only when temperatures are above freezing.

SHA also is replacing reflectors in raised pavement markers and on guard rails along many highways. To minimize motorist inconvenience, nearly all metropolitan interstate highways are repainted at night, when traffic volumes are lower. The project will continue until all major interstate and primary routes are striped and the other improvements completed.

SHA encourages motorists to watch out for slow moving operations and to drive cautiously through construction areas.

Plans Announced For Broadwater Annual Reunion

Plans have been made for the 88th annual Broadwater reunion. The event will be held Sunday, Aug. 3, at Grantsville Community Park.

Area Residents Earn Promotions With 84 Lumber

Two area residents were recently named co-managers at two different 84 Lumber Company stores after having been employed at the local store near Mtn. Lake Park.

Rory Bernard, a native of Oakland, has been named co-manager at the Belle Vernon, Pa., store, while Brian Lantz, formerly of Aurora, W.Va., will be co-manager at the Statesville, N.C., store.

Bernard, son of Harland and Janet Bernard, Oakland, is a 1992 graduate of Southern High School. He has been employed by the local store since 1994.

Lantz, son of Kirk and Anita Lantz, Aurora, is a 1990 graduate of Preston High School and has been employed by 84 Lumber since 1996.

As co-managers, Bernard and Lantz will be responsible for store operations, including sales and inventory control.

84 Lumber Company is the nation's largest, privately owned lumber and building supply retailer, with 394 stores nationwide.

WHY IS IT?

"Why is it? A man wakes up in the morning after sleeping on an advertised blanket, in advertised pajamas. He will bathe in an advertised tub, wash with advertised soap, shave with an advertised razor, drink advertised coffee after his advertised juice, cereal and toast (toasted in his advertised toaster), put on advertised clothes and an advertised hat. He will ride to work in an advertised car, sit at an advertised desk, and write with an advertised pen. Yet this man hesitates, saying that advertising does not pay. Finally, when his unadvertised business goes badly he will then advertise it for sale."

ANOTHER BEAR SIGHTING IN GARRETT COUNTY, but this one is of a permanent nature. Smokey Bear stands on alert near the Deer Park Community Volunteer Fire Department on Route 135, informing travelers of the current forest fire danger on a daily basis. The forest fire danger rating system is based on current and expected weather conditions, and the danger is rated on a scale of 1 to 5, with "1" being low, and "5" being extremely high fire danger. Deer Park volunteer firemen and forest rangers from the Garrett Project worked together to erect the Smokey Bear Fire Danger sign this past spring.

New Bow Range Open At Potomac Garrett Forest

Maryland Department of Natural Resources (DNR), State Forest and Park Service will host an open house on Saturday, July 19, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Potomac/Garrett State Forest to highlight the 3-D bow range. Persons who express an interest at the event will be able to shoot one round at the range. Door prizes will be given throughout the day, refreshments will be served, and rangers will provide tours. The range is adjacent to the forest headquarters.

Regular operation will run from spring through fall and the hours will be one-half hour before sunrise to one-half hour after sunset. There will be a $5 fee paid on the honor system per round. The targets will be removed before firearms season opens.

There are 20 targets, consisting of seven deer, two javalinas, two foxes, three turkeys, one bear, one groundhog, two porcupines, and two raccoons. Foot paths leading through the course and shooting lanes were cut out by members of the Maryland Conservation Corps (MCC). A practice target (a square bale of hay) is also located at the area.

"We feel the range will be safe, as safety rules and regulations will be in place and targets are placed adequately," commented Steve Hamilton, manager of Potomac/Garrett State Forest. "We will soon by planning tournaments at the range."

Swanton residents Paul Roderick and his sons shoot target competition almost every weekend. Because of their expertise, they acted as consultants for the DNR range.

"Competition shooting is growing," Roderick said. "This course will be great for hunters, too, helping them judge distances and become better shots, hitting the deer where they should."

To reach Potomac/Garrett State Forest, persons should turn onto Boiling Springs Road from Rt. 135 near Deer Park and follow signs, approximately seven miles, to the headquarters. For more information, persons may call the office at 301-334-2038.

One Hungarian, One Russian To Attend Southern

Southern High School will host two more International Cultural Exchange Services (ICES) foreign students, one from Hungary and one from Russia, for the coming school year, according to Bill Fintzell, local ICES representative.

Residing with Fintzell will be Ferenc Harasztia, a student from Sárbogárd, Hungary, while Mary Miele, of Paradise Point Road, will host Roman Zaitsev, a resident of Krasnodar, Russia. The students will arrive in Garrett County in August.

Other families interested in hosting an ICES student may contact Fintzell at 301-387-8040 for information.

A GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY for Dale Evans and Roy Rogers was celebrated at their Victorville, Calif., museum recently, and Accident native Eva Whiteman, now of Sykesville, was on hand for the festivities. Whiteman, shown here with the celebrity couple who were married 50 years ago on December 31, 1947, was one of 650 friends and guests at the anniversary banquet, which was held several months early at their children's request because of the couple's declining health. Whiteman was on hand as a guest for three days, and assisted in the party's preparations at the Roy Rogers and Dale Evans museum. An auction of memorabilia was held as part of the special weekend, with the proceeds going towards various charities and keeping the western heritage alive through educational programs in schools. Whiteman reports that although in frail health, Rogers and Evans were warm and gracious throughout the activities, greeting guests and performing their signature song, "Happy Trails." Rogers and Evans personally noted the gratification they feel when they hear greetings and remembrances from friends and fans alike, and made a special request that anyone who would like to write them please do so through their museum at 15650 Seneca Road, Victorville, CA 92392.

Area Student To Do Missions Work In Honduras

Sandi Beitzel, Salisbury, Pa., will leave in August for an eight-month assignment with a Youth Evangelism Service (YES) team to Honduras. The YES team is sponsored by Eastern Mennonite Missions, Salunga, Pa.

Beitzel is spending May to August in training at the Baltimore Discipleship Center. She will leave August 12 for her service assignment to Honduras and will return in April '98.

The daughter of Melvin and Gloria Beitzel, 1018 River Road, Salisbury, Beitzel is a 1994 graduate of Meyersdale (Pa.) Area High School. Prior to her term of service, she served on the 1994-95 YES team to Honduras. She also served on staff at the Baltimore Discipleship Center from '95 to '96.

She is a member of Cherry Glade Mennonite Church, Accident.

Along with four other members of the YES team, Beitzel will work in a bilingual school as a teacher's aide and assist with school chapels. Primary ministry involvement will be to junior and senior high students in after-school clubs and other activities.

The YES program of Eastern Mennonite Missions provides Christian discipleship training and cross-cultural mission assignments for about 120 young adults each year. Assignments are generally eight months to a year, with the first three months spent in training at a discipleship center in Harrisburg, Pa., or Baltimore. YES participants from all over the world serve on teams of four to seven young adults, who work alongside national church leaders or missionaries. As volunteers, they raise their own financial support. U.S. teams may work at part-time jobs to support their living arrangements on outreach. YES teams serve in Latin America, Africa, Asia, Australia, Europe, the Middle East, the Caribbean, and the U.S.

Through YES, young adults are given an opportunity to receive foundational discipleship training and then to apply what they have learned in a cross-cultural setting overseas or to assist in church planting efforts in urban and suburban settings in the U.S. "YES has given me a glimpse, a taste of total fulfillment and servanthood to God," said one returning YES member after an eight-month outreach in Russia. "It has given me a foundation of truth--jolted me out of complacency and set me seeking after God."

Dale Hutzel, volunteer and fair buyer, demonstrated and was there to clip hoofs on the beef. A fitting and showing of beef was next, with Marcella Moreland receiving first place with her Limousin cross and Alan Warsaw second with his angus. Following this everyone was given the opportunity to lead Marcella's beef.

Sheep shearing was demonstrated at 10 a.m. by Tom and Cheryl Marple. The group then moved inside the barn for sheep fitting and showing, demonstrated by Trisha and Mark Lewis and Tammy Harvey. Next the 4-H'ers competed in fitting and showing with two classes. First places went to Aliza Green and David Smearman, second to Levi Green and Stacey Holler, third to Emily Cosner and Eli Green, fourth to Tara Hinebaugh and Michelle Holler, and fifth to Amanda Hinebaugh and Sarah Cosner. Tammy then held a class of hands-on showing for sheep.

Visitors from Snowy Creek 4-H were present. "We were very happy to have all from outside our club who came and made this a special day in Red House 4-H Club history," stated Ms. Moreland.

After lunch Stacey Holler gave a demonstration on her pygmy goat. Several took turns leading the goat.

Pig demonstrations were by Tara and Amanda Hinebaugh and Marcella Moreland, showing Alan Warsaw's pig. Millie Hutzel acted as judge and awarded Marcella, for Alan, first place, Tara, second and Amanda, third.

Zachary and Danita Rhodes gave a demonstration on rabbits and how to get them ready for showing at the fair. Stacey and Michelle Holler gave a demonstration on their rabbits also.

After the rabbit show, veterinarian Rick Jenkins did the health check on the baby beef.

The day ended with a water battle conducted by several 4-H members on each other.
